'SEWER PIPE' POLITICS DOWNED IN ENNISMORE

Kendry Speakers Called Down for Personal Abuse.

Ennismore People Will Listen to Political Discussion But Not to Personal Abuse.

Mr. Kendry and his friends held a meeting last night at O'Reilly's school house, Ennismore. There was a good attendance; Ennismore people always patronize political meetings well.

All went well till one of the speakers entered upon a tirade of abuse of Mr. Hall and Mr. Stratton. At once the speaker was given to see that the people had not come there to listen to abuse of men whom every one in Ennismore respected, and would not listen to personal abuse and slander. If the speaker liked to discuss political questions, all right; but if he wanted to indulge in personal abuse that had no relation to the campaign, there would be no audience.

This was a quietus on the scandalmonger—there was no more personal abuse, and the audience listened respectfully, if not patiently, to the so-called political arguments presented. It is unfortunate that Mr. Kendry will stoop to employ speakers to do the abuse part of his stumping, which he has not the courage to do himself.

If the solid arguments presented last night, were not of any better quality than the liquid arguments — whisky — which two professional co-workers of Mr. Kendry, took out to Ennismore in their conveyance—the lads who fobbled it, had the worst of the bargain—if they drank it.

This is not the first time that Mr. Kendry, through his election coworkers, has made the attempt to debauch the electors of Ennismore, by bringing whiskey to campaign meetings. This was known and so the boys were on the look-out and when the missionaries repeated the outrage they were ready for them and confiscated the supply of strong drink.

The electors of Ennismore are as intelligent as in any township in West Peterborough, and as able to understand and appreciate platform arguments. They don't need to, and won't be bought by whiskey smuggled, under cover of darkness, into a tavernless township.

It is quite fitting that the most disgraceful campaign of puerilities and vicious personal abuse ever conducted in West Peterborough should end, and be summed up in seven bottles of whiskey with corkscrews and glasses to match.

Mr. Kendry must feel that he is well supported in this campaign—the pulpit on one side and the whiskey barrel on the other.

It is a nice commentry on the consistency of Mr. Kendry's high moral stand and backing to find his most prominent secular supporters "working the growler" outside a public meeting to "Help the young man to get at the truth in politics."

STOLE A RIDE WENT TO JAIL.

Two Young Men From Ottawa Heavily Punished for Breaking the Law.

"You are fined $50, to be paid forthwith, or two months imprisonment in jail," was the judgment of Magistrate Dumble at the Police Court this morning in the case of Gordon McQuestion and Gordon Mulligan. These two young men were arrested last Thursday while stealing a ride on a C. P. R. freight breaking the seal and damaging the car.

Several employees of the company were in court, and gave evidence in the case. The train in question left Toronto about six o'clock, and when it had reached Manvers station a brakeman noticed that one of the car doors was open, the seal having been broken. He saw a man inside the car. The car was locked, and the train proceeded to Peterborough, when it was found that the prisoners had cut a hole in the door with the intention of lifting the staple in the lock, and making their escape, realizing that they had been discovered. Their efforts, however, were futile, and they were arrested and taken to the police station here. In the car were bales of leaf tobacco, one bale had been broken into, and a small quantity taken.

The prisoners, who were 18 years of age, said they lived in Ottawa, and had run away from home, and had been working in Toronto. They had met with some misfortune, and desired to return to Ottawa, but had ont sufficient money, and consequently stole a ride.

The Magistrate said that the railways must be protected from thieves for he believed that it was the same thing practically to steal a ride as to steal money. If everyone were allowed to ride free, the companies would soon have to stop operations. The offence committed was a serious one, and he would impose a heavy fine, hoping it would serve as an example to others.

The prisoners had no money, and consequently went to jail.

PRACTICAL POINTERS OF PETERBORO'S PROGRESS

NUMBER FIVE

It takes more than a fire, or two or three fires to discourage some men, and one of such men is Mr. G. Walter Green, the McDonel street pump manufacturer and foundryman.

It will be remembered that on the night of July 19th the greater part of Mr. Green's large establishment was destroyed by fire, but the smoke had hardly cleared away before a contract had been let for a new building, and this has now been completed. The new building is much larger than the part that was destroyed, and measures 55 by 65 feet, the length of the whole building being 160 feet, and Mr. Green confided a secret to the Examiner the other day to the effect that even now the building is not large enough and almost before the mortar in the new structure has set he is arranging to put up another building, and has already purchased some of the material for the building. The new structure, which is of brick, is devoted entirely to the foundry and blacksmith shop, and there was installed this week a new 10 ton crane erected by the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, which will enable the foundry to handle castings up to seven tons, whereas before nothing heavier than one ton was handled. A new core oven has also been erected.

With the enlargement of the Works Mr. Green also increased his staff, and now employs about twenty-five men, and when the present size of the staff is contrasted with that of seven years ago when Mr. Green became the proprietor of the business, it will be seen that the good times has very materially been evidenced in Mr. Green's case. Seven years ago there were three men employed, and the year previous to that one solitary man represented the entire mechanical staff of the works.

In the early days, the pump trade was the important trade, but while to-day the works manufacture as many pumps as ever before, that business is only a small proportion of this trade. Mr. Green branched out into foundry and machine work, and his wisdom in so doing is evident. He now makes all the castings used by the Canadian Cordage Company, the Ultimator Company and Adam Hall, and does considerable work for the Canadian General Electric Company.

Lumbermen's goods are also made, including cant hooks, pevie poles, etc., and this trade also is growing.

While undoubtedly one of the factors contributing to Mr. Green's success is the fact that he possesses and exercises excellent business tact and ability, still Mr. Green is ready to ascribe a great degree of his success to the fact that the "Good Times" Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier has also been a not insignificant factor in placing his business in its present satisfactory condition.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

The report was adopted.

LIBERALS AND THE FINANCES

During the seven years the Liberals have been in power the Government only added 61-2 million dollars to the public debt—whereas the Conservatives in their last seven years added 21 millions.

The Conservatives added to the debt at the rate of 61-2 millions a year for 18 years.

The Liberals added less than one million dollars a year for 7 years.

In 1896 the public debt per head of the population was $50.96—to-day it is $47.97—a reduction of $3.00.

It should be noted here that in the foregoing calculations as to the public debt, no credit is taken or allowance made for a reduction of the debt last year to the amount, $3,505,243, which was due to a re-adjustment of the provincial accounts. If that amount be included the actual increase of debt under Liberal rule was only 3 million—and the per capita debt is $3.59 less than in 1896.

Though they increased the debt at a much smaller rate than the Conservatives, the Liberal Government in the last seven years spent 65 millions on capital account for beneficial public works, as against 37 millions spent by the Conservatives during the last seven years they were in office.

The Liberals spent nearly twice as much as the former Government, for the present and future good of the whole people, yet added much less to the public debt.

Out of the 37 millions spent on capital by the Conservatives between 1889 and 1896—21 millions were provided by additions to the debt.

The Liberals between 1896 and 1903 spent 65 millions on capital — yet only added 61-2 millions to the debt.

The ordinary revenue exceeded the ordinary expenditure in the 7 years of Liberal Government by 41 millions. During the previous 7 years the excess revenue was only 2 millions.

Deficits to the amount of $5,691,759 were recorded during the last three years of Conservative Government.

Surpluses to the amount of 27 millions were recorded for the three years, 1901, 1902 and 1903.

The revenue increased from 36 to 66 millions between 1896 and 1903—as compared with a reduction of 4 millions during the previous 7 years.

The increased revenue was obtained without adding to the burdens of the people; on the contrary taxation has been lowered. Custom duties are on the average 18 per cent. less than they were—postage rates for home letters and United States letters are one-third less, and for British letters over one-half less.

It is true the ordinary expenditure has been largely increased. No apology is offered and none is necessary. Rather is it confidently believed that the financial record is worthy of approval and commendation. The Government kept pace with the progress of the country.

You cannot fairly compare Canadian expenditure of to-day with that of 7 years ago, without making allowance for the tremendous advancement the country has made.

In addition to all this immense portions of the West and the Yukon have been opened up.

As a business man's expenses increase with the growth of his business—so do a nation's.

Ample return has been received for every dollar expended.

Do not pass judgment on expenditures in the gross without scrutinizing the details.

Through the efforts of the Government the country's securities were placed by the British Government on the highly favoured Trustee List in Great Britain, which comprises only the most gilt edged investments—such as British Consols.

VOTE FOR LAURIER AND THE LARGER CANADA.

LIBERALS AND THE TARIFF.

The Liberal Government revised, reformed and reduced the tariff.

In 1896, the average duty paid on all goods imported was $18.28 per $100, whereas last year only $15.88 was paid.

If the average duties imposed during the Conservative administration of 18 years had been imposed during the last seven years, over 30 million dollars more money would have been collected from the people.

Manufacturers were assisted by material reductions in duties on iron and steel and other raw materials.

The farmer got free binder twine, Indian corn, barbed and other fencing wire, cream separators, etc., substantial reductions in his favour were also made on many agricultural implements, on hardware, woollens, cottons, linens, glassware, hats, caps, furs and many other staple commodities.

A substantial preference was granted to Great Britain. Direct result, British imports, which formerly declined greatly, have doubled—and our exports have also largely increased.

Canada led the way in Imperial Preferential trade—South Africa has followed suit. New Zealand has promised to do so; Australia may act likewise — and it is possible that Great Britain may also revise her trade faith and adopt the principle.

Mark it well, if ever we get a preference in the British market for our food products it will be the direct fruit and result of the Canadian Liberal Government's preferential tariff.

Chamberlain has put our preferences, with our offer to increase its value, before the British people, and asked them to reciprocate.

A surtax was placed on British products in retaliation for Germany discriminating against us because we favoured our Mother Land.

The preferential tariff has been offered to South Africa in exchange for their preference.

KEEP IT.

Peterborough has prospered under the Laurier Government as it never prospered before. Not only one section of the community, but all classes have felt the good effects of his good government. Manufacturers and merchants have got their full share of the good times, and the workingmen have not been overlooked. Then how foolish it would be to vote against the Government that has done so well for them. Peterborough, of all places in Canada, should be found supporting the Government in this election. We are prosperous, let us keep our prosperity.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

AUTUMN.

The cycle sing from winsome spring
To chilly wintry zone,
Displays no brighter, richer thing
Than nature's parting tone,
When yielding up the throne.
Sweet summer, with a grace divine,
Hangs placards on the trees;
I pause, while yet, the dew-drops shine,
While sleepeth yet the breeze.
To scan the phrase in colours dyed,
To note the picture rare,
As autumn hastes in regal pride
With blessings everywhere.

Lo! there I read in brilliant mead
With plaintive undertone,
The message sent, that God is good
To give so much—His own
Remembrances of Eden's dress,
Faint footprints of her train,
The vernal flow'rs, the summer bow'rs
The sheaves of golden grain.
But while receding summer sways
(For long her beauty stays)
Fantastic tints, a portend hints
Of sterner shorter days,
Of hi's and trees ablaze
With early autumn's Indian story
Commingling with the dying glory
Of summer's lov'ring rays.

Approaching dissolution sighs
In accents strangely bright;
But autumn's later voice replies,
"The fee is just in sight!"
Unheeding, calm and beautiful
Our quaint October chimes,
In echoes of the bountiful
The genial summer times.
Our life portray'd by summer time,
A rare and roseate ray;
It's setting—but the autumn's prime,
The product of the day.
As resurrected nature sings
The seeds that summer grew,
Brief life-time manifolded springs,
And goodness lives anew.
Yea, as the seeds, whose fruitage reads
The precious or the vile,—
A whirlwind reaps the soul that keeps
No vigil for itself, erstwhile.

CLEAN SWEEP IN QUEBEC.

Le Soliel Emphatically Denies Reported Forecast.

Says that all but one Quebec County Will go Liberal, and Probably Even That One.

Le Soliel, the Quebec paper, which has been misquoted by Conservatives in its forecast of the elections, sends the following paid despatch to the Examiner:

Quebec, Que., November 1. — The Montreal Gazette, and other Tory papers, are trying another bluff to deceive the electors. Far from admitting defeat, Le Soleil, after having received all the best information from the most reliable sources, says that the only doubtful seat among the whole twenty-five Quebec Counties, is Dorchester, for the reason that the Liberal candidate there, Dr. Vaillancourt, came into the contest too late. Le Soleil says that all the other seats are perfectly safe by great majorities, but it adds, that in two or three counties the majorities may perhaps be reduced owing to local issues. So this last bomb of the Tory organ is not any better than any of the rest. A despatch from Dalhousie, and signed by Minister C. H. Labillois, says, "Liberals will carry ten seats out of thirteen in New Brunswick. In fact a great many think that not one Tory candidate will be left to tell the tale. Use my name if necessary." Sir Wilfrid Laurier just arrived at Quebec from his last campaigning tour, cheerful, healthy and absolutely sure of victory.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER.

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities, by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature a tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability, making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business, and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigour. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well-known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy, but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store, and took two or three tablets after each meal, and occasionally a tablet between meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health, and before the two packages were gone was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was going to cure completely, and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and drink and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy, asking for information as to what the Tablets contained, and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin, (government test,) malt diastase, and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this: the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Digestive Tablets will digest the food, give the over worked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whose system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength; they give a fictious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue, is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can ensure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years, yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach troubles.

LAKEHURST.

Some of our citizens drove to Hall's Bridge on Tuesday night to attend a meeting in the interests of Mr. R. R. Hall. Mr. J. R. Stratton was also present, and both gentlemen gave interesting addresses on the important topics of the present campaign, dealing with them in a masterly and convincing manner. Those who were present at the meeting went home with the firm conviction that the Liberal policy was the right one for Canada.

The same night the town hall at Lakehurst was the scene of a rousing Conservative meeting. After the initial address by Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Kendry spent a short time in speaking on the principal points of the subject in hand, and was given an attentive hearing. Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald made a few closing remarks, and the meeting adjourned.

Mr. S. H. Pickup, who left for his home in Millbrook last week, is unable to return, owing to an attack of inflammation of the lungs. His friends hope for his speedy recovery and return.

ACCOMMODATION NOT SUFFICIENT.

Protestant Home is not Large Enough to Meet Demands.

Annual Meeting Held Yesterday When Enlargment was Discussed—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the Protestant Home was held yesterday afternoon and was largely attended. There was a splendid turnout of ladies and the clergymen of all Protestant denominations in the town were represented, seven ministers being present. The meeting was an important one in that it dealt with the necessity of better and more spacious accommodation for the inmates of the home, which at the present is not sufficiently large to admit of its receiving nearly all those who apply for admission.

Before the public meeting, the Board of Ladies met and re-elected the following officers:—

President—Miss Rogers.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. Hall.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. J. B. McWilliams.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. M. Roger.
Secretary—Mrs. W. H. Miller.

Mayor Roger presided at the general meeting, which was opened by scripture reading by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt and prayer by Rev. Dr. Crothers.

The Secretary's report was then read as follows, and upon motion was received and adopted:—

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

In presenting our annual report we would place on record our sincere regret that Mrs. Vernon who for 18 years had so ably and so wisely guided the affairs of the Home as President, found it necessary, owing to advancing years, to retire from active work. Miss Roger having been connected with the Home from its earliest days, and having held the office of secretary or treasurer for many years, was elected President and has filled the position most acceptably.

There was a larger attendance at the last annual meeting than for some years previously, but we regret that more of the ladies have not been able to attend our regular meetings, although some have shown a very kindly and thoughtful interest in the inmates.

The Home has been filled to its utmost capacity during the year and almost every week the committee have been obliged to refuse admittance to most deserving people for lack of room. At present there are several applications which can only be considered when there are any vacancies. When we are compelled to refuse so many before the winter comes, it is a very sad outlook for the coming months. We would again urge upon the authorities and the public in general that some steps be taken at once to relieve this distressing state of affairs.

We have during the past year given shelter to 31 persons. The majority of these have been in the home for a number of years. Five have become so feeble that they are unable even to dress themselves and one woman is confined to her bed from paralysis. The average age is 73 years and five are over 80. In spite of the severe cold of last winter there was little illness among the inmates and but one death during the year.

In previous years some of the old men have gone out to work in the summer and have come back for the winter. With one exception they remained last summer. The majority of the inmates are not able to contribute anything towards their maintenance. Some pay small sums irregularly, while a few pay the amount per week asked by the committee.

During the year the Home has undergone extensive repairs and is now in every respect a most comfortable place for the aged and homeless to spend their declining years.

Our sincere thanks are due to the clergymen and physicians who so kindly ministered to the welfare of the old people. Also we would thank the editors of the newspapers for their frequent kindness in inserting gratuitously the notices of our work and wants; and all who in any way have contributed to the Home and the comfort of the inmates.

M. MILLER,
Secretary.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The Treasurer's Report showed that the total receipts of the past year, inclusive of the balance of $140.41 from the previous year amounted to $3,312.41.

This included the government grant of $464.77, $102.00 from the county and $331.30 from the inmates for board, $950.00 of investment and $78.05 from other sources. The people of Peterborough had contributed the small sum of $34.10. The expenditures amounted to $1,547.06. The items in the expense account showed that the expenditure had been a most careful one and while there was plenty of good food and clothing provided there had been no unnecessary expenditure.

A DISCUSSION.

A lengthy discussion on the secretary's report followed. The need for a larger building was evident to all and the question was, what could be done to overcome the difficulty.

Rev. J. C. Davidson spoke of the splendid management of the Home and of the great care shown to keep down expense. There was need for more accommodation and it was necessary to arouse the conscience of the community either through public channels or by private subscriptions to make a large addition to the present building or to provide a new building. The cause of old age, poverty and indigence was a very strong one and he thought that if the townspeople understood the increasing need for better accommodation, there would be plenty of money forthcoming to meet the demand.

Rev. Mr. Larefeldt thought that as a community we were well able to supply proper accommodation for the aged. He was surprised to note in the treasurer's report that such a small amount had been contributed by the people of Peterborough. He thought if enthusiasm were created a handsome sum could be raised to provide a proper building for those who were unable to take care of themselves.

Mrs. McWilliams thought that each church should have a representative on the Board and attend the meetings regularly in order to keep in touch with the Home.

This suggestion was a good one and the opinion of all present.

Rev. Mr. Bruce thought that the reason for the small response from the citizens was because of the fact that the needs of the home were not known. Were they known there would be liberal donations to the Home.

Mrs. Bardly-Wilmot spoke in very high terms of the services rendered by the matron, Miss Fraser.

Rev. Mr. Potter said that the ministers were not as a rule aware that the Home was being conducted on such a small scale financially and he believed that more money should be provided. The salaries to the matron and servants were exceedingly small considering the hard and responsible work to be done. The matron had always done her work cheerfully and she should receive more remuneration. If the churches knew there was need for money, it would be forthcoming. Previously there had been the impression that the Board had plenty of money to successfully carry on the work and did not require the help of the churches, but an interest had been aroused by the meeting and he thought there would be plenty of funds forthcoming for a new building or for an annex to be made to the present one.

The treasurer said that though the expenses were low, the inmates were properly cared for. They had all the luxuries which old people could have and from time to time donations were received which were not recorded in her report.

Mr. Potter said there was no reflection cast upon the few ladies who had made the house so comfortable and provided the food so acceptably, but rather on the public for their lack of interest in the Home. The lack of interest may have been through ignorance of the cause.

Mayor Roger gave a brief history of the Home and spoke regarding the increasing of the accommodation of the Home. He said the property was donated to the Home on a 99 years lease and the question of making extensions must be met by the fact that the home did not own the property and any improvements might not be found profitable afterwards. His idea was to endeavour to acquire the full right of the property so that the ladies could do as they desired in reference to making any additions to the buildings. There was also an adjoining property which he thought could be purchased and be made of use to the Home. This was a difficulty to face even if the money were raised, which he believed could be readily done, if the true cause were known to the public. He thought the line of action was first to purchase the property and then make the necessary additions.

It was suggested by Rev. Dr. Crothers that a committee be appointed to cooperate with the Board to look into the matter and see what could be done. The committee could inquire into the statistics and after deciding upon a policy to be adopted, a public meeting might be called and the cause presented to the public.

It was decided that each Protestant church should appoint a member to form a committee to work with the Board in reference to improvements which would be recommended.

It was decided that the Mayor, Dr. Halliday and J. B. McWilliams be a committee to investigate certain legal matters as to whether the property could be bought and inquire into any other matters relative to any improvements.

The meeting adjourned with prayer by Rev. J. A. Wilson.

MRS. ROGERS GAVE AN ADDRESS

At Harwood on Missionary Work in Foreign Lands.

The Harwood correspondent of the Cobourg World, sent the following account of a meeting, at which a Peterborough lady gave an address:

"The W.F.M.S. of the Bethsada Presbyterian church held its annual thankoffering meeting on Wednesday afternoon. The unfavourable weather doubtless lessened to some extent the attendance, but yet the meeting was signally successful. Mrs. Roger, of Peterborough, Presbyterial President, delivered an interesting address on "Missionary Life in Foreign Lands." An attractive part of the programme was the acceptable rendering by a number of young people, mostly children, of a missionary selection entitled 'Little Lights,' a vocal solo by Mrs. Clapperton, and a recitation by Miss Ella Isaac, added to the pleasure of the occasion. The thankoffering amounted to almost $27. The serving of refreshments to all present brought a very enjoyable meeting to a close.

WILL SWEEP CANADA

Every Province Promises to Give a Liberal Majority.

MR. ALEX. SMITH'S ESTIMATE

Secretary of the Ontario Liberal Association Identified With the Present Conflict—Has Exceptional Advantages For Making a Correct Prognostication—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Denies Story of His Illness.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—Mr. Alexander Smith, Secretary of the Ontario Liberal Association since 1893, and now practising law in Ottawa, has, owing to the strong desire of the Liberal party, been identified with the present contest, the third Dominion general election with which he has been connected, not only as Secretary, but organizer. Mr. Smith gives the following estimate of the probable number of seats which will elect Liberals on Thursday

Ontario	44
Quebec	53
Nova Scotia	18
New Brunswick	6
Manitoba	4
British Columbia	5
Prince Edward Island	2
Northwest Territories	7
Yukon	1
Total	135

This gives a Liberal majority of 56 out of the 214 seats.

Sir Wilfrid's Health.

Quebec, Nov. 2.—The Prime Minister, who returned here from Grande Mere at a late hour Monday night, rested yesterday at the Chateau Frontenac. Some one set on foot a story that he was very sick, but when seen last evening after he had dined with his friends, Sir Wilfrid said: "Give absolute denial to report that I am seriously ill. The fact is that I overworked myself last week, and as a result had a slight attack of bronchitis. My physician ordered a day's rest, which proved quite sufficient. I am again at work."

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Commissioner Congdon of the Yukon has been nominated by the Liberals of the district for the House of Commons.

BOND GOVERNMENT WINS.

Large Majority to Sustain Newfoundland's Administration.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 2.—Election returns received yesterday strongly favor the Bond Government. Ferryland has elected Cashin and Ellis; Harbor Main has elected Morris and Lewis, all Bondites; Bay de Verde has elected Hutchings, Bondite, and Winsor, Opposition. Premier Bond has now six seats and the Opposition only two. Counts now in progress indicate the return of six more Bondites for St. John's city.

Harbor Grace returned Hon. E. Dawe, Minister of Agriculture, and two Bondite colleagues, defeating ex-Premier Whiteway and his two Tory colleagues. In St. John's West the election of Sir Edward Morris, Minister of Justice, and his two Bondite colleagues, is reported. In St. John's East the election of Mayor Shea and his two Bondite colleagues is conceded. This gives Premier Bond fifteen seats out of seventeen thus far.

ABOUT RIVAL CHURCHES.

Our New Governor-General Has Something Sensible to Say.

London, Nov. 2.—Earl Grey Monday opened a bazaar in connection with St. James' Presbyterian Church, Alnwick. "It has been said to me," he remarked, "'Why is it that you, a member of the Church of England, assist in ceremonials which are promoted with a view to increasing the power of rival churches?' Well, I am one of those who look upon the various Protestant churches in this country not as rivals, whom we ought all to try to keep in their proper places behind us, but as comrades who want to be helped as far as they possibly can. I believe there is much greater advantage to be derived by dwelling on the points that unite us than upon points of dogma and ceremonial that divide us."

An Unknown Suicides.

Montreal, Nov. 2.—An unknown man committed suicide yesterday morning under somewhat sensational circumstances in the gun store of James Manton, on Craig street. He was evidently of gentle birth, appeared to be about 35 years of age, wore a fair moustache and his clothes were good. He selected a 41 calibre Colts, and turned carelessly away, put the revolver to his temple, pulled the trigger, and the bullet went through his head into the wall, some distance away.

The name of the unfortunate man has been ascertained to be Wm. Bidwell, a Q.P.R. brakeman.

Looking For a Man.

St. Catharines, Nov. 2.—The police are on the lookout for a Hungarian named Stojan Kolometic, who is accused of murder. On Oct. 19 in a dispute in a boarding house, near Falls View, Ont., where both men lived, it is alleged that Kolometic shot Stephen Moijus and Moijus was brought to St. Catharines Hospital, where he died of the wound. Kolometic disappeared after the shooting.

Big Atwood Fire.

Atwood, Ont., Nov. 2.—About six o'clock yesterday morning fire destroyed the Foresters' Hall, Fullerton & Roe's offices, A. Morrison's implement store, and R. M. Ballantyne's house were damaged. Most of the plate-glass windows in the stores were broken. The loss is mostly covered by insurance.

Pressing Necessity.

'Tis always the unexpected that happens!

You little expected at noon to-day that you would have a pressing social function to attend to-night demanding the conventional dress suit!

Nor did you think that to-morrow would bring an important interview with some prominent business man whom you ardently desired to impress favorably—in a Brown Brothers Scotch tweed business, mayhap.

Absolutely no chance for the best custom tailor, and you might better go in your old clothes than wear an ill-fitting, awkward looking, badly cut and ancient styled "ready-to-wear!"

What's to do?

Semi-ready!

Carefully hand-tailored by experts on parts to the trying on stage—nothing remains but to try on your suit—have it properly adjusted to your physique and receive it at your home two hours after.

Then we return your purchase money for any dissatisfaction.

More New Millinery Novelties.

Miss Delaney is in Toronto securing new millinery novelties. This week her show rooms are made specially attractive by some splendid styles in new coming hats, with a full assortment of Misses' hats. Miss Delaney's hats are fashionable hats at moderate prices. 2d

Mr. Copeland's Visit.

Mr. C. M. Copeland, of Toronto, Provincial Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., will visit the local Association on Saturday and Sunday. The largest possible use of Mr. Copeland's time will be made. He will be with the Fellowship Club at 6 o'clock on Saturday evening, and at 8 o'clock lead a Round Table Conference of active members of the Association. On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock he will address the boys in the Assembly Room on the subject "The Boys of the Eastern Empire." In the afternoon he will speak at the Men's Meeting on the subject, "Four Fools," and at five o'clock address the workers of the Association, on "The Great Eastern Question."

Mrs. Morrow's Chorus Class.

Mrs. Morrow's chorus class will meet in the T.A.S. rooms this evening at half-past seven o'clock, as the Y.M.C.A. Hall is not available on account of so many meetings being held there. All who were members of the previous classes are asked to be present, as matters of importance will be discussed and the work for the season planned. Those who will contribute solos at the rehearsal this evening are Miss Margaret Bryce, who will sing selections from the "Messiah," Miss Myrtle Klein, of Lakefield, Miss O'Donnell, Miss Curtis, and Mr. Thos. Dawson. All who would like to join the class will be welcomed at this evening's rehearsal, and at the close a sight-reading class will be held, which will undoubtedly be taken advantage of by all the members.

CONGREGATION IN SOCIAL CONCOURSE

Very Enjoyable Event at All Saints' Church Last Night

Presentation of W. A. Life Membership Certificate to Mrs. Fitzgerald—The Programme.

The congregation of All Saint's church met in the school room last evening to enjoy an informal social evening. The event, which was held upon the instigation of the Woman's Auxiliary, was in the form of a reception to the church members and proved to be an ideal means of promoting an increased spirit of sociability and sympathy in the work of the church. There was a very large attendance and the evening was to one and all a most delightful one. Occasions like this have the effect of bringing the members into closer touch with one another and of adding a stimulus to the interest in work of the church.

An informal programme was rendered during the evening. Rev. Wm. Major was in the chair and made a few remarks of welcome to those present. He made reference to the work of the Woman's Auxiliary, explaining its objects, and told of the influence of women, making some historical references. He spoke of the desirability of their utilizing their influence in the best channels, for their influence if rightly made use of would prove a source of great blessing to the community. In the first place they should begin with themselves and extend it to their homes. Then it would spread to society and would enter the political atmosphere for the women should influence their husbands and sweethearts to set their faces against anything which was not upright and just.

A presentation of a life membership certificate of the Woman's Auxiliary was made to Mrs. T. Fitzgerald and on behalf of the Auxiliary a gold stick pin was presented by Miss Chamberlain. Mrs. Fitzgerald has for some years been a faithful and active worker not only in the Auxiliary but in church work generally and her services have been appreciated to a high degree.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, who was taken totally by surprise, replied in a neat speech, saying that what she had done, she considered was only her duty, but that she greatly appreciated the kindly presentation made to her.

A number of musical selections were given including a piano duet by the Misses Mulholland and Lumbers, a vocal solo by Mr. Colman, a piano solo by Miss King, vocal solo by Mrs. Reid, vocal solo by Miss Lumbers and humourous solo by Mr. McLaren. Each of the numbers was well received.

At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served and a most enjoyable social time was spent.

MR. WOODCOCK'S LARGE SCHEME

Wants a Free Site to Bring Steel Company Here

Says a United States Syndicate Wants to Establish Canadian Branch Here—Best Sugar Factory Would Suit Them.

It is rather an unfortunate fact that an industry which an evening contemporary promises will locate in Peterborough and employ 700 hands is as yet very much in the air. The facts of the case are that a Mr. Woodcock, about whom nothing is known except what he himself says, came to Peterborough some weeks ago representing that he was acting for a syndicate of United States steel manufacturers, who had sold out to the Trust under pressure made by that corporation that it they did not sell they would be driven out of business. After they had sold they found that the Trust had not captured all the trade, as had been anticipated, and in consequence of this they decided, according to this Mr. Woodcock, to again enter business, and to open a branch of their business in Canada.

Mr. Woodcock writes to the Mayor from Buffalo, from a room in the Prudential Building in that city, on plain paper, and asks if the town of Peterborough would be willing to grant a free site, and mentions the Best Sugar Factory as a site which might suit them with some alterations and arrangements.

It was stated by the Mayor that the site mentioned would not be available for that purpose as there are other plans proposed for it, but he had written Mr. Woodcock saying that in all probability the town would be prepared to give a free site.

CHEAP EXCURSION TO TORONTO

Rugby Club Will Run Excursion to the City on Saturday.

The cheapest excursion of the season to Toronto will be run on Saturday morning on the Grand Trunk Railway. The excursion is being run by the Peterborough Rugby Club which is certainly worthy of liberal patronage. The fare is $2.05, less than single fare and the tickets are good going on the morning 7.30 flyer and good to return on any train not later than Monday night. The rugby team play the Argonauts on Rosedale field and a victory will mean the district championship. The boys have to put up a big guarantee and there will no doubt be a large crowd take advantage of the unusually cheap rate and accompany the team. A special train will leave the city at 11.30 o'clock on Saturday night, giving those who desire to attend the theatres an opportunity of doing so. This will be the cheapest and best excursion of the season. Remember it's only $2.05 return.

ELECTION RETURNS.

The Rink Company will receive the returns on Thursday night in the Brock Street Rink. Mr. R. M. Roy will illustrate them on canvas, and will also show a large number of good views. The 57th Band will be present and give a good programme, and the successful candidate will be present and address the electors. To cover expenses an admission of ten cents will be charged. The Rink will be well heated. 1d

Hunters' Excursion.

The Grand Trunk Railway will issue hunters' excursion tickets daily until Nov. 4th, valid returning until November, 19th.

EASY ENOUGH to get the wrong kind of Wall Paper.

Easy enough to get the right kind, too, if you come to the Peterborough Bookstore.

Some are only half printed, and rub off; some are what "spiffs" are made of in the large cities and sold at whatever price they'll bring.

Our Wall Papers have the hall-mark of Style. Each design, each colouring has that exquisite something called style. And, for all that, they cost little, if any, more than Papers that lack the very thing they should possess. Why take chances when you can get the sure thing from THE PETERBOROUGH CASH BOOKSTORE.

LISTEN! From now out, every roll of Wall Paper goes at Bargain Prices. We must clear the stock without delay, to make room for incoming Christmas Goods.

THE DAY OF WORK.

To-morrow is the day of work. Get out and work.

The best Liberal vote is useless, unless it is polled.

Complete the work of canal construction, by completing the work of electing Hall and Finlay.

The building of the Grand Trunk Pacific will put the new Shovel and Tool Company on both feet. Vote to build up Peterborough.

Conservatives were eighteen years in power, and all they did for the working man was to institute Labour Day.

The Liberal Government has passed scores of laws and regulations in the interests of working men.

Don't vote for a shadow — vote for a Government that does things.

Vote for the candidate who will see that the Government is kept to the mark.

An energetic and active friend of the powers that be in Parliament, is better than a do-nothing enemy of the powers that be.

If you sent anybody to solicit a favour from a powerful man, you would not send that man's open enemy.

A vote for Hall and Finlay is a vote for Trent Valley Canal completion.

Every vote for the Liberal candidate and the Liberal Government, is a brick in Peterborough's up-building.

The Conservative candidate is anti-British — against the British preference. Cement the Empire with your vote to-morrow.

To make a country prosperous by high taxation, is like lifting oneself by his boot straps.

The best friend of the working man is good times — a chance to earn an honest day's wage by his strong right right arm.

Roorbacks are born in a night. Look out for Borden party roorbacks to-morrow.

Where were the Fosters and the Montagues when Sir Mackenzie Bowell wanted friends the most?

Voting is as much a duty as paying an honest debt. You owe the town of Peterborough a vote, to keep and continue its prosperity.

The "Chinese Wall" that separates the "Yellow Peril" from Canada was built $500 high by the Liberal Government.

The Liberal Government abolished the accursed "sweating" system on State contracts and placed the union label on all Government contracts.

Mr. Borden will feel to-morrow night that Kipling was justified in calling Canada "The Lady of the Snows."

Leading the electors to believe that the Grand Trunk Pacific will get freight in Canada and deliver it at Portland, U.S., is one way of lying.

If Mr. Kendry takes the advantage expected from such shameless and shameful falsehoods, is he the paragon of honesty and guilelessness he pretends to be?

Is any honest man willing to be served by a lie?

The Conservative campaign in this election has been a campaign of fakes—Dundonald, Tarte and Blair bunco games.

Voting begins at 9 o'clock to-morrow.

See that your vote is polled for Laurier and the Larger Canada, and see that your neighbour's vote is also cast early.

Vote for Hall and Finlay, the candidates of a Good Times Government.

The Lord Dundonald bombshell has burst. He says in recommending "compulsory" service in the militia, he did not mean "compulsory," and that when he recommended a standing army of 5,000 men, he didn't mean that a standing army of 5,000 men should be raised. About as harmless as Blair's resignation.

The cost of living is about twenty per cent. higher than it was in 1896, but the rate of wages is nearly 50 per cent. higher.

Wouldn't you rather have $2 to buy an article costing 50 cents, than have $1 to buy an article costing 40 cents. In one case you would have $1.50 change, and in the other you would have 60 cents change. You don't want a change like the latter, therefore don't make any change, but VOTE FOR HALL, AND THE GOOD TIMES GOVERNMENT.

Since Sir Wilfrid Laurier came to power, he has done his best — and that is much — to make citizenship in Canada national, and not sectional. Vote for a united Canada, bound together with steel-rails, "Made in Canada," and laid on the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Is there a man in Canada who does not feel prouder of being a Canadian now than he was eight years ago? Laurier's imperial policy, and loyally friendly attitude to Great Britain, conjoined with Canadian independent spirit, has made Canada both self-respecting, and known and respected abroad.

Election of a Government supporter to-morrow means better service, a friend at court, and energetic effort to secure solid advantages for Peterborough town and county.

Mr. Kendry won't smoke a Chamberlain cigar — it's a "Preferential."

Which do you prefer—the full dinner pail of 1904 or the red herring luncheon of 1893? You take your choice to-morrow. Vote for Hall, the Good Times Government and the full dinner pail.

Mr. Blair is going to Europe, and he can then turn over in bed without throwing Conservative newspapers into hysterics.

Mr. Alex. Smith, the Liberal organizer, is more optimistic than the "Tory" Toronto News. He gives Laurier a majority of 56, while the News will only concede a measly 41 majority.

Peterborough in 1896 would have thought itself lucky if it then had only the large and numerous industries established here since the Liberal Government came into power.

Nothing counts but votes.

Under the Good Times Government labourers on the trenches are making more wages than skilled mechanics did in 1896. Don't kill the goose that lays the golden eggs.

—The Mark street church Ladies' Aid intend holding a bazaar and tea in the East Ward Town Hall on Nov. 11th.

—The new member for West Peterborough will address the meeting in the Brock street rink to-morrow night.

—Mr. R. M. Roy will show about 150 of his best coloured and humorous views at the rink to-morrow night.

—Hear the Fifty-Seventh Band at the Brock street rink to-morrow night, when the election returns will be received.

—A promenade band concert, moving picture entertainment, and the election returns, all for 10 cents, at the Brock street Rink.

—Three thousand pictures for pasepartout work and Christmas presents arrived at "The Framery," 423 George street, to-day. dtf

—Thursday, the 10th day of November, is the date of the High Tea and sale of work to be given by the ladies of St. Paul's church. 1t

—The Examiner's Havelock correspondent reports that Wilfrid Davis, whose accident was reported yesterday, is still alive, and may recover.

—Go to the Brock street rink to-morrow night to learn the result of the elections. Both the C. P. R. and G. N. W. despatches will come direct to the rink.

—No. 13 street car jumped the switch at the corner of George and Charlotte streets this morning and the service on George street was blocked for some time as a result.

—The Never Learn Club will hold its regular fortnightly dance to-night, in the Foresters' Hall, commencing at 8.30 and continuing until 2 o'clock. An orchestra of four pieces will furnish music.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. McGregor wish to express through this medium their sincere thanks to their many friends who so kindly rendered them sympathy and assistance during the illness of their late son. The many kindnesses shown were highly appreciated.

—To-night at St. John's school house, Right Rev. Dr. Reeves, Bishop of Mackenzie River, will give an address on his life and work in the West. The Bishop's address is one which should be of general interest, and the public is invited to be present.

—Mr. J. W. Garvin has resigned the position of Superintendent of Agencies, for the Sovereign Life Assurance Company of Toronto, to accept the appointment of Manager of the State of Ohio, for the Manufacturers Life. He states to the Examiner that as the position is a lucrative one he will pay the remaining debts of the Sugar Company, should the latter be unable to do so, within two years from date.

—The regular meeting of the Girls' Guild of the George street Methodist church, was held last evening. A talent system has been organized among the members as one method of raising money towards the church debt. A social called a "Talent Entertainment," proceeds in aid of the fund, is to be held next Tuesday evening, November 8th, at Mrs. G. E. Whiten's, Aylmer street. Further particulars later on. Will the friends kindly keep this date open, as a thoroughly delightful evening may be expected. 1d

Neither political party has anything to do with the election returns being received in the rink to-morrow night, it is a private venture of the Rink Company, and as such should be supported by citizens generally. It is entirely non-political.

MR. BURNHAM'S WIT MISINTERPRETED.

He Explains That His Remarks re Scotch Wit was an Aside.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Your reporter must have been resting from the arduous duties of the campaign when he attended the T.A.S. meeting on the occasion of my remarks upon "Wit and Humour". He has put in "cold type" an aside of mine, respecting Scottish wit as if I had spoken in earnest. I would not trouble you were it not that several people have interviewed me regarding it.

THERE IS NO DANGER

Despite War Panic Which Prevailed in Great Britain.

AN UNJUSTIFIABLE SCARE

Not a Circumstance to Justify the Excitement—Negotiations Between Russia and Britain Proceeding Peaceably—Scares Nursed By the Sensational Press—Quieted By Foreign Office Statement.

London, Nov. 2.—Negotiations between Great Britain and Russia, looking to a settlement of the North Sea affair, are progressing favorably and there is not the slightest danger of any friction arising between the two Governments. The constitution of the international commission under The Hague Convention is on the verge of settlement.

In spite of these pacific conditions, Great Britain yesterday experienced a war panic that can only be compared to that which followed the sinking of the British trawler by the fleet under the command of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky. Not for years have so many alarmist reports and flaming extras flooded London. The most extraordinary feature of this scare, which was serious enough while is lasted, is that there was not one single circumstance to justify it. The excitement started early in the day, when the newspapers announced the departure of the Russian second Pacific squadron from Vigo.

The public were not in possession of the information cabled by The Associated Press, that only the officers concerned in the firing on the British trawlers would be detached and jumped at the conclusion that Russia had broken faith by not detaining the vessels involved in the affair. On top of this came wild reports of tremendous activity at Gibraltar. Hour by hour the news from Gibraltar became more serious, until at last the climax was reached with the announcement that the British fleet had cleared for action. Some even said the fleet had sailed to meet Rojestvensky's squadron. In huge type the papers made the parallel statements: "The Russian fleet has sailed," "The British fleet has cleared for action." No newspaper and no person seemed able to explain these events.

Planning War Simply?

The news from Gibraltar became more and more alarmist and finally the Foreign Office was overrun by reporters, some of whom brought the rumor that Admiral Beresford had already sunk the remnant of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet. Ambassador Benckendorff at that moment was quietly discussing with Foreign Minister Lansdowne the personnel of the international commission, but it was popularly rumored that he was receiving an ultimatum. Premier Balfour, Admiral Sir John Fisher, commander-in-chief at Portsmouth; Lord Selborne, first Lord of the Admiralty, and Prince Louis of Battenburg, director of naval intelligence, were all in conference, and it was openly hinted that they were planning the first stroke of war. As a matter of fact, they, like Lord Lansdowne, were engaged in considering names that had been suggested for the international commission. When all London was in this state of mind and while anybody who might be supposed to know anything was constantly being asked "Has war been declared?"

Foreign Office Statement.

The Foreign Office decided to adopt a course most unusual for it, and in order to allay the public excitement gave out to the press the following statement:

"Before the Russian fleet left Vigo instructions were given to the Russian admiral with the view of preventing injury or inconvenience to neutral shipping during the passage of the Russian fleet to the Far East. In compliance with Russia's engagement, four Russian officers have been left behind at Vigo. The two Governments are now discussing the terms with reference to the international commission, which will be entrusted with the proposed enquiry."

Would Be Ludicrous.

Yesterday's furore would be ludicrous except for the striking instance it has afforded of the willingness of the British public to believe that almost any development is possible after the North Sea affair and for the enthusiasm produced by Gibraltar's warlike news.

The Foreign Office is intensely irritated at the construction placed upon what they declare must have been mere fleet and garrison exercises. The Associated Press is authorized to state that no orders have been given the huge fleet now concentrated at Gibraltar to make any preparations in connection with the departure of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron. Some annoyance was caused in Downing street earlier in the day by the announcement of the sailing of the fleet coming from the British Consul at Vigo before the Russian Government officially informed the British Government that the officers, whose testimony is desired, had been detached. Ambassador Benckendorff soon made amends for this omission, while Ambassador Hardinge confirmed the news from St. Petersburg.

Flaming Car Posters.

Both the Russian Embassy and the Foreign Office affirm that the negotiations yesterday were entirely confined to the selection of the international commission, in which no hitch has occurred. Count Benckendorff, who twice saw Lord Lansdowne in addition to visiting King Edward at Buckingham Palace, was perfectly amazed to see flaming car posters as he drove back from his later visit to the Foreign Office. In his two conversations with the British Foreign Minister the question of the second Pacific squadron had not even been raised, except when the Ambassador informed Lord Lansdowne that four officers had been detached, the news of which had already unofficially reached Lord Lansdowne.

It Was Strange.

Several of those few persons who were thoroughly aware of the extent to which the Gibraltar telegrams, combined with diplomatic activity in London and the sailing of Admiral Rojestvensky's ships were causing a misconception of the situation in the minds of the British public, remarked that it was curious such an uproar should break loose on the very day King Edward had chosen on which to express to Count Benckendorff his appreciation of the Ambassador's efforts for peace and his complete satisfaction with the methods of settlement.

From other sources the Associated Press learns that the King privately expressed keen pleasure with the tone adopted by a certain section of the London press towards the agreement to submit the North Sea case to an international commission.

It is expected that after the Cabinet meeting to-day, a decision will be reached as to the date, place of meeting and personnel of the commission.

May Be Further Trouble.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—The four officers detached from the second Pacific squadron to testify regarding the North Sea affair are expected to reach here in two days.

The news of the departure of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky and his ships from Vigo has considerably relieved the tension here though fears are expressed in some quarters that there may be further complications before the fleet gets through the Suez Canal or around the Cape of Good Hope.

The Fleets Stationary.

Gibraltar, Nov. 2.—At 10 o'clock last night the fleets had not moved.

SIX LEGS BROKEN.

Five Brantford Men Seriously Injured in a Runaway—Caught Between a Rig and a Telephone Pole.

Brantford, Nov. 2.—The most remarkable and disastrous runaway in the recent history of Brantford occurred shortly before 10 o'clock Monday night. Five men had driven to Burford in a two-seated covered rig, drawn by a team of horses, and were returning via Paris road, when the accident happened. Near the car barns on Brant avenue a street car was encountered. The horses shied and broke into a run. The rig collided with a telephone post on the side of the road, was overturned and the occupants thrown into the street.

There were five men in the outfit and all were injured. In the mix-up six legs were broken and other wounds inflicted. All were caught between the rig and the post and bones snapped like kindling wood. The injured are:

John Syrett, 62 Dundas street, one leg broken, one rib fractured.

William Coleman, 177 Darling street, one leg broken.

George Walters, 99 Pearl, two legs broken.

Charles Mahler, 97 West Mill street, two legs broken.

William McMeans, 261 Clarence street, bruised knee.

All the men are moulders in the employ of the Buck Company. The ambulance was called out, the men were picked up on Brant avenue, near James street, and were removed to the hospital, where their injuries were attended to.

The team of horses dashed down Brant avenue, turned east along Colborne and finally hurled the rig through Ald. Corey's plate glass window at his grocery store, corner of Colborne and Murray streets. The top of the rig was demolished, one wheel was smashed and the harness slightly damaged. The horses escaped unhurt. The men were doing well at the hospital yesterday.

Five Years For Merritt.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—Yesterday afternoon Judge Snider sentenced Thomas Merritt, the ex-policeman, to five years in Kingston Penitentiary. While acting as a policeman Merritt broke into the store of Frank B. Wright, York street, and stole several revolvers and guns and a collection of old coins. His cousin, who helped him with the job, made a clean breast of the whole affair. Merritt tried to make the judge believe that his cousin had committed the robbery, and that he had only tried to shield him.

Canada's New Governor-General.

London, Nov. 2.—Earl Grey proposes, Reuter's Agency learns, to leave England on Dec. 1, by the steamer Parisian, to assume his post as Governor-General of Canada. Colonel Hanbury Williams, military secretary to the Governor-General, will leave for Canada with his family on Nov. 8, by the Tunisian. Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—Yesterday morning, at the Court House, before Judge Walker, H. G. Rutland, formerly manager of the Bank of Hamilton at Winkler, was charged with stealing moneys of the bank, as follows: On June 27, $1,085; on June 30, $1,000, and on July 12, $1,000. He pleaded guilty to the charge and His Honor remanded him for sentence.

WE INVITE YOUR DOCTOR

TO INVESTIGATE THE FORMULA OF

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

HERE IS THE CERTIFICATE OF WELL KNOWN ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS

While we do not believe there would be any advantage (except to imitators) in printing the formula of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the newspapers, we do invite your doctor to fully investigate their formula, knowing that he must certainly be convinced of the merits of the preparation.

So far as the curative effects are concerned, there have been thousands of testimonials published in the newspapers from persons cured of kidney and liver complaints, biliousness, constipation, stomach troubles, and kindred ailments.

The originals of these statements are on file in these offices, bearing the signatures of the cured ones, and backed by a $500.00 guarantee as to their genuineness.

Now, as to the ingredients of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, their purity and medicinal value, we know of no better authority to vouch for them than the well-known analytical chemists, Thomas Heys & Son, of Toronto, who have thoroughly analyzed them, and compared their analysis with our formula;

ANALYSTS' CERTIFICATE. — "We have made a careful examination of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and find them to contain ingredients in quantities large enough to make them reliable medicinal value, also to be free from any injurious drug, such as morphia, etc."

(Signed) THOS. HEYS & SON,
Analytical Chemists.

Toronto, July 30, 1904.

The indisputable reliability of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has placed them in the front rank of family medicines. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 11—

Remains of Former President Kruger Reach Rotterdam On Monday.

The Hague, Nov. 1.—The remains of former President Kruger of the Transvaal Republic, who died in July last, were removed from the cemetery yesterday and taken to Rotterdam for conveyance to South Africa, on board the steamer Batavier. Six wreaths from Queen Wilhelmina, the Prince Consort, and former President Steyn, covered the coffin. Not much interest was shown. A chapelle ardente has been prepared on the steamer, covered with black drapings, embellished with inscriptions in silver letters, among them: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

Wee Kirkers Want Their Own.

Edinburgh, Nov. 1.—The Free Churchers, now commonly called the "Wee Kirkers," have served the general trustees of the United Free Church with a notice to quit and hand over all the church property, including assembly hall, three colleges, at Edinburgh, Glasgow and Aberdeen; all the missions abroad and the churches and manses in Scotland, numbering 1,100 and valued at $55,000,000.

Fire At Peterboro.

Peterboro, Nov. 1.—At 1 o'clock yesterday a fire broke out in Mann's planing mills and cheese-box factory, and resulted in the complete destruction of the planing mills. The box factory was saved. The fire is supposed to be due to some derangement of the electric motor. The loss is put at $6,000.

POLICY OF BRITAIN

CHARGE OF DOUBLE-DEALING

Conviction of France in the Fishing Boat Incident As Interpreted By St. Petersburg—France Given the Credit For Favorable Turn in the Negotiations—Crisis Not Yet Passed.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—The Russian papers yesterday morning, notably The Gazette, give much credit to France for the favorable turn in the North Sea incident. The paper says: "To French diplomacy belongs in a great measure the credit for the peaceful settlement, this being the first happy consequence of the French-Anglo understanding, enabling our ally to enjoy the confidence of both countries. All sincere friends of peace must once more congratulate themselves on the benefit conferred on the world by our beloved monarch in initiating the peace conference."

The Crisis Not Passed.

Some of the papers, however, continue to display unrestrained bitterness toward Great Britain. The Sviet, Panslavist, warns the Russian public not to be too sanguine of an amicable settlement, saying: "The reference of the matter to a commission leads people to suppose that the incident is closed, but a whole series of other events shows that the crisis is not ended. We must be ready for any eventuality."

A Charge of Double-Dealing.

"The conviction exists in France that Great Britain promised Japan to detain the Russian second Pacific squadron, which would explain the double-dealing of the English Government and press. Great Britain does not want war, as war would draw in France, but is relying on her naval strength to do all possible to embarrass Russia, produce a repetition of the Hull incident, or, worse still, arrange a Japanese ambuscade which would make a Russian naval victory impossible. Altogether Great Britain's attitude bodes no good to Russia. Great Britain's chance to injure and humiliate Russia was never so good as now."

An Admiral's View.

Even Admiral Abaza, who is attached to Emperor Nicholas' military suite, is quoted as indulging slightly in veiled reflections on Great Britain declaring that as Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky had no torpedo boats with him it must have been Japanese torpedo boats which found shelter at the English fishing ports. In any event, Abaza insists Rojestvensky was justified in taking every measure to protect his squadron, costing $150,000,000.

Expected Jap Attack.

The conviction on board the ships of the Russian squadron that the Japanese would make an attempt to destroy some of them is conclusively shown by a letter just received here by an official and mailed at Copenhagen, in which the writer describes the precaution taken to protect the squadron from an attack on the part of the Japanese, whose cunning makes them capable of anything. For this reason, he says, the squadron passed through the Great Belt in daylight with trawlers ahead to protect them from mines.

Meeting of the Cabinet.

London, Nov. 1.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and Count Benckendorff, the Russian Ambassador, further discussed yesterday morning the composition of the commission which will inquire into the North Sea incident. Subsequently there was a meeting of the Cabinet.

Gone to Madrid.

Vigo, Spain, Nov. 1.—Two Russian officers left Vigo for Madrid yesterday. Presumably they are conveying detailed reports of the North Sea incident and will confer with the Russian Ambassador to Spain.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Premier Laurier arrived at Quebec Sunday from Three Rivers, and spoke Monday at Grand Mere with Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick. The Premier is suffering from a cold. He returns to Quebec to-day and stays at Chateau Frontenac until after the election.

It is probable that the elections in Quebec County will have to be postponed on account of the sudden illness of L. A. Rousseau who is said to be dying. The act provides for such an emergency.

An Ontario Expert Wanted.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—It is understood that the Government of Nova Scotia has offered to one of the expert officials of the Ontario Agricultural Department the principalship of the new agricultural college at Truro. The building was recently completed by the Nova Scotian Government at a cost of $25,000, not including equipment, and is on the Provincial farm at Truro, where in former years small classes in practical agriculture have been carried on. The wooden school building on the ground was burned down five years ago, and the Government, which had long been urged to do so, then decided to build the present college. Mr. F. L. Fuller, who has for many years been superintendent of the farm, who was at the Parliament Buildings yesterday, said he was not in a position to make any announcement at the present time regarding the principalship of the college.

Mr. Blair a Free Man.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Yesterday was Mr. Blair's last day as chairman of the Railway Commission. When he left the office yesterday he was, as he termed it, a free man. After a few days, he will go to Eastern Canada on a visit, which probably will last for a couple of months. He has outlined a visit to St. Louis and later to England. Asked if he had any intention of making any public statement, he said that at present he had not. His resignation was formally accepted by the Government on Friday last.

Canadian Flour in Japan.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Alex. McLean reports from Japan for the first six months of the calendar year amongst Japanese imports, flour stood alone as the representative of Canadian trade. But the increasing importations of that article save the situation from discouragement. During the eight months from January to August, 70,852,496 pounds of flour, valued at $81,755, were brought in from Canada, as compared with 448,701 pounds, valued at $5,440, for the same period of the year previous.

St. Hon. John Morley.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Yesterday at Toronto University, with Dr. Goldwin Smith as his sponsor, the Right Hon. John Morley had conferred upon him the degree of LL.D. Mr. Morley delivered an address in reply which will be a classic in the annals of the university. The distinguished Englishman also addressed here yesterday the Canadian Club, 600 of the members being present.

The Newfoundland Elections.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 1.—The general elections yesterday passed off quietly and no disorders have been reported. The full result will not be known before Thursday, owing to the fact that under the Newfoundland system all ballots are counted in the central station of each district.

An Air Ship That Steers.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 1.—After circling in every direction at a height of 2,000 feet above the cascades, in sight of thousands of cheering enthusiastic spectators on the World's Fair grounds, A. Roy Kamenshue, of Toledo, in command of Thomas S. Baldwin's airship, California Arrow, yesterday returned to the place from which he started, covering three and one-half miles; part way against an eight-mile wind.

Seven Freshmen Ducked.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—As the result of a hazing, in which seven Northwestern University freshmen were forced to walk blindfolded from an ice chute into 30 feet of water in an old clay hole, three victims are said to be in a serious condition. They are threatened with pneumonia.

ENGINEER DAUPHIN KILLED.

Accident On the C.P.R. Line Near Canmore, B.C.

Winnipeg, Nov. 1.—A small wooden trestle, twenty-five feet long, crossing a creek near Canmore, B.C., on the main line of the C.P.R., collapsed on Saturday night, as a freight train was crossing, and tossed Engineer J. Dauphin to his death. The trestle had been afire, which weakened the structure, and the waters of the creek, swollen by rains, completed the work, so that it tottered and fell as the engine ran on it. Fireman R. H. Lloyd was injured, sustaining a crushed leg, but the remainder of the train hands escaped injury.

Lift Lock At Kirkfield.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Tenders are being called for a $200,000 lift lock at Kirkfield, on the Trent Canal. The location will be between Lake Simcoe and Balsam Lake, or about one hundred miles from the Peterboro' lift. The Kirkfield lock will be about ten feet shorter than the one at Peterboro', and the lift will be fifty-five feet, or ten less than at Peterboro'. The towers at Peterboro' are of concrete; at Kirkfield they will be of steel. The lock, as well as that portion of the canal it is located on, will be completed next autumn.

Sarnia Tunnel Ventilation.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Mr. Mountain, chief engineer of the Railway Commission, states that before any report is presented dealing with the matter of improvements in the ventilation of the Sarnia Tunnel, a visit will be paid to the tunnel of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway in Baltimore and the tunnels under the Hudson in New York. Mr. Mountain inclines to the belief that by using electric cars a repetition of the Sarnia Tunnel disaster would be prevented.

Odd Punishments.

In the reign of Queen Mary a man was pilloried in London for selling pots of strawberries, "the which the pot was half full, but filled with fern." Poor old Cheapside has doubtless seen many similar frauds. At the same period persons were often pilloried for selling bad fish, and the fish itself was hung around their necks. The public was thus allowed to avenge itself. A butcher who had vended diseased meat was made to ride around London, "his face toward the horse's tail, with half a lamb before and another behind and veal and calf bones before him on a pole, raw." His own meat, no doubt, and therefore not too savory. A similar punishment of riding round London in a cart was given to a certain person who had sold his wife to a butcher. Let us hope that this sale was purely matrimonial.

ETIQUETTE.

A letter or note should always be dated.

Politeness does not mean stiffness of manner, but, on the contrary, ease of manner.

On the visiting card the day for receiving is engraved or written in the lower left hand corner.

After one has finished eating, the knife and fork are placed close together across the center of the plate.

The old fashioned practice of folding over the right side of the visiting card to show it has been left in person is no longer observed.

Before making a call on a lady, a gentleman must first receive an invitation to do so, or he must first ask and receive her permission to come.

At the table the knife is held in the hand as little as possible, being used only when it is necessary to cut the food. For the majority of vegetables the tines of the fork may be used instead of the knife.

Roses Old as the World.

Rose culture's beginning goes back beyond records. The flower is mentioned in the earliest Coptic manuscripts. India's traditions take the rose to the times of the gods on earth. Egypt had roses, wild and tame, before the Roman occupation made it, in a way, Rome's commercial rose garden. Yet, curiously enough, there is no reference to the flower in painting, sculpture or hieroglyphics. Japan in our time parallels Egypt. Roses flourish there, but do not serve as a motif for artists. There is this further likeness—neither Egypt nor Japan has a rose song or a love song proper.

Needed Another Barrel.

When Van Blumer came up from the cellar, says Harper's Bazar, he told his wife he wanted her to do him a favor. "I want you to give the cook a message for me," he added.

"What?" inquired Mrs. Van Blumer, a trifle anxiously.

"Tell her—ask her, I mean"—said Van Blumer, "not to put the broken china into the ash barrel. I really must have some place to put the ashes."

Mutually Shy.

"So their engagement is broken?"

"Yes. They were both too shy to get married."

"What?"

"Well, you see, he was shy of money, and she got shy of him when she found it out."

Repartee.

"Age before beauty," said Falstaff, as he attempted to enter before the prince.

"No, grace before meat," said the prince gently, as he pushed him from his path.

Considerate Child.

Mother—See here, Tommy, how often do you want me to speak to you?

Tommy—I'll leave it all to you, ma. You know what's best.—Leslie's Weekly.

Natural Conclusion.

Child (in berth of night steamer)—Mother, I'm so sleepy. I want to go to bed. Mother—But you are in bed, my dear. Child—No, I'm not. I'm in a chest of drawers.—Exchange.

Each succeeding day is the scholar of that which went before it.—Syrus.

$3,250.00 has been deposited with The Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, 14 King Street West, Toronto. The money will remain in the Trusts Company's hands and payment will be made by them for the best estimates when the official figures of the total vote polled in the General Elections are issued by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery for Canada.

THE TRUSTS AND GUARANTEE CO., LIMITED.

In the General Elections of 1887 there were 668,539 votes polled throughout the Dominion; in 1896 there were 720,094, an increase of eight per cent. over the figures for 1887. In 1900 there were 935,000, an increase of sixteen per cent. over 1896; in 1900 there were 959,466 votes polled, an increase of fourteen per cent. Census for 1902 was 5,982,239; for 1903 was 5,371,051.

? How many Votes will be Polled in 1904 ? SEND ONE DOLLAR ?

You have four opportunities to earn $2,500.00 for every dollar you send with your estimates—and if your estimates are received before noon of October 31st, you have an opportunity to earn an extra $250.00, making $3,750.00 in one prize.

$250.00 for the best estimate received up to noon of October 17th.
$250.00 for the best estimate received between Oct. 17th and noon of Oct. 24th.
$250.00 for the best estimate received between Oct. 24th and noon of Oct. 31st.
$2,500.00 for the best estimate of the total number of votes to be polled. This estimate to be mailed to the Trusts Co. before midnight of Nov. 3rd.

For one dollar you may estimate that the total vote polled will be 1,050,000, 1,060,000, 1,070,000, 1,071,000, or any set of four figures you think likely, and if one of your figures is nearest to the official return you will receive the money.

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

GUILDSMEN WERE ENTERTAINED.

St. Paul's Young Men's Guild, Guests of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Torrance.

The Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's church, held their regular monthly meeting at the residence of Rev. Dr. Torrance last evening, upon his invitation. There was a large turn out of the members, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. After a short business meeting, Mr. J. Crane gave a most interesting address upon "The History of Paper Money." Everyone is naturally interested in money, whether it be paper or otherwise, and Mr. Crane's remarks were listened to with much attention. He spoke of the issue of the bills, and in what quantity they are issued, of the security which must be given, and the methods of redeeming them. He showed by illustrations the difference between real and forged paper money.

All present were highly delighted with the address, which contained a great deal of interesting and valuable information.

Refreshments were served during the evening and the young men spent a most pleasurable time together.

PROFESSIONAL TEAMS TO ARRANGE SCHEDULE

Paid Hockeyists will Meet in Chicago on Saturday.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 31. — A meeting of the professional hockey league will be held at Chicago on Saturday next. It is expected that a constitution will be then adopted and a schedule for the season's games drawn up.

The Soo will be represented at the league meeting by J. P. Mooney and J. G. Sutherland. The outcome of this meeting and the financial assistance to be promised by citizens of the town in the meantime will determine the promoters of the hockey club in their policy for the season.

Hodge Stuart, who will manage the Laurium club this season, the formation of which is now definitely announced, went east yesterday to look up players for his team.

In looking about for players the league clubs are meeting with considerable competion on the part of the Ontario Hockey Association teams and it is quite evident that the latter are not all being conducted on the basis of amateurism that is claimed for them. There is little doubt about the first class players throughout the province receiving rewards for their services. Though not always openly it is done in various ways, the principal one being that of providing position with salaries much above what would be received by an ordinary employee unable to handle a hockey stick. The question arises as to whether honest professionalism or dishonest amateurism is preferable.

A High Opinion.

The Toronto Globe speaks in the following terms of Mrs. Killin-Keough, well known in Peterborough where she taught last year for some time, and was soloist in the Charlotte street church:—

"Mrs. Alice Killin-Keough, soprano, will give a recital at the King Edward Hotel on Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th, under the patronage of his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. Mortimer Clark, Mrs. Lillian Massey Treble, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Sparling and other distinguished citizens. Prominent musical artists will assist. Mrs. Killin-Keough has filled a temporary engagement during the past eight months at the Metropolitan Methodist Church, and her singing has won for her the highest commendation from all concerned in the arrangement of the musical service, as well as from the large audiences which have crowded that edifice of late. At this recital Mrs. Killin-Keough will be heard in two of the arias from standard operas, as well as in duet and quartette selections."

In Rifle Match of Peterborough Rifle Association

Highest Score Was 131—Some Good Scores by Local Shot.

The Peterborough Rifle Association match held recently at Curtis' rifle range was a gratifying success.

The ranges were at 200, 500 and 600 yards, and 10 shots were allowed at each range, with no sighting shot allowed. The Stratton cup for the highest score was won by Sergt. W. H. Moore; the Bankers cup, for the second highest score by Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald and the Cox cup by Mr. J. Gibson.

The following are the ten highest scores:—

W. H. Moore, 131; Geo. Fitzgerald, 129; J. Gibson, 128; A. O. Kidd, 127; R. A. Wilson, 126; J. B. Pentland, 125; A. MacMillan, 125; T. J. Ritchie, 125; C. Curtis, 123; D. Cameron, 118.

WAS THE HARRISON—BURNS RACE FAKED?

Letter Fom "Clean Sport" Praises the Referee in Saturday's Race.

Peterborough, November 2nd, 1904.

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—My indignation was aroused on hearing the referee's decision re the last Burns—Harrison race being criticised with much severity. After the race we measured the track and found it to be short, only being 4 miles 330 yards) instead of five miles in length. This race savored much of the Beliand effort on the Nicholls Oval, when he attempted to lower the 100 yard record in an 80 yard dash. The referee, in Saturday's race, recognized that the course was short and one of the runners also persisted in taking to the sidewalk, after he had been repeatedly warned by the referee to keep the road. Not a single judge remained at his post till the race was finished and consequently the referee could not assume the dual responsibility involved in the discharge of the judges' duty as well as his own. Therefore, he was quite justified in not giving the race to either man and declaring all bets off.

It is very much to be regretted that the recurrence of fake races in Peterborough should mar one of the finest of our sports, as its baneful effect is to keep many of our most promising youths from taking any part in the sport.

Hoping that a referee in Peterborough may never be placed in a similar position, I remain

Yours for clean sport,
W. M. JOYCE.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF ARGONAUTS WIN

Scullers Will Play Here Again on November 12th.

The Toronto Telegram says:—

The O. R. F. U. Executive is called for Thursday night to settle routine matters. The chief business to come before the meeting will be the arrangement of a series of games to settle the tie in this district in the event of Argonauts defeating Peterborough here next Saturday. It has been proposed that the three teams instead of settling the district question, take in Hamilton, the winner of their district, and the four play the semi-finals for the championship. The proposition pits Argonauts against Peterborough at the latter town on Saturday, November 12, and in Toronto on Thanksgiving day, November 17. This arrangement would have Hamilton play Toronto here on the Saturday and in Hamilton on Thanksgiving day. Meanwhile the Argonauts have to defeat Peterborough here on Saturday.

WOULD FIX FINALS.

In the event of Peterboro's winning here from the Argonauts on Saturday, dates for the finals between Hamilton and Peterborough would have to be provided, and that will also be looked after at Thursday night's meeting. The dates will likely be fixed on November 12 and 17—home and home games.

In such an event—if Peterborough wins—the first game for the city championships will be played between Varsity and Toronto on Thanksgiving day.

RUGBY.

The locals will certainly have their work cut out to win on Saturday. A Toronto dispatch says:—"A splendid practice was indulged in last night by the Argonauts, and the team will be in fine shape for the game with Peterborough on Saturday. Hamber will add a great deal of strength to the back division. He is a good punt and a great ball carrier. Hoyles and Grey, the former Varsity, and the latter McGill players, are fine tacklers and good all-round men. There is a possibility that Percy Biggs, one of the best quarter-backs Varsity ever produced, will be on the Scullers' line-up on Saturday."

If a Chance is Taken We Take It

In buying our clothes, you take no chances. If there is any chance, we take, it in this way: We say to you, "Take this suit or that suit, just as the fancy or style may please you," We will guarantee it to be right in every detail of construction. If there is a "slip," we are the loser.

Bring back the Suit, get a new one or your money. Do we make it clear? "Truly" we have a great guarantee. Fall and Winter Suits from $5.00 to $19.

TULLY MERRELL & MEREDITH

WAS MARRIED TO HARWOOD LADY

Mr. Alfred Barton McMillan, of Peterborough Becomes a Benedict.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. Amos Shearer, Harwood, when Mr. Alfred Barton McMillan, Peterborough, was married to Miss Ida May Smith. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Johnston in the presence of some 50 friends. The bride was the recipient of a number of useful and beautiful presents. The newly married couple returned to Peterborough in the evening where they intend to make their home. Congratulations are extended.

DECEASED PRIEST HIGHLY RESPECTED

Late Father Twohey's Funeral Largely Attended.

The Belleville Ontario has the following report of the funeral of the late Father Twohey, who was well-known here, and whose death caused genuine regret among those who knew him:—

"The funeral services for the late Rev. Father Twohey, of Trenton, took place Friday at the Church of St. Peter-in-Chains, in that town. The service was a most imposing one and was attended by forty-six priests representing the dioceses of Kingston, Hamilton, Alexandria and Ottawa. The solemn Pontifical requiem mass was celebrated by His Grace Archbishop Gauthier of Kingston, assisted by Very Rev. Dean O'Donnell of Mount Forest. Rev. T. J. Spratt was the deacon, and Rev. M. J. Spratt sub-deacon, Rev. Father Gray was master of ceremonies and the funeral was attended by almost the whole of the citizens of Trenton as well as by numbers from outside towns. The interment took place in the Trenton Catholic Cemetery.

CORRESPONDENT WRITES FROM HAVELOCK

Refers to the Alleged Disturbances in That Village.

A correspondent of the Examiner writes the following, which is self explanatory:—

In reading your last week's issue I notice under the heading of Havelock News an editorial on disturbances in West End, in front of British North American Hotel.

If our village council would see that our constable was on duty instead of being out of town, when tramps and law breakers came into our town, there would be no need of any person being disturbed on our sidewalks or being kept up at night as the writer in your last letter seems to have been.

NOVEMBER CLEARING SALE

Tuesday morning started our annual November Sale.

We must make room on our second flat, as Santa Claus visits us this year in four weeks from to-day, Dec. 1st.

We are obliged to clear out over 250 Dinner and Tea Sets and Chamber Sets, of which we have the largest range of any retail house in Canada. The same can be said in reference to our Wall Paper, Window Shade and Room Moulding Stock.

We are delighted when you will take the trouble to look elsewhere before coming to us, as then we have a chance of showing you what low prices we really are offering.

When you get a Dinner and Tea Set combined, 97 pieces for $4.19, we claim that is a lower price than ever you heard of a set of that size being sold at. We also know that our Chamber Sets which we are clearing at $3.49, are as good as any set you have ever seen at $6.00.

Our Embossed Gold Wall Paper advertised at 10c a roll, will compare with anything you may see at 25c, and the border usually sells at 8c a yard—our price is 5c.

We've earned a reputation for biggest variety, best goods and greatest values, and now we will more than be on our best behaviour in clearing the above mentioned lines—for room we must have, or rent another building.

We will make your dollar go further than any other store for the next four weeks. If you are likely to need the above mentioned lines, we will make you feel that we mean every word that we say through the paper.

BATTLING WITH OUTLAWS.

Murderers of Bank Cashier Being Chased to Their Capture Or Their Death By Col. Cody.

Cody, Wyo., Nov. 3.—Several battles have been fought between the posses and the outlaws who attempted to rob the First National Bank at Cody Tuesday, and who murdered Cashier L. C. Middaugh. But the bandits are still at large, although their capture or death is but a matter of a few hours. At dawn yesterday the officers came upon the bandits in camp, on the Grey Bud River, 65 miles from the scene of Tuesday evening's battle. The robbers refused to surrender and put up a hard fight. The horse of one of the officers was killed and some of the men had narrow escapes. The robbers got away.

The posse followed slowly because of the necessity of avoiding a possible ambuscade. The outlaws were again overtaken at Enos Creek, 20 miles from Meeteetse and 80 miles from Cody, and another fight occurred. One of the bandits was wounded in the thigh, but his companions hoisted him onto his horse, and after a running fight for four miles the outlaws again got away. A courier came into Meeteetse last night with the news that the bandits had been surrounded in a forest on Cottonwood Creek and that their capture was likely to occur at any time.

Col. Cody arrived at Cody last night with his Indian trailers, scouts and cowboys, accompanied by a large party of English noblemen and New York clubmen. Cody will take the trail of the outlaws at once. His guests have been invited to accompany him and some of the younger members of the party will accept.

THIRTEEN VICTIMS OF CATASTROPHE

The Reservoir Broke and Thirteen Residences Were Destroyed.

A CATASTROPE AT WINSTON.

A Million and a Half Gallons of Water Were Released and Over a Mile of Territory was Devastated—Reservoir Burst Without Warning and People Were Drowned While Asleep in Their Beds.

Winston, Salem, N. C., Nov. 3.—Thirteen people are known to be dead and many more are missing as the result of the bursting of the reservoir at this place early yesterday. One of the brick walls of the reservoir collapsed, burying the home and family of Martin Peoples. A million and a half gallons of water were released and over a mile of territory was devastated. Thirteen are dead and thirteen residences were destroyed.

Mayor O. B. Eaton is at the head of a large rescuing party and search is now being made in the debris for additional victims. The colored settlement in the vicinity of the reservoir was entirely wrecked and the negroes are working diligently with the whites in the search for the missing.

The cause of the disaster was the overflow of the reservoir, and a thorough investigation will be made in order to ascertain if the negligence of any of the employes at the pump station was responsible for it. The reservoir burst without warning and the victims were drowned while asleep in their beds. One couple, a negro man and his wife, floated on their bed for 500 yards. Neither one was injured.

The water supply of the city is uninterrupted by the accident.

Man Blown to Atoms.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Nov. 3.—A terrific explosion of dynamite which occurred here yesterday afternoon, caused injuries to about 40 persons and did damage to property that is estimated at $100,000. It is feared that one life was lost. An Italian who was guarding the box containing the dynamite, has not been seen since the explosion, and it is believed that he must have been blown to atoms.

In a house near by John C. Sullivan was blown against a gas stove in the kitchen. The stove was overturned, the man's clothing caught fire and he was so badly burned that he may not recover.

About 35 or 40 other persons are reported to have been cut by flying glass or otherwise injured, but their injuries are said to be not serious. Telephone and electric light wires are all down and the district looks as if a cyclone had swept over it.

Ten Crushed to Death.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 3.—Ten miners were crushed to death or drowned in the Auchincloss shaft of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company at Nanticoke yesterday. The victims, with the exception of one, are said to be Poles and Slavs.

The men had taken their position on the cage to be lowered into the shaft, the total depth of which is 1,700 feet. At the bottom is a sump filled with water. The shaft is a double one with two carriages. When the signal was given to lower the cage, it is said, the engine got beyond the control of the engineer. One of the cages shot upward to the sieve at the top of the shaft and this caused the other cage carrying the men to become overbalanced and it fell to the bottom of the shaft. The bodies were horribly mangled.

Ten Firemen Overcome.

New York, Nov. 3.—Ten firemen were overcome by smoke and gas last night, while fighting flames which consumed a haystack in Brooklyn. Three of the firemen may not recover, and four of the others are in a serious condition.

Twenty Students Hurt.

Boston, Nov. 3.—At least 25 persons were injured during a clash between students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and police reserves shortly after midnight this morning. Of the number 20 were students. Most of the injuries consist of scalp wounds and body bruises.

HERBERT GOOD SHOT.

While Hunting Near Trout Creek Was Accidently Killed.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The first Toronto victim of the hunting season is Herbert Goad of 351 Howland avenue, and the circumstances of his death are pathetic. He went to Trout Creek, in the Parry Sound district, to visit his brother-in-law, having been in ill-health for some time. With him were his wife and infant child. On Tuesday he was out hunting. In climbing over a fallen log, he placed the but of his gun on the ground, the muzzle pointing towards him. In someway the gun went off, and the charge entered his abdomen, the intestines being riddled with buckshot. The unfortunate man lingered in agony until midnight. Deceased was 35 years of age and was employed with Jones Bros. & Co. The body was brought to Toronto last night.

HEAVY POLES COLLAPSED.

Toronto Workman Meets With Fatal Accident At Petrolea.

Petrolea, Nov. 3.—In a fatal accident at the Canadian Oil Company's refinery here yesterday, Norman Callan, an employe of the Poison Iron Works, Toronto, was the victim. The unfortunate man was at work on an agitator when struck by some heavy poles which had collapsed, causing his death. An inquest was not held, the remains leaving for Toronto yesterday afternoon.

Deceased, who was 27 years of age, had been in the employ of the Poison Company for the past nine years. He was by trade a boilermaker, and was sent to Petrolea about a week ago with several fellow workmen to fill a contract for the repairing of a number of oil tanks. He leaves a widow and two children.

Loses An Arm.

Belleville, Nov. 3.—Nelson Smith of this city, an employe of Graham's evaporator, got his arm caught in the belting Tuesday night, and it was so badly smashed that amputation at the elbow was necessary. The injured man is married and about 40 years of age.

Broke His Back.

Picton, Nov. 3.—Dennis Roundall, a young man 19 years of age, working on a barn at the farm of M. B. Burr, two miles from Bloomfield, fell off a ladder Tuesday, breaking his back. He died yesterday morning.

LAURIER THE WINNER.

One London Paper Sizes Up the Situation As Regards the Canadian General Elections.

London, Nov. 3.—(C.A.P.)—The Morning Post says: The result of the Canadian elections will be in the nature of a national verdict of men rather than on measures. The main issue is the personality of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. After describing his services to his country and party The Post proceeds that it seems unlikely that the most grateful of democracies will dismiss him for Mr. Borden, despite the fact that the Conservative leader has not only done much to consolidate his following, but has proved himself to be a statesman by refusing to countenance any attempt to revive racial or Imperial antagonism by taking the side of Imperial commonsense in the controversy brought to a climax by Lord Dundonald's "indiscretion." It has been made clear to the Mother Country and the other colonies that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden substantially agree over Mr. Chamberlain's proposals for the commercial defence of the Empire.

Our Politics Beyond Them.

London, Nov. 3.—The Birmingham Daily Post says: "The masses of Canadian politics are too devious and thorny to be readily followed by the English people, therefore the general election in the Dominion has attracted little attention on this side of the Atlantic. Referring to the Grand Trunk Pacific, The Post says: "The refusal of the Liberal Government to work the gigantic railroad, and the popular support of that refusal, have a significance which ought not to be overlooked."

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

The Conservative candidate in L'Assomption, M. Caron, has retired from the contest and R. C. Laurier, Liberal, has been elected by acclamation.

A man giving the name of Frank Picotte was arrested Wednesday afternoon at Marieville. The accusation is that he represented to be from Montreal and commissioned by Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Liberal candidate, to pay for votes. Mr. Brodeur denies all knowledge of the man, and it was at his instigation that the arrest was made.

EMBARGO ON CANADA'S CATTLE.

Correspondent to the Glasgow Herald Defends Our Stock.

London, Nov. 3.—(C.A.P.)—Patrick Gray, secretary of the Edinburgh branch of the Canadian Store Cattle on the Admission from the Association, writes to The Glasgow Herald, protesting against a previous correspondent's assertions that certain tests had proved that Canadian cattle were largely infected with tuberculosis. He says the tests referred to by the correspondent consisted of tests on foreign cattle or their offspring or on those being cattle connected with foreign cattle, as a result of which an enactment was made that British cattle should be free of the tuberculosis test. Now, according to Mr. Trotter, a veterinary inspector in Glasgow, all Canadian bullocks and cows are practically free, while British cows and a large number of bullocks to a considerable extent suffer from tuberculosis. Either man or nature kills the infected stock of Canada. British cattle bred from tuberculosis stock are constantly in contact with infected.

The Glasgow Herald in an editorial says that Great Britain desired not to debar cattle free from disease, though disease was very prevalent amongst home stock.

Without Treasonable Intent.

Helsingfors, Finland, Nov. 3.—Former Senator Schaumann (father of Eugene Waldemar Schaumann, the assassin of Governor-General Bobrikoff), who has been on trial at Abo for some time past, charged with having had knowledge of his son's crime, in his plea, admits that he wrote the memorial regarding the necessity for the organization of the Finns, but he claims that it was without treasonable intent. Schaumann explains that he wrote it one evening when he had nothing else to do, slipped it into a book in his library and had forgotten its existence. The contents do not betray treasonable intent.

Picked Up At Sea.

New York, Nov. 3.—Captain William C. McLennan, his wife and son and four passengers, who were picked up from an open boat Oct. 7, by the schooner Cordelia E. Hays, after having abandoned the British steamer Kelvin, were brought here yesterday on the steamer Maracaibo, from Ponce, Porto Rico.

A Schooner Ashore.

Tobermoray, Nov. 3.—Yesterday morning during heavy fog and wind, the schooner Martin of Toledo, Ohio, coal, for Owen Sound, ran ashore on Devil Island shoal, four miles from here. She lies in an exposed position; a heavy sea runs and she will likely go to pieces if the wind continues to blow. The crew sheltered here safely.

Get Most of the Prize Money.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—A. P. Westervelt, the Ontario live stock commissioner, yesterday received a telegram from St. Louis stating that Canadian poultry won $3,000 out of $5,000 prize money offered.

Grand Secretary Paralyzed.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Nov. 3.—W. J. Maxwell, grand secretary of the Order of Railway Conductors, was stricken with paralysis yesterday. His condition is serious.

HOW TO WEAN CALVES.

After four weeks of election campaign writing, it seems natural to select a subject, apparently, as far removed as possible from political matters. The subject at the head of this article would appear, at first sight, to meet the desideratum.

But there is such an interdependence between all the relations of society, that this subject runs one directly back into politics. The word "calves" suggests suckers, and this, in turn, suggests a no small class of the electorate — men who to-day hung around the polls, openly, listless, but inwardly, alert, waiting. Waiting for what? Waiting — to speak plainly — to be paid a money consideration for their vote.

There is enough market, goodness knows, and too much, for such commodities, but the sin is not altogether with the political worker. Purchase asserts the existence of something for sale. If there is nothing for sale there can be no buying. It is no excuse for the sin of the briber that the voter is for sale. The way of the world, however, is to sermonize upon the exceeding sinfulness of the political worker who buys the vote of another, and pity is doled out to the vote seller, who is exposed to the wiles and blandishments of the briber — the poor man is tempted, and falls.

This is only true in part. In many cases the elector furnishes the temptation, which is often not at all needed—for the willing victim. It is not always the poor man that sells his vote. There are tens of thousands of noble souls, poor in this world's goods, but rich in the sterling gold of honest principle, who would scorn to think of selling their franchise. In many cases an offer of this character would be resented by a knock-down blow.

There are throughout Canada men of independent means, well-to-do farmers, who are not above holding back their vote till late in the afternoon, for, we well know what, and not above putting their hand behind their backs and grasping a proffered $5 note greedily.

The briber's trade is base enough, in all conscience, but are there not others to blame? The debasement of moral tone, implied in bribing and being bribed, is the serious consideration.

And now it is to be feared, or, rather it is the fact, that this lowered moral tone spreads and operates far beyond the bounds of political rascality. He who knocks about the world will find that a lowered moral tone makes dishonesty deplorably common in all departments of life, and makes common dishonest acts in the view of a low standard of morals, not dishonest, but merely sharp business. A man who built a house declared that of all the several men representing the several trades employed, he found only one man who would, and did do, honest work without watching, who would not scamp work, especially if it could be concealed in the completed building. What better is the principle behind all this than the principle behind the man who buy and the man who sell votes— an regardless of the moral iniquity involved is the motive spring in both cases.

What better is the business man who, taking advantage of the ignorance of a child palms off upon it an inferior article that he would not dare to offer to the mother? Who will take the responsibility of differentiating between immoral and dishonest acts and fixing a standard of relative enormity. Whether the one is worse and more immoral than the other, the same low standard of morals, is behind the action of the vote buyer, or the vote seller, and the honest farmer, who brings to the market a bag filled with apples, the good ones on the top, the culls at the bottom of the sack?

Thus we have, as the primary source of political corruption, and of the too general loose regard for the obligations of honesty, a low tone of moral sentiment and principle, and one can trace back the responsibility for this to the great source of moral teaching, the pulpit, as an abstraction of the church, and to defective or inefficient home training.

But is the pulpit itself quite free from blame? Is it, broadly regarded, quite honest in its methods? For example, how many preachers, out of a hundred, have the courage of the prophet; who boldly said to his king and master, "Thou art the man," in their dealings with the rich members of their flock? How many out of a hundred adapt the same deferential, velvet-gloved, indirect and colourless reproof — public or private — of the sins of the rich pew holder in fine raiment to the failings of the poor back-benchers in the church, in vile raiment? If the pulpit did its duty fearlessly — no, we shall not put it that way — if the pulpit succeeded where it honestly tries to do its duty, to the extent of elevating the people to a higher standard of morality, would all the corruption in public life, and dishonesty in private life, prevail to the extent they do now?

Let us be honest in dealing with dishonesty. The pulpit is not all to blame; it must accept its due share. The political corruptionist is not all to blame; he has his share. The corrupted man is not all to blame; he has his share, and in the final analysis the pessimistic conclusion is, that these things, whether causes or effects, like the poor, we have with us always.

The only way to wean calves—the suckers—who accept the money of the briber and share his sin, the only way to destroy dishonesty in trade or business, in all the relations of life is to bring about a general condition of honesty in the people at large and a general scorn of dishonest doing.

How will this be done? It is difficult to say; but it is easy to tell how it will not be done. It will not be done, by being dishonest in dealing with dishonesty. It will not be done by the pulpit preaching against and denouncing sin and political corruption in one man or one political party and ignoring or condoning or glossing the same sin and corruption in another man or another party. It will not be done by the party press condemning political corruption in one party and denying its existence in a possibly greater degree in another. We must face the conditions as they exist. We can't destroy a fire proof building by fire. An honest elector cannot be bribed. An honest election worker won't try to bribe him. How to wean calves is a simple thing if we only knew how to create the conditions.

New Way of Using Chamberlains Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbour of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Questions.

1. Where has water built a prosperous country with its sediment? where has it cut a path two hundred miles long, thirteen miles wide, and six thousand feet deep; where has it fashioned solid terraces and cones; where has it transformed mountains into gardens; where are the best efforts of a people made to keep water out of their country, and what people are making an equally constant effort to get water in?

2. Where is there a mountain of solid jet-black glass?

3. What place of worship in held sacred by Jews, by Christians, and by Mohammedans?

4. What city had public baths so vast that sixty-two thousand people could have bathed at any hour?

5. What city in Western Europe nine hundred years ago had within its walls six hundred mosques, fifty hospitals, nine hundred baths, six hundred inns, eight hundred schools, a library of six hundred thousand volumes, and nearly one million inhabitants; was paved with stone two hundred years before Paris, and had street lamps seven hundred years before London; and to-day uses for Christian religious services a magnificent Mohammedan mosque?

6. The last and most important question is, "How can I procure the Stoddard Lectures, and the answers to these questions, with thousands of others equally interesting and valuable?"

WILFRID DAVIS STILL LIVING

Boy Who was Shot Tuesday, may yet Recover.

Latest News From Havelock—Weddings and Deaths—Social Happenings.

Havelock, Nov. 1.

A very serious accident occurred about twelve miles north east of here about eight o'clock on Tuesday morning when Master Wilfrid Davis had the misfortune to have his side very badly cut up from a charge of shot out of his gun. At an early hour his father, Mr. J. Davis, his brother and himself, started out for a partridge hunt. When going through the woods, the father and elder brother being in advance, the boy stumbled it is thought, and the two in front were startled to hear a shot close behind them. On looking around they saw the boy on the ground with blood spurting from his side. They found that the gun had exploded, catching him on the left side and tearing all along from the lower rib up. The boy was taken to the house and a doctor sent for as soon as possible. At the time of writing the boy is still alive, but it is doubtful if he will get better.

Mr. Joseph Brown, who has been the guest of Mr. Wes Jackson, of town, for the past few days, returned to his home in Weston on Tuesday.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mr. Jas. Keenon Friday last, when his daughter, Miss Mattie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Jas. Sorney, of town. The bride was very charmingly dressed in cream cashmere, and was given away by her father. The bridesmaid Miss Lottie Fairburn, was dressed in blue ladies' cloth. A large number of presents were contributed by the bride's friends, showing the esteem in which she is held. The happy couple left for a short trip to Belleville and other points south.

Mrs. J. S. Cooper, wife of the late Rev. Cooper, of Toronto, was the guest of Mrs. Lancaster, of town, for the past few days.

Mr. Edward Thompson, car checker, has resigned his position, and left for his home in Bethel, and will leave for the west in the near future.

Mr. W. Fisk, of Warkworth, was the guest of Mr. Jas. Scott on Sunday last.

Miss Madge Scriver and sister, Mrs. R. Wilson, are visiting friends in in town.

A very sad death occurred last week in the passing away of Mr. Porter Preston. Mr. Preston was thought to be in the best of health, and left the house about eight o'clock with the intention of cutting some wood. After he did not return for dinner the family began to get anxious, but did not take any steps to look for him, thinking he had called at some of the neighbours'. But when he did not come in for supper their fears turned into alarm and so they instituted a search for him and after a time found Mr. Preston lying over a log, which he had been chopping. At first, by a small cut on the forehead, it was thought he had been shot. This rumour spread rapidly, but on closer examination discovered that it was only a flesh would and likely caused by a limb of a tree striking him. It is supposed that while in the act of chopping he was striken down with heart failure which was the cause of his death. Mr. Preston was in his 65th year, hale and hearty. He has been the clerk for the township of Belmont for the past number of years. The remains were held until Tuesday for burial waiting for his son to return from the west to attend the funeral. He was buried in Rockdale Cemetery in Belmont. He leaves a son and daughter to mourn his loss and they have the community's deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Miss N. Riley, of Kingston, is the guest of her brother, Mr. Charles Riley, of town.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Williams arrived home from Carleton Place, after attending the funeral of his father.

The infant son of Mr. Jos. Knox passed away on Monday after a short illness. The child was buried in the Maple Grove Cemetery on Tuesday.

Last Wednesday evening at the political meeting in the interests of the Liberal candidate, Mr. John Finlay, of Norwood, held in the Havelock Town Hall was a complete success in every way. Mr. J. W. Bryans of town acted as chairman in a very affable manner. The first to speak was the candidate, who was received with hearty applause which was prolonged until Mr. Finlay as a special favour to the ears of the Conservative people in the hall, got up and requested the cheering to be stopped. Mr. Findlay's speech was one that took the house by storm, showing what an able man was to be the Liberal runner for the coming election.

The next speaker was Mr. McWilliams, of Peterborough, who in a few well chosen words, expressed his pleasure at seeing such an able and honourable man as Mr. Finlay running in this constituency.

The Hon. Mr. Biggs of Toronto, was the last speaker. He took up the G. T. P. question in a very able manner, showing that the undertaking was one of the greatest that had ever been taken in hand by the Dominion, and went on to show what a benefit it will be when the road is in operation, not only to the people of the West but for the greater Canada.

The meeting closed with three cheers for the Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the candidate.

A very pretty wedding was performed at the residence of Mr. E. Venarman, when his daughter, Miss Katie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to the Rev. A. E. Hager, of Portage du Port, Quebec. There ceremony was performed by the groom's father, Rev. J. A. Hager. The bride was charmingly dressed in cream lustre trimmed with organdy, and was given away by her father. The happy couple left for their honeymoon trip to points east, with the best wishes for their future happiness from their numerous friends.

A very sad and unlooked for death occurred by the passing away of one of our oldest inhabitants, Mr. Alex. Mathison, at the age of 62 years. Mr. Mathison has been a resident of this place for the past 20 years or more, in fact he was one of the oldest, if not the oldest, resident of the town. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his wife, three sons and a daughter. The remains were laid at rest on Monday in the Maple Grove cemetery.

On Friday evening a barn raising and dance was held at the residence of Mr. Chas. Eason, at the Burnt Dams. A number of people from town, attended, not only to enjoy the dance but to have a look at for the first time of the machinery of the Havelock Electric Light Co., of which Mr. Eason is the attendant at the power house.

At a political meeting held in the town hall on Tuesday evening in the interest of the Conservative candidate for this riding, a very good attendance was recorded and Mr. Sexsmith addressed the people.

Fatal Hallowe'en Accident.

St. Thomas, Nov. 2.—A horse driven by John T. Evans, groom for Dr. Guest, became frightened at the noise made by a number of young people celebrating Hallowe'en on Talbot street Monday evening, and ran away, colliding with a telegraph pole and throwing Evans out on the pavement. He was picked up unconscious and died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. He was twenty years of age.

Despondent Over Latest Reports From the Seat of War.

STOESSEL NEAR THE LIMIT

Story of the Heroic Fight At Port Arthur —Two Armies in Manchuria At Standstill—The Don Cossacks Make Their First Appearance and Are Beaten—Japs Burned a Village.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—There is considerable anxiety here over the military situation. Little news has been received from Mukden, General Sakharoff's telegram of Nov. 1 merely indicating that matters were at a deadlock around Shakhe. The Japanese have made some tentative moves on both flanks, which were checked; but there are no signs yet of a general advance by their army. Foreign reports from Port Arthur are decidedly gloomy. While the authorities continue to profess confidence in General Stoessel's ability to hold out, the popular feeling is that the heroic garrison, which has already made a gallant defence, must be near the limit of human endurance.

Russian Cavalry Beaten.

Tokio, Nov. 3.—Manchurian headquarters, in a report dated Nov. 1, says:

"On the afternoon of Oct. 30, in front of the left detachment of the left army, a force of the enemy, consisting of a regiment of artillery, advanced from Litewentun, Hansantai, and then northward.

"Odr detachment after the fight succeeded in repulsing the enemy.

"Our detachment sustained only a slight loss, while the enemy's cavalry lost heavily. Fifty of the Russians lost their horses. The Russian cavalry retreated in all directions and in disorder, leaving thirteen dead.

"The left column of the left army, on the night of October 30, seized and burned a village about four hundred yards northwest of Chenglienpao."

Japs Near Hun River.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—General Sakharoff telegraphs under yesterday's date that last night was quiet, the Japanese, however, showing marked signs of recommencing the offensive against the Russian left wing. They have also reoccupied the Village of Sandiapu, near the Hun River, in front of the Russian right flank.

Little Change.

Gen. Oku's Headquarters, Nov. 1, 9 a.m., via Fusan, Nov. 3.—There is little change in the positions of the Japanese and Russian armies.

On Sunday last detachments composed of Russian infantry and Don Cossacks attacked the Japanese cavalry on the extreme left along the Hun River, but were driven back, leaving twenty dead soldiers and thirty horses.

This is the first time that the Cossacks of the Don have taken part in the operations.

The Japanese line now follows the bank of the Shakhe River, except on the extreme left, where it crosses the river.

Port Arthur Will Fall.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—The official report from Tokio describing the desperate assaults on Port Arthur, beginning Oct. 26, have created visible depression at the War Office. The sustained character of the bombardment with siege guns and the branching of the walls by underground mines, but above all, the fact that the Japanese Government, after weeks of silence regarding the operations of the besiegers, has given out these reports before actual success has crowned their efforts, convinces the military authorities that after long preparation Gen. Nogi is not only making a supreme effort to carry the fortress, but feels confident of success.

They believe the assault was timed for the announcement of the fall of the fortress to be made upon the birthday of the Mikado, to-day, which, by a strange coincidence, is the tenth anniversary of the succession of Emperor Nicholas, and a great Russian holiday. To-day, therefore, is expected to be marked by fate for a day of rejoicing either for Japan or Russia, according as the present assault succeeds or fails.

Struggle Since Aug. 1.

Tokio, Nov. 3.—The official reports of the Port Arthur operations since Aug. 1, form a recital of almost continuous fighting of a desperate nature. The Russians first struggled desperately to block every Japanese advance, and then met the concentrated artillery fire of the Japanese with its kind. Latterly, since the Japanese began running parallels and transverses and extending mines, the Russians have been constantly making sorties. They rushed into the Japanese trenches and engaged in ferocious struggles with the engineers and pioneers. With desperate courage the Japanese continued to close in upon the fortress, progressing stage by stage. The Japanese infantry never failed to respond when asked to make an assault on almost impossible positions, and when the troops gained a foothold they generally held it with unflinching determination.

Oct. 12 and 13 Japanese shells set fire to the Peresviet, apparently disabling her. They also set fire to another warship, name unknown.

Oct. 16, the Japanese centre, taking advantage of a bombardment, stormed and captured a fort in the centre of Rihlung Mountain, after a desperate struggle. The Russians left behind them a hundred dead, one field gun, one small gun, and two machine guns. Desperate fighting also took place around Sungshu Mountain and 203-Metre Hill.

Oct. 18 the Japanese captured some Russian prisoners, who said the fate of Port Arthur was near at hand, that the food supplies were insufficient, and that the Russian battalions were greatly reduced numerically. They added that Gen. Stoessel was offering rewards in money and medals for 400 volunteers to make a sortie and destroy the Japanese guns.

From Oct. 18 the Japanese continued to drive their trenches forward, the Russians desperately resisting.

Oct. 24 the Russian ran a traverse from east of Keekwan Mountain and dynamited the Japanese traverse.

A conflagration raged at Port Arthur during the afternoon of Oct. 24.

Oct 25 the Japanese guns sank a 1,000-ton steamer anchored at the end of the harbor.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mrs. James Kinsella.

She Sends a Message of Hope to Other Suffering Women in Canada.

St. Malachie, Que., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—To those women who suffer in silence—and there are thousands in Canada—Mrs. James Kinsella of this place sends a message that tells of a cure as silent as their suffering. As the result of her own experience Mrs. Kinsella says, "Take Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"When I sent for Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mrs. Kinsella says in relating that experience, "I had a pain in my right hip and in the small of the back. I was swollen all down the right side of the abdomen and had to pass water every fifteen minutes in a burning, itching sort of way. I could not sleep at nights and was obliged to sit in a chair for two summers.

"After taking the first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt much better so I got more. They have done me a world of good and I have never slept in a chair since."

There can be no Female Weakness where there are sound Kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills make sound Kidneys.

Boy Falls Down Shaft.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—In some way Wilfrid Little, a boy employed at the Canada Publishing Co.'s establishment at 9 West Wellington street, fell down the elevator shaft, a distance of three flats yesterday afternoon. When picked up the boy was found to have fractured his right hip, both wrists and have cut his forehead. He was taken in the police ambulance to the Emergency Hospital. He is 14 years of age.

One Killed and One Injured.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—William Moodie, Liverpool, was killed, and William Myers, Orillia, was painfully injured in a wreck on the T., H. & B. yesterday morning. While the train was coming down the mountain it broke in two, and the rear end crashed into the front portion at the foot of the mountain, near Prospect street. Six cars were smashed into kindling wood.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavour similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by all druggists.

An Odd Revenge.

To avenge his defeat in the municipal elections for the provincial council at Tra los Montes the Marquis de Xanos cornered the entire stock of butchers and poulterers of the town. The inhabitants had to subsist without meat for a week.

MAJORITY FOR BOND 13.

Now Has Eighteen Seats to the Opposition's Five.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 3.—Yesterday's election returns confirm the success of the Bond Government. Completed polls of St. John's West show the election of Sir Edward Morris, Minister of Justice, and his two Bondite colleagues. In St. John's East, Mayor Shea and his two colleagues win. In Burin, Hon. Henry Gear, Minister without portfolio, and his colleague, Davey, defeated ex-Premier James Winter and his colleague, Robinson. Winter is the second of the Opposition leaders to undergo defeat, the other being former Premier Whiteway. In St. George's, Carty, Bondite, beat Gibbs, Opposition, by 8 votes. In Bonavista, Morine, another Opposition leader, and his two colleagues retain their seats, though by reduced majorities.

Premier Bond has now 18 seats and the Opposition five.

A Small Boy's Invention.

Sir Hiram Maxim began to invent almost as soon as he could lisp. When but a small boy he invented a sort of sextant made of wood, with sights, a piece of thread with a bullet at the end, and an indicator for the thread to swing along. On a dark night he took his instrument outside, and while he sighted it to the north star his little sister read the indicator. "Forty-five, Hiram," she called out. This meant they were living in 45 degrees north latitude. The observation proved to be perfectly accurate.

BLOOD DISEASE CURED.

If you ever contracted any Blood or Private Disease, you are never safe until the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. Don't be satisfied with a "patch up" by some family doctor. Our New Method is Guaranteed to Cure or No Pay. 25 New Names Used without Written Consent.

Cured When all Else Failed

"Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would not be necessary, though I was no more sinful than thousands of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I bless the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were first, and finding you had over 25 years' experience and responsible financially, I gave you my case under a guarantee. You cured me permanently, and in six years there has not been a sore, pain, ulcer or any other symptom of the blood disease."

MISSIONARY FROM FAR NORTH-WEST

Right Rev. Dr. Reeves, Bishop of the McKenzie River Diocese spoke at St. John's last evening.

Has been thirty-five years engaged in missionary work among the Indians.

Something about the country and his work---Difficulties to be overcome.

There was a fairly large attendance at St. John's Church last evening when Right Rev. Dr. Reeves, Bishop of the Diocese of McKenzie River River and Athabasca gave an address dealing with the work in which he has been engaged. The address proved to be one of much interest to all present. The Bishop is a very pleasing speaker and described the country and his work in a most entertaining manner which must have awakened additional interest and desire to lend support to the work in that far away portion of the Dominion where the difficulties to be overcome are so great and the labourers are so few. Though there is a great foreign field for missionary work, there is nevertheless need for more workers in the home field where the need of the gospel is fully as great in some districts as in the fields on other continents.

The Bishop was greatly pl[illegible] at the opportunity to again visit Peterborough and to tell something of the work in the great lonely land, the McKenzie River [illegible]. During the past two years the work had increased owing to the fact that the Southern Diocese of Athabasca had been taken over Two years ago, there was found to be a serious deficit and it looked as though this deficit would continue to increase. It was determined that to relieve the funds, that the work of the Church Missionary Society be given up gradually and that the church look after its own work. The withdrawal of the stipend of the Bishop of Athabasca meant the lessening of expenses and when last year the Bishop took over the charge of Athabasca, thus being relieved of the stipend of that diocese.

A TREMENDOUS AREA.

The area of land in which he was called to work was a tremendous one. The area of the McKenzie territory was nearly one-half a million square miles, while Athabasca was 300,000 square miles, making a total of about one-fifth of the whole Dominion. There was 2,000 miles between the point where he was stationed, Athabasca Landing and Herschal Island one of the missionary stations. He once made a journey to Fort McPherson, about 200 miles nearer than Herschal Island, the return trip being nearly 4,000 miles. He left Athabasca Landing on May 21st and did not return until the end of August. The diocese was much too large for one man to work. The mission stations could be visited but once a year which was not sufficiently frequent to accomplish the work desired. More missionaries were needed, and needed badly.

NO RAILWAY CONNECTIONS.

It was thirty-five years ago that the Bishop and his wife left Ontario to enter upon the mission fields of the great North-west. At that time there were no railway connections between Eastern and Western Canada and for one living in the Northwest it was easier to communicate with England than with Eastern Canada or the United States. At that time there were just two dioceses west of Ontario, Rupertsland and British Columbia. He had to make a three and one-half months' journey with Indian traders in a canoe, exposed to all kinds of weather, some of which was far from being of a favourable nature. He did not complain of the conditions though somewhat hard, but for a lady the journey and the expenses afterwards were rather too severe and his wife suffered considerably from the severity of the weather and the lack of proper accommodation. He eventually arrived at Port Simpson, his destination, which was a three and one-half months' journey from the nearest railway station. When he reached here, he sent away an order for some provisions, but it was two two years before these could come. The nearest doctor lived 2,000 miles away, and it was fifteen months before a physician could be secured in case of illness, no matter how serious it might have been. It was very difficult to procure proper food, for nothing perishable could be sent for, owing to the very long time it took for its transportation. Letters were received twice a year, and the latest news received from the newspapers was five months old. But since the C. P. R. had been running across the continent the country has been opened up, and the existing conditions of affairs now is much better than was the case when the Bishop first arrived at Port Simpson. A train can now be caught in six weeks, instead of three and a quarter months, but the difficulty in procuring food is still a hindrance to the missionaries, who still have to depend on the Indians to a great extent.

WORK AMONG THE INDIANS.

The people among whom the Bishop is labouring are Indians. There are a few white people, including American whalers, in the diocese, but not many. Some work has been done among the Esquimaux in the Arctic regions, and although the results are slow in being manifested, the work nevertheless bears fruit, and so far one of these dwellers in snow houses has been baptized at Port Simpson.

The work with the Indians is difficult from the fact that they do not live together in towns or settlements, but are scattered about the country in small parties, because the country is too poor to admit of their living together. They live chiefly on fish, rabbits, reindeer, etc. The missionaries worked among them at the different trading posts, where the Indians congregated from time to time, but it was found that they were often too much engrossed in business, or in renewing acquaintances with one another, to pay much attention to the words of the missionaries, and that more effective work could be done by visiting them in their homes. The missionaries have also to act as doctors to the Indians. Four years ago a terrible epidemic of enteric fever swept over the community where the Bishop was living, causing much distress and resulting in several deaths. While it caused terrible suffering at the time, it proved afterwards that it gave the Indians more respect for the missionaries, who had been able to do much for them in their sickness.

ASSISTANCE APPRECIATED.

The Bishop wished to thank the Woman's Auxiliary for their kind sympathy and help in sending out a box of clothing yearly. This was greatly appreciated by the Indians, who prized very highly indeed any such gifts. He also wished to thank those who in the spring had responded to his appeal for funds to cover the loss sustained by the terriflood at Athabasca Landing, and which had done great destruction to property.

Owing to the vast extent of country, many long and tedious journeys were necessary. He once travelled 300 miles alone in a canoe, and often worked scores of miles at a time during the winter season. Horses were exceedingly scarce there and dogs were utilized to convey the sleighs from place to place.

The work among the Indians was going on with gratifying results. They were very sincere in their belief, and it was indeed an inspiration to see them at divine service, and hear their hearty singing. The Bishop asked for the support and earnest prayers of those present in the work which was being carried on to the glory of God in that far-away country. The missionaries were fulfilling the command of the Saviour in carrying the Gospel to the "uttermost parts of the earth," for Herschel Island was the farthest Island from Jerusalem where the missionaries were at work.

PRETTY WEDDING ON MURRAY STREET

Miss Mamie Helen Matchett Married to Mr. Jos. Sharpe.

A very pretty wedding took place last night at the residence of Mr. Joseph Matchett, 110 Murray street, when his second daughter, Mamie Helen, was married to Mr. Joseph Sharpe, in the presence of only the immediate friends of the bride and groom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Terrance, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock, in the drawing room, which was very tastefully decorated for the occasion.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of gray silk and carried white chrysanthemums. She was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Flossie Thompson, who was dressed in white canvas cloth and carried pink chrysanthemums. The groom was assisted by Dr. McKercher. After the wedding a dainty dejeuner was served.

The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch, while to the bridesmaid he gave a pearl rug and to the groomsman a pearl pin. The bride was the recipient of a large number of very handsome presents. The fellow-employees of the groom in the pattern shop of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, presented him with a handsome Morris chair.

Both bride and groom are popular young people, and their many friends wish them success and happiness in their married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe will reside in town.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. W. J. Nelson of Peterborough Married in Port Hope.

Yesterday at Port Hope Mr. William John Nelson, of Peterborough, was married to Miss Rachel P. Thompson, of Port Hope, by Rev. E. Daniel, Rector of St. John's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson arrived in Peterborough last night on the 5.30 train from the south, and will reside here in future.

LAID AT REST

Funeral of Late Mrs. Felix Lynch was Largely Attended.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Felix Dixon took place yesterday at nine o'clock a.m., from her late place of residence, Dixon street, East Ward, and proceeded to St. Joseph's church, Douro, thence to the Douro cemetery. The cortege was an unusually long one. The bearers were Messrs. J. Hanrahan, E. Gilman, J. Fitzgerald, G. Rickleby, W. J. Garvey and W. Dennis.

There were a large number of beautiful floral tributes to the memory of the deceased, who was generally beloved and respected.

Piano and Vocal Recital.

Recital by pupils of Professor Davies, assisted by Miss Helen Davies, Y.M.C.A. Hall, Friday evening, November 11th. Net proceeds will be devoted to the Furnishing Fund of the Y.W.C.A. Admission 25c. Tickets at all the local drug stores.

TO-DAY'S BATTLE OF THE BALLOT

Largest Vote in History of the Riding.

In Federal Contest—Voters Went Early to Polls—Good Prospects for Liberals.

To-day the battle of the ballots is being waged throughout the Dominion, and in West Peterborough the vote polled will be the largest in the history of the riding in a Federal contest.

This morning at nine o'clock the different polling sub-divisions in town, were surrounded by voters waiting for the booths to open.

The voting passed off very quietly, but there was an activity on both sides which was responsible for the large vote polled. At the noon hour there was a little flurry when the men who worked during the day came to poll their vote.

The general impression was that the voting was favourable to Hall, and it is expected that the result will prove this impression to have been the correct one.

—To-night there will be comfortable seating capacity for 2,000 persons in the Brock street rink, and standing room for as many more. Do not stand out in the cold and wet when for 10 cents you can enjoy a concert and learn the election returns as soon as they are received.

—At the police court this morning Bert Hill failed to appear to answer to two charges, one of being drunk and disorderly, and another of using profane language in a public place. Witnesses gave strong evidence in the cases, and though the defendant was an absentee that did not help his case any. On the first charge he was fined $2, and on the second the fine was $5 and $2.60 costs.

—The Barrie Examiner says:—"Marks Bros. are paying their annual visit to Barrie this week, and are filling the Opera House every night. On Tuesday every seat was sold, as well as 250 standing room tickets, while at least 300 were turned away. For the prices charged Marks Bros. always put up a good show, and their company this year is stronger than ever. Some first-class specialities are given." Marks Bros. will open a week's engagement here in the Opera House next Monday.

Neither political party has anything to do with the election returns being received in the rink Thursday night. It is a private venture of the Rink Company, and as such should be supported by citizens generally. It is entirely non-political.

LATEST SPORT

SPRINTING

Mr. A. J. Burns was seen this morning by the Sporting Editor of the Examiner in reference to the letter appearing in last evening's papers to the effect that the Burns-Harrison race was faked and that the referee was perfectly justified in declaring all bets off. The writer, Mr. Joyce, claims that the course was short; neither of the runners deny this. Mr. Burns claims that Mr. Joyce agreed to measure the course on Saturday morning with Burns but through some misunderstanding this was not done. Both runners, however, agreed upon a course which was thought to be about five miles. It was certainly not to Burns' advantage to have a short course when he was handicapped one minute. It was agreed before the race that Messrs. C. O. Graham and E. Hurtubise should act as judges at the finish but as the race was late in starting, these gentlemen were engaged in the rugby match when the race concluded and consequently there were no judges. The tape was placed about 100 yards short of the gate where the runners entered the track and consequently neither ran a half mile on the track as it was agreed. Burns claims that he did not know where the tape was until about 100 yards from it. Had he known the course on the track was short he would have sprinted earlier, but having strained his ankle on the course, he had decided to put off his sprint until the last 300 yards and claims he would easily have won had the tape been where it should have been, as he was but a few feet behind Harrison at the finish.

Burns maintains that the referee had no right to call all bets off because Harrison ran on the sidewalk. In a road race, a runner can take any sidewalk or path, provided there is no agreement not to do so. No such agreement was made between Burns and Harrison and both had in consequence a perfect right to take the sidewalk. Furthermore, Harrison left the sidewalk after being told to do so by the referee, which is contrary to Mr. Joyce's statement.

RUGBY.

If the locals don't get another attack of stage fright at Toronto on Saturday, they should beat the Argonauts. But one case of this in a season should be enough and the boys have no intention of performing as they did two weeks ago.

• • • •

There will be another home game in Peterborough whether the team wins or loses on Saturday.

• • •

The Argos back division for Saturday may be, Ardagh, full; Trimmer, Hamber and Grant, halves. Trimmer and Grant figured on the team which was beaten here at the opening of the season. Hamber is certainly a good player, but he is not a team and with the advantage on the wing line which the locals should again perch on the Peterboros shoulders.

• • • •

The Peterborough team will likely be the same as in last Saturday's game. The back division on this occasion was the best of the season.

• • • •

There should be a very large crowd accompanying this team on Saturday. A little support along the lines is very helpful to a team playing on strange grounds before a home crowd, so take in a cheap trip and root for the coming champions.

• • • •

Captain Crowley is working hard with his men this week. If they lose on Saturday, it won't be through lack of condition.

• • • •

Saturday's game will be the only senior feature in the city for Saturday.

• • • •

Hamilton plays in London on Saturday. The Tigers have won their district regardless of the issue of this game.

• • • •

The Victorias were so encouraged with their showing in London on Saturday that the team will remain in training for the city championship games.

• • • •

What's the use of all these "If the Argonauts beat Peterborough" and the consequences thereof. The Argos aren't going to beat Peterborough if the locals have anything to say, so put it down on your note book, that Peterborough and Hamilton will play home and home games on Nov. 12 and 17.

• • • •

The boys realize that Saturday's game will be a struggle from the word go. But there seems to be a feeling of confidence at the practices and victory is in the air.

• • • •

The Argos will have the support of all the Toronto teams on Saturday. A defeat means that Toronto is out of the running entirely while a victory gives both the Torontos and the Argonauts another chance.

• • • •

Shaw's long punts should again be a big factor on Saturday.

• • • •

The rugby team will practice on the T. A. S. grounds to-morrow afternoon at 4.15 o'clock. All players are asked to attend this final rehearsal before Saturday's big game.

• • • •

The Argonauts' probable line-up on Saturday will be:—Back, Ardagh; halfbacks, Grant, Hamber, Trimmer; quarter-back, Smith; centre, Bassett; wings, Boyd, Hoyles, Clarkson, Reiffenstein, Grey and Russell. This is by far the strongest team that the Argos have yet had on the field this season.

• • • •

Ardagh should strengthen the Scullers' back division, though reports say he had but little practice.

• • • •

The Peterboros II. play Varsity III. on Saturday morning.

• • •

Remember you can attend the theatre on Saturday evening and return by a special train leaving the city at 11.30 o'clock.

HOCKEY.

The Toronto Marlboros, senior O. H. A. champions expect to have two of last year's Peterborough team on their line up this year. Roy Armstrong, one of the best forwards in the game, will likely wear a Marlboro uniform and "Bobbie" Mercer is expected to fill the vacancy between the flags, caused by Giroux's absence. Mercer is a top-notcher in the goal keeping business and should easily hold his own in senior company.

• • • •

Meanwhile there appears to be nothing doing in hockey circles in Peterborough. In about six weeks' time there will be ice for practice, but what about players. Last year's team, which was as good as any in the Province, is badly separated this year, four of the best players having left town. But in a town which has the reputation which Peterborough has for producing hockey players, it would be a shame to allow a winter to pass without at least an intermediate team. There should be material for a fairly good junior team and if the older players would get into uniform again, Peterborough could place an intermediate team on the ice which would give any aspirate a hard run for the honours. This is too good a hockey town to be without a team. With players like Harold Armstrong, Morgan, Graham, Cavanagh, Glover, Wasson, who have played on our champion teams in former years and a few other fast men of the calibre of Ford, Parker, Parnell and others, there is surely no dearth of material. The Peterborough public wants a hockey team and will support one whether it wins or loses. Time is flying fast and hockey is in the air. Will hockey in Peterborough die or live?

STOVE TALK NO. 6.

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

"DISGRACEFUL" JOURNALISM

A False Charge Against the Liberal Candidate.

The Review, which has out-heroded Herod, in its disgraceful conduct of the election campaign, closed it last night with a characteristic whopper. It asserted that a party of "hoodlums from town, abundantly supplied with whisky, endeavoured to disturb the gathering." (in Eunismore.) The whisky, which was brought to the meeting, was brought in the conveyance of a professional gentleman, one of Mr. Kendry's right hand supporters, a fact which the Review knows, or should know. Putting the blame of disgraceful acts, of which its own party friends are guilty, upon its opponents, is—is—cheeky—to say the least of it.

HUSTON--GILLESPIE

Pretty Wedding Celebrated in Otonabee Last Evening.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at seven o'clock last evening, at the residence of Mr. Peter Gillespie, Otonabee, when his third daughter, Miss Margaret, was married to Mr. Alexander Huston, of Otonabee. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's church, assisted by Rev. J. A. Wilson, the assistant pastor. The bride was attended by Miss Jennie Huston, sister of the groom, while the groomsman was Mr. Peter Gillespie, brother of the bride. The bride, who was very handsomely gowned, carried a beautiful bouquet of white chrysanthemums, and the bridesmaid yellow chrysanthemums.

Many costly presents were received by the bride, testifying to her popularity with a large circle of friends. A delightful wedding dejeuner was served at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Huston will reside in Otonabee.

SUCCESSFUL REHEARSAL.

Large Turnout of Members at Mrs. Morrow's Choral Class Last Night.

A very successful and enjoyable rehearsal was held by Mrs. Morrow's chorus class in the T. A. S. Hall last evening. There was a large attendance and many new members were added to the list of those who have already joined. The Hallelujah chorus from the Messiah was taken up and good progress made.

During the evening several vocal solos were contributed by the pupils. Mr. Thomas Dawson sang very nicely "Beyond" by St. Meintin and Miss Elizabeth King was heard to much advantage in the "Two Cities" by Hamilton Grey.

Mrs. Callander, of Norwood, sang "Awake" and Miss Margaret Bryce, who is always listened to with pleasure gave "Rejoice Greatly" from the "Messiah." Miss O'Donnell played a difficult selection, "Polish Dance" by Scharwenka and was heartily applauded.

The gentlemen of the chorus are asked to meet at Mrs. Morrow's residence, corner of Downie and Brock streets, Wednesday evening at half past eight and a full rehearsal of all parts will be held the following Wednesday evening. Any who wish to join the class may leave their names with Mrs. Morrow or with Miss Dobbin at the Review office.

GRAIN STANDARDS HAVE BEEN FIXED.

Protests of Dealers at Last Bear Fruit.

New Standards now Ready for Distribution—Wheat Grades Lower.

Toronto, November 3rd. — The recent expression of impatience by the Toronto and Provincial grain trade regarding the delay in fixing the grain standard has borne fruit. Samples of grain were hastily collected, and on Monday last, about a month later than usual, the standards were fixed by Chief Grain Inspector E. F. Craig of Montreal, and Provincial Inspectors E. A. Adamson, of Toronto; W. J. McNeil of Kingston, and J. Hurley of Peterborough, at a meeting in Toronto.

They are now ready for distribution, and are as follows:

1, 2, and 3, red wheat.
1, 2, and 3, white wheat.
2 and 3, spring wheat.
1 and 2, goose wheat.
1, 2, and 3, rye.
1, 2, and 3, peas.
1 and 2, buckwheat.
1 and 2, white eye peas.
1 and 2, black eye peas.
1, 2, 3, and 4, barley.
1, 2, and 3, oats.

The quality of the grain, generally speaking, is lower this year than last, the wheat being small and also weather beaten. Barley is a shade lower in colour, and oats are not as bright. Peas and buckwheat, on the other hand, are improved in quality, the former being freer from weevil.

THE STORY IS DRAMATIC

Hundreds of Jap Guns Batter Forts of Port Arthur.

RUSSIAN SHIPS INJURED

Pioneers and Sappers Running Mines Against the Russian Forts—Tale of the Progress of the Japs in Storming the Beleaguered Russian Fortress —Unimportant News From the Shakhe Valley.

Tokio, Nov. 2.—Imperial headquarters last night published a series of reports covering the operations against Port Arthur during the months of August, September and October. The chief interest centres in the tremendous attack which was begun Oct. 26, and is still continuing. Hundreds of Japanese guns began battering against the northerly and easterly forts on Oct. 26, the infantry moving forward with desperate rushes, where the artillery had prepared the way, while the pioneers and sappers were running mines against the Russian forts. The reports record a series of desperate encounters at close range and tell a dramatic story.

Attack of Oct. 26.

The reports, beginning with the attack of Oct. 26, follows:

"From 8.30 a.m. the forts on Sungshu and Tyhlung Mountains, the eastern forts on Keekwan Mountain and a fort lying north of the latter were bombarded. The parapet of Rihlung Mountain fort was demolished and openings were made in the fort.

"Two of the most important covers on Sungshu Mountain fort were destroyed. One 15 centimetre gun was dismounted and another damaged. One gun on the northern fort of East Keekwan Mountain was destroyed.

"From 2 p.m. other siege guns were directed against the trenches on Sungshu Mountain, and a portion of our centre against those on Rihlung Mountain and on Pohsian Mountain and took them without heavy loss.

"The enemy in the nearby forts, together with those in the forts on West Sitaiyankow, Manto Mountain, Golden Hill, Paiyun Mountain and Laolinehus concentrated an ineffectual fire against the points where our assaults were progressing.

"A large mine exploded on the slope of Rihlung Mountain withput fatalities.

Shelled All Night.

"That night to prevent the Russians making repairs, we shelled the forts of Rihlung Mountain, East Keekwan Mountain and Sungshu Mountain, together with the warships and machinery buildings.

"The enemy hold Sungshu and Rihlung Mountains under the protection of a shell fire and undertook several unsuccessful night attacks.

"On October 27 our bombardment was continued and much execution was done.

"Our engine corps that night was sent against the northern part of East Keekwan Mountain and destroyed the outer casemate of a projected point.

"The enemy tried every means to obstruct our work, assaulting and using bombs, at the same time working energetically in effecting repairs.

"On October 28 the bombardment was continued with good results.

"A conflagration occurred in the old city and a second conflagration was observed near Golden Hill.

"During the night and on October 29 a machinery building near the harbor was bombarded.

Repulsed With Loss.

"At dawn 100 of the enemy assaulted our line extending toward Rihlung fort, but were repulsed with heavy loss.

"Simultaneously a similar force of the enemy assaulted our line projected against Sungshu Mountain.

"Our men bravely withstood the attack, but were forced to lose a portion of the mine, which, however, was regained later.

"A mine directed against Rihlung Mountain fort reached the outer limit of the fort last night. A portion of the outer limit of the fort was blown up.

"Against the outer casemate of the eastern point of the fort lying north of the East Keekwan Mountain was applied twice last night, causing wide openings and killing several of the enemy inside the casemate.

"Our bombardment is proving increasingly effective.

"Of five Russian ships which were bombarded three were heavily damaged and the other two were set on fire."

Quite Near Mukden.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—General Sakharoff reports that reconnaissances were made Oct. 30 on the Russian left flank, in a southwesterly direction, to a chain of mountains south of the village of Sandayty, where volunteer sharp-shooters and half a squadron of Cossacks drove a company of Japanese infantry and a squadron of cavalry out of the mountain ranes.

The Russians advanced three miles southwest. The same day Russian cavalry made a strong reconnaissance on the left bank of the Hun River, towards the fortified village of Futeyandaoksy. The Japanese retired to a fortified position a mile and a half south and opened a cross fire on two Russian batteries.

A squadron of Cossacks attacked a Japanese battery and the Russian scouts advanced but retired. The Cossacks lost forty men killed or wounded.

Fought in the Moonlight.

General Kuroki's Headquarters, Oct. 31.—(Via Fusan, Nov. 2.)—The Russians took advantage of the bright moonlight last night to reconnoitre the Japanese from positions on the left wing of the central army, but were repulsed after an action which lasted several hours, during which both infantry and artillery fire was brisk and continuous until daylight. The Japanese yesterday for the first time replied to the Russian bombardment, which has been frequent for several days past.

No Fight Yet.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—According to yesterday's advices from the theatre of war no general engagement has yet begun. There was some skirmishing Monday, but nothing serious. No Japanese offensive movement has developed so far the official reports show, although advices from the extreme east are belated.

General Kaulbars, who is to succeed General Kuropatkin in command of the first army, has arrived here.

Kaulbars is a striking figure, a tall, stately soldier, with a bronzed face set off by a white moustache. His sixty years sit lightly upon his vigorous frame. He is considered to be a man of great energy and resource, and was commander of a corps during the suppression of the Boxer rebellion in China. Kaulbara is Kuropatkin's personal selection.

Kaulbara's reconstituted first army will include the first, tenth and seventeenth European corps, one corps of rifles, and two others to be sent out.

The second army will consist of the eighth, third, and sixteenth corps, one rifle corps, and two others not yet designated.

The third army will be composed of six Siberian corps under General Linevitch.

Chinese Hit Russians.

London, Nov. 2.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tientsin says: "The Chinese Government has formally declared itself against any further infringements of neutrality in the despatch of supplies to belligerents, and in this connection has sent troops to Shanhaikwan. This leaves Russia without open ports in the east."

Permission Suddenly Rescinded.

Che Foo, Nov. 2.—The officers and crew of the Ryeschitelai went on board the German steamer Vorwaerts last night, bound for Shanghai, where they were to join the officers and crew of the Russian cruiser Askold. Before the vessel sailed, however, the Russians suddenly returned on shore, the Government at Pekin having rescinded the permission which had been granted them to proceed to Shanghai.

LOSS OF APPETITE.

Are You Troubled in This Way?

Why can't you eat as you used to? Simply because your liver doesn't do its work properly. Its business is to take bile out of the blood, which acts as Nature's cathartic, but your liver is sluggish and the bile accumulates too fast, and you feel worn out, tired and lifeless, and each succeeding day brings no relief. The use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills will change all this. Try them and you will be convinced that these little pills are indeed a tonic and stimulant to the functions of the liver. Then your brain will be active, your mind clear, and health conditions again established and you can eat anything. Get your liver right. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills act gently but surely on the liver, and cure headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. Price only 25 cents at druggists.

All genuine signed W. F. Smith.

SMITHS BUCHU LITHIA PILLS

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM AND ALL FORMS OF KIDNEY AND BLADDER ILLS.

AT ALL DEALERS—25 CENTS. A CURE AT THE [illegible] PRICE.

IT IS IMPORTANT

To Know What You are Taking When Using Catarrh Medicines.

Catarrh is the short route to consumption, and the importance of early and judicious treatment of catarrh, whether located in the head, throat or bronchial tubes, cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The list of catarrh cures is as long as the moral law and the forms in which they are administered, numerous and confusing, from sprays, inhalers, washes, ointments, and salves to powders, liquids and tablets.

The tablet form is undoubtedly the most convenient and most effective, but with nearly all advertised catarrh remedies it is almost entirely a matter of guess work as to what you are taking into your system, as the proprietors, while making all sorts of claims as to what their medicines will do, always keep it a close secret as to what they are.

The success and popularity of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is largely because it not only cures catarrh but because catarrh sufferers who used these tablets know what they are taking into their systems. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets being composed of Red Gum, Blood Root and similar valuable and antiseptic ingredients, and are pleasant to the taste and being dissolved in the mouth they take immediate effect upon the mucous lining of the throat, nasal passages and whole respiratory tract.

The cures that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have accomplished in old chronic cases of catarrh are little short of remarkable, and the advantage of knowing what you are putting into your stomach is of paramount importance when it is remembered that the cocaine or morphine habit has been frequently contracted as the result of using secret catarrh remedies.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets meet with cordial approval from physicians, because their antiseptic character renders them perfectly safe for the general public to use and their composition makes them a common sense cure for all forms of catarrhal troubles.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized packages.

SUCCESSFUL AERIAL NAVIGATOR.

Baldwin's "California Arrow" Answers to the Helm Readily.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 2.—Thomas S. Baldwin's airship, the "California Arrow," made another ascension yesterday from the World's Fair aeronautic concourse, with A. Roy Knabenshue of Toledo, who made two previous flights, at the helm. The day was clear and a seven-mile breeze blew from the southwest.

When released from its weights the airship rose gradually to a height of about 700 feet and sailed with the wind in a northeasterly direction. With the machine under complete control, Knabenshue piloted it for at least 300 feet, and then returned, circling about the concourse.

To show the sailing qualities of his craft, Knabenshue then, at a height of 1,000 feet, steered directly into the teeth of the wind and proceeded for about a half mile.

Instead of landing at once, as was expected he would do, Knabenshue kept on manoeuvring, crossing the concourse in every direction, then shooting off to the west. Finally, after being up about 40 minutes, he returned, and brought the machine to the ground in the Stadium, a short distance from the aeronautic concourse. The airship had been in the air exactly 36 minutes.

Knabenshue landed in the Stadium, the airship dropping down gracefully among the people, who greeted the performance with prolonged cheering.

Claim Riots Were Anti-Christian.

Comel, Russia, Nov. 2.—The trial of the persons charged with being responsible for the anti-Jewish riots here in September, 1903, is proceeding slowly and with open doors, and is attracting immense interest. There are eleven defendants and sixty-nine other persons who are under the same charges are being held under bail. Nine hundred and seventy-five of the 1,101 witnesses are present. The Government witnesses are attempting to prove that the disorders of Sept. 11, 1903, were in the nature of anti-Christian riots and not of an anti-Jewish character.

C.O.D. Service.

London, Nov. 2.—(C.A.P.)—Lord Stanley, the Postmaster-General, has sent inquiries to all the colonies to know whether they are in favor of the establishment of a C. O. D. service with this country. The three main points thought to be favored by the postoffice are: first, a parcel post exchange to parcels up to 11 lbs. weight; second, C. O. D. registered letter packets; third, no right of examination of parcels by receivers before payment of the charges.

Arbitration Treaty Signed.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Secretary of State Hay and Ambassador Jusserand yesterday signed a treaty providing for the settlement by arbitration of any possible disputes between the United States and France. It was drawn on the lines of the Anglo-French arbitration treaty.

Why the Britons Love Their King.

London, Nov. 2.—King Edward, who is taking a warm interest in the victims of the North Sea affair, has sent Sir Frederick Treves, the royal surgeon in ordinary, in order to superintend an operation that is to be performed on Boatswain Hoggart of the steam trawler Crane.

Balfour Ill.

London, Nov. 2.—It was announced last night that Premier Balfour is slightly indisposed. The following bulletin was issued last night:

"The Premier is suffering from an irritation of a small vein. By his doctor's orders he will remain in his room the next few days."

A Need of the Hour.

"It seems to me," said his friend, "that your college ought to establish a chair of gambling."

"A chair of what?" said the professor.

"Gambling. It is the great occupation of many, if not most of us, and the average college graduate is apt to take it up in some form or other in spite of all the warning he may receive. Therefore, why not train him to follow it with skill and success? Why not have, say, lectures on how to play poker, on how to play the races, on how to speculate in stocks and so on? If you could have these subjects properly handled you might turn out a corps of experts who would cover their alma mater with glory and reap a golden harvest for themselves."

"But, supposing the movement to be a success, it would simply ruin the public."

"Well, I judge that's what the public is for. It is simply a question of who gets the money."

Snide Lights on History.

Georgie Porgie had just kissed the girls and made them cry.

"They're crying for more," he said complacently.

Which shows how conceited men really are.

Othello had just strangled Desdemona.

"I suppose the papers will say," he mused as he gazed at his swarthy fist, "that she was a victim of the black hand."

Muttering to himself, he went to another highball.

Desperate.

It was the third act of the play, and the beleaguered maiden was shrieking for help.

In vain.

"Alas," she moaned, casting herself down, "nobody hears me!"

The villain laughed mockingly.

"Of course not," he sneered. "How could anybody hear you with such a swell audience as we've got tonight?"

She perceived at once that her case was desperate and in that thought grew calm, as befitted one of her proud lineage.

Why He Failed.

He was an elder of a chapel in a little Glamorganshire town. He was also a tradesman, and he fell upon evil days. His creditors pressed him, and he was forced to file his petition in bankruptcy.

His failure was the talk of the town. He felt his position acutely, and kept as much as possible within doors.

Then the brethren decided to hold a meeting, and the unworthy elder was summoned to attend. The pastor spoke first. He urged his people to be considerate and tender.

He was followed by a man who made an eloquent speech on honesty in trade, and concluded by moving that the elder be suspended from office for a period to give him time to purge himself of his heinousness. A seconder and supporter spoke to the same effect.

The brethren looked severe, their countenances were set with the sternness of a righteous wrath, a deep silence pervaded the room.

Slowly and humbly the elder arose. "I want," he murmured meekly, "to say a few things based on my ledger. The mover of the resolution owes me £16. I offered him three weeks ago to settle it for £12, to save myself from my present position. The seconder owes me £18. I told him I would accept £10 to prevent this exposure. The supporter of the resolution is indebted to me to the amount of £9."

A brief pause. "And now, with your permission"—turning to the pastor—"I will read out the sums the others present owe me."

He read them out, calmly and deliberately, but long ere he had finished the brethren had fled.

Eccentric Nobleman.

That rather eccentric young nobleman, Lord Howard de Walden, is about to start for East Africa on a big-game hunting expedition. He has acquired a large territory near the Victoria Nyanza, where he proposes to establish a stud farm for breeding zebras. He is probably the richest young man in England. The property he inherited from his grandmother, the late Dowager Lady Howard de Walden, was worth some £200,000 a year, and consists entirely of London houses. This estate was formerly the property of the Dukes of Portland, but the late Duke dying without leaving a male heir, this estate, which came into the family through an heiress (Lady Margaret, daughter of the Earl of Orford), fell to the Duke's surviving sister.

Occult Assistance.

Mack—What on earth did you go to that clairvoyant woman for?

Kate—I wanted to find out why I never can get any shirt waists made to fit.

WE INVITE YOUR DOCTOR

TO INVESTIGATE THE FORMULA OF

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

HERE IS THE CERTIFICATE OF WELL KNOWN ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS

While we do not believe there would be any advantage (except to imitators) in printing the formula of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the newspapers, we do invite your doctor to fully investigate their formula, knowing that he must certainly be convinced of the merits of the preparation.

So far as the curative effects are concerned, there have been thousands of testimonials published in the newspapers from persons cured of kidney and liver complaints, biliousness, constipation, stomach troubles, and kindred ailments.

The originals of these statements are on file in these offices, bearing the signatures of the cured ones, and backed by a $1000.00 guarantee as to their genuineness.

Now, as to the ingredients of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, their purity and medicinal value, we know of no better authority to vouch for them than the well-known analytical chemists, Thomas Heys & Son, of Toronto, who have thoroughly analyzed them, and compared their analysis with our formula:

ANALYSTS' CERTIFICATE. — "We have made a careful examination of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and find them to contain ingredients in quantities large enough to make them reliable medicinal value, also to be free from any injurious drug, such as morphia, etc."

(Signed) THOS. HEYS & SON,
Analytical Chemists.

Toronto, July 20, 1904.

The indisputable reliability of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has placed them in the front rank of family medicines. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 11—

KRUGER'S GOLD FOUND.

Cousin of Boer General Found a Quarter of a Million in the Transvaal.

Mr. Kemp, a cousin of General Kemp, has discovered beyond Spelonken buried treasure, removed from Pretoria before Lord Roberts' entry. The value of the find is estimated at a quarter of a million sterling, of which the Government will receive half.

According to an Exchange telegram, the treasure consists of 60,000 oz. of gold and of coin which, it is believed, was taken from the Pretoria Mint.

This carries us back to the last days of May, 1900, when, crushed and bewildered by the rapidity of Lord Roberts' advance, the Boer army, as a coherent and powerful fighting force, was in extremis. On May 29 Lord Roberts arrived at Germiston, near Johannesburg, and, conscious of the coming end, Government circles at Pretoria were in a state of extreme excitement and confusion. Panic-stricken burghers were daily pouring into the town, and crowds of refugees constantly arrived from Johannesburg by rail and road.

At the moment when English troops were firing on the last train out of Germiston, the Transvaal executive was holding its last meeting, at which "matters of a vast importance were exhaustively discussed." The next day Lord Roberts granted a 24-hours' armistice to Commandant Krause at Johannesburg, and President Kruger fled from Pretoria to Watervalnboven, on the Lourenco Marques Railway.

Persistent rumors concerning the carrying off of a hoard of treasure—presumed to be the remnant of the great war-chest which President Kruger had accumulated for use against us—were in circulation at the time. One report stated that both Steyn and Kruger were taking with them for concealment in the mountainous region of Lydenberg a heavy load of treasure in the form of bar gold. Another was to the effect that Lieutenant Frickie Eloff and Dr. Heymann had paid a mysterious visit to Lourenco Marques with a similar object.

It is probable that the circulation of these reports was encouraged by the astute President, since the fact that he, and those of his Executive who joined his flight, had made away with most of the gold in the treasury, at a time when many of the lower officials and burghers remained unpaid, was well known and angrily commented on in Pretoria before the British occupation, on June 5th. In his despatch of August 14th Lord Roberts remarked that he had found the treasury empty of its gold and the banks nearly so. Whether inspired or not, the false rumors have sufficed, for more than four years' to draw public attention from the spot where the treasure, or part of it, has been lying undisturbed.

The Spelonken region is a sparsely inhabited mountainous district of the Zoutpansberg, in the extreme northeast of the Transvaal, and its name, signifying "Caves," sufficiently indicates one of the reasons for its choice. The Spelonken hills begin at a point about seventy miles east and northeast of Pietersburg, and stretch southwest and northeast for about nineteen miles. In such a range of country the finder of the treasure must have had something more than ordinary good fortune in coming upon the secret hoard.

New Use for Stethoscope

The province of the stethoscope has been enlarged. It is a simple looking instrument, which is usually carried by doctors in their hats, and has long been known to the medical profession as a useful means of detecting such simple dangers as heart disease and lung affections.

A medical man near Edinburgh, has now successfully diagnosed a complicated burglary of long-standing by its means.

The occupants of the house adjoining the doctor's are away for a holiday, and yesterday he thought he heard sounds in it. He paid little attention to them at first, but ultimately he became suspicious, and decided to apply his stethoscope to the party-wall.

He then distinctly heard a low cough and several yawns. He at once sent for the police, who, with the aid of some workmen, surrounded the house.

Two of the constables got in by a window and confronted two men, who had evidently been making themselves at home.

One of the men at once sprang to his feet, and, leveling a revolver at them, ordered them to make way. The police, however, closed with the men, and secured them.

The men had apparently been living in the house for some time. Every portable piece of furniture had been packed up ready for removal, and the structure itself had been damaged maliciously.

The revolver, which was part of the booty, was found to be unloaded.

Another War in South Africa.

A man who is a resident of Natal and is at present in England on business, states that England's next piece of work in South Africa will be a serious "scrimmage" with the natives, that this fight is inevitable, and from one point of view it will do a great deal to consolidate the Boers and Britishers as one people, but the difficulty he sees will be the desire of the Boers to "get even" with the natives, who betrayed them at every point in the late war. Between Boer and Kafir there is "no quarter," and to a great extent it will mean a war of extermination. Truly Canada must appear as a haven of peace to the would-be colonist, as compared to South Africa, with this native problem, and Australia with its tyranny of labor organizations.

An Insinuation.

Miss Elderleigh—I suppose smokeless powder will reveal the horrors of war?

Mr. Knox—Yes; but it will never be able to conceal the ravages of time.

RED

Red is the color of danger, whether on the semaphore or on the skin. When the face is reddened by eruptions, when boils break out on the body, or the angry red of sores and ulcers is displayed in the flesh, it is nature's danger signal. The blood is obstructed and tainted by impurities, and there can be no safety until the blood is made pure.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, and removes the effete matter which clogs and corrupts it. It cures pimples, boils, eczema, scrofula, sores, ulcers and other consequences of impure blood.

"I feel greatly thankful for what your medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. Chas. Hood, of Kathcaba, Mich. "I suffered with scrofula of the head for twelve years. Tried every kind of medicine that I heard of but found no cure. Every one that looked at my head said they never saw anything like it. The last doctor I doctored with before applying to you I got worse every day. Was so miserable that I was unable to do any work at all. After taking two or three bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and using the local treatment you prescribed for me, I was cured and my head was entirely free from scrofula."

Accept no substitute for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. There is no other medicine which is "just as good" for diseases of the blood and the eruptions which are caused by the blood's impurity.

ANECDOTES OF WOMEN.

Some Bright Stories Captured and Compiled by Lloyd's Weekly News—Railway King's Wife's Mistake.

Many very funny stories have been told of Mrs. Hudson, wife of the "Railway King." A gentleman who was showing her over the South Kensington Museum pointed to a statue and said, "That is Marcus Aurelius."

"Lor! how like the late Markiss!" exclaimed Mrs. Hudson, who prided herself on knowing all the British aristocracy!

Another Puppy.

A certain lady had a custom of saying to a favorite little poodle dog when out walking, "Come along, sir!"

A would-be witty gentleman stepped up to her one day when she said this and asked, "Did you call me, madam?"

"Oh, no, sir," she replied, with perfect composure; "it was another puppy I spoke to."

Soon Gone.

Fanny Murray, a beauty of Walpole's time, was complaining of money, when Sir Robert Atkins gave her a £20 note.

Simply saying, "D—— your £20 what does it signify?" she clapped it between two pieces of bread and butter and ate it!

Smart Retort.

According to Walpole, after the execution of eighteen malefactors in 1787, a female was bawling an account of them, but called them nineteen.

A gentleman said to her, "Why do you say nineteen? There were but eighteen hanged."

"Sir," replied the woman, "I did not know you had been reprieved!"

High Thought.

A woman in humble life, when one day on her way back from church, was asked whether she had understood the sermon, a strange and learned divine having preached.

"Wud I hae the presumption!" was her simple and contented answer.

School Birches.

Lord Lytton, when Viceroy of India, was seated one day at dinner next to a lady whose name was Birch, and who was certainly not over-intelligent.

"Are you acquainted with any of the Birches?" she said to His Excellency.

"Oh, yes," replied Lord Lytton. "I know several of them most intimately while at Harrow—indeed, more intimately than I cared to."

"My lord," exclaimed the lady, "you forget the Birches are relatives of mine."

"And yet they cut me," said the Viceroy: "but," and he smiled pleasantly, "I have never felt more inclined to kiss the rod than I do now!"

Mrs. Birch did not see the point, however, and told her husband His Excellency had insulted her.

Sailor's Wife.

When the famous Lord Dundonald was serving in South America with the Chilians, he was accompanied by his wife, who shared his dangers and soothed his anxieties. One night, while in command of the Chilian fleet his ship got becalmed under an enemy's battery, from which it was assailed with red hot shot. His men were seized with a panic and deserted the guns. At this critical juncture, Dundonald went down to the cabin and asked his wife to come on deck, saying, "If a woman sets them the example they may be shamed out of their fears; it is our only chance."

Lady Dundonald immediately followed him on deck. The first object that met her eye was the battery with its flaming furnaces, round which dark figures were moving, looking more like incarnate demons than men. A glance at her husband's impressive features, and his calmness, reassured her. She took the match and fired a gun, which he had pointed. The effect on the crew was electrical. They returned to their posts with a shout, and the battery was speedily silenced.

Doctor's Criticism.

When conversation in a company in which the famous Dr. Johnson was present had fallen upon rather a delicate topic, one of the ladies, with an expression of great displeasure, rose and left the room.

"That woman," said the doctor, "is the most immodest of all the company."

Fall of Orleans.

Lady Harriet D'Orsay was residing at a stall at a bazaar held in aid of the funds of some asylum, when there came up the young Duke of Orleans, son and heir of King Louis Philippe. The duke, after some polite small talk, began to extol the beauty of her hair; and, indeed, her Henrietta Maria coiffure had never looked glossier and softer than it did that day.

"Oh!" exclaimed His Royal Highness, "if I could only possess one of those entrancing ringlets!"

"How much would monseigneur give for one? Five thousand francs?"

"A mere bagatelle!"

"Six thousand francs?"

"Anything so charming a lady chose to ask."

"I will not be extortionate," said Lady Harriet. "We will say five thousand."

Then she very composedly produced a dainty little pair of scissors, snipped off the adorable ringlet, wrapped it in silver paper, and handed it, with a smile and a curtsey full of graceful dignity, to the duke. His Royal Highness looked very straight down his nose, and, returning Lady Harriet's salute, stalked somewhat gloomily away, feeling that he had got the worst of it, doubtless. But his privy purse duly forwarded the money the next day.

Top dressing of sandy land with potash fertilizers gave good results with rye in some German tests, although the yields were not as satisfactory as when the potash was applied before seeding.

Faithful to Orders.

Scottish highland retainers, when made to do duty as servants, are said to show a very stolid, matter of fact kind of obedience. A Mr. Campbell, a highland gentleman, visiting a country house, told Donald to bring everything out of the bedroom, meaning his personal belongings. But five minutes later he found all its movable articles—fender, fire irons and the like—piled up in the lobby, so literal was the poor man's sense of obedience to orders. And of this he gave a still more extraordinary proof during his sojourn in Edinburgh. When the family moved into a house there Mrs. Campbell gave him very particular instructions regarding visitors, explaining they were to be shown into the drawing room and using the Scotticism, "Carry any ladies that call upstairs." The first visitors were two women who came at the same time. Donald seized one in his arms, said to the other, "Bide ye there till I come for ye," and in spite of her struggles and remonstrances ushered the terrified visitor into Mrs. Campbell's presence.

Locusts That Bring Terror.

In South Africa locusts are not those solitary green insects that crawl lazily over the apple tree trunks and enliven the July nights with the buss of their Lilliputian sawmills. They are big, reddish yellow grasshoppers, with long, strong, brown wings and two little millstones of teeth that will masticate anything that can be forced between them. They are neither solitary nor lazy. They are warriors, live and breed in camps millions strong and campaign in armies miles in extent. They fear nothing except an explosive noise, and their coming is the signal for an uproarious rattling of pans and a frenzied yelling among grown men and women that would put to shame the Yankee small boy on the Fourth of July. Poor, simple people that they are, their crops are their all, and it is a matter of life and death with them to keep off those terrible insects.—Century.

Simple Living.

It is not the aggregation of wealth which makes people happy, but the contentment found in the ways of a simple living. While luxuries increase, often thoughtlessly encouraged, the necessities of life are lost sight of. It is an important problem to solve what to do to help home building, though it takes no great calculation to find out the fact that 100 families in small homes of a thousand or two thousand dollars each are great consumers and producers of business and trade than one or two families with all their servants in a $100,000 mansion. Thorns, thistles and wild carrots will disappear from the fields and waste city lots if the idle land is utilised for garden or farm homes.

Kindliness Among Birds.

I have seen a little chipping sparrow make a business of feeding some half fledged robins. She watched for her opportunity, and whenever both parent robins were away from the nest she rushed in with her morsel. The robins resented her officiousness and hustled her out of the tree whenever they caught her there. I have heard of a wren that fed a brood of young robins in a similar way and of a male bluebird that fed some young birds that were in a nest near its own.—John Burroughs in Outing.

His Mistake.

She—They say that a little learning is a dangerous thing. He—Yes, I guess it is. I found it so once. I stopped investigating when I found out how much property my first wife's father was supposed to own without going ahead and making inquiries as to his debts. But I'll never get taken in that way again.

His Expectations Won.

Stern Parent—So you want to marry my daughter, eh? Well, have you any expectations? Young Man—Yes, I expect you will decline to give your consent, and we shall elope. Stern Parent—Take her, my son, with my blessing; my daughter requires the firm rule of a character like yours.

Good Night.

"What are you doing there, Jennie?" shouted her father.

"I'm just saying good night to George!"

"Well, as it takes you so long I will say it for you. Good night, George."

George went so quickly that he forgot to reply.

CHEAP EXCURSION TO TORONTO

Rugby Club Will Run Excursion to the City on Saturday.

The cheapest excursion of the season to Toronto will be run on Saturday morning on the Grand Trunk Railway. The excursion is being run by the Peterborough Rugby Club which is certainly worthy of liberal patronage. The fare is $2.05, less than single fare and the tickets are good going on the morning 7.30 flyer and good to return on any train not later than Monday night. The rugby team play the Argonauts on Rosedale field and a victory will mean the district championship. The boys have to put up a big guarantee and there will no doubt be a large crowd take advantage of the unusually cheap rate and accompany the team. A special train will leave the city at 11.30 o'clock on Saturday night, giving those who desire to attend the theatres an opportunity of doing so. This will be the cheapest and best excursion of the season. Remember it's only $2.05 return.

GREAT MASSACRE IN NEW BRITAIN

Interesting and graphic accounts of terrible catastrophy in Southern Ocean.

Mr. Sidney Blade, formerly of Peterborough sends contributions to the Examiner.

Cattalic Missionaries in New Britain brutally murdered by the natives.

Mr. Sidney Blade, formerly of Peterborough, has sent the Examiner the following graphic account of the recent massacres at New Britain, the details having been learned by Mr. Blade, at Camden Park, New South Wales, where he is now living:

A massacre, the worst that has ever occurred in the islands of the Pacific, was perpetrated at New Britain on the 13th of August, when the natives of the Beining Mountains made an attack in the early morning on the Catholic station at St. Paul, and committed a crime that in ghastliness of detail, repulsiveness and treachery, overshadows all previous massacres in New Britain, and caused the Catholic Church in New Britain to receive its first baptism in the blood of ten of its missionaries, victims of barbarity and fiendishness.

So frequently have massacres occurred during the past few years in New Britain that the repetition of these tragedies has thrown the settlement into a state of unrest and dread expectancy.

That this feeling of uncertainty is not conducive to the prosperity of the colony goes without saying, and if something is not done to put a stop to the steady flow of brutal massacres of white people, it needs no prophet to forteil the doom of the colony at no distant day.

Whether this state of affaire is due to a lax policy of the Government in the treating of native offenders, it is hard to say, but the fact remains that the mild treatment of the natives by the administration has often been adversely criticized by the settlers, but without any effect.

GENERAL PANIC.

The first intimation of the massacre reached the settlement on Sunday, August 14th, and a general panic ensued. Houses of business were closed, and everything came to a standstill. Planters and traders on stations in the interior at once repaired to the settlement, as rumours of a general native rising were in the air. It was stated that the natives of the Paparatava tribe were preparing to attack, a report which caused considerable anxiety in the settlement. Rifles and small arms were taken out and carefully overhauled, and every precaution was taken to guard against a native attack, should such eventuate.

Several tourists who were "doing" New Britain, will leave by the first steamer touching there, and the representative of a large Dutch planting company, who is here with the object of negotiating for the purchase of several large plantations of cocoanut and coffee, has broken off all negotiations, and announced that his firm are unwilling to invest any money in New Britain, where such a horrible massacre could occur.

THE STORY OF THE TRAGEDY.

On Saturday morning, the 13th of August, the missionaries of the Catholic station of St. Paul, in the Beining Mountains, rose at their usual hour, five o'clock, and, after attending the daily mass celebrated by Rev. Father Rascher, at which the whole community received Holy Communion, went about their usual avocations. At about six o'clock, the natives began to assemble at the station, but as this was a daily occurrence, no notice was taken of it. Two of the nuns, Sisters Dorothea and Bridgitta, accompanied by Miss Sadie McDonald, a young lady visiting the station, left St. Paul's at that hour for Vunamarita, the station of the Rev. Father Van der Aa, with the object of obtaining some provisions, of which St. Paul had run short.

Father Rascher, who was unwell, retired to his bedroom, and reclined on his bed, while Sister Hannah, who usually superintended the housework, was also in the house directing the servants in the usual Saturday cleaning.

Brother Plaschaert, who was doing some carpentering work in connection with the new church, went to attend to his labour, whilst Brother Shellekens was engaged in cementing the steps leading to the church. Brother Bley was engaged beneath the house of the Father, also in carpentering work. Sister Sofia wended her way to the native village to attend to her daily task of caring for the wounds and sores of the natives, whilst Sister Agatha attended and performed the same charitable act for the natives from the bush, who had presumably come to the station for that purpose. Sister Angela was busy in the church preparing and decorating the church for the Sunday and Monday, a high feast day of the Catholic Church, and Sister Agnes was superintending the housework of the convent.

Each one as they attended to their different tasks, was approached by several natives, who, as usual, carried their clubs and axes, and stood gazing carelessly on, and chatting with their unsuspecting victims. As before stated, Father Rascher was reclining on his bed, when his shooting boy, Tomaria, advanced on to the verandah. It had been customary for some years for this boy to take a gun each Saturday, and repair to the bush for the purpose of procuring wood-pigeons and pigs for the missioners' use. The gun he used was one of the three-barrel pattern, two barrels for shot, and one for ball-cartridge. This morning, as he advanced on to the verandah, he was carrying this gun, and glancing through the window, which was open, he saw the father on the bed. He instantly thrust the weapon through the window, took quick aim, and fired, the shot lodging in the father's chest.

THE WOUNDED PRIEST

sprang to his feet and staggered from the room, where he met Sister Hannah, who, seeing his cassock flowing with blood, and his fainting condition, caught hold of him, to give the dying man support. Tomaria, seeing that his first shot had not instantly killed his victim, followed through the room, and fired another shot into his right side, and the priest fell dead from the terrified sister's arms.

Sister Hannah, seeing this terrible crime perpetrated, ran into the dining room, and locked the door.

At the report of the gun, which was the pre-arranged signal for the massacre, the other missioners were instantly attacked by those standing by them, and tomahawked.

Tomaria, having shot the father, instantly left the house, with the intention of shooting Brother Bley, who was working beneath the house. The unfortunate missioner, hearing the shot above his head in the house, and seeing the sisters struck down, made a run for the bush with the intention of escaping, if possible. He had not gone many yards, Tomaria following him, when he turned round, faced the murderer and, stood

WAITING HIS DEATH.

One of the mission boys, seeing the situation, threw himself in front of the brother, and cried, "Tomaria, you must not shoot the brother! You can shoot me, but let the brother go!" to which the murderer replied, "Fool, stand aside, or I shall kill both of you." The gallant boy, Tande, refused to move, and the murderer was preparing to shoot, but loth to lose a cartridge on a native when there was a white man to shoot, he signed to some natives, who approached the brother from behind, and with a terrible blow from an axe, felled him to the ground. Then Tomaria advanced to the dying man and fired a bullet into his head.

Tande stood by helpless, and then bolted for the bush and reached Vunamarita station safely, with the report of the massacre. Tomaria, who was apparently the leader, then returned to the house, and commanded the natives to break down the door behind which Sister Hannah had taken refuge. A few blows from the axes and the door was in pieces, and sister Hannah was seen kneeling beneath the table in prayer. The brute then lifted his rifle, and shot her in the head, and she fell over. It is certain that the gentle sister did not die instantly, for when found afterwards she was lying beneath the table, with her head on her hand, resting on a box, with a bullet wound in the centre of her forehead, she was

SMILING IN DEATH.

Brother Plaschaert, who was marking a plank for the saw, was conversing with the natives who stood by him with taros which they offered to sell to him. The taros were evidently a blind, so that they could approach close to him unsuspected. At the report of the shot in the house Brother Plaschaert was struck by a native named Tsimgam who stood by, such a terrible blow with an axe on the back of the neck that his head was almost severed from the body. He must have died instantly, as, when found, he was kneeling, his head and body thrown forward on the ground, and his hands still grasping the pencil and measure; and close by his body were six taros.

Brother Shellekens, as before stated, was cementing the steps of the church, and was levelling the compound with a trowel. He also was in a kneeling position, and had fallen forward with his face in the cement. He also met his end by a blow from an axe that laid his head open. When found he still grasped the trowel in his hand. He was killed by a native named Togunakum.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN OTONABEE.

Mr. John Doris Fell out of a Wagon and Injured.

Latest News From Keene—Mr. S. Mather Moving From Town—Little Girl Injured.

Keene, Nov. 1.

Mr. John Dorns met with a serious accident on Saturday. He was drawing in turnips, and while standing up in the wagon, the horses suddenly started, and threw him out over the whiffletrees. He was dragged some distance, and received a painful scalp wound, and a severe shaking up, while will keep him from working for a week or so.

Mr. J. C. Read was visiting in Bobcaygeon for a few days this week.

Mr. T. Roach, of Westwood, spent Tuesday in the village.

Mrs. McGraw and children of Cobourg, visited her mother, Mrs. Roach, last week.

Miss Maud McLaughlin left on Thursday to spend the winter with friends at Pittsburg, Pa. Before leaving, the members of St. John's church choir, presented her with a handsome workbox.

Hallowe'en passed off quietly, there being only two cases of wilful distruction of property. A young hoodlum deliberately broke a large pane of glass in Mr. Armour's window. It is said that he intends prosecuting the youthful offender. A number of school boys, it is supposed, broke into the school and kicked down the stove pipes, and upset things generally. A large number of gates were taken off, but were easily found next morning.

Mr. Burley, who has been with Mr. D. Hastie for some time, has bought Mr. S. Mathers' blacksmith shop, and is now open for business.

Mr. William Moore has bought Mr. Mathers' handsome residence, and will move to the village as soon as he has disposed of his farming interests.

Robert McCamus and G. Shearer leave this week for Bancroft, to be ready for the opening of the deer hunting season.

We regret to report that Miss Annie McIntyre is again seriously ill, and trust that she will speedily recover.

Dr. W. McCauley, who has spent three weeks at the lake duck shooting, returned to Toronto on Saturday.

Mr. Lex. Secombe, who has completed his studies at Albert College, Belleville, has accepted a position with the Bank of Toronto at Peterborough.

The Endeavour Society of the Methodist church, intend holding a social on Thanksgiving evening, and the Y.P.S.C.E., of the Presbyterian church, will have one a week later.

Mrs. W. Mein and Master Gordon of Peterborough, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. A. Campbell, this week.

A very successful social was held in the Methodist church at Bethel on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Endeavour Society. Quite a number from Keene attended, and report a very enjoyable evening.

Little Bella McFarlane met with a painful accident on Tuesday afternoon. With a number of her companions she was enjoying a ride in the bus. In some way she fell off on to the road, and received a nasty gash on the forehead, which required several stitches to close. It is a dangerous practice for children to climb on to passing rigs, and it is wonder that more accidents do not occur.

The election campaign is practically over, and in this section it has been an unusually quiet one. It seems as if there was a desire to leave well enough alone, and allow Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues to continue their able administration of the country's affairs, which they have done during the past eight years.

The dance held on Friday evening last by the young people of the village, was a very enjoyable event. It was given as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mather, who are leaving the village to reside in Toronto. Messrs. McFarlane and Miller, violinists, and Miss Bryce as accompanist, supplied excellent music, while Mr. Dennis Kennealley, as floor manager, was the right man in the right place. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Mather and family left on Wednesday for Toronto, where they will reside in future. Mr. Mather has accepted a lucrative position as travelling salesman for a large paint and oil firm.

NOVEMBER CLEARING SALE

Tuesday morning started our annual November Sale.

We must make room on our second flat, as Santa Claus visits us this year in four weeks from to-day, Dec. 1st.

We are obliged to clear out over 250 Dinner and Tea Sets and Chamber Sets, of which we have the largest range of any retail house in Canada. The same can be said in reference to our Wall Paper, Window Shade and Room Moulding Stock.

We are delighted when you will take the trouble to look elsewhere before coming to us, as then we have a chance of showing you what low prices we really are offering.

When you get a Dinner and Tea Set combined, 97 pieces for $14.49, we claim that is a lower price than ever you heard of a set of that size being sold at. We also know that our Chamber Sets which we are clearing at $3.49, are as good as any set you have ever seen at $6.00.

Our Embossed Gold Wall Paper advertised at 10c a roll, will compare with anything you may see at 25c, and the border usually sells at 8c a yard—our price is 5c.

We've earned a reputation for biggest variety, best goods and greatest values, and now we will more than be on our best behaviour in clearing the above mentioned lines—for room we must have, or rent another building.

We will make your dollar go further than any other store for the next four weeks. If you are likely to need the above mentioned lines, we will make you feel that we mean every word that we say through the paper.

GRANOLITHIC WALKS BY A GENERAL TAX

Ratepayers will Probably Vote on the Question in the Municipal Elections in January Next.

Council Met Last Night After an Interval of Many Weeks —City Incorporation to be Voted on.

Board of Works Asks for More Money --- Appropriation of $11,000 Exhausted ---By-laws and Reports.

Last night's Council meeting was the first held in many weeks, and as a consequence, many matters of business claimed the attention of the Aldermen. Nearly every committee had a report to make, and a batch of communications was read.

A bylaw authorizing the raising of $10,000 to purchase a site for the new drill hall, caused considerable discussion, there being some doubt as to just what portion of the ground the town was to be given the deed of, and which was to be owned by the Government and the School Board. The bylaw, however, passed finally without amendment, and the purchase will be made according to the terms of the agreement already entered into between the committees representing the Town Council, the School Board, and the Government. Ald. Adams said that the latter had offered to pay over the amount agreed upon, viz., $10,000, as soon as the town had paid its share.

A bylaw creating a set of rules and regulations for the guidance of the members of the police force, was passed. Since they are of general public interest, they are published in full in another column.

Two notices of motion were made. The first of which, by Ald. Adams, was to the effect that he would introduce a motion at the next meeting of the council, providing for a vote to be taken on the occasion of the municipal elections as to whether the ratepayers prefer to pay the cost of granolithic sidewalk construction by general or frontage tax, and Ald. Morrison will introduce a motion at the December meeting to authorise taking a vote on the question of city incorporation at the January elections.

The appropriations made early in the year for the Board of Works has been overdrawn to the extent of $000, and Ald. Best asked the Council for instructions as to his further course, whether he should suspend work for the winter, or get a further grant from the council to prosecute the work now under way. A grant of $1,000 was made, which, he said, would tide him over until the next council meeting. This additional $1,000 brings the appropriation of the Board of Works now up to $12,000 for the year.

Ald. Hicks, Scott and Clinkscale were the absentees from last night's meeting.

There were present at the Council meeting last night: Mayor Roger, Ald. Johnston, Morrison, Rush, Adams, Batten, McWilliams, Best, Edgcumbe and Mason.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were read and dealt with:

From Bradburn Estate asking that steps be taken to protect the property at the China Hall Block from water which floods the cellars in this building.—Board of Works.

From owners of real property on the west side of Stewart street, from Dalhousie to Townsend street, petitioning for a granolithic sidewalk. —Board of Works.

From W. H. Currans and C. A. Londerville, asking that a sidewalk be laid on the north side of Homewood avenue west from Walton street, to accommodate five dwellings.—Board of Works.

From Mark Dobson, asking for refund of statute labour tax.—Finance Committee.

From Walter Peters, of the recently annexed portion of Smith, asking for a refund of school fees paid, etc. —Finance Committee.

From F. J. Bell, enclosing a list of all persons assessed in Smith on property lately annexed to the town. —Received.

From residents near the corner of Dublin and Stewart streets, asking for an electric light in that locality. —Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From property owners asking that the crossing on Stewart street, at the North side of Dublin street, be repaired. — Board of Works.

From J. J. Goodwin, asking that a bridge be constructed across a ditch approaching the second lot west of No. 45 Sherbrooke street. — Board of Works.

From the Otonabee Power Co., asking permission to erect poles on Dalhousie, Reid, Park, Romaine, Sherbrooke, Rubidge, Brock and Simcoe streets. The town engineer reported recommending that permission be granted to erect poles on Sherbrooke, Reid, Simcoe, and Park streets. — Board of Works.

From the Town Engineer reporting as instructed by the Chairman of the Board of Works, in regard to the bridges crossing the creek on George, Charlotte, Simcoe, Hunter and Brock streets. It was intended to rebuild the decks of four of these bridges, and the whole of one of them in permanent materials, this season, but the bylaws being defeated, the work would have to be ferred until next year. In order to maintain traffic repairs were in the meantime necessary to the five bridges, and the engineer estimated that these would cost $115. Most of the material could be reclaimed when the bridges were rebuilt. — Board of Works.

From W. G. Morrow, advising the council that the Board of Education wished the submission of a bylaw for $300 for the purpose of installing a new heating apparatus in the Central public school. — Finance Committee.

From Felix Brownscombe, town treasurer, submitting a list of accounts, as kept in the town books, and for which appropriations were made when striking the rate for the present year, and on which accounts more than 75 per cent. of the amount so placed in the estimates had been expended to this date.—Received.

From the town treasurer, asking how the council proposed to pay for the parcel of land for the extension of Barnardo avenue from George street. The sum of $1013 had been borrowed from the Ontario Bank, for this purpose, but the bylaw to raise money for the extension had been defeated.—Finance Committee.

From Davis, Thompson & Co., stating that the Boiler Inspection and Insurance Co., had lately decided to increase the additional insurance on engineers and firemen from 10 per cent. to 20 per cent of the amount of insurance on the property.—Received.

From E. M. Elliott calling attention of the town council to the share owing by the town to the Joint Accounts.—Finance Committee.

From E. H. Mann, offering to remove the pine trees on the Hilliard property, lately acquired by the town, and pay for them $40; also offering $10 for fifteen pines on the road next to the town.—Property Committee.

From the Canadian Machine Telephone Co., agreeing to change the levels of their manholes, in case the town wished at any time to lay a permanent pavement, or improve the present pavement, the town to give reasonable notice. —Received.

From the tax collector, showing that the amount collected during September was $567.39, and the total amount to date $77,590.76. — Finance Committee.

From D. Leplante, asking that the sidewalk on the south side of Romaine street be continued to his new house.—Board of Works.

THE GENERAL RESULT.

"Laurier, and the Larger Canada," was the keynote and motive of the fight waged in the broad Dominion on November 3rd. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's engaging personality, his stainless record, his intense Canadianism, conjoined with a broad imperialism, were one large element in the great Liberal victory. However, the chief element of the success achieved, was the popular sympathy with greatness — with the idea of bigness in relation to a policy for the up-building of the country. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy, upon which he appealed to the country, was grandly optimistic, with the rare quality in optimism, of being sanely practical and practicable. He has an enduring faith in Canada and her resources, as has the great mass of the people, and his plan for creating a new Canada as represented by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway project, appealed strongly to the native enterprise of Canadians. His policy was definite, clear-cut and direct. Against such a policy, with its tremendous potentialities of good, the shifting, reactionary, hesitating policy of Mr. Borden had no chance, and it got no chance. Canada wants the Grand Trunk Pacific, and Canada will get it. The extreme west and the extreme east, and the North-West, voted almost unanimously for it. It is the greatest railway enterprise of the century, and will be of the biggest benefit to Canada. Now, that the elections are over, and the distorted views of the railway presented by Opposition newspapers and speakers are no longer a factor, and the people get a clear understanding of the proposition, it is pretty certain that there will be well near universal satisfaction with it. The Dominion verdict also fully endorses the past splendid administration of the Laurier Government. As Sir Wilfrid said in Peterborough, there was no cause for a change, and there would be no change. And now we can look pretty confidently for a continuation of the prosperity the country has been enjoying for the past eight years. The bringing in of a hundred millions of British capital for the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the stimulus thus given to a large circle of Canadian industries and interests will do much to counteract and repel the wave of depression which seems to be rising in the neighbouring republic. At any rate the country is sure of five more years of good Government, and West Peterborough is sure, as it has not been for thirty years, of good, faithful, effective and energetic representation at Ottawa.

PETERBORO' FIRM'S PRODUCT PRAISED

Government Analyst Says Colonial Ink Co's Goods are of Highest Quality.

In Competition with American and English Goods it Completely Outclasses Them—"Japanese" Ink "Very Good."

The Colonial Ink Company recently submitted a sample of their famous Japanese brand writing ink, along with a sample each of the best known English and American inks, to Mr. A. McGill, the analyst of the Inland Revenue Department at Ottawa, for testing as to colour and permanence. The samples were merely numbered one, two and three, No. 1 being the "Japanese," No. 2 the English, and No. 3, the American ink.

Mr. McGill reports that No. 1 is of "the highest quality," and 'very good," No. 2 is a "good ink," and No. 3 only fair; and also states that No. 1 even exceeds the standard set by the Government for quality and permanence.

The Colonial Ink Company is pleased that their judgment is backed by so eminent an authority.

DELIGHTFUL EVENING AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Entertainment of Fraser Mission Band Last Night Was a Decided Success.

Last night in the school room of St. Paul's church, the members of the Fraser Mission Band gave a delightful entertainment. The room was well filled, and the funds of the Band were as a consequence materially increased.

The object is a very worthy one, and was well supported by the members of St. Paul's congregation.

Mr. John Crane was chairman of the evening, and announced a delightful programme, which opened with a piano solo well rendered by Miss Hazel Sanderson. Mr. C. N. Brown delighted the audience with a reading, and Rev. Dr. Torrance also gave a reading. Miss Helen Davies gave two vocal solos in her usual excellent style, and a solo by Miss Lillian Moore was also much enjoyed. Miss Rogers rendered a piano solo, and Miss Rogers and Miss Macdonald gave a piano duet, both of which numbers were highly appreciated. Little Miss Pringle pleased the audience with a recitation. A piano duet well rendered by Miss Gladys and Mr. John Crane formed a delightful number on the programme.

GRANOLITHIC WALKS BY A GENERAL TAX.

Ald. Rush presented the following report of the Supervision Committee:

Gentlemen,—Your Supervision Committee begs leave to report as follows:—

1. Your Committee asked for tenders for winter uniforms for the police and accepted the tender of Tully, Merrell & Meredith at the rate of $24 a suit and ordered with them an extra pair of trousers, and authorized the Chief to procure a suit for himself at a cost to the town not to exceed $25.

2. Your Committee has prepared rules for the government of the police force which will be submitted to you.

3. Your Committee authorized the Chairman and Chief of Police to engage a sufficient number of special constables on Hallowe'en to protect the property of the ratepayers and we recommend that they be paid on the certificate of the Chairman.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The chairman further reported that Mr. Meredith had assured him that these goods would be made in Peterborough by union labour.

The report was adopted.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

The following report of the Property Committee was presented by Ald. Batten:

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee begs leave to report as follows:—

1. We recommend that the Town Trust Commissioners be authorized to sell the lot in Ward 5, which they asked permission to sell, at the price named by them or such better price as they can get.

2. Tenders were asked for painting the outside of the town buildings and the tender of Duncan and Doupe for $190.00 for three coats being the lowest was accepted.

3. We recommend that the Town Trust Commissioners be authorized to re-lease the Hilliard property and that Ald. Rush be appointed to act with them in settling the terms.

4. Your Committee advertised for tenders for numbering the houses in Ward 5 and also for numbering the new houses in the other wards of the town and the tender of E. Linder at 3 cents a number being the lowest was accepted.

5. We recommend that the contract for the care and operation of the Dan N. Spence Ambulance be given to D. Beleghem for another year from the first of the present month at $100.00 for the year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted.

LEGAL COMMITTEE.

Ald. McWilliams read the following report of the Legal Committee:

Gentlemen,—Your Legal Committee begs leave to report as follows:—

1. That Mr. H. H. Leary be notified that as the town had no notice or knowledge of the defective condition of the crossing where he claims his horse was injured his claim cannot be acknowledged.

2. That no action be taken on the letter from Mr. Wm. Eyres, regarding further regulations for the running of the street cars.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Gentlemen,—Your Board of Works begs leave to report as follows:—

1. We received a request from the Peterborough Radial Railway Co., for permission to place a lever stand for operating the derailing device at the Grand Trunk Railway crossing on Lock Street, between the sidewalk and the fence and recommended that it be granted.

2. We have examined a petition from the Toronto Loan and Savings Co, and others for the construction of a sewer as a local improvement on Weller street from lot 18, plan 49, to the boundary and as it is sufficiently signed, we recommend that it be granted.

3. With reference to the sewer recommended to be constructed on Weller street in the foregoing paragraph, we received an offer from John Robson, who was then constructing a sewer on Weller street, to construct this sewer for 80 cents a foot unless there should be rock to excavate and in that case to do the work for $1.10 a foot and we recommend that his offer be accepted, the work to be done as soon as the work already contracted for is completed.

4. We received a petition from R. Sheehy and John Corkery for the construction of a granolithic sidewalk as a local improvement on the south side of Bolivar street opposite lots Nos. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 plan 95 and as it is sufficiently signed, we recommend that it be granted and that the Town Engineer be authorized to have the work done under the superintendance of W. Maxwell.

5. We recommend that the settling of the general policy to govern the placing of telephone conduits be left with the Chairman and Engineer with authority to them to visit Toronto, or such other places as they may deem necessary for the purpose of studying the subject, the expenses to be paid by the Treasurer, annd that the applicatoin of the Machine Telephone Company be granted subject to such conditions and supervision as above commitee may require.

6. We recommend that a crossing be put on Lock street, as asked for by Mrs Lapiante.

7. We recommend that the Street Commissioner be instructed to proceed next with the construction of granolithic sidewalks on Water street, Homewood avenue, Elm street and Cedar street.

8. We received from the Machine Telephone Co. a letter asking to make a change in the location of poles on George street south and recommended that it be referred to the Chairman and Engineer to deal with it.

9. We recommend that the application of the Cleaubee Power Co. to place five poles on the west side of Park street south of Wescott street and eight poles on the south side of Sherbrooke street to the Boundary, which has been reported on by the Town Engineer, be granted, subject to such regulations as may be made by the council by-law.

10. We recommend that a pipe sewer be constructed across McDonnell street to Waterford street and a pipe drain on the south side of McDonel street west of Aylmer street.

11. We recommend that the bridges over the creek on Townsend, Charlotte, Simcoe, Hunter and Brock streets be repaired as recommended by the Town Engineer. The Engineer has been instructed to make a report to the council of the estimated cost of the repairs.

12. We recommend that the Street Commissioner be given two weeks holidays.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE.

Gentlemen,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee begs leave to report and recommend that the Chairman of this Committe be authorized to act in conjunction with the Chairman of the Board of Works and arrange for two weeks' holidays for S. F. Wallbright, Engineer of the Fire Department, at the most suitable time, he to provide a substitute acceptable to the Chairman, the substitute to be paid at the same rate as Mr. Wainright is paid.

BY-LAWS.

Ald. Batten moved the first reading of a bylaw to authorize the execution of an agreement with D. Beleghem for the care and service of the Dan Spense Ambulance, Mr. Beleghem to be paid $200 per year for such care and service. This bylaw was passed.

Ald. Adams moved the first reading of a bylaw to provide for the raising of $10,000 to purchase a site for the armouries in Peterborough. The bylaw was given its several readings.

A bylaw was given its several readings, the provisions being to grant $2.0 to the West Peterborough Agricultural Society.

The bylaw changing the names of streets in the town in the East ward was given its 3rd reading and passed.

Ald. Rush moved the first reading of a bylaw to regulate the police force. This bylaw was given its three readings and passed.

Ald. Best called the attention of the Council to the fact that the Board of Works had over-drawn and and asked what way the Board should pursue its work. There was still considerable work to be done and if the work was to be prosecuted authority must be given the Treasurer to enable him to issue cheques to cover the cost of work done by the Board of Works.

The appropriation this year for the Board was $11,000 and at present an overdraft of [illegible]. A motion was passed to authorise the treasurer to pay on Board of Works expenditure up to $1,000 above the amount in the appropriation.

Ald. Adams gave a notice of motion providing that at the time of the municipal elections the question should be voted on by the electors as to whether or not they were favourable to the system of paying for granolithic walks by the system of general tax.

A bylaw was introduced by Ald. Best to provide for the construction of a granolithic sidewalk on Bolivar street and passed. This walk is that already constructed in front of Mr. Rich. Sheehy's terrace, on Bolivar street.

Ald. Johnston called the attention of the Council to the necessity of levelling off the side of the street at the north end of Aylmer street, in order that pedestrians will find it easier walking. Mr. Best promised to take this matter into consideration.

Ald. Morrison also spoke of the condition of Park street, and said that it should be attended to, the present condition was dangerous and unsightly, and should be raised up to level of the street railway. The tracks on Park and Hubbert streets had been raised above the bridge deck, and the track is now above the platform of the bridge, leaving them in a condition which cannot be allowed to stand.

The Mayor thought that the Railway Company should be made to leave the streets in as passable a condition as it was before.

A notice of motion was made by Ald. Morrison to the effect that he would move that the electors be asked to vote in January on the question of city incorporation.

Ald Johnston called the attention of the council to the fact that the G.T.R. had erected a fence across Gilchrist street where it crosses the track, and thereby shutting off a part which has been used for years by the residents of that vicinity. He thought that it had been a great convenience and asked if it could not still be left open. The Mayor promised to attend to the matter.

This ended the business and the Council adjourned.

DO NOT NEGLECT THE DAIRY COW.

At this season of the year, when farmers are extremely busy preparing for winter, the dairy cows are apt to be neglected. Frequently they are left to pick a scanty living from bare pastures and the fence corners of grain fields, exposed to all the inclemencies of the autumn weather. The highly organized dairy cow is very sensitive to sudden and extreme changes in the weather, and nothing could be more detrimental to economical milk production. The flow of milk is often so materially lessened that it cannot be brought back to the normal standard during the winter. Exposure to storms and lying on the cold, damp ground at night not only lead to a decreased flow of milk but they are apt to cause udder troubles, rheumatism and other diseases, and in some cases even death. It is, therefore, advisable to see that the cows get a sufficient supply of suitable food during this critical period, and that they are protected from storms during the day and comfortably stabled at night. That eminent dairy authority, Prof. Haecker, of the Minnesota Experiment Station, has given considerable attention to this subject, and some of his experiments and conclusions are well worthy of consideration by owners of cows. In the course of an article on the fall care of cows he says:—

One night or even a few hours of cold rain causes an enormous shrinkage of milk. Food, comfort and contentment are the prime factors in successful dairying, and it is not too much to say that comfort is the primest factor. To feed well, but disregard the bodily comfort of the cow, is to court and insure disappointment. A cow will fail to elaborate a full mess of milk if she is wet or shivering from cold, no matter how generously she is fed.

Autumn is a more critical period for a cow fresh in milk than winter. Cold rains and raw winds are fruitful causes of decreasing milk. The first makes inactive the muscular system, while the latter so disturbs the nervous system that it fails to perform its work. Cows should therefore not be exposed to the rains, left out during cold nights, or confined in muddy or wet yards at any time.

The proof of this theory was clearly demonstrated by the Minnesota Station herd two years ago. Some changes were being made in the cow barn, which made it inconvenient to stable the cows for a few days, and just then a cold, rainy spell set in, to which the cows were exposed. There was not only a very marked shrinkage in milk and butter fat at once, but they failed to recover during the winter, though the feed was liberal and the care the best that could be given. The cows gave 16.11 lbs. of milk and .5 lbs butter fat a day during the winter. It was known when the shrinkage took place and why, but the attempt to recover it failed. The next year such an experience was guarded against, and the same herd gave a daily average of 33.4 lbs. milk and 1.3 lbs. fat.

It may be asked what the cows did with their food, since they were fed liberally during the winter. They made beef or fat with it, for each gained an average of nearly half a pound a day, a gain that did neither the cows nor the owner any good. During the two winters the herd was composed of the same cows, fed the same rations and received in every way the same careful attention, and yet because of that mishap the herd failed by just fifty per cent. of doing it normal or possible work. Please think of this, and do not lose money by needlessly exposing cows in the autumn.

COWS THAT DO NOT PAY.

Mr. J. C. Chapais, Assistant Dairy Commissioner, who is particularly well acquainted with agricultural conditions in Quebec, said in an address: From my experience, I am led to believe that the reason why the Babcock test is not more generally adopted as a basis for payment for milk is lack of knowledge on the part of the farmers. They do not know anything about the true value of cows. When they are told that a cow that yields thirty pounds of milk is more valuable than one yielding forty pounds they do not understand it. I came across an instance of this kind when I was working with the inspectors in the Lake St. John district. One man said, "I have the best cow in the parish, she gives sixty pounds of milk." I went out to his place, leaving with me the figures as to the butter fat in his milk. I got from him the facts as to cost of feeding his cow, and figured out the cost of the milk. I found that it cost, allowing the ordinary price for the feed used, about 90 cents per hundred pounds.

At the priest's house I got the figures about a cow owned by him whose milk cost only 46 cents per hundred pounds.

I showed the man that the per centage of butter fat in the milk of his cow was 3.85, while in that of the priest's cow it was 5.60. I was able to show him that, instead of having the best cow in the parish, he had the worst. The result was that, whereas this man generally sold a calf at $15 at birth, the next year, though the calf was a heifer, nobody would buy it. This shows that the farmers will understand this matter if we go to them and explain it.

A Book for the Home.

Dr. Chase's Last and Complete Receipt Book, containing over three thousand medical, cooking, veterinary and miscellaneous receipts, is sold at $2.75 post-paid. There is no book published which is so useful in the home. After using it a month you would not exchange it for $5. If you don't consider it worth more than the price return the book in good condition and get your money back. Illustrated circular free. Manufactured by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

Earl Ranfurly, Late Governor of New Zealand So Declares.

London, Nov. 5.—(C. A. P.)—Earl Ranfurly, entertained at Belfast after his seven years' Governorship of New Zealand, said the real bond of Empire was that of blood, sentiment and tradition. That bond, after passing through much discouragement, still lived. It was the mother country's bounden duty to foster and encourage it in every way in their power.

Absolute free trade throughout the Empire might be an impossibility owing to revenue requirements, but when the colonies had passed preferential tariffs regarding British made goods carried in British ships it was more than time for the home country to try and deal with her family in a liberal spirit.

In conclusion, he referred to New Zealand's largely increased contributions to the British navy—a measure passed by Parliament without dissent—as undoubted proof of the sentiments of the colonies.

IT IS IMPORTANT

To Know What You are Taking When Using Catarrh Medicines.

Catarrh is the short route to consumption, and the importance of early and judicious treatment of catarrh, whether located in the head, throat or bronchial tubes, cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The list of catarrh cures is as long as the moral law and the forms in which they are administered, numerous and confusing, from sprays, inhalers, washes, ointments, and salves to powders, liquids and tablets.

The tablet form is undoubtedly the most convenient and most effective, but with nearly all advertised catarrh remedies it is almost entirely a matter of guess work as to what you are taking into your system, as the proprietors, while making all sorts of claims as to what their medicines will do, always keep it a close secret as to what they are.

The success and popularity of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is largely because it not only cures catarrh but because catarrh sufferers who used these tablets know what they are taking into their systems. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets being composed of Red Gum, Blood Root and similar valuable and antiseptic ingredients, and are pleasant to the taste and being dissolved in the mouth they take immediate effect upon the mucous lining of the throat, nasal passages and whole respiratory tract.

The cures that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have accomplished in old chronic cases of catarrh are little short of remarkable, and the advantage of knowing what you are putting into your stomach is of paramount importance when it is remembered that the cocaine or morphine habit has been frequently contracted as the result of using secret catarrh remedies.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets meet with cordial approval from physicians, because their antiseptic character renders them perfectly safe for the general public to use and their composition makes them a common sense cure for all forms of catarrhal troubles.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized packages.

Young Sachs Committed.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Charles Sachs, the lad who was arrested on the charge of manslaughter, having admitted that he had accidentally fired the shot which caused the death of his sister, Mary Sachs, was given his preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Weir yesterday morning and was committed for trial at the spring assizes. Wilbert Bailey was a witness and deposed that the rifle was his property and had been loaned by him to young Sachs.

Passenger Steamer Struck.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 5.—The coastal steamer Portia, with 104 passengers, struck on the Penguin Islands at midnight last night. She was re-floated subsequently, but was making so much water that the passengers took to the boats and proceeded to the mainland, while the ship steamed for the nearest harbor, where she was beached to effect temporary repairs. The Portia is a new ship of 1,000 tons and was making her second voyage.

Industry Charges a Mob.

Breslau, Prussian Silesia, Nov. 5.—Three thousand Poles marched through the streets of Czestochowa, Russian Poland, Wednesday, as a protest against the mobilisation. The chief of police and gendarmes ordered the paraders to disperse, but they refused to do so and continued to sing Polish songs. A detachment of infantry then charged the mob with bayonets, with the result that six persons were killed and twenty were wounded.

LAURIER'S VICTORY

Canadians Are Too Prosperous to Make a Change.

ISSUES BEFORE ELECTORS

British Papers' Comments—Think Generally That Issues Were Very Much Narrowed Down—Premier's Delightful Personality a Factor—Regret For Borden's Misfortune — Both Sides Friends of Empire.

London, Nov. 5.—(C.A.P.)—In his speech at Edinburgh Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman said a little light had been thrown also from the other side of the Atlantic by the news of the results of the elections there. If there was a party there more committed to what might be called Mr. Chamberlain's policy than the other it was not Mr. Chamberlain's friends who had the best of the contest.

Referring to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's speech, The Morning Post says it is hardly necessary to say that there is not even a scintilla of justification for the inference that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's victory is evidence of anti-Chamberlain sentiment. We have had repeated assurances in the most clear and precise form that the Canadian Premier is eager to strengthen the bonds of commercial union with the mother country. Canada has her own questions to deal with, but there is happily no conflict of opinion on the matter dividing us here.

Contrasting the two speeches, The Morning Post concludes that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman advocates the narrowest and most insular view, but the nobler sentiments of Lord Rosebery will be embodied in the ultimate policy of this country.

A Terrifying Failure.

The Daily News says the question before the electorate of Canada was reduced to one question—the G. T. P. contract. Tariff questions were absolutely quiescent during the campaign and the attempt to beat the Chamberlain drum was a terrifying failure, which will probably keep that instrument from Canadian politics for some time to come. As far as Canada was concerned, the principles enunciated by Laurier will reduce these dangers to a minimum.

After saying that Canadian loyalty is not to be bought by the expectation of commercial privileges, The Chronicle says: The only attempt to restrict the legislative independence of Canada will endanger it. Freedom was the atmosphere in which it sprang to life. In freedom alone can it continue to grow and have its being.

Borden's Defeat.

The Standard says: Borden's misfortune is regretted even by his opponents. His disappearance, though it may be only temporary, leaves a distinct gap. A feeling of gratification, however, at Laurier's success ought to be shared by all impartial observers. The Opposition introduced extraneous arguments into the G. T. P. question which, had they been well received, would have had a mischievous influence on the national unity of Canada. The only embarrassment Laurier met with was the multitude of Liberal candidates seeking a share in his triumph.

The Times says: Laurier's victory illustrates the difference between political conditions in Canada and Great Britain. Swinging the pendulum is not yet acclimatized. In the Dominion success breeds fresh success. Victorious Ministries seem to enjoy the means of postponing defeat indefinitely.

Laurier's Personality.

After commenting on the present prosperity in the Dominion, The Times says Laurier's personality may have had some bearing on the result. The one recent episode, the Dundonald affair, which may have led Englishmen at home to regard the Government with misgiving, has probably strengthened his hold on the French-Canadians. It is only fair to say that the Militia Bill introduced after Lord Dundonald's dismissal was a promising move in the direction of military efficiency. The result of the contest shows the people do not share Borden's apprehensions regarding the G.T.P. scheme.

It quotes Laurier's remarks on the preference question, and The Times does not think that they bear out the ideas of some American writers, that his success constitutes a rebuke to Chamberlainism. It questions whether in view of Laurier's latest pronouncement regarding a maximum and minimum tariff, the forecasts of those Americans thinking of reciprocity with the States in the near future are likely to be justified by facts.

The Financial Times says neither investors or tariff reformers should regret the result of the Canadian elections. Both parties have enthusiastically declared in favor of Chamberlain's proposals.

All Cordial to the Empire.

The St. James' Gazette, referring to the Canadians elections, says: To us, happily, it makes no great difference which party rules in Canada. To either side we can safely trust for close cordial support of Imperial interests, and we can congratulate over the victory with full confidence for the maintenance of such policy in the future.

P. B. B. Ball, commercial agent of the Government of Canada, addressing the Junior Liberal Unionists Association at Birmingham Thursday night, said: If Sir Wilfrid Laurier was again returned to power there would be a maximum and minimum tariff.

The Westminster Gazette says: We have the authority of The Times' correspondent for saying that Mr. Chamberlain's proposals were not an issue in the Canadian elections, the result of which English Liberals view with satisfaction.

People Too Prosperous.

The Daily Graphic says Sir Wilfrid Laurier has scored a great triumph. Imperial tariff reform caused no division of opinion. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's views are well known in England, whilst Mr. Borden, notwithstanding Lord Rosebery's extraordinary assertion, pledged himself and his party to the principle of a mutual preference two years ago. After speaking of the G.T.P as being the main party question, the Daily Graphic says the conditions however, are too prosperous to feel greatly inclined to go "against the Government."

The Daily Chronicle says that from an Imperial point of view Sir Wilfrid Laurier's victory is a good omen for Mr. Chamberlain's policy has involved the Empire in much danger of misunderstanding and in a possibility even of ill-will between the colonies and the Motherland.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realise its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefitted by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Permit to Use His Name.

Quebec, Nov. 5.—Yesterday morning a number of veteran volunteers who aided in the Trent affair and also those who aided to repel the Fenian invasion of 1866 waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier to ask recognition for their services to Canada in these days. Major Gingras, formerly of the 9th Regiment, who took part in the Trent Affair, acted as spokesman. Sir Wilfrid Laurier received the deputation very courteously and said that he would be pleased to recognize their past valuable services to their country. He allowed the delegates to use his name as favorable to any scheme for recognition that they might present to the Minister of Militia.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavour similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of Pocomoke, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by all druggists.

Mails to the Arctic.

Quebec, Nov. 5.—Information has been received at the Postoffice Department at Ottawa that no mails from the S.S. Arctic will be despatched during the coming winter, but it is expected that a mail will be despatched during the summer, about the month of June or July, when notice will be given to the press, so that the families and friends of those on board will receive due notice. All correspondence may be sent to the charge of Col. Fred White, Comptroller N.W.M.P., Ottawa.

In doubt, Alberta	1

Changes of a Day.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Reports received from the constituencies indicate that the Liberal majority of 66 announced yesterday has probably been reduced to 62, chiefly by changes in the west. The changes in calculation are:

In Ontario—The transfer of Algoma West from the Liberal to the Conservative column, although the returns being as yet quite incomplete and the majority so far small, there is still a good prospect that a retransfer will be necessary.

In Quebec—Pontiac, which was yesterday classed as doubtful, has been conceded to the Opposition, giving them a total of 11 seats in Quebec, with the Gaspe election yet to be held, which will undoubtedly go Liberal, leaving the Government majority in Quebec 48, a net loss of 4 seats.

In New Brunswick—York reverts to the Opposition.

In Manitoba Liberals are now leading in Provencher, which was yesterday classed an Opposition seat.

In the Territories yesterday's calculation claimed only six seats for the Liberals, with one, Calgary, doubtful. Later figures indicate that Calgary has been carried by the Opposition. The Conservative candidate is also ahead in Qu'Appelle, while Alberta is in doubt.

No changes are reported from Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia.

The elections still to be held are:

Quebec—Gaspe.

N. W. T.—Dauphin, Mackenzie and Yukon.

British Columbia — Comox-Atlin, Kootenay and Yale and Cariboo.

The Premier's Return.

Quebec, Nov. 5.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier left for Ottawa last night on board his private car by the regular C.P.R. train. He was escorted to the station from the Chateau Frontenac by thousands of people. There was a tremendous and very enthusiastic demonstration.

Sir Wilfrid Grateful.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—C. B. Major, of Hull, received the following telegram from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who is in Quebec, and who was elected in Wright Thursday:

"Please accept for yourself and to our friends in the County of Wright expressions of my sincere gratitude for the good news just sent me, and also my congratulations for the splendid victory.

"Wilfrid Laurier."

Re-Count in London.

London, Ont., Nov. 5.—Local Liberals are not worrying about the Conservatives talk of a re-count, for they feel certain that such a procedure would increase rather than diminish Mr. Hyman's majority. The scrutineers and deputies declare that a number of the ballots thrown out were spoiled by members of the Socialist Labor party, who did not feel like voting for either candidate, and wrote their names on the ballots, or else wrote on the paper the word "Socialist."

THE CONSERVATIVE LEADERSHIP.

Does the Party West Mr. Borden to Continue At the Head?

Montreal, Nov. 5.—The Conservative newspapers of Montreal are silent as regards the party leadership. The Gazette will say nothing at present, and The Montreal Star, the paper that has so enthusiastically supported Mr. Borden, confines itself to the following reference: "The defeat of Mr. Borden is a very real, though it is to be hoped only a temporary, calamity. No man has shown in so short a time a more genuine genius for public life. He has already deserved well of his country, and better than he received from his own city. Mr. Bell, too, is another man who will be keenly missed if a seat is not found for him. On the other hand, the Conservative Parliamentary forces will be strengthened by the accession of Mr. Foster."

The Herald (Liberal) says that Mr. Borden would be a loss to Parliament, and adds that a seat should be found for him.

The Witness (Independent Liberal) treats the question more openly. It says: "Will it be possible to find a safe seat for Mr. Borden? Will the party still want him and the principles which it commissioned him to represent, and for which he so wholeheartedly stood, and for which he has fallen, or will he find himself tired of politics for the moment, and also of the prospect of more long years of battle in weary siege to the Government fortress? In the event of Mr. Borden dropping out of the leadership the natural inquiry is, who is there to succeed him? Mr. Foster, whose re-entry into Parliament we cordially welcome, is acknowledged to be the strongest man, but it is suspected that he will not be persona grata to a majority. The Hon. Peter White is the hope of a good many Conservatives outside of Parliament, whatever may be the official decision of the party. Mr. White, however, has passed his 66th milestone, and may not care to take such an onerous position even if it were offered to him. The gallant Col. Hughes, no doubt, aspires, perhaps also Mr. Maclean; but apart from Mr. Foster not one of the old guard, the Tuppers, etc., is supported by a single voice."

FRENCH STEAMERS COLLIDE.

Gironde's Full Passenger List of 110 Now in All Drowned.

Bona, Algeria, Nov. 5.—A hundred persons were drowned Thursday night by the sinking of the French steamer Gironde, after having been in collision with the French steamer A. Schiaffino, near Herbillon, 28 miles from Bona. The Gironde left Bona with 110 passengers, of whom 100 were Algerian natives.

Two Drown.

Newboro, Nov. 5.—F. Spicer and D. McCaskill are supposed to have been drowned Thursday afternoon while crossing Newboro Lake. Their boat was found capsized. A number of citizens are out grappling for the bodies, but so far have not been successful.

Babe Badly Burned.

Windsor, Nov. 5.—The nine-months-old son of William N. Wheeler of this city was terribly burned about the face and head at his parents home here Thursday night by the explosion of a lamp. He had been put to bed apparently asleep, but evidently awoke and dragged a lamp on the bedding. The child's screams attracted the attention of his parents in time to save his life.

Boy Fatally Scalded.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Freddie, the two-year-old child of Charles Mould of 96 Royce avenue, fell backward into a pail of boiling water on Thursday and succumbed to the injuries.

Run Over By a Train.

Guelph, Nov. 5.—Frank Swartzenberg, a young man residing in Toronto, was run over by a C. P. R. ballast train at Guelph Junction last evening. He attempted to cross the track and was struck by one of the cars. One arm and one leg were taken off and he sustained other injuries of a serious nature. The young man was on his way to Guelph from Toronto to visit his mother, who is ill.

Traveling Man Hurt.

Brockville, Nov. 5.—As the train from the east came into the station here a middle-aged man named L. A. Conrad, of the firm of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, was standing on the platform of a passenger coach ready to go off. As the train swiftly passed over the cross-over switch the sudden curve caused him to fall off. He was very badly shaken up and bruised, being injured in the chest and on the left hand. He was removed to the hospital and is progressing fairly well, though still suffering from the shock.

Drop Into a Cellar.

Lucan, Nov. 5.—At 9.30 Thursday night, while the Stanley Block, corner Main and William streets, was crowded, part of the floor gave way and precipitated over fifty men and boys into the cellar, which was quite deep. No one was seriously hurt, but many were considerably bruised.

MR. HILL HAS PROVED IT.

Toronto Man Explains How he Gained Thirty Pounds in a Few Weeks. Remarkable Statement.

At 39 Fuller street, Toronto, lives a man who claims to have proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill is the most wonderful remedy ever introduced. His name is W. A. Hill, and he makes the following statement:—

"I was very much run down, and had a constant pain in my side, which made life a drag to me. I fully believed my days were numbered, but I was induced to try a treatment of Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, and the results were marvellous.

"After a short time I found myself restored to perfect health and strength, which I am thankful to say I have enjoyed ever since.

"I have gained thirty pounds in weight since I commenced to use Anti-Pill."

Mr. Hill's statement is only one of many. No one has ever used Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill without benefit.

Interfered With Justice.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 5.—The assizes, which have been in progress for the past fortnight, were concluded yesterday afternoon, though not all the sentences have been pronounced. Shivid Chion of Nawhatti, an Indian, was sentenced to nine months imprisonment for interfering with the course of justice in advising Indians to keep the murder of the Indian woman Kivesitt a secret.

Clarence Miller was sentenced to ten years for forging a postoffice order, and F. X. Gaultier for three years for stealing from his partners in a logging business.

HAPPY AND HEALTHY.

A Beautiful Canadian Girl Saved From Catarrh of the Lungs by Pe-ru-na.

MISS FLORENCE KENAH.

Miss Florence E. Kenah, 434 Maria street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"A few months ago I caught a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and remained there so persistently that I became alarmed. I took medicine without benefit, until my digestive organs became upset, and my head and back began to ache severely and frequently.

"I was advised to try Peruna, and although I had little faith I felt so sick that I was ready to try anything. It brought me blessed relief at once, and I felt that I had the right medicine at last. Within three weeks I was completely restored and have enjoyed perfect health since.

"I now have the greatest faith in Peruna." F. B. KENAH.

WOMEN should beware of contracting catarrh. The cold wind and rain, slush and mud of winter are especially conducive to catarrhal derangements. Few women escape.

Upon the first symptoms of catching cold Peruna should be taken. It fortifies the system against colds and catarrh.

The following letter gives one young woman's experience with Peruna:

Miss Rose Gerbing is a popular society woman of Crown Point, Ind., and she writes the following:

"Recently I took a long drive in the country, and being too thinly clad I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and which I could not seem to shake off. I had heard a great deal of Peruna for colds and catarrh and I bought a bottle to try. I am pleased that I did, for it brought speedy relief. It only took about two bottles, and I considered this money well spent.

"You have a firm friend in me, and I not only advise its use to my friends, but have purchased several bottles to give to those without the means to buy, and have noticed without exception that it has brought about a speedy cure wherever it has been used."—Miss Rose Gerbing.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

PREMIER BOND'S MAJORITY.

Results of Newfoundland Elections 25 to 5 For Government.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 5.—Completed returns from Twillingate show the election of Premier Sir Robert Bond, Surveyor-General Clift and Mr. Roberts, Liberals, defeating Alan Goodridge, Donald Morrison Frederick Mews, Oppositionists. Mr. Morrison is a former judge of the Supreme Court. He resigned two years ago to re-enter politics and advocate the union of Newfoundland with Canada. Mr. Morrison is grand master of the Grange Association in Newfoundland, and is one of the five Tory leaders opposing Premier Bond. This defeat is a signal one, because Mr. Morrison was only fifth in the polling, his colleague, Mr. Goodridge, heading him. The Government now has twenty-five seats and the Opposition five

Pitiful Helplessness.

Victims of nervous diseases are the most to be pitied, because their ailments usually terminate in mental or physical helpfulness. Paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity can only be avoided by building up the nervous system at the first sign of trouble, and there is no preparation so well suited for this purpose as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great nerve restorer.

Troops Charge Students.

Innsbruck, Austria, Nov. 5.—The rioting of the students at the university has become so serious during the night that troops with fixed bayonets marched into the midst of the German demonstrators. An artist named Pexey was killed by a bayonet thrust through the heart and many persons were wounded. Eight Germans and ten Italians were wounded. The building occupied by the Italian faculty of the university was wrecked.

Boy Dies From Lockjaw.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Three weeks ago Ralph, the 9-year-old son of J. H. Collins, druggist, living at Scrauren and Fern avenues, was vaccinated in order that he could attend school. The family have only recently moved to the city from Cooksville. The illness which follows vaccination appeared in this case, but the cleatrix was healing and although not fully recovered, the boy was thought to be doing well. Tetanus, however, set in and on Thursday he died.

Toronto Boxing Tournament.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Twenty-two entries have already been made for the annual Fall city amateur boxing championships that will be decided here beginning Thanksgiving night. The outside candidates include a heavyweight from Allliston.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Gergia, Vt. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and become acquainted with its remarkable qualities and you will never wish to be without it. For sale by all druggists.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has here able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 ROGERS BROS. TRADE MARK

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed, "Tender for Post Office, Winnipeg," will be received at this office until Saturday, November 19, 1904, inclusively, for the construction of a Post Office Building at Winnipeg, Man.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and on application to Messrs. Darling, Pearson and Over, Architects, Winnipeg, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p. c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,

FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

SAPPHIRE MINE TO BE RE-OPENED

Famous Peterborough County Corundum Mine Will in the Near Future be Operated.

Mr. L. A. Morrison, Former Manager of the Mine Engaged in Forming a Company to Re-open It.

Local and Outside Capitalists Will be Interested in the New Company—The Machinery Sold.

The Sapphire Corundum Mine, which for some time has been closed down because of the fraud of Ernest Terah Hooley, the notorious English faker, who sank thousands of dollars of English capital in the mine, will be reopened and operated again, this time under good management.

Mr. Llewellyn A. Morrison, of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, and well known here as president of the Peterborough Old Boys' Association, was for a time manager of the mine under the Hooley regime, but as soon as he found out the designs of that person, which were to defraud the shareholders, Mr. Morrison resigned, although he was under a three year contract to the company. Through his efforts largely the frauds were discovered, and the company forced into liquidation, and today Mr. Morrison, who is a practical mining engineer, is engaged in forming a new company to take over the mine and work it upon a business-like basis.

The company will be exposed of local capitalists, as well as those from outside, and will be strong enough to place the mine on a sound financial basis.

Mr. Morrison is a man who is thoroughly conversant with the corundum mining business, and is very optimistic when speaking of the prospects of the Sapphire mine, which, in Mr. Morrison's opinion, is the richest corundum mine in the world; and this statement is made only after a full understanding of the conditions surrounding this and the other mines in Canada, which is practically the home of corundum, and the only country in which it is found in any quantities.

The specific gravity of the ore in the Sapphire Mine is higher than that in any other mine, and the aluminum in the corundum is more easily separated.

When it is considered that the market for the latter metal is practically unlimited, and that the supply in the Sapphire Mine as practically unlimited, the announcement that the mine is to be re-opened and fully operated is one which is of great importance to Peterborough, and it will no doubt attract attention to the great mineral wealth existing in the northern part of this country.

The plant and machinery of the mine was sold last week to Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, whose purchase included the engine, boiler, pumps, etc. Mr. Morrison was not in a position to state when the mine would reopen, but the prospects are that in the near future this famous mine will again be in operation. It will no doubt be pleasing to all Peterborough citizens to learn that this property is to be revived through the agency of a Peterborough man, and that local capital will be interested in this enterprise, which, if properly managed should prove highly profitable.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. Robt. J. Tully, Married to Miss Emma Campbell.

James Fax, of Toronto, the well-known comedian, kept the audience in the Town Hall, East Ward, in the very best of good humour last evening. He was as irresistible as ever and roars of laughter and applause greeted him on every occasion. He was recalled time after time and judging from the enthusiasm displayed he would have been at it yet had the desire of many in the audience been gratified.

The concert was under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild of St. Luke's church. The Society is enjoying a most prosperous existence and the entertainments which it has held from time to time have been of a most successful nature. There was no exception to the rule last evening when the town hall was filled with an audience which appreciated the programme to the fullest extent and manifested their enjoyment with no uncertain sound. The young men are to be congratulated upon supplying such a delightful evening's entertainment.

The programme was opened with a short address by the chairman, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt. The first number was a selection by Butcher's Orchestra of five pieces. The organization is a good one and furnished music of a very pleasing nature. Mr. Fax's first number was "Night-Hawking in the City," and the way he was rapturously encored. Miss Mary Bean sang in excellent voice, "Sing Me to Sleep," and in response to a hearty encore gave "O Dry Those Tears." After another selection by the orchestra Mr. Fax sang "Peewee" and was twice recalled. The orchestra gave another number, followed by a song "It Never Worries Me," by Mr. Fax, who responded to a double encore. Mr. Reginald Sutcliffe gave a humourous song with good effect and was enthusiastically recalled. After a number by the orchestra, Mr. Fax sang "Mary Had a Little Lamb," and twice responded.

Mr. Fax's numbers were sung in costume and were all cleverly interpreted. He is a true humourist and will be welcomed back to town at any time.

PETERBOROUGH MAN MARRIED IN PORT HOPE

Mr. W. J. Nelson Wedded to Miss Rachiel Thompson.

Further particulars of the wedding of Mr. W. J. Nelson which took place in Port Hope on Wednesday, and an announcement of which was in Thursday's Examiner, are supplied by the following paragraphs from the Port Hope Guide:—

"A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. John's Rectory yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. W. J. Nelson, of Peterborough, and Miss Rachel P. Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Thompson, John street, only the immediate friends being present.

"The bride looked very pretty in an attirement of navy blue broadcloth with white taffeta silk blouse and a large hat to match.

"The large and costly array of presents give a slight idea of the esteem in which the young couple are held by all who knew them.

"Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left on the 4.20 train for their future home in Peterborough, amid the best wishes of their hosts of friends."

THANKS!

To The Electors of West Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—

I should be greatly lacking in sense of gratitude and appreciation if I did not at the first opportunity, give expression to my most cordial thanks for the highly valued support given me, which resulted in my success in the electoral contest which concluded on November 3rd.

While I heartily thank the general body of the Electors who favoured me with their franchise, I wish to especially express my deep indebtedness to those gentleman who so ably and effectively managed the organization of the town and elsewhere, and to those who assisted in my platform campaign.

I would also express my keen appreciation of the noble manner in which the young men rallied to my support and stood by me. In a word I wish to return my thanks to all who in any way contributed to my successful return. I recognize how entirely inadequate words are to express the debt of gratitude due my friends, and I more especially feel gratified that by their assistance I have been placed in a position to use every effort, as I shall do, to promote the interests, and advance the prosperity, of Peterborough Town and County.

Your Obedient Servant,

R. R. HALL.

MAJORITY NOW REACHES 194

Later Returns Increase Mr. Hall's Majority —One Place to Hear From Yet.

Returns from all but one subdivision in West Peterborough have been heard from, and Mr. Hall's majority is now 194. Only one division is yet to be heard from, that of Cochrane's in Cavendish, where there are only 11 voters, so that if they are all polled against him, he will still have a substantial majority.

THEY'RE AFTER DEER.

Many Hunters Went Back to the Woods Yesterday.

Many hunters took to the woods yesterday to enjoy a two weeks hunt. Those who missed their vote and went on Tuesday will most likely have bagged one or two by this time but there are still plenty of the fleet footed quadrupeds to keep the hunters busy for a fortnight.

Among the parties which left for the north, was one for Windover's, near Ketchecum Lake, and was composed of Messrs. W. Cornell, H. Milburn, Dr. MacKeracher, A. J. McCallum and S. Milburn.

The Ketchecum Lake party included, H. G. Winch, R. Stuart, A. Laird, W. G. Morrow, V. Eastwood, G. W. Bennett, R. Gibbs, D. Johnson, W. Irwin, W. H. Hill.

Bethany Tabernacle.

—Dr. Finnis E. Yeakum, of Los Angeles, California, will conduct services to-morrow morning, afternoon and evening at Bethany Tabernacle, the afternoon service to be held at four o'clock. Dr. Yeakum arrived last evening from Toronto. He is a graduate of several schools of medicine, and one of the inventors of the X-Ray system of treatment. He will tell a thrilling story of his healing, and that of many others, in answer to prayer. His marvellous cure has led him to open a large healing home in Los Angeles, and to abandon his practice in order to tell the Gospel of Healing to suffering humanity.

LARGEST CARGO OVER LIFT LOCK

Captain White, with the "Alert," Broke the Record.

Yesterday Locked Over 95,000 Feet of Lumber, 80,000 Shingles and Load of Machinery.

The largest cargo that has ever been locked over the lift lock was that which Captain W. H. White, of the steamer "Alert" brought down yesterday. The cargo consisted of 75 cords of wood for Curtis Brothers, 75,000 feet of lumber, 20,000 shingles and the machinery out of the Sapphire Corundum mines which has been purchased by Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald. The lumber and shingles were also consigned to Mr. Fitzgerald and the whole cargo is now being unloaded at the Wolfe street wharf.

This was the first trip that the "Alert" has made through the canal below Nassau, and Capt. White states that the canal and lock are all right. He believes that when the canal is completed there will be a great deal of this class of traffic. The carriage by the canal can be done much cheaper than it can by rail, and a revival of freight traffic by water is looked for.

WILL TELL HOME LAI

What Lord Minto Will Bear True Witness in of Canada.

In response to the toast "Our Guests," at the farewell banquet in Montreal to Their Excellencies Lord Minto said that he and Lady Minto were saying farewell at a momentous time in Canadian development. He had run his race in Canada. The awkward fences and nasty turns were things of the past, and he could not ride over again. His term of office had seen great and wonderful development, and a great statesman was now aiming at directing into one common channel the interests of the Motherland and the self-governing colonies.

Continuing, His Lordship said: "We are in a transition state; the old order of things is passing away. Colonies are becoming nations with a national sentiment of their own—I say it as strongly as I can—with no diminution of affection to the Motherland from which they sprang. We are face to face with a problem full of difficulties, no doubt. Conditions are changing and we cannot afford to stand still. Now that I am leaving you, I will only say, work out the problem with all deference for the traditional doctrine of the Old World, with full regard for the hopes of your rising nationality, with all respect for racial traditions; but remember always that what is good for the Empire is good for Canada and what is good for Canada is good for the Empire.

"I have traveled much throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and, proud as Canadians are of their country, I believe they can hardly exaggerate its future possibilities. I have just returned from the Northwest. The Territories are, as you know, not new to me. But the other day as I rode through the Saskatchewan Valley, beautiful beyond description in all the brilliant coloring of the fall, across prairies still strewn with the skeletons of extinct buffalo herds, past Indian battlefields of only a few years ago, and as I found settlements growing into villages, villages into prosperous towns, and immigrants passing on to the land, I realized that we are at the commencement of a new era.

"I can at any rate bear witness to the splendid promise of Canada's future. I can go home to tell the people of the Motherland that their kinsmen here beyond the seas are by their own energy day by day developing Imperial resources and Imperial wealth, the vastness of which is as yet but little known. I hope I may always share in the aspirations of the Canadian people, and I can assure you Lady Minto and I will take home with us the warmest recollections of our life here, and will never forget the farewell we have received from the citizens of Montreal."

Awards for Bravery.

The Royal Canadian Humane Association has made the following awards: A medal to David Kennedy for presence of mind and conspicuous bravery in saving a young boy from drowning at St. John's, Nfld., on August 27, 1904; also a medal to Clifford Sifton for promptitude and conspicuous bravery in saving Arthur Burrows from drowning in St. Lawrence River, September, 1901; also parchments to the following: to George Laing for presence of mind, promptitude and courage in saying Leslie Baker from drowning at Amherstburg, August 26, 1904; to Allan Holland for promptitude and courage in saving Arthur Gilmour from drowning at Long Island Park, Ont., July 31, 1904; to Andrew Carrick for promptitude and courage in saving Ross Allen from drowning at Long Branch, July 31, 1904; to James E. Gillespie for promptitude and bravery in saving Arch. M. Douglas and John Macpherson from drowning in Rideau Canal, August 8, 1904.

Remarkable Feat.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Telegraph and the Commercial Cable Company are being congratulated for a remarkable feat in the rapid and accurate handling of a 20,000-word despatch to The London Daily Telegraph, from Vancouver, B.C. The feat is of especial interest to Canadians because of the fact that its performance, to a very large extent, took place in Canadian territory. The despatch was handed to the former at Vancouver at 4 o'clock on Wednesday morning, handed to the Commercial Cable Company at Canso, N.S., and reached The Daily Telegraph's office, London, in less than twelve hours. Commenting on the feat The Daily Telegraph says that it was transmitted with remarkable rapidity and accuracy, indeed almost without a slip.

A Spoiled Dinner.

Mme. de Masarin certainly was eccentric and unfortunate, according to the memoirs of Marquise de Crequy. She never gave a reception without some accident happening. When she had a supper party the kitchen was certain to catch on fire. She gave a grand fete champetre and in order to make it more realistic sent for a flock of real sheep, a heifer and a shepherd's dog. The flock was to pass behind a glass screen. An unruly buck smashed the glass, and the entire flock, with the heifer and dog, rushed in upon the audience and scattered it. Some of the sheep got access to the supper table, and so there were no refreshments to speak of.

The Prince of Waterloo.

After the battle of Waterloo the Duke of Wellington was created Prince of Waterloo, and four pensions were conferred on him and his descendants. A Belgian paper states that in the great book of the Belgian public debt there are four entries every year of payments to the Prince of Waterloo. They are 80,105 francs 14 centimes, 402 francs, 35 francs 80 centimes and 3 francs 47 centimes, or a total of more than £3,000.

He Does Go Round Buttin'.

At a dinner recently given in London an American actor proposed the conundrum, "What goes round a button?" After the problem had been given up by the party he gave the answer, "A goat." There was a moment's silence.

Finally one of the women spoke up. "Why," she said in a puzzled tone, "I didn't know they ate buttons."

WHEN THE MAPLES TURN TO GOLD.

Give to me the autumn days,
When the maples turn to gold,
With the halo and the haze
Over wayside, wood and wold;
With the blue upon the mountains,
And the glory on the hills,
And the little tricking fountains
Slipping down to greet the rills.

Carmine, ruby, manifold
Glow the gleaming tints unrolled.
Ruby-red, above the river,
Ruby-red, the shadows quiver,
'Twixt the emerald and gold;
Crimson painted creepers cling,
Or their pendant purple swing,
Russet nuts are ripening,
For the frisky squirrel's hold.

Arabesqued, the golden hue
Falls the mansion casement through,
Where the splendor streams adown
City park and avenue;
Even the bandit sparrow brown,
Noisier and bolder grown,
Seems his revels to renew;
Seems his revels too renew;
And the children's gleeful bands
Cull the treasures. Little hands
Fain to hold the beauty fleet
Fluttering softly to the feet.

Ere the passing year is toiled,
'Neath the azure autumn dome,
While the mellow ray is slanting,
Earth her gloria is chanting,
And her song of harvest home,
In her minster, grand and old,
When the maples turn to gold.

CAN WALK AROUND AND DO HIS WORK

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured W. J. Dixon's Rheumatism.

He was so bad he had to use a Stick to Walk and Could not Lace his Shoe.

Barwicks Ont., Nov. 4. — (Special.) These cold, wet fall days, are full of Rheumatism and nothing can be more timely than news of an effectual cure of that curse of the Canadian climate. Such a cure William John Dixon of this place is certain he has discovered in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had an attack of typhoid fever," says Mr. Dixon, "and after I got over it Rheumatism set in. I had pains in my back and in my right hip so bad that I had to use a stick to walk, and had no comfort in sleeping. I could no more dress or undress myself for nearly two months, and for three weeks I could not lace my right shoe or put my right leg on my left knee.

"Acting on my brother's advice I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and after taking three boxes I was able to walk around and do my work. Now I am well and I recommend anyone who has rheumatism to try Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Royalty in Inches.

King Edward represents fully the average height in British stature, which is 5 feet 7½ inches, his actual height in his boots being 5 feet 8½ inches. The Emperor William falls slightly below his Royal uncle's, but not below the average German height. Of the elected rulers President Loubet represents the French average, which is 5 feet 6 inches. On the other hand, we find the Emperor of Japan to be far above the national standard of height. His Majesty is a tall man for a Japanese, 5 feet 6 inches. The tallest Royal personage is King Leopold, 6 feet 6 inches, which places him next to Peter the Great, who measured 6 feet 8½ inches.

So Delicate.

"That's Mrs. Marrimuch, the society leader," explained the man who knew.

"My, you don't say!" replied the plebeian. "She's in half mourning, isn't she?"

"Yes. You see, three of her six husbands are dead."

The Professor.

The professor was watching a man who was cleaning the brass globe of the flagstaff on top of a skyscraper.

"Well," he observed, "if I were as near heaven as that I should feel dangerously near the other place."

CUPID CONQUERS THE CLOISTER.

Dispensation of the Pope Makes Happy a Port Arthur Girl.

Love laughs at locksmiths, they say, and the happy culmination of a romance in Port Arthur, Ont., shows that even the solemn vows made to Mother Church will wither away to nothingness before unspoken vows that bind the makers in the court of Cupid.

Several years ago Miss Mary Carroll became a novice in the convent at Port Arthur, where her lovely voice, her sweet disposition and attractive personality made her a universal favorite, although many of her friends regretted that her singular beauty should be hidden beneath the veil, and the qualities that combined to fit her for any position in the world should be buried in the convent.

Especially did her gifts and beauty appeal to William Guerard, himself a musician of no mean order, whose talent as a violinist was even then beginning to attract attention. With him it was a case of love at first sight, and, try as he might to tear from his heart the image of the fair young girl who was destined to "become the Bride of Christ," the shadowy terrors of the Catholic Church could not avail to drive from his heart the growing passion for the beautiful novice. But the eyes of the guardians of the convent were keen, and, although as yet no spoken word had passed between the two, the attachment, which was mutual, did not escape their vigilance, and Mary Carroll was hastily removed to Montreal, where she took the full vows of a nun, and spent three years in seclusion of the most rigid description.

But her vows, her duties, and the long separation could not efface the memory of the handsome young violinist in the west, and Sister Cecilia, under which name the novice had taken her final vows, resolved upon a desperate step. She contrived to leave the nunery and made her way to Chicago, where she found a friend in an old priest, whose contact with the outer world had given him tender human sympathies. Into his ears Sister Cecilia poured her story, and he determined to help her. First he placed himself in communication with William Guerard, for unless he had kept as faithful to the unspoken vows of love as the maiden, her journey would have been made in vain, and only the cloister would remain, as an alternative for her.

The answer was immediate. Following upon a telegram the joyful lover traveled post-haste to Chicago, and the sympathetic priest, unwilling to brave the wrath of the Church by assuming all responsibility, sent a petition to the Pope himself, asking for a dispensation releasing the nun from the vows which had become so burdensome. The prayer was granted, and the news that the dispensation was on the way reached the impatient lovers.

To those in love delays seem intolerable, and, secure in the certainty of the coming release, they went together to their friend the priest, who consented to cement the happiness which he had been so instrumental in bringing about, by giving the blessing of the Church to the union. As if to give the last dramatic touch to the romance that had clung to their long wooing, the dispensation from Rome reached the bride as she and her husband were on their knees before the altar, just before the priest pronounced the final blessing.

A few days ago their Port Arthur friends had the pleasure of welcoming home from their bridal tour Mr. and Mrs. William Guerard, around whom, in the eyes of their intimates, still clings the aroma of a romance such as is rare in the prosaic days of the twentieth century.

Society Enemies.

A leader of New York society said recently: "It is almost impossible to give a large dinner any more. There are too many feuds and quarrels, and women who hate each other are the cause of too much embarrassment to a hostess. Of course they try to gloss their enmity for the time, but the result is worse than open warfare. At one dinner a cabinet officer sat between two great women of fashion. He talked to one and then to the other and tried to draw them into a three cornered conversation. The women obstinately refused to exchange a word, and finally the man—and he was supposed to be a diplomat—introduced them. A chill followed. They had known each other for twenty years, had been friends for ten and loathed each other the other ten."

Three Black Fridays.

The American Black Friday was Sept. 24, 1869, when Jay Gould and James Fisk, Jr., attempted to create a corner on the gold market. The whole country was in a ferment for several days, but the day was saved by the report that Secretary Boutwell had thrown $4,000,000 on the market. The English Black Fridays are two—one the the Friday on which the news reached London that the young pretender Charles Edward had arrived at Derby, the second May 11, 1866, when the failure of Overend, Guerney & Co., London, the day before was followed by widespread financial ruin.

English Fish Farms.

It is worth noting that there are almost no instances where fish ponds have been started and carefully managed where they have not proved a financial success. Such a thing as a "derelict" fish farm is almost unknown, though there are thousands of old fashioned ponds, originally meant to hold tench or carp, which are at present useless and neglected.—London Country Gentleman.

Enlightened.

"Auntie, do you always say expire?"

"Why do you ask, dear?"

"Oh, just because papa said you were one of those people who never say die."

A Complaint.

Caller—I am so sorry your mistress is out. Do you think she will be at home this evening? Maid—She'll have to be; it's my night out.

Injury revives, while many makes one redirect, and gayety dissolves.—Voltaire.

IMPORTED FABRICS

Do you suppose a custom tailor with a business amounting to $10,000 gross a year can afford to go to England and buy cloth wholesale at the mills?

Do you know that 85 per cent. of the custom tailors in Canada do not import direct from the mills but buy practically at retail from the Canadian manufacturers or jobbers? Do you know that the remaining 15 per cent. import in extremely limited quantities only?

We have to supply thirty vigorously healthy agencies!

We find it pays us to buy direct from the mills of Great Britain at wholesale and to personally select our fabrics.

We secure fine pliable cloths that yield readily to needle-moulding and retain shape permanently.

And we buy from Sir Titus Salt, Bart., Saltaire, England.

Brown Brothers, Galashields, Scotland. Walter Scott & Sons, Dumfries, Scotland.

Isaac Carr, of Yorkshire, England; the Athlone Woollen Mills, Ireland—the most celebrated makers of cloths in all the world.

Semi-ready presents abundant variety and unlimited choice of the best and richest fabrics.

Singing Fish.

The scievia, a little six inch chub variety of the lagoons of Italy, sticks its head above the water and sings a dainty song equal to that of some species of warbling birds. Irigia hirundo (the sea swallow) is known to every fisherman of the Danube and the Rhine by the peculiar grunting noise it makes. Irigia nolitans makes a whining noise like a puppy, while the scievia gather in bands to hold regular concerts, which no doubt originated the fable of the sirens. Some naturalists have likened the note of the gurnard to that of the cuckoo. There are many different kinds of fish which give utterance to more or less musical notes. The maigre, a large sea fish, when swimming in shoals, utters a purring noise that may be heard from a depth of twenty fathoms. Lieutenant White, in his "Voyage to the China Seas," relates that his crew and himself were extremely astonished by hearing certain musical notes from beneath and around the vessel. They were various, like the base notes of an organ, the sound of bells, the croaking of frogs and a pervading twang which the imagination might have attributed to the vibrations of some enormous harp. For a time the mysterious music swelled upon them and finally formed a universal chorus all round, but as the vessel ascended the river the sounds diminished in strength and soon ceased.

THE GREATER CANADA.

Lord Minto Says the Future of the Dominion Passes Imagination—The Old Order Passing.

At the farewell banquet given to Lord and Lady Minto, the retiring Governor-General said:

"I can assure Your Worship that if during my term of office I have been fortunate enough in the fulfillment of my duties to earn for myself the appreciation of the people of the Dominion, I ask for no greater reward and now I may say the same for Lady Minto. Her interests have always centred largely in the welfare of this country and the happiness of its everyday life, and it will always be a delight to her to hear of the further success of work which she has very much at heart.

"But to-night, Your Worship, there is a 'rift' in the lute. I now have come to say good-bye. I have run my race in Canada, the awkward fences and the nasty turns are things of the past, and I cannot ride it over again. It is not for me to say whether the course has been easy or difficult, but it has certainly been full of interest, and, after all, gentlemen, it has only been the first heat in the great Imperial stakes which it rests with the people of the United Kingdom and the people of Canada to win or lose.

"I hope Your Worship will absolve me from any intention of trespassing in the domain of politics, but perhaps it may not be out of place for me to glance very lightly at the history of the past six years that have gone by since, as Governor-General, I set foot in the Dominion. They have been years of marvelous prosperity, of great advancement in commercial wealth, of great development of the magnificent resources of this wonderful country, but greater influences in the history of Canada than any of these have come into existence.

Problems of the Future.

"A great man has raised considerations as to the impegial responsibility of the King's subjects beyond the seas, and a great statesman is aiming at directing into one common channel the interests of the Motherland, and her self-governing dependencies. We are in a transition state, the old order of things is passing away, colonies are becoming nations, with a national sentiment of their own, but—I say it as strongly as I can—with no diminution of affection to the Motherland from which they sprang. We are face to face with a problem full of difficulties, no doubt. Conditions are changing, and we cannot afford to stand still. Now that I am leaving you, I will only say, work out the problem with all deference for the traditional doctrine of the Old World, with full regard for the hopes of your rising nationality, with all respect for racial traditions, but remember always that what is good for the Empire is good for Canada, and what is good for Canada is good for the Empire.

Canada's Splendid Provinces.

"Your Worship, I have traveled much throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and, proud as Canadians are of their country, I believe they can hardly exaggerate its future possibilities. I have just returned from the Northwest. The Territories are, as you know, not new to me, but as the other day I rode through the Saskatchewan Valley, beautiful beyond description in all the brilliant coloring of the fall, across prairies still strewn with the skeletons of extinct buffalo herds, past Indian battlefields of only a few years ago, and as I found settlements growing into villages, villages into prosperous towns, and immigrants pouring into the land, I realized that we are at the commencement of a new era. Your Worship, I can at any rate bear witness to the splendid promise of Canada's future. I can go home to tell the people of the Motherland that their kinsmen here beyond the seas are, by their own energy, day by day developing Imperial resources and Imperial wealth, the vastness of which is as yet but little known. I hope I may always share in the aspirations of the Canadian people, and, Your Worship, I can assure you Lady Minto and I will take home with us the warmest recollections of our life here, and will never forget the farewell we have received from the citizens of Montreal."

Uselessness of War.

At the recent meeting of the Women's National Council in Toronto, Mrs. Byles drew attention to the population of Canada—five or six millions—and said that there was that number of men in the European Continental armies in time of peace. They earned nothing and did nothing, but their fellow countrymen had to pay for their support while they practiced the art of killing.

In dozens of recent wars there had been only loss for both winner and loser. The soldier was promoted and the contractor got rich, but the nation lost. England had once a war to keep the Bourbons from the Spanish throne. They had another to put a Bourbon on the throne of France. No Bourbon would ever reign in France as long as the world lasted.

The United States had a war and got the Phillipines. Now they were guessing what to do with the new territory. Britain had a war. She gained the Transvaal and achieved her point. But things were never worse in South Africa. Men were coming away from the country. Chinamen were working the mines.

Till recently the plea had been that there were no international courts. Now there was a court at The Hague, with 65 judges on the rota, prepared to arbitrate any case. Carnegie would give it a home. Men would get justice, which was never gained in a war where the strong party won.

Sure Proof.

Paterfamilias—And could you support my daughter, sir? Lover—I have two strong arms. Paterfamilias—But can they support her? Lover—They often have.—Melbourne Weekly Times.

God never gives His power to feed our pride.

Superfluous Hair

Removed by the New Principle

De Miracle

It is better than electricity, because it does not scar or produce a new growth. Better than X-ray, because it does not burn, scar or paralyze the tissues under the skin. Better than depilatories, because it is not poisonous; therefore, it will not cause blood poisoning, or produce eczema, which is so common with depilatories, and does not break off the hair, thereby increasing its growth.

Electrolysis, X-ray or depilatories are offered you on the bare word of the operators and manufacturers. DE MIRACLE is not. It is the only method which is indorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

DE MIRACLE will be mailed to any address, sealed in plain wrapper for $1. Your money back without question if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.

Our booklet — the most complete treatise on Superfluous Hair ever published—containing the testimonials of numerous physicians and surgeons and those of hundreds of others—will be sent free, in plain, sealed envelope, upon request. Write for it to-day to

"I had scrofula and erysipelas for eighteen years, until I heard

Of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. Hilery Koons, of Queens, W. Va. "When I commenced to take this medicine I weighed one hundred and thirty pounds. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and three vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and am glad to say I feel like a new man. I now weigh one hundred and seventy-five pounds. When I had used one bottle of the medicine I could feel it was helping me. I realize Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine on earth."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and entirely eradicates the poisons that breed and feed disease. It cures scrofula, eczema, erysipelas, boils, pimples and other eruptions that mar and scar the skin. Pure blood is essential to good health. The weak, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience is commonly the effect of impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only cleanses the blood of impurities, but it increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and it enriches the body with an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MENIER'S GREAT ISLAND.

Changes in Anticosti—What the Chocolate Millionaire Has Accomplished—His Settlers and Game Preserves.

M. Menier, chocolate manufacturer, yachtsman and sportsman, has accomplished much in Anticosti, according to a recent visitor to the island.

It is probable that he had no thought when he bought it of what the island would grow to mean to him. It has become the greatest hobby of his existence, besides which his passion for Arctic exploration has paled, and to which he gives all the time he can spare, and a prolonged visit each alternate year.

For his principality he has planned and executed, he has improved and he has colonized. Into dark, forbidding interior he has driven roads. Along its shores he has established railroad communication. He has improved its harbors, and on the shores of the best of them he has built a model village, factories for the workers, homes for them all, schools and churches and an elaborate mansion for himself.

Great Game Preserves.

At first he took up the subject broadly, determined to subordinate all things to his desire to have such a game preserve as no other man in the world possessed. For this purpose the island was an ideal spot. It is 130 miles long and about 27 wide, and at only one place, Fox Bay, on the northern side, had a settlement been made.

The waters that bound the island are filled with cod, herring and mackerel, and what was more important to the island's destiny, with lobsters, the best to be found in North American waters. All over the island rivers ran to the Gulf. Inland as M. Menier's explorations have shown, they are filled with trout. Near the salt water they are abundant in sea trout and salmon—in fact sportsmen who have enjoyed the owner's hospitality, declare that for the fisherman it is a paradise.

The woods are filled with fur-bearing animals, for no one hunted more than a very small portion of them before the new owner took hold. To Canadians and to sailors and fishermen it was as completely unknown territory as is much of the wilds of Labrador to-day.

Brought in Settlers.

No sooner had the purchase price been paid than the new owener had trouble on his hands. The settlers at Fox Bay refused to recognize his authority and defied his orders. It took a few months to bring order out of this, but in the end they yielded and left the island with all their goods and chattels.

M. Menier saw that the establishment of such a preserve as he had planned called for a scheme of colonization that would bring to the island settlers who would make it their permanent home and yet would not interfere with either its game or fish. He at first induced several French families to emigrate, but not in sufficient numbers for his purpose, and to them he has added families from Gaspe on the south and from the portion of the Province of Quebec that stretches east to Labrador. Hardy folk are these Canadian habitants, more fisher than farmer, working while daylight lasts and simple in all their requirements. Last of all are some English and a few Scotch, and out of the mixture of nations has grown one peculiar condition. For all his workers M. Menier has laid down the rule that no intoxicating beverages shall be drunk upon the island except by the French. There has been grumbling over this special dispensation, but the penalty is deportation, and the rule is never broken.

Work at Fisheries.

Having made certain of his colonists, M. Menier found work for them at once in the fisheries, chief of all the lobster. Factories were built and the canning of lobster became the great industry of the island. The most approved sanitary methods were applied to the work, and the entire output is shipped to France.

Work for others was found in the building of the English Bay settlement. Homes for the permanent residents were quickly built and these were followed by all the necessary buildings of a model village.

M. Menier has begun the erection of an elaborate and complete mansion. It is almost ready for occupancy, and will be finished when the owner pays his regular visit next year. Into the building of this mansion M. Menier has put much time and attention. He was his own architect and has planned every detail down to the most minute.

Meanwhile the establishment of the great game preserve has not been neglected. Agents have made arrangements with hunters all over Canada, and they have kept up a constant supply of fur-bearing animals. Red deer, caribou and moose have been turned loose in the interior of the island and the brown bears who were among the original settlers have increased vastly in number. Besides these the beaver, the otter and the red fox are plentiful.

By Inches.

Private Murphy was very ill, and his mess-room mate, Lance-Corpl. O'Hagan, asked the doctor very anxiously as to the sufferer's state. "I am sorry to say, Michael, that your friend is dying by inches." "Well, docthor," said Mick, with an air of resignation, "wan good thing is, poor Murhpy is six feet three in his socks, so he'll last some time yet."—Illustrated Bits.

Talma on Balloons.

In an interesting old letter dated 1784 Talma, the French tragedian, discusses the future of balloons. At that period aeronauts were regarded as strange folk, but few people could resist the fascination of a voyage through the air, expensive and dangerous though it was. Talma remarks in this letter that "we are promised many advantages through the means of these balloonists. The most distant objects will be presented to the mind of the traveler almost in a glance. Where will it lead us—to the moon? They speak of a world in that planet. What vast fields are opening before us!"

Peculiarities of Iron.

Men who have worked a lifetime in fashioning cast iron under the lathe are greatly surprised on learning that the same material, when employed in the heating pipes of a blast furnace stove, grows from six inches to a foot in length from constant use. And the furnace man is equally unprepared to hear that the core bars used for casting pipes lose as much as three inches in casting twenty or thirty pieces.

Are Perfumes Disinfectants?

I asked a doctor in England if perfumes are really disinfectants. "No," he said. "How can they be?" I asked a doctor in France the same question, and he answered, "Yes, madame, without doubt," and explained that the basis of every perfume is a strong essential oil of some kind and that these essential oils are antiseptic and possess most valuable disinfecting qualities. Now, which is right?—London Truth.

A Quick Cure.

"Is your father well now, Johnnie?" "Oh, yes; pa got well all on a sudden like, yesterday." "Did he take"— "No, he didn't take no physic. He just heard my mother's mamma asking if his life insurance policy was in a safe place, and he was up in a pair of minutes."

BYRON WALKER'S GIFT.

Valuable Collection of Fossils Awaits Suitable Accommodation.

Byron E. Walker, D.C.L., general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and a member of the board of trustees of the University of Toronto, has signified his intention to present to the university (as soon as adequate accommodation is provided), his extremely valuable collection of fossils, containing many splendid and rare specimens, which the university could not have in any other way, as many are not represented in the Ottawa Museum. The value of the collection is proved by the fact that it is being utilized progressively by the palaeontologists of the United States, who are revising the classification of the American fossils. In mere numbers, it is very considerable, for it occupies at present 150 crowded drawers, and will need much more space for proper exhibition.

Mr. Walker's library of palaeontological and geological publications, which he will present along with the fossils, consists of some 5,000 bound volumes and many unbound, and includes some of the rarest periodicals on the subject.

It should be mentioned that all these valuable gifts are in addition to the several thousands of carefully named specimens, mainly from countries other than Canada and the United States, which Mr. Walker has already given to the university during recent months.

The necessity for equipment of this kind is very obvious to anyone who knows how poor the university has been in that respect. And it is from a desire to remove this disgrace that Mr. Walker has so generously handed over his collections, and offers to do so much more, as soon as we are ready to receive his gifts.

It should scarcely be necessary to urge the Government to help the university in meeting the requirements of the situation.—University Monthly.

CONFESSES THAT HE OWES HIS LIFE

To Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—Startling Story Told by Maurice Best, of Southern Harbor Nfld.

"I confess I owe my life to Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

That is a strong statement, but it is made in all earnestness by Mr. Maurice Best, a reputable citizen of Southern Harbour, Nfld., and here are the reasons he gives for making it:

"I was attacked with dyspepsia and for eight years was in continual misery. Sometimes I would go off in a faint for ten or fifteen minutes and be more dead than alive. Doctors could not cure me and gave me but little relief.

"Hearing of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I gave them a trial and the first two boxes gave me new life. I am using them now and I feel like a new man."

There is no case of indigestion or dyspepsia that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cannot cure.

Sequel to War Romance.

With the marriage of Miss Sybil Seymour, of Toronto, to Captain John Hood, of Montreal, at Port Hope, on the 15th October, an interesting sequel was added to a romance of the South African war.

When Captain Charles St. Aubyn Pearse died of tuberculosis at Pretoria on October 17, 1900, he was Miss Seymour's fiance, and he left a will bequeathing to her the income from $12,000, with the proviso "during her life or until she marries, when the said sum shall be divided between my two brothers, E. V. D. Pearse, Yuton House, Baschurch, England, and S. A. Pearse, captain in the 17th Madras Infantry, in equal shares."

Miss Seymour's marriage to Captain Hood therefore invalidates her inheritance under the will. Captain Pearse, previous to his departure for South Africa with the Mounted Rifles, was attached to the Royal Canadian Dragoons at the Fort. His estate was worth in all $35,174, almost all of which was invested in stocks. His holdings comprised shares in the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, Commercial Cable Company, Imperial Bank, Toronto Electric Light Company, Victoria Phoenix Brewing Company, and a mortgage. The balance of the estate, after the bequest to Miss Seymour, was left to the two brothers mentioned above.

Capt. John Hood, Miss Seymour's husband, is well known in military and social circles.

Canada's Example to Divorce.

Speaking on the divorce question at the Episcopal convention at Boston, Dean Webb declared that there were 60,000 divorces granted in the United States last year—one divorce to every four marriages. In one county in a Western State there were 30 divorces to 43 marriages.

Chief Justice Stiness in the course of an address said: "There is another evil about absolute divorce. The party who is contemplating marriage can say, 'I can try it and see if I like it, because there are a great many causes upon which I can get a divorce and be free.' Marriage in this country is rapidly descending from a contract for life to a contract during mutual satisfaction, and I ask you what practical difference there is between that and the ideas we have scorned in the past of 'free love?' There is no practical difference. One of our Canadian brethren in the convention the other day told us that in the whole Dominion of Canada, where they cannot re-marry after divorce, for the past 32 years the sum total of divorces was 221. Stop absolute divorce and this evil will decrease. I appeal to you to use your influence to put a stop to the privileges of re-marrying."

C. G. GEMMELL

Charlotte Street Peterborough

R. A. G., Ont.—A mare three years old is lame in the off fore foot and leg. A veterinary surgeon said the ligament is in the ankle joint, and blistered for it, but she is no better. When standing she points the lame foot about twelve inches in front of the other foot. After standing in the stable over one day she appears stiffened up in both fore legs.

Ans.—Your colt has navicular disease, for which there is no cure. She was probably bred from a stallion or mare suffering from the disease. All you can do to relieve it is to put on a good blister and turn out to grass in a week's time.

This is a reprint of clipping from a recent issue of the Montreal "Family Herald and Weekly Star." The veterinary who answered the inquiry could not have advice the use of "Ideal" Pads without giving Dunlop a free advertisement. The pads would give this mare a longer working life.

HANS WALDHEIM WAS FOUND GUILTY

Former Peterborough Man Found Guilty on Eight Charges.

The Toronto Star of last night contained some interesting information with reference to a former Peterborough man, Hans Waldheim. It says:

Hans Waldheim, the alleged German count, and graduate of Bonn University, who is held on eight charges of burglary, committed in this city on various occasions quite recently, will be sentenced a week hence.

The prisoner was represented to day by Mr. Robinette, and pleaded guilty to all the charges.

"I would ask your Worship to reserve sentence for a few days," said Mr. Robinette, "in order to give me a chance to get some character evidence which I am expecting ver soon."

Count Waldheim will probably get a heavy sentence, for it seems that lately he has been sustaining himself by means of his burglarising methods. The detective department is in possession of a large pile of letters and papers found among his effects. Some of them were hotel bills, at European watering-places, and from the high-water mark reached by a number of them, it is believed that the count was cutting a wide swath. There are also many tender missives from ladies who were evidently infatuated with either the count or his title and pretensions.

RULES FOR GUIDANCE OF THE POLICE

Were Adopted at Last Night's Council Meeting, and Will be Enforced From Date of Passing of By-law.

Constables Must Walk at Outside of Sidewalk and Salute Mayor, Chief Constable and Police Majistrate on Street.

At last night's Council meeting a bylaw setting forth rules and regulations for the police force was passed. The provisions of the bylaw are embodied in the following paragraphs:

The Police Force shall consist of one Chief Constable and three Constables until the number of such Constables is increased by the Council.

QUALIFICATION OF CONSTABLES.

No person shall hereafter be appointed to the Police Force unless the following conditions are complied with:—

1. He must pass a satisfactory examination in reading, writing and arithmetic, and in addition have some knowledge of the duties of a police constable.

2. He must be intelligent, active ive in body and of good character.

3. He must, if required, at his own expense produce a certificate from a physician that he is in good health and physically and mentally fit for the position.

4. He must be between the ages of 23 and 40 years.

DUTIES.

Each member of the police force shall devote his whole time and attention to the duties of his office and carry out promptly all orders received from those in authority over him.

The police force shall be under the control of a Committee on Supervision of the Police and shall obey all orders of the said Committee or of the Mayor.

The constables shall also be under the control of the Chief Constable, and shall promptly obey all his orders, not contrary to these rules and regulations.

Each member of the police force, although on duty for certain allotted hours, shall also turn out for duty at all times when his services are required and when on regular duty shall wear his proper uniform unless otherwise directed by the Chief Constable.

The Chief Constable shall not be absent from the town except on police duty without the consent of the Mayor or the chairman of the Committee on Supervision of the Police, and no other members of the police force shall be absent from the town without the consent of the Chief Constable.

No member of the police force while on duty outside the police station shall smoke, or enter any place where intoxicating liquors are sold or furnished except in the immediate performance of his duty.

Each member of the police force shall treat the other members respectfully; the constables shall salute the Mayor, Police Magistrate and Chief Constable when meeting them on the street and other public places, and come to attention when the Mayor Police Magistrate or Chief Constable Enters the police station, police court or other public places.

Each constable shall walk his beat regularly with his hands by his sides not in his pockets or behind his back, and shall not leave his beat except for special and urgent duty elsewhere until his time is up, and he is relieved, and in walking his beat shall take the outer edge of the sidewalk.

Each constable shall report at the police station fifteen minutes before his time for duty.

While on outside duty a constable shall answer all proper and reasonable enquiries, but must not enter into conversation with anyone, not even other constables except on matters of duty and shall not at any time speak of the business affairs or secrets of the office to any person except the Chief Constable or town officials.

Members of the police force shall be subject to immediate dismissal for unfitness, negligense, or misconduct, and the council may also at any time dismiss a member without assigning any reason, and without giving any previous notice.

Any constable guilty of negligence, misconduct or disobedience, or nonobservance of these rules and regulations, may be suspended by the Chief Constable, who in case of such suspension shall immediately report the same with the reason thereof to the chairman of the Committee of Supervision of Police, and such committee can either remove or continue such suspension, or recommend to the council the dismissal of such constable.

Any constable wishing to resign shall give a month's notice to the Chief Constable, who shall notify the Town Clerk thereof.

Any constable resigning in an irregular way or who is dismissed shall forfeit all arrears of salary.

CHIEF CONSTABLE.

The Chief Constable shall be the chief executive officer of the force, and shall have the general government of the same, subject to the direction of the Committee on Supervision, and shall be responsible for the general efficiency and discipline of the force, and it shall be his duty to see that the laws in force in the province, and the bylaws of the town are enforced, obeyed and carried out.

The Chief Constable shall make such orders, not contrary to these rules and regulations, for the good government and discipline of the force, as he may deem expedient, but shall first have the same approved by the Committee on Supervision of the Police, and after such approval they shall be of the same force and effect as if they were included herein.

The Chief Constable shall instruct the members of the force in their duties, and see that the same are performed by them in a proper and efficient manner, and shall at once report any dereliction of duty to the chairman of the Committee on the Supervision of Police.

CLOTHING.

The following is a list of the different articles of clothing to be supplied and worn by the Peterborough Police Force.

For the Chief Constable, blue staff, patrol jacket, trousers with maple leaf braid, blue cap, with gilt crown.

For constables: blue cloth or serge tunic, with white metal police buttons, two buttons on each cuff, with crown, and "Police Force," on them; standing collar, with the number of the constable in white metal on it; blue cloth trousers with a scarlet seam down the side of leg; helmet with device in bronze.

Great coat of Irish freize, double breasted, with constable's number two inches in length in white on right sleeve above the cuff; buttons same as on tunic.

Clothing and equipments are to be kept clean and in good order and repair by the members of the force to whom they are issued.

EXPENSES.

In cases where expenses are incurred by police employed on ordinary or special police duty, an accurate account is to be kept by the police officer incurring the expense, and vouchers, showing the full particulars of each item are to be handed as early as possible to the chief constable, who is to certify that such amount expended or charged is necessary and reasonable.

STOVE TALK NO. 6.

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

MORE LIGHT ON BURNS--HARRISON RACE

Mr. Joyce Talks Further on the Race and Contradicts Mr. Burns.

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I have no desire to gain undesirable publicity in connection with the Burns-Harrison race, but I am desirous that the public should be placed in possession of the facts concerning it in order that they may form their own opinion.

Mr. Burns admitted in yesterday's issue that the course was not a full five miles, but before the event when I inquired of him regarding the distance he informed me that it was a good five miles and when I questioned him for further information he grew indignant and wanted to bet that the distance was as he stated, because he had measured the track himself with a bicycle in the forenoon. In regard to Mr. Burns' attempt to shift the responsibility of the track being short onto me, I might state that I had no official connection with the race and had no more right to measure the track than any other citizen. I wish to take exception to Mr. Burns' statement that the runners are at liberty to shorten a track by mutual consent. The runners are not at liberty to shorten a track in a handicap race for if it were possible for them to do the course might be shortened to such an extent that it would be impossible for the handicapped man to overtake his opponent and it is just what occurred in this race. Mr. Burns stated that Messrs. C. G. Graham and Eugene Hurtubise were agreed upon as judges. As for Mr. Graham, he says were for himself as to whether he accepted the responsibility that rested with a judge. But for Mr. Hurtubise—if Mr. Harrison knew he had been appointed a judge by what right did he hand him a hundred dollars on the track to gamble on him (Harrison) and bias his judgement by thus inducing him to offer money of his own which he actually did and this was what gave Burns' backers their first impression that the race was shady. Mr. Burns maintains that the referee had no right to call all bets off because Harrison ran on the sidewalk. It was not for this reason alone that the referee called all bets off, but merely gave that to the press as a specific reason as Burns stated to him when Harrison first took to the sidewalk "Keep that man off the sidewalk or I take this race." I heard him myself and the crowd who were present at the start will support me in this statement.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, very kindly for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours for clean sport,

W. M. JOYCE.

NOVEMBER CLEARING SALE

Tuesday morning started our annual November Sale.

We must make room on our second flat, as Santa Claus visits us this year in four weeks from to-day, Dec. 1st.

We are obliged to clear out over 250 Dinner and Tea Sets and Chamber Sets, of which we have the largest range of any retail house in Canada. The same can be said in reference to our Wall Paper, Window Shade and Room Moulding Stock.

We are delighted when you will take the trouble to look elsewhere before coming to us, as then we have a chance of showing you what low prices we really are offering.

When you get a Dinner and Tea Set combined, 97 pieces for $4.19, we claim that is a lower price than ever you heard of a set of that size being sold at. We also know that our Chamber Sets which we are clearing at $3.49, are as good as any set you have ever seen at $6.00.

Our Embossed Gold Wall Paper advertised at 10c a roll, will compare with anything you may see at 25c, and the border usually sells at 8c a yard—our price is 5c.

We've earned a reputation for biggest variety, best goods and greatest values, and now we will more than be on our best behaviour in clearing the above mentioned lines—for room we must have, or rent another building.

We will make your dollar go further than any other store for the next four weeks. If you are likely to need the above mentioned lines, we will make you feel that we mean every word that we say through the paper.

WELSH TANNERY ENLARGED

Incorporated With Capital Stock of $200,000

Mr. Lang, of Berlin, Said to be Interested in the Company—Will not Remove to Peterborough.

Advices from a private source in Hastings give the information that the rumour to the effect that the Welsh Tannery was to be removed from Hastings to Peterborough, is not substantiated by fact, and the company has already commenced to make extensive improvements and enlargements to the plant there.

It is understood that some new capital has been interested in the company, and it is said that Mr. Lang, of Berlin, the millionaire tanner, has taken an interest in the business.

The Ontario Gazette of Saturday announced the incorporation of the Welsh Tanning Company of Hastings, with a capital of $200,000, the provisional directors being J. Welsh, J. A. McGrail, and T. H. Quigley.

The original building erected by Mr. Welsh is now entirely surrounded by additions which have from time to time being made to it, and the latest addition makes it possible to largely increase the output.

COLONEL HUGHES OFFERS TO RESIGN

Speaks to the Local Association on the Work for Men in India—A More General Response Needed.

Mr. Copeland, Provincial Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., presented the claims of the Foreign work at a well attended rally for boys, held on Sunday morning, when he paid special attention to the boys and boy life in India.

After the Men's meeting Mr. Copeland addressed a gathering of the active workers of the Association and impressed upon the men their responsibility and opportunity in connection with this work.

The Y.M.C.A. of Ontario and Quebec had pledged the support of Mr. Forgeur in Calcutta, who was doing such a wonderful work there.

The members of the Peterborough Association have not kept pace with the other Associations in contributing to this work.

At the close of the address the following committee was appointed to have charge of the work, and a canvas of the entire membership will be prosecuted at once: W. D. Morrow, chairman; A. Kingdon, H. Herd, A. Haddow, and W. Shea, Secretary-Treasurer.

The 80 members present pledged $90.00 to the work. Many of the members feel that the Peterborough Association should support a representative entirely next year and this will be the aim of the committee.

DECEASE OF FORMER PETERBOROUGH LADY

Mrs. Alex. Hamilton Died This Morning in Warren, Ont.

The sad news was received in town to-day of the death of Mary Ann Ryan, daughter of the late Thomas Ryan of Otonabee, and wife of Mr. Alex. Hamilton. Her death occurred in Warren, Ont., after a short illness, of heart failure. The deceased was 47 years of age and had suffered from the above ailment only a short time, during which time the best physicians' services were obtained, but to no avail, and her death occurred this morning.

The deceased leaves her husband, and eight children, and three sisters and three brothers. The sisters are Mrs. A. P. Morgan, and Mrs. M. A. Morrison, of Peterborough, Mrs. Mrs. Willan Mann, of Smith; and the brothers are John Ryan of Peterborough; Wm. Ryan of Michigan; and Thomas Barrie of town. The deceased left here some years ago.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30, from the residence of Dr. Morrison, corner of Hunter and Park streets, and proceed to the Little Lake cemetery for interment.

A Peculiar Election Bet.

Two George street merchants made a rather peculiar, but nevertheless effective, bet on the Hall-Kendry election. The loser was to keep the snow cleared away from not only the pavement in front of his own store, but from that in front of his neighbour's also. The supporter of Kendry will be seen doing double work this winter, while the wise supporter of Hall will sit with his arms folded, and sympathize with his neighbour. What particularly galls the loser is the fact that his candidate having been snowed under, he will have to begin operations at once.

JAPANESE NOW WANT MUKDEN

Working Steadily to Force Russians Out of Sacred City.

PORT ARTHUR'S DIRE PLIGHT.

Opposing the Irresistable Japanese, the Garrison Under Gen. Stoessel is Holding out Desperately--The Besieged However, Have had to Retire to Liaoti Hill --Fort Wantai Taken.

London, Nov. 7.—Special despatches from Che Foo and Tientsin report that the defenders of Port Arthur have retired to Liaoti Hill fort, where they are holding out desperately, entrenched, and with ten guns of large calibre. Many Russians, the correspondents assert, are deserting and surrendering. The Japanese, it is added, are advancing with irresistible energy.

More reliable reports do not confirm these statements, but the Tokio report of the capture of Wantai Hill, a dominating fort within two miles of the railway terminus, shows that the Japanese are making rapid strides.

Bennett Burelgh, The Daily Telegraph's correspondent, reports from Che Foo that there was no fighting on the night of Nov. 5.

An Important Capture.

Tokio, Nov. 7.—It is reported that the Japanese have occupied Wantai Hill, sunk several transports and have set fire to a battleship at Port Arthur. There is no confirmation of the report.

There was published Saturday night a series of reports of the besieging forces at Port Arthur, covering the operations from Oct. 30 to Nov. 3, inclusive.

These reports show that the Japanese continue to vigorously press the attack, and that they are using heavy artillery to batter down the Russian defences, following the artillery fire with valorous infantry rushes.

The five days' fighting covered in the reports gave the Japanese a number of distinct gains, materially shortening the defensive power of the garrison.

Two Steamers Sunk.

Delayed advices forwarded from Port Arthur between Nov. 2 and 4, say that two steamers of about 3,500 tons each, anchored in the west harbor, were sunk by the Japanese heavy guns Nov. 1, and that the following day another steamer of 5,000 tons was also sunk. Two Russians recently came in and surrendered to the Japanese at a place south of Shuishiying. Two great explosions, apparently of magazines, were heard Nov. 2, near Yuahpaofang.

Japs Want Mukden.

Mukden, Nov. 7.—Quiet continues here. The Japanese are still working hard entrenching their front, which began to look like a continuous fort. It is believed they are preparing seriously to advance, making their front strong, possibly in order that it may be held by a comparatively small force while the heavier force engages in flanking movements. The Japanese have learned by bitter experience not to expect much from a frontal attack.

There is considerable evidence to indicate that the Japanese will make every effort to force the Russians out of Mukden, not only for the moral effect on Europe, but on the Chinese as well. Mukden is extremely important to them as winter quarters.

The Japanese continue to receive reinforcements, and it is believed by Russian military men that their advancing depends only upon accumulating sufficient men.

A Dead-Lock, Unless.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—It begins to look like a deadlock below Mukden for the winter, unless Port Arthur falls or the Japanese abandon the idea of renewing the assault upon the fortress there and settle to a regular siege, either of which would release enough troops to give the preponderance necessary to try to force the Russians out of Mukden. The best opinion at the War Office holds to the view that there is not likely to be another big battle this year, one of the indications pointed out being the departure of many military attaches for the winter.

Snow Flurries.

General Kuroki's Headquarters, Nov. 5, via Fusan, Nov. 7.—The positions of the two armies are unchanged. The Russians continue infrequent and ineffective bombardment, principally at night or in the early morning, with heavy guns, devoting their energies chiefly to the Japanese left, where the lines are nearer than elsewhere. The Japanese refrain from firing. There is a sharp exchange, indicating firing somewhere on the lines almost every night.

The cold weather of the past week culminated yesterday in a sharp wind and flurries of snow. The ground is frozen, and the soldiers build few fires for warmth, lest they draw the Russian shots. Fur overcoats are being used.

Supplies For the Squadron.

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—The Russian volunteer fleet steamer Yaroslav, from Odessa, with supplies of coal and water, has passed through the Bosphorus on the way to join the Russian Baltic squadron.

REV. G. R. BEAMISH AT ST. JOHN'S.

Eloquent Preacher Spoke to Large Congregations Yesterday.

Dedication Festival was Commemorated —Splendid Services.

Rev. G. R. Beamish, M. A., of Belleville, preached at both services at St. John's church yesterday to very large congregations. The services during the day were a continuation of the commemoration of the dedication festival, of last Sunday, and were of a hearty and inspiring nature. Rev. Mr. Beamish is an eloquent and powerful speaker, and his discourses were both thoughtful and earnest.

He took for his evening text, the words, "Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God," Acts 10, 4. This was a message from Heaven to earth, carried by the Heavenly Messengers to one who was not a Christian, nor a Jew, but to a heathen, who was seeking to know God. The message came to him to say that God's approval rested on his manner of living, and the message gives the reason why.

The two virtues, or duties, expressed in the text, represent our duty towards God and towards our neighbour. These duties were prayer and alms-giving and were correlative. Worship with us here can be a real personal matter and a memorial before God, or it can be otherwise. Prayer is the Christian's privilege in the congregation. The clergyman is only the leader in prayer, in which all the congregation has a part. All should unite in the service of supplication, thanksgiving and praise. The great privilege of prayer is too often neglected; the mind becomes abstracted and there is not that consecration and devotion which should mark the earnest Christian's prayer. Speaking generally there was a tendency to simply repeat a prayer, instead of praying. No one should be afraid to pray, for it was a blessed privilege. Many things had been wrought by prayer. To pray was a natural instinct and our prayers should be an act of worship real, true and intentional. Many there were who assumed a devotional attitude and had all the outward appearances of indulging in earnest prayer, but who were not earnestly worshipping and were in reality offering an insult to God. We have either to receive benefit or to misuse our privilege.

As our prayers are a memorial before God, so should our alms be, for they were just as acceptable in His sight as words of thanksgiving, adoration or true confession. The speaker referred to the alms giving and personal sacrifice of the chosen people of God in ancient years, even the heathen used to give a little of what they possessed, and we had much to learn from them in reference to giving to the Lord. With us our giving must be a great act of worship or an awful sacrifice. We should not give to God unless we realize that it is an act of true worship. If our alms do not come as a memorial before God, we must think that our prayers will, for the two were co-relative.

The congregation had many opportunities to assist the clergy in their work. The preachers could be relieved of many burdens which they are called upon to bear if they had more hearty support and sympathy from the members of their flock. The clergy were not recognized as they should be by the laity. The leaders in the church were stalwart men but unless the rank and file were in the fight, how could there be victory.

The choir under the leadership of Mr. Sh. Glidden, gave a very fine rendition of the anthem, "Conquering Kings," which was sung with splendid effect. Mrs. Seward took the soprano solo very effectively.

THE BELLEVILLE ROORBACK.

The Belleville bogus ballot box roorback, which was sprung on election day is likely to have a longer life than the ordinary campaign lie of its kind. The whole responsibility of clearing up the situation rests with Mr. E. Gus Porter, the member elect for West Hastings. The Examiner shares the view of the Toronto Globe that prompt action should be taken to bring about a thorough investigation of the alleged finding of the bogus ballot boxes, which was sown broad cast throughout the province on election day to influence the electors. The story is either true or false, and Mr. E. Gus. Porter, whose name was associated with the publication of the roorback, should be required to furnish an explanation and assist in probing the matter to the bottom. There are not lacking reasons to suspect that the entire story was "faked" for election purposes, and the fact that Sir Mackenzie Bowell, whose name was used in connection with the story, knows nothing more about it than what comes through Porter, makes it incumbent on Porter to clear up the matter. It may be pointed out that if the Liberals set about the commission of such a crime as the roorback indicated, they were exceedingly stupid in passing the paraphernalia through the customs, when, obviously, that might have been avoided. There are many other reasons for suspecting the bona fides of the story, and the authorities are in duty bound to take action to compel Mr. Porter, if he does not himself set the law in motion, to furnish such information and explanation as shall assure the public of the punishment of those engaged in the job, or set at rest it that the entire story was the invention of the heelers of an unscrupulous party. Mr. Porter should act—or be acted upon—without unnecessary delay.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Rats is being claimed in some quarters as a Conservative, in spite of the fact that rats will not stay with a sinking ship.

The defeat of Mr. Borden and the election of Hon. Mr. Foster illustrates the irony of fate, the honourable man is plain Mr. Borden and the man with "Hon." tacked to his name is—well, is what he is.

It is suggested that somebody resign his seat to bring Mr. Borden into the House. There would be almost universal satisfaction if Mr. Foster would step aside to give a clean record Conservative a seat.

There is comfort for everybody, the Toronto Star thinks, in the results. In Toronto, the Conservatives get their comfort in bunches of five, while in Nova Scotia the Liberals take theirs in carload lots of eighteen.

The Mail and Empire, and others of its journalistic ilk, are working hard to keep down the Laurier Government majority to the smallest possible figure. That is wasted energy; the time to keep this majority down expired at five o'clock, Nov. 3rd.

If Lord Dundonald's reputation has suffered from his relation to recent events in Canada, he has only himself, and the friends he elected to consort with, to blame. He committed the grave military offence of insubordination, and committed the tactical blunder of throwing himself in the arms of the heelers of the Conservative party, who used the "hero of Ladysmith" for their own party purposes, in the process destroying Lord Dundonald's reputation as a man of prudence and sense, and inflicting a boomerang blow on those who used Lord Dundonald as a tool.

OUR APPLES IN LONDON.

British Columbia Fruit Gained the Royal Horticultural Society's Gold Medal —Britain's Standing Army.

London, Nov. 7.—(C.A.P.)—A fine display of Nova Scotian apples and other fruit has again been arranged for at the Canadian Court in the Crystal Palace—the British Columbia fruit which recently gained the Royal Horticultural Society's gold medal being transferred to the Palace. An exhibit is also coming from Ontario.

Britain's Standing Army.

London, Nov. 7.—(C.A.P.)—Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, criticizing Britain's military expenditure at Edinburgh, said the standing army should not be raised. If any country, colony or dependency required an additional force for its own purposes let it be done as its own affair at its own charge.

Sir Henry, speaking on fiscal affairs, said protection went like a malefactor under an assumed name, such as "retaliation" or "false freedom," whilst others resort to jugglery and evasion. Mr. Chaplin had honestly proved that a colonial preference involves taxation of food.

Glasgow Herald's View.

London, Nov. 7.—(C.A.P.)—Though expecting a Laurier victory in the Canadian election The Glasgow Herald is surprised at the increased Liberal majority, and says the Conservatives expected to gain considerably over the Dundonald incident and in (loyal) Ontario, not only from the moribund condition of the Ross Government, but by the diplomatic use as election material of the solidity of the French vote and the strength of French influence at Ottawa. It thinks the overnment gained support by its liberality in giving Canadian producers benefits under the G.T.P. contracts. It says there is no denying the Laurier party has shown a strong disposition towards the flesh-pots of protectionism and that the promise to revise the tariff is generally understood to mean an increase in some of its schedules.

Give Colonies Peerages.

London, November 7.—(C. A. P.)—Professor Lodge of the chair of history, Edinburgh University, speaking at Glasgow, said more life peerages ought to be created to include as many as possible eminent colonial politicians who could be induced to return to the Mother Country.

Kensington to Blame.

London, Nov. 7.—(C.A.P.)—The Admiralty Court has found the Dominion liner Kensington solely to blame for the collision with the barquentine Kodan, off St. Pierre, on the Bank of Newfoundland, on July 4. The Kodan became water-logged and became a nuisance to shipping and was set on fire.

Britain and Argentine Cattle.

London, Nov. 7.—(C.A.P.)—In consequence of the disappearance of the foot and mouth disease from the Argentine, the republic has addressed pressing demands to Great Britain with a view to the re-opening of the ports to Argentine cattle.

Prince to Go Round World.

London, Nov. 7.—(C.A.P.)—Reynolds' newspaper professes to have information that the Prince of Wales is in ill health and will shortly start on another voyage "around the world," when Canada will be visited.

"Unmitigated Falsehood."

London, Nov. 7.—(C.A.P.)—Lord Knollys, the King's private secretary, denied the statement that the Prince of Wales is in ill-health as an unmitigated and mischievous falsehood.

SMELTING OF IRON BY ELECTRICITY

Report of Investigation into Electrothermic Process for Smelting of Iron in Europe.

Exhaustive Statement on Experiments Made Last Week by Haanel Commission.

Mr. C. E. Brown, of Peterborough, a Member of the Commission --- Great Interest Awakened With the Possibilities of Electric Smelting Process.

The following despatch from Ottawa will be of especial interest to Peterborough from the fact that the smelting of iron and the production of steel by electricity are commercially practicable. Additional interest will consist in the fact that Peterborough's abundant supply of electricity makes this town a most suitable place for the establishment of such an industry:

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Rarely has a report of greater public interest or importance been issued by any department of the Federal Government than that which was sent out to-day by the mines branch of the Department of the Interior. The report in question contains the result of the investigation made by the Haanel Commission into the different electric thermic processes for the smelting of iron ores and the making of steel in operation in Europe. This inquiry has excited the keenest curiosity throughout Canada, the United States and Europe and numerous requests have been made by scientific journals, scientists and manufacturers for copies of the report. The conclusions of the commissioners are the result of careful, exhaustive inquiries. The report contains nothing of a speculative or imaginative character, and every statement made is based upon authoritative data.

In addition to the report on the smelting of iron ores and the making of steel in Europe, there is a special report on the Marcus Kathenburg process of electric smelting of magnetite, in which demonstrations were given at Lockport, N.Y.; likewise a series of important papers on the electric-metallurgy of steel and iron by Henri Harmet, Gustave Gui and Dupt. Ernest Stassano, and of copper by M. Ch. Vattier. The whole volume, consisting of 223 pages, is enriched and illustrated by many handsome plates and drawings.

MEANS MUCH FOR CANADA.

Hon. Clifford Sifton is appointing a commission to investigate the important question treated of, performed an act which may have the most important results upon the industrial future of Canada. This country is vitally interested in the discovery of a cheaper method of smelting ores and manufacturing steel, and it is well within the bounds of probability that one or other of the processes reported on may have the effect of causing the utilization of the immense bodies of magnetic iron ore which exist throughout the Dominion. If such be the case, who can limit the possibilities of industrial progress which the future holds for "the young giant of the north"?

The Commission sent from Canada consisted of Dr. Haanel, Superintendent of Mines for Canada; Mr. Brown, of Peterborough, electrician; Mr. Eric Nystrom, M.E., Ottawa, draftsman, and Mr. Thomas Cote, Montreal, Secretary. In England the services of Mr. F. W. Harbord, consulting metallurgist and analytical chemist to the Indian Government and the Royal Engineering College, were engaged as metallurgist of the commission. Electric smelting plants were then visited in the order named at the following places:—Gysing and Kortfors, Sweden; La Praz, France; Turin, Italy, and Livet, France.

At the Gysinge works steel of superior quality is made by the smelting together of charcoal-pig and scrap in electric furnaces of the induction type, i.e., furnaces without electrodes. The cost of a furnace of this type of 600 horse-power is, according to Mr. Kjellin, about $4,000. The metallurgist, Mr. Harbord, estimated the cost of steel by this process to be $34 per ton of 2,000 pounds. The amount of energy delivered to the electric furnace is 225 horse-power, consign. $2,585, or $11.50 per electric horse power year.

STEEL FROM SCRAP.

Steel at the works of the French Electro-Metallurgic Company at La Praz, is made from scrap melted down, purified by the making of a number of slags, and carbonized in the furnace by carburite. This process, unlike that adopted at Gysinge, permits of the purification of the materials employed, and different grades of steel are made without difficulty. Mr. Heroult stated that the cost of the furnace (charge 2,500 kgs.) building and necessary equipment, exclusive of turbines and electrical machinery, is about $10,000. The absorption of electrical energy per ton of steel amounted to 0.753 electric horse-power year (English unites.) If tapped before completion of purification, the product to be employed for structural steel, the energy consumed amounted to only 0.1 electric horse-power year per ton.

In a memorandum furnished by Mr. Harbord at La Praz the estimated cost of converting scrap into steel by the Heroult process, exclusive of cost of scrap and metal, amounted to $14 per ton of product. The following classes of steel are made at the La Praz works, the selling price per ton of 2,000 pounds being given in each case:

Steel of exceptional hardness	$383 00
Class 1, extra hard steel	272 60
Class 2, very hard steel	272 60
Class 3, hard steel	218 00
Class 4, medium hard steel	218 00
Class 5, tough, weak hard steel	145 00
Class 6, tough steel	145 40
Class 7, tough mild steel	123 00

Correspondence with Captain Stassano elicited the fact that the furnace built by the Italian Government and erected for the Government gun foundry at Turin, had not been in operation for a number of months, the refractory lining of the roof having fallen in, and the new magnesite bricks ordered from Austria for the purpose of relining the furnace not having been received. The product of the Stassano process depends upon the charge, which is calculated beforehand, and in the form of briquettes subjected to the radiation of heat from an electric arc situated above the charge to be treated. The rotation of the furnace during the operation produces a proper intermixture of the melting mass, which, according to the inventor, results in accelerating reduction "with great advantages from the point of view of the utilization of the heat and the preservation of the fire proof lining of the furnace."

THE ELECTRIC PROCESS.

By far the most important experiments witnessed by the commission were those made by Keller, Leleux & Company, at their works in Livet. Some ninety tons of iron ore were used for the various experiments made to demonstrate the commercial feasibility of making pig iron and steel direct from the ore by the electric process. The furnaces employed for these experiments were the furnaces used in their regular work of making, by the electric process, ferro-silicon, ferro-chrome, etc. The company at the time was engaged in filling a rush order for ferro-silicon, but generously interrupted their pressing regular work to undertake experiments for the commission. Three sets of experiments were made for the commission, viz.:

(1) Electric reduction of iron ore and obtaining different classes of pig, grey, white and mottled.

(2) Electric reduction of iron ore, containing a definite amount of carbon in the charge, with a view of ascertaining the amount of electric energy absorbed in the production of one ton of pig iron.

(3) The manufacture of ordinary steel of good quality from the pig manufactured in the preceding experiments.

The different classes of pig iron—grey, white and mottled—were obtained without difficulty.

At the close of the experiments for determining the electric energy absorbed per ton of pig, Mr. Keller, at Dr. Haanel's request, made trials of substituting charcoal for coke as the reducing material in the charge, and although the experiment in the form it was tried proved a failure, Mr. Hartoard agreed with Mr. Keller that charcoal could be used, provided it were first briquetted with the ore and the briquettes broken up to the size of one inch cubes.

COULD USE OUR PEAT BOGS.

Peat bogs in Ontario and Quebec and Peat coke, which is much more solid than soft wood charcoal, could doubtless be substituted with good success for the mineral coke which had been used in the experiments described.

Mr. Keller's estimate of cost per ton of product based on the energy consumed in the second experiment and found to be 0.226 E.H.P. year, is as follows:

Ore (beamtite, 55 per cent. iron
1.842 tons at $1.50 per ton	$ 2 76
Coke, 0.34 at $7 per ton	2 38
Consumption of electrodes, $45 per ton, 34 lbs. per ton of iron	77
Lime, 300 lbs., at $2 per ton	30
Labour at $1.50 per day	94
Electric energy, 0.226 H. P. year at $10 per h.p. year	2 26
Miscellaneous materials	40
Repairs and maintenance	20
General expenses	20
Amortization (machinery and buildings)	50
Total, exclusive of royalty	$10 71

Mr. Harbord, the metallurgist, has furnished reasons for assuming the mean of the determinations of the two sets of experiments made, i. e., 0.250 E.H.P. year, to be a safer figure on which to base the calculation of cost per ton of pig produced. With this change, in the amount of E.H.P., and 100 lbs. additional of lime, the cost per ton of pig is $12.05.

The experiments produced at Livet showed that to produce 100 tons per day would require 9,750 electric horse power at the electrodes of the furnace.

It was found that Mr. Harmet, who has obtained patents for an electric process of smelting iron ore and the making of steel, has as yet no plant in operation by which his process might be tested.

Mr. Gui has patented an electric process for the making of steel from pig and hematite. He informed Dr. Haanel by letter of March 5th that his experimental furnaces had been dismounted, and therefore no experimental demonstrations could be given of his process, but that the process would be exploited by a company which has just been established at Plattenburg by Wilhelm Bruninghaus, the electrical firm Lahmeyer of Frankfurt, and by the company of Siemens & Halske.

LOWER COST OF STEEL.

The conclusions arrived at by the metallurgist, Mr. Harbord, as a result of his investigations into the metallurgy of the electric production of steel, and the electric reduction of iron ore, are as follows:

1. Steel equal in all respects to the best Sheffield crucible steel can be produced, either by the Kjellin, Heroult or Keller processes, at a cost considerably less than the cost of producing a high-class crucible steel.

2. At present structural steel, to compete with Siemens or Bessemer steel, cannot be economically produced in the electric furnaces, and such furnaces can be used commercially for the production of only very high-class steel for special purposes.

3. Speaking generally, the reactions in the electric smelting furnaces as regards the reduction and combination of iron with silicon, sulphur, phosphorus and manganese, are similar to those taking place in the blast furnace. By altering the burden and regulating the temperature, by varying the electric current, any grade of iron, grey or white, can be obtained, and the change from one grade to another is effective more rapidly than in a blast furnace.

PIG IRON POSSIBILITIES.

4. Grey pig iron, suitable in all respects for acid steel manufacture, either by Bessemer or Siemens processes, can be produced in the electric furnace.

5. Grey pig iron, suitable for foundry purposes, can be readily produced.

6. Pig iron, low in silicon and sulphur, suitable either for the basic Bessemer or the basic Siemens process, can be produced, provided that the ore mixture contains oxide of manganese, and that a basic slag is maintained by suitable additions of lime.

7. It has not been experimentally demonstrated, but from general considerations there is every reason to believe that pig iron low in silicon and sulphur can be produced, even in the absence of manganese oxide in the iron mixture, provided a fluid and basic slag be maintained.

8. Pig iron can be produced on a commercial scale to compete with the blast furnace only when electric energy is very cheap and fuel very dear. On the basis taken in this report, with electric energy at $10 per electrical horsepower year, and coke at $7 per ton, the cost of production is approximately the same as the cost of producing pig iron in a modern blast furnace.

CONDITIONS OF SUCCESS.

9. Under ordinary conditions, where blast furnaces are an established industry, electric smelting cannot compete, but in special cases where ample water-power is available and blast furnace coke is not readily obtainable, electric smelting may be commercially successful.

It is impossible to define the exact conditions under which electric smelting can be successfully carried on. Each case must be considered independently after a most careful investigation into local conditions, and it is only when these are fully known that a definite opinion as to the commercial possibilities of any project can be given.

Dr. Haanel adds some observations, in which he points out the gratifying nature of the experiments, made offhand, in furnaces not designed for the production of pig, as to the future of electric smelting.

POWER ON THE OTTAWA.

"I am credibly informed," he remarks, "that the water-power at Chats Falls, on the Ottawa River, can be developed at a cost to produce an electrical horsepower year at the rate of $4.50. There are probably many water-powers favourably situated as regards good bodies of ore in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, which can be developed as cheaply. When such power is owned by the company intending to use it for electric smelting, and peat, coke or briquetted charcoal, made from mill refuse, which would probably not cost more than $1 per ton, is employed for reduction, the cost of two of the heaviest items entering into the cost of producing pig by the electric process is reduced to one-half."

Dr. Haanel deserves to be heartily congratulated upon the valuable volume which he has prepared, and which will undoubtedly rank as a classic among the literature dealing with the production of iron and steel. It has involved an immense amount of labour on the doctor's part, which, however, has been cheerfully rendered in the hope that it may prove of service to Canada. The Mines Department by the preparation of this work has done more to justify its establishment than in any other enterprise previously undertaken.

One Million Dollars

Have Been Spent to Give Liquozone Free to the Sick.

When we purchased the rights to Liquozone, we decided to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one we learned of. We published the offer in nearly every newspaper in America, and 1,800,000 people have accepted it. In one year it has cost us over one million dollars to announce and fulfill the offer.

Don't you realize that a product must have wonderful merit to make such an offer possible? We have never asked a soul to buy Liquozone. We have published no testimonials, no physician's endorsement. We have simply asked the sick to try it—try it at our expense. And that is all we ask you, if you need it.

Kills Inside Germs.

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact that gives Liquozone its worth to humanity. And that worth is so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

OTTAWA'S WELCOME

The Triumphant Home Coming of Premier and Lady Laurier.

THE CULMINATION FITTING

To a Long Series of Popular Demonstrations—Through Crowded Streets Greeted With Cheers, the Premier and His Wife Passed With a Splendid Procession Accompanying Them—Premier's Speech.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Amid the acclamations of thousands of citizens, the blare of brass bands and the skirl of Scottish pipes, the blazing of vari-colored lights and the waving of flags, the Prime Minister and Lady Laurier were welcomed to the capital Saturday evening. No conqueror returning victorious from the field of battle could have desired a heartier or more spontaneous welcome. The city was stirred to its depths by the reappearance in its midst of the great statesman who has been chosen once again to preside over the destinies of Canada, and all classes turned out to add their plaudits to the welcome. Not a few of those who acclaimed the Prime Minister remembered the occasion, only seven years ago, when, on his return from England, being greeted in a similar fashion, Sir Wilfrid promised to make Ottawa "the Washington of the North." Hence many of the cheers raised were inspired by the recollection of how thoroughly the Premier is giving effect to his promise. But whatever the reason, enthusiasm swept over Ottawa like a tidal wave, and amid cheering spectators, massed rank behind rank on each side of the city's main thoroughfares, Sir Wilfrid passed in triumph to his home. It was an ideal night for an outdoor demonstration. The air was keen and frosty and in the heavens gleamed innumerable stars. Many private residences were dressed with flags and in some every window was lighted with Chinese lanterns. Rows of Union Jacks and banners of gaudy hue fluttered over the grounds of the Central Station, and on the opposite side of the Rideau Canal the roof of the wholesale warehouse of Bate & Company bore a string of fantastic Oriental lanterns. Spectators began to gather at the station as early as 6 o'clock, although Sir Wilfrid was not due to arrive until 7 o'clock by C. P. R.

A Magnificent Welcome.

At last the train swept into the station, and the roar of welcome from the crowd nearly drowned the strains of "See the Conquering Hero Comes," played by the Guards' Band. There was a cessation of the cheers for a moment as Sir Wilfrid's car was shunted alongside the platform on which he was to descend. When the car drew up the two newly-elected members sprang aboard and received from the chieftain his first words of thanks for the victory won.

"Ottawa did nobly," said Sir Wilfrid, as he clasped Messrs. Belcourt and Stewart by the hand. "I cannot thank you and the electors too much." Lady Laurier, carrying an enormous bouquet, was the first to emerge from the car, and a mighty shout of welcome rent the air. The distinguished pair had literally to fight their way to their carriage, which was drawn by four magnificent greys.

The Premier's Speech.

Sir Wilfrid's residence was brilliantly illuminated, and the open lawn in front was as bright as day. Over the portico was displayed the design of a huge maple leaf encircled by electric lights. And now, having reached his home at last, the Prime Minister stood up in the carriage to speak. Several times he endeavored to be heard, but at each attempt his voice was drowned in salvos of cheers. Soon, however, comparative order was restored, when Sir Wilfrid said: "Fellow-citizens, I would like to convey to you the very sincere expression of my gratitude for the manner in which you have turned out to greet me. After the campaign, which I have fought my voice is exhausted, and I can speak but little. Let me, however, say to you, gentlemen, that I thank the city of Ottawa for having endorsed the policy of the Government, and I also thank the County of Wright for having elected me as its member by such a handsome majority."

The Premier spoke a few words in his native tongue to the electors of Wright County, and then, with his wife, descending from the carriage, entered the house. At the vestibule he turned and raised his hat to the crowd, who roared themselves hoarse in response. Then the throng outside slowly dispersed.

A Seat For Aylesworth.

Montreal, Nov. 7.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who, owing to the withdrawal of the Conservative candidate in Gaspe, becomes by acclamation the Parliamentary representative for that constituency as well as for Nicolet, where he wrested a seat from the Opposition by a large majority, has offered the seat for Gaspe to Mr. Aylesworth. The offer was quite unsolicited and was not made without a foreknowledge of the acquiescence of the electors. It was made formally to the Premier, and is now under consideration.

Government majority, 64.

In Doubt, Alberta.

To be held—Kootnay, Yale-Cariboo, Yukon, Dauphin, Mackenzie.

Two elections by acclamation, those of Mr. Sloan, Liberal, in Comox-Atlin, and of Solicitor-General Lemieux in Gaspe, took place on Saturday, and the Government majority is now 64, with five elections to be held, and one seat, Alberta, still in doubt.

Mr. Borden Will Be Retained.

Hamilton, Nov. 7.—Samuel Barker, Conservative organiser, said Saturday morning that R. L. Borden would be retained as leader of the Opposition and that a safe seat would be found for him in Ontario.

Mr. Barker returned to the city shortly after midnight Saturday, after holding a conference in the office of A. E. Kemp, Toronto, with some of the prominent Conservative members of the province. He said it was too early yet to discuss the plans and prospects of the party, but he promised an important announcement in the future.

He says that there will be no difficult about finding a seat for Mr. Borden in Ontario if he wants one.

AFTER THE VOTING.

William Sloan (Liberal) was on Saturday elected for Comox-Atlin by acclamation, opposition candidate retiring.

Completed returns for Marquette, Man., gives Roche 70 majority. Lake leads in Qu'Appelle by 33 with 12 small polls to hear from.

Mr. Beaudry, the Conservative candidate having retired from the contest in the County of Gaspe, Hon. R. Lemieux, solicitor-general, was declared elected by acclamation.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER.

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities, by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability, making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business, and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigour. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well-known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy, but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store, and took two or three tablets after each meal, and occasionally a tablet between meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health, and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was going to cure completely, and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and drink and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy, asking for information as to what the Tablets contained, and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin, (government test,) malt diastase, and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this: the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Digestive Tablets will digest the food, give the over worked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength; they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue, is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can assure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been on the market only a few years yet propably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach troubles.

SOLID SILVER FURNITURE.

Extraordinary Order of An Indian Prince Takes the Highest Art of Sheffield—Cost Runs Into High Figures.

There is now being made in England for an Indian prince a suite of bedroom furniture such as it would not have seemed possible, according to the Sheffield Daily Telegraph, to conceive of outside the pages of the "Arabian Nights." To begin with, the suite is of silver—not a silver mounted or silver plated affair, but for the most part solid sterling silver furniture, upon which the highest art of Sheffield is being lavished.

The bedstead, not yet complete, will be a wonderful work of art. Everything about it will soothingly suggest sleep. The copies of the sleep pictures of famous British artists, which have been reproduced in silver for the panels of the bedstead, and the beautiful solid silver angels at the corners are magnificent examples of art in silver.

Thousands of ounces of silver have been employed, and the cost must run into figures which astonish as well as indicate the opulence and extravagance of the prince who could give such an order.

The general design of the furniture is that of Louis XVI. or early Georgian period, but confined within peremptory orders to follow Eastern effects and to decorate everything floridly.

The suite comprises a four post bedstead, twelve dining room and easy chairs, two couches, four tables, drawing room cabinet and lady's dressing table. The bedstead, 8 feet long by 6 feet broad and 13 feet 6 inches high, is most magnificent, both in design and execution. The head panel, in sterling repousse, is an allegorical representation of sleep, after Albert Moore, R.A. On the foot panel "Dancing Nymphs," after the same artist, are exquisitely depicted by the firm's most capable chaser, Mr. J. A. Brooks.

Surmounting the pedestal are figures representing the four seasons, standing three feet high, which have been specially modelled by the well known Edinburgh Academician, Mr. Birnie Rhind. All are charming and refined in treatment, but the figures of Spring and Winter are uniquely attractive in their cultured symbolism.

The decoration of frieze or valance which surrounds the bed is a series of arabesques, and the architraves of canopy which spring from four graceful, elegantly proportioned fluted columns terminate in the crown, cushion and other royal insignia, modelled and carved actual size.

The drawing room cabinet and dressing table are in the style of Chippendale or French marqueterie. The panels are flower studies in repousse chasing, with the wild rose, the blackberry, etc.; but the execution is so refined and delicate that the otherwise solid and heavy appearance of metal work is entirely subordinated, indeed, the gracefulness and symmetrical balance of each piece are the first merit that strikes one.

A conspicuous feature of these larger items is the sharply defined mouldings, ogees, solid entablature unpanelling which fulfil the scheme of construction.

The dining room and easy chairs, also the two couches, or ottomans, are in the best taste and artistic fitness in relation to the measures of the parts. They look exceedingly handsome and graceful. To obtain the correct contour and rigidity necessary for actual use, light frames of oak have been made, upon which sterling silver has been solidly fitted, soldered, cast and decorated.

The four console tables are entirely of sterling silver, designed for occasional use in boudoir or drawing room, and otherwise for supporting decorative statuary or race plate. All four are of different shape, but with the same proportionate arrangement, distribution and general effect. The decoration is Louis Seize silver chasing in low relief, and all mountings and cast fillets, while massive and substantial, are so harmoniously assembled and toned down by faithful workmanship that nothing is strident, nothing bizarre.

A Telling Rebuke.

The privilege of the family of De Courcy, Barons of Kinsale, to wear hats in the presence of the English Kings was well established, though not always exercised. Soon after the accession of George II. to the throne the then Lord Kinsale, who had just come to his title, was introduced at court with the usual ceremonies. Whether from mistake in etiquette or from pride, instead of just putting on his hat and immediately taking it off again, Lord Kinsale walked about the drawing-room for a considerable time with his hat on. The courtiers all stared, and the whole assembly was thrown into some embarrassment. When the King, noticing the circumstance, very politely went up to His Lordship and told him that he believed he was under some trivial mistake, for, though he had an undoubted right to wear his hat before him, yet His Lordship appeared to have forgotten that there were ladies in the room. Lord Kinsale instantly felt the rebuke, bowed and took off his hat.

The Gentleman From London.

At a meeting of dissatisfied workers not long ago an orator from the metropolis had delivered a lengthy and telling speech which made a great impression on his hearers. A strike appeared certain, when an old man who was well known to be in favor of pacific measures rose slowly to his feet. To the amazement of everybody he rolled out the words:

"Lads, I say strike!"

His mates could hardly believe their ears, and after a momentary silence somebody shouted, "Why?"

"Why?" echoed old John, with biting emphasis. "That's none o' my business an' none o' yours! We pays a gentleman frae London to tell us why!"

The speech, brief as it was, was sufficient to turn the scale, and there was no strike.—London Tit-Bits.

REFUSES BATTLE.

Manifesto From the Opposition Leader, Mr. Flynn, in Quebec.

Montreal, Nov. 7.—Following the announcement on Friday that the Quebec Provincial elections would be held on November 25th, the leader of the Opposition, Mr. E. J. Flynn, issued the following manifesto last night, which says, in part, that the party will put forward no candidates. That means that the Liberal candidates will be elected by acclamation, and that His Majesty's loyal Opposition will be a missing quantity when Parliament meets. The manifesto concludes:

"The Opposition believes, therefore, that the interests of the Province will be best served and the dignity of our institutions more successfully safeguarded by protesting against this act of the administration and in abstaining from taking part in the fight.

"The Provincial Government has created the situation, this abnormal, this extraordinary, this perilous situation, consequently let it alone bear the responsibility. Once before, in 1900, it committed a similar outrage, and the Opposition at that time wrongly countenanced it."

They Pretend to Marry.

In Russia every woman marries or pretends to marry, be she princess or peasant. If the girl is of the opinion that no one will ask her in wedlock she leaves home. The peasant girl goes to some distant district and soon returns home a widow, saying that she married while away and her husband died during their honeymoon. The girl of more fortunate position goes upon far travels. In a year or two her friends hear that she is wedded to some foreigner, whom, if she does not win by her charms alone, she gets by her affection plus a dot. In a year or two she returns to Russia a broken hearted widow. No embarrassing questions are put to her, for in Russia it is considered bad form to mention a dead man to his living widow. All this goes to show in what high repute Russian women regard the institution of marriage.

All Fools' Day.

Brand in his "Popular Antiquities" gives the following extract from the Public Advertiser of April 12, 1769, for the Jewish origin of the custom of making fools on the 1st of April:

This is said to have begun from the mistake of Noah sending the dove out of the ark before the water had abated, on the first day of the month which among the Hebrews answers to our 1st of April, and to perpetuate the memory of his deliverance it was thought proper, whoever forgot so remarkable a circumstance, to punish them by sending them upon some sleeveless errand similar to that ineffectual message upon which the bird was sent by the patriarch.—Notes and Queries.

Badly Expressed.

The orator of the corner store was giving forth his views of a popular congressman whose death had been chronicled in the evening paper. "I tell you," he said gloomily, "he's going to be a loss to all that have known him or known of him. He has died, as he has lived, unanimously regretted."

Doctors Said That

Lumps and External Swellings Would Turn to Running Sores.

Mrs. Jacob Kaehler, Zurich, Ont., says that

Burdock Blood Bitters

Saved Her from Many Years of Suffering.

She writes:—"Now imagine how joyous and great was my surprise when a friend of mine told me that Burdock Blood Bitters would cure me, so that the lumps and external swellings, which the doctors told me would turn to running sores, would disappear. I took her advice, and can say that I have no doubt but that Burdock Blood Bitters has saved me from years of suffering. It is with the greatest of pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Burdock Blood Bitters has done so much for me, and you are at perfect liberty to use this for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

Burdock Blood Bitters is the best blood medicine on the market to-day, and is composed entirely of roots, herbs, barks and berries.

JOHN HAGGART,

WHAT DID YOU PAY FOR?

Did you ever figure out the real cost of a suit of clothes?

If you have you will know that a Semi-ready suit made of Scotch Tweed from Brown Brothers, Galashields, Scotland, or some similar imported fabric, with high grade lining from Sir Titus Salt, Bart., Saltaire, England, with best sewing silk will cost $20, including the expense of high grade skilful tailoring.

Your custom tailor will charge you $35 for the same suit—why?

Because he has to buy cloth at retail—because the smallness of his output increases the cost per suit—because of his bad debts!

Do you know that certain tailoring concerns never collect a bill within a year?

Who pays the bad debts and the interest.

Semi-ready is sold on a business basis for cash.

You forejudge every effect of color—fabric design—style, and thoroughly satisfy yourself as to fit before you buy.

Then we return your purchase money for any dissatisfaction.

PARK STREET BAPTISTS NEW CHURCH BUILDING

Tenth Anniversary Services Yesterday Foreshadowed Building of a New and Handsome Church.

Harvest Festival and Thanksgiving Services Held Yesterday --- Offerings for New Church.

Plans for New Building Already Prepared--Church Yesterday Was Tastefully Decorated.

Yesterday was a memorable day in the history of the Park street Baptist church. The church anniversary and the Thanksgiving Harvest Festival, were celebrated, and the day's services were entirely satisfactory.

The church was very tastefully decorated for the festive occasion, grain, fruit and flowers predominating. On the platform and around the pulpit an array of fruit and vegetables presented a very handsome appearance, and the entire scheme of decoration was a credit to the committee in whose charge the decorations were.

REV. A. H. BRACE,
Pastor of Park Street Baptist Church

Proposed New Church of Park Street Baptists, from Architect's Drawing.

The congregations yesterday were very large, and the offerings, which were in aid of the building fund of the church, were very satisfactory. This congregation is working hard to secure sufficient money to warrant them in proceeding with the erection of the new church, plans for which have already been prepared, and the the collections and subscriptions yesterday were to be applied to that purpose.

Yesterday was the tenth anniversary of the church, which was an outgrowth of the Sunday school organized sixteen years ago, and the progress made during the ten years since the church was formed has been most gratifying. The congregation has outgrown the capacity of the present building, and a larger edifice is needed. A fund has been started for the erection of the larger church, an illustration of which is furnished herewith, and is growing satisfactorily.

The services yesterday were well attended, the sermons being preached by the pastor, Rev. A. H. Brace. The morning text was Psalm 107, 8, "Oh, that men would praise the Lord, for His Goodness and for His wonderful works to the children of men."

At the evening service the subject was "The Great Crop, and the Disposal of the Harvest," and the text was in Matthew 13, 38 and 39, "The field is the world, the good seed are the children of the kingdom, but the tares are the children of the wicked one. The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world and the reapers are the angels." This subject, the speaker said, was a very solemn one, inasmuch as it had to do with the eternal destiny of men. He compared the earthly harvest with the spiritual harvest, and said that the whole year was one of preparation for the harvest. First the planning, then the ploughing and the sowing. If the crop is a failure there is business collapse and commercial distress, but if it is a success there is unbounded joy. So life is one vast preparation for the great harvest of the future.

We are now in the arena of great possibilities and also great responsibilities. There are two agencies operating in the harvest field, the Son of man and the enemy, the devil. The idea that the devil was not operating in the world to-day was a new fashioned idea, but the Bible teaches differently. Mr. Brace quoted a poem which bore on this subject:

Who blights the bloom of the land to-day
With the fire breath of Hell,
If it isn't the Devil who does the work who does?
Won't somebody tell?

Who dogs the steps of the toiling Saints?
Who spreads the net for his feet?
Who sows the tares in the world's blood field
When the Saviour sows his wheat?

They may say the Devil has never lived
They may say the Devil has gone,
But simple people would like to know
Who carries his business on.

Speaking of the disposal of the crop, the reverend gentleman said, that the tares will be gathered together first and burned, while the wheat will be gathered into the garner. The righteous are the wheat, and they shall be ushered into a region of unclouded brightness, intense lustre and perpetual brilliance.

The music at both services was of a special nature, and was highly enjoyable. At the evening service Miss Pilling sang a solo before the sermon and at its close the choir sang an anthem. Two hundred dollars was the mark set for the offering yesterday, and it was almost reached, with more to come in yet.

Marks Brothers Will Open a Week's Engagement To-Night.

The Kingston Whig says: The Marks Bros' A-1 company were greeted by a very large audience at the Grand Opera House last night. The piece presented was the Irish comedy-drama, "The Emerald Isle." It was a beautiful conception and portrayed the generous emotions of the Irish heart. The piece was handled in the several scenes in an artistic manner and gave the utmost pleasure and satisfaction. Ernie Marks, as "Con. O'Callagan," took the leading role, and as a rollicking Irish lad, kept the audience in roars of laughter.

DR YOAKUM EXPECTS TO MAKE ENEMIES

Divine Healer Preaching at Bethany Tabernacle, Says There is Bad Education in the Presbyterians and Worse in the Methodists.

Claims to be a Man Sent from God to Cast Out Devils and Heal the Sick ---Opens a Series of Special Meetings.

Gave Thrilling Incidents of Cures Effected by Him---Interest and Enthusiasm Aroused by His Eccentric Preaching.

Yesterday morning, Dr. Finnis B. Yoakum, of Los Angeles, California, opened a series of special services in Bethany Tabernacle. The church at the first service contained a good crowd, and the ninety minutes talk of the doctor, who, to use his own words, is not a preacher, although he was at one time a Methodist class leader, was intently listened to. To his his own words, "There is lots of bad education in the Presbyterian church, and the Methodists are worse," and he said that while his head might be wrong, his heart was all right, which, according to his opinion, is all that is needed.

Dr. Yoakum said that he was an offspring of Adam, and all that the Devil put into Adam was in him, and he did not wish to say much about his past life.

The speaker's mission to Peterborough may be summed up in his closing words, "Tell the people that God has sent a man to Peterborough from Los Angeles to cast out devils and to heal the sick in Jesus' name." It was announced that the doctor would tell the story of his healing, but he preferred to postpone it until some future time, and simply touched lightly upon that subject,but gave several instances of cures in which he had been instrumental. He mentioned one case of a lady in California, the wife of a military officer, who in one of his meetings, came to the front with those who wished to be prayed for. She was suffering from rheumatism, and to use his expression, "had all the diseases." One of his assistants went up to her, and was going to touch her and cure her, but he motioned him back with the words, "Leave her alone; she is as black as hell inside!" The lady, however, according to the doctor, was eventually cured.

Another instance was quoted of a lady who came to his meetings, and she was so deaf that sitting on the front seat she could scarcely hear a word of the sermon. At the close of the meeting she was 'anointed' and in the afternoon she sat away at the rear of the hall, and could hear everything that was said. Other equally remarkable incidents were related by the doctor.

The meeting yesterday morning opened with a testimony meeting in which a number of the members of the Tabernacle related their cure by Divine healing and without the aid of medicines. After a number of testimonies had been given and hymns sung, the speaker of the day was introduced, and he spoke for ninety minutes, giving his exposition of the Bible truths. The Bible he said, spoke of dreams and visions, and he believed in them, because he had seen them. Many people do not believe in them, however, but if they did not believe all he said, they were to say "Amen!" anyway.

He had been educated as a "blue stocking" Presbyterian, but the Methodists had adopted him and it was with the latter that he had learned to shout. He believed that his heart was all right even if his head was wrong, and sometimes it takes a microscope to find Christianity in us. He did not care anything about the head so long as the heart was right, and what he would like to see was men with big hearts and little heads.

The doctor expressed his opinion that in Peterborough he would have some enemies, men who would like to tar and feather him, and he thought that this might be what he deserved. He was in Peterborough to say that Jesus Christ died to save all men. we must have Christ in our lives or the sick cannot be healed. Speaking of the women he said that if they had been whispering something about their neighbour, which they did not want her to hear, over the fence, it will come up, and hinder God's work. "I want to keep you out of Hell, that's my business."

"The sourest thing in the world is a sour holiness man," remarked the doctor.

Dr. Yoakum is an extremely busy man, for he said, "We have several boys, but you never see me or my wife praying for them, we have no time, because we have so many others to pray for." He is no lover of tea or coffee, for he said, "We don't use any of that deveilish stuff, tea or coffee, in our house."

His estimate of the Methodists is summed up in the following words, "The Methodists either have to shout or pray or take up a collection all the time."

In Los Angeles, Dr. Yoakum's home has been fitted up as a healing house, and he and his family have moved out into a tent. Rich persons, however, are not treated in this healing house, and although a Pittsburg man offered him $5,000 to pray for him, he would not take it. To use his own words, "In my house in Los Angeles there ain't nothing there for men who want to pay." According to his story Dr. Yoakum used to have a bad temper, for he said that he used to "bite the heads off tenpenny nails."

Dr. Yoakum's story is told in his words in a booklet issued by him, and will be published to-morrow.

He will conduct a meeting in the Tabernacle this evening.

HALL'S OFFICIAL MAJORITY 187.

The Returning Officer Makes Official Count To-day.

Mr. Finlay Gets 73 in East Peterborough--11 Challenged Votes not Counted for Mr. Hall.

This morning Sheriff Hall, the Returning Officer for West Peterborough in the recent elections, made an official statement of the number of votes polled, and the majority.

Mr. R. R. Hall's official majority is now 187, eleven ballots challenged in Ashburnham having been taken off the number polled for Mr. Hall. These voters were properly registered, and Mr. Hall is of the opinion that they rightly belong to him, but he argues that his majority is large enough without them. His official majority is now 187, and Mr. Finlay in the East, has 73. Mr. Finlay's majority has been considerably cut down by later figures received to-day. The detailed figures for both ridings are:—

STOVE TALK NO. 6.

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

MISSION BAND'S MONTHLY MEETING

An Energetic and Live Organization in Park Street Church.

The monthly meeting of the Park Street Mission Band was held at the close of the Sunday School yesterday. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, fruits, grain and vegetables in honour of the Anniversary and Harvest Home Services. The meeting was an interesting one. The President, Miss M. Mann, presided. After the opening exercises the fees were taken by the Treasurer. Two Anniversary selections were read by members of the Band. Pastor A. H. Brace followed with a beautiful word picture on the word Band. A "Band" is composed of two things, "Work and Workers". A recitation was given by little Edna Boys entitled "Little Jim". A large committee was appointed to prepare for the annual tea and concert to be held about the middle of December. The Band is composed of a number of bright Christian young people as well as the children.

Talent Social.

Three of the members of the George Street Girls' Guild intend giving a "Talent Entertainment" at the home of Mrs. G. H. Whiten, Aylmer street, next Tuesday evening, November 8th. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake will be served from 8 to 10. Also a good musical programme will be one of the features of the evening. The girls are getting up this entertainment entirely at their own expense and intend going the net proceeds to the Girls' Guild of the George Street Methodist Church as talent money earned by them towards the Church Debt Fund. As Mrs. Whiten has very kindly offered her house for occasion it is hoped that all will come and bring their friends and make the entertainment a success in every way. Admission fee 15c. Suggests That Seats be Found for Mr. Aylesworth and Mr. Borden.

Mr. W. H. Hill has addressed the following letter to the Toronto Globe, in which paper it appears this morning.

To the Editor of The Globe: I think that the majority of people in this country would like to see two such men as R. L. Borden and Mr. Aylesworth in the House of Commons. It strikes me that an easy method to effect this would be to arrange to have two of the constituencies where the elections have not yet come off, elect these two men without a contest. I am sure that any riding would be proud to have such a representative as either one of these men. The Liberals have a large enough majority at the present time, to say the least; and no one could take exception to such a man as Mr. Borden.

Awful Cost in Life to Japs Besieging Port Arthur.

REPORTS ARE CONFLICTING

Last Assault On Port Arthur Said By Bennett Burleigh to Have Ceased and Reign of Quiet Has Intervened—Japs Hid in Millet Played Havoc With Cossack Cavalry—British Ships Sails.

Che Foo, Nov. 5.—Chinese who left Port Dalny Thursday evening report that batches of wounded were passing through Dalny. They report also that during the recent battle fresh Japanese troops were constantly going to the front. It is reported that the Japanese killed or wounded in front of Port Arthur during the last three months approximate forty thousand.

Information has been brought by Chinese that the six days of bombardment and desperate efforts on the part of the besiegers to take the fortress of Port Arthur ceased Wednesday. The Japanese took fort No. 3, but were unable to hold it.

Conflicting Reports.

London, Nov. 5.—Conflicting reports emanate from Che Foo regarding the result of the latest assault on Port Arthur. Bennett Burleigh of The Daily Telegraph, who passed the fortress in a steamer, says that all was quiet at 6 o'clock Friday morning, and that there was no sign of firing or of any movement. His steamer was thrice chased and boarded by Japanese within a brief period, the Japanese forbidding any navigation within twenty miles of Port Arthur.

Japs Still Assail.

Shanghai, Nov. 5.—Advices reaching Shanghai yesterday say that the Japanese assault on Port Arthur continues with unabated vigor and that the Russian defence is dogged and determined.

The northern portion of East Keekwan Mountain has been captured by the Japanese, who hold it under a furious Russian fire.

A fort on the inner line of defences was destroyed by the explosion of a magazine on Nov. 2. The casualties of the Japanese are reported to be enormous.

A belief prevails that the Russian warships will make another attempt to escape.

The British steamer Victoria, which succeed in running the Port Arthur blockade with a full cargo of beef and has returned here, confirms the reports that the Japanese have captured all the main northern positions of the fortress.

Stoessel's Last Stand.

Rome, Oct. 5.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Giornale di Roma asserts that General Stoessel, in command at Port Arthur, has telegraphed the Czar that he has made his last attempt to defend the forts to the northwest of the city, and is now preparing to retire to Laiotishan and the Tiger's Tail peninsula with 10,000 soldiers and seamen.

Even Golden Hill fortress will be abandoned. Of warships only the Pobieda is afloat. The Sevastopol's and Peresviet's docks are two feet above water, but the rest have been sunk. The Retvizan was burned with several wounded who were aboard.

Artillery Fight.

Mukden, Nov. 5.—There was a brisk exchange of artillery fire here Thursday, extending from the village of Linchintoun eastward on both sides of the railroad, but the firing ceased at noon.

The Japanese are continuing their concentration opposite the Russian centre. The Japanese positions along their whole line are strongly fortified and they are now entrenching along the Hun River to the westward.

On Monday, on the Russian extreme right, a squadron of Don Cossacks charged a battery of Japanese artillery near Lidentoun. The Cossacks went forward at a gallop through a field of uncut millet against the fire of the battery, and had almost reached the guns when a couple of companies of Japanese infantry rose up and poured in several volleys, compelling the cavalrymen to ride out of the field at an even faster pace than they went in it. The Cossacks lost about twenty-five men.

Japs Use Dogs.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 5.—A special despatch from Mukden says the Japanese are using dogs to locate the positions of the Russian sentinels and outposts.

BRITISH BATTLESHIPS.

Four Have Been Ordered to Leave Gibraltar At Once.

Gibraltar, Nov. 5.—The battleships Victorious, Magnificent, Illustrious and Jupiter have been ordered to put to sea immediately. It is believed they will proceed westward.

Russians At Tangiers.

Tangier, Nov. 5.—The ships of the Russian second Pacific squadron now here sailed at 6 o'clock this morning. Their destination has not been disclosed.

Certainly Not Permissable.

London, Nov. 5.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, in a letter dated Nov. 3, has informed a British shipowning firm that "It is not permissible for British owners to following the Russian fleet with coal." The letter was in reply to a direct query from the firm which drew the attention of the Foreign Office to the British Collier Rodden, which was then lying at Vigo awaiting the arrival of the Russian squadron, and asked if British owners were entitled to charter their vessels for this purpose.

GROWING UP

There's something the matter with the child that fails to grow up. A child that grows up too much, however, without proper filling out of flesh, is almost as badly off. Nothing will help these pale, thin "weedy" children like Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the rounding out of flesh and the rich inward nourishment of blood and vital organs which insures rapid growth a healthy and uniform development.

NOVEMBER 8.

Republicans and Democrats in the United States Sure of Their Candidates' Success On Tuesday.

New York, Nov. 7.—Chairman Cortelyou of the Republican National Committee late Saturday night issued the following statement: "I am satisfied that the Republican candidates for President and Vice-President will carry every northern State, with the possible exception of Maryland and Nevada, and will have not less than 314 out of the 476 votes in the electoral college."

Parker's Election Sure.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Saturday the Democratic Congressional Committee headquarters practically were closed. Saturday night Secretary Edward expressed confidence as to the result, not of the national campaign, but of the congressional contest.

He said he was certain of Judge Parker's election, and added: "It is possible, but not probable, that we shall carry the House. We are against a hard formation, but we shall make substantial gains without a doubt."

CHIEF LEGAULT RESIGNS.

But He Denies All the Statements of His Accusers.

Montreal, Nov. 7.—In consequence of the sensational revelations made in the recorder's court in connection with the disorderly houses of the city, Chief Legault's position became no longer tenable and so Saturday afternoon he handed in his resignation to Alderman St. Denis, chairman of the police committee of the City Council. Ald. St. Denis at once transmitted the letter of resignation to Mayor Laporte. Sub-Chief Campeau was at once requested to act as chief of police until the appointment of a new head of the force.

Sensational evidence in this latest police scandal was given in the recorder's court. The case of Madame Lalonde was held before Recorder Poirier and ended on Saturday, when the womap was found guilty of the charge of keeping a den and fined the small sum of $30 and costs. Loudly dressed women decorated one side of the room and when they came to testify it was a depressing fact that they were all alleged keepers of houses and witnesses to prove that Chief Legault had done what they called "squaring them." The chief denied all the statements of these women.

THE ILLS OF THE AGED.

Mrs. Stacy, of Hamilton, Tells how they May be Lessened.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stacy, of 172 Hunter street west, Hamilton, says:—

"I was very much troubled with Headache, Dizziness and Constipation. I am in my eighty-first year, and I grew worse and worse till I was so weak and faint that I could hardly keep from falling.

"Since using Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill I am very much better; in fact, I may say I am very well compared to what I was before using Anti-Pill.

"I am so thankful for the improvement at my advanced age that I think I should write and tell you about it. I will always recommend Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill to any one suffering as I was."

Anti-Pill is positively the best medicine for aged men and women.

No Woman Suffrage.

Montpelier, Vermont, Nov. 5.—After a spirited debate, the Vermont House of Representatives by a close vote of 99 to 97 has refused a third reading to the bill granting municipal suffrage to women who are taxpayers.

Pope Resumes Audiences.

Rome, Nov. 5.—The Pope considers that he has been restored to his usual health and yesterday resumed his audiences.

Pitiful Helplessness.

Victims of nervous diseases are the most to be pitied, because their ailments usually terminate in mental or physical helplessness. Paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity can only be avoided by building up the nervous system at the first sign of trouble, and there is no preparation so well suited for this purpose as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great nerve restorer.

CAMPANIA TAKES MARCONI HOME.

With Improved Apparatus Thinks He Can Flash Message Across Sea.

New York, Nov. 7.—The World says: Signor Marconi, the wireless wizard, sailed for home Saturday on the Campania after a visit to this country of two months. He expects to come back in December. He came here to instal new highpower apparatus at Glace Bay, and is convinced that soon he will be able to begin the regular trans-Atlantic commercial service of the company. He has been working for this a long time.

"It will be of immense strategic importance for the Cape Breton station to be assured of uninterrupted communication between Canada and Great Britain," said Mr. Martoni.

"Great progress has been made in Canada, many stations have been completed, others will be ready within four months, and many improvements have been made in the stations, which previously were doing their work all right.

"I am now returning to England to make changes in the Poldhu station corresponding to those at Cape Breton. In December I hope to be able to demonstrate that 3,500 miles is no bar to commercial transmission."

Cruiser Tows a Schooner.

Gibraltar, Nov. 7.—The cruisers Olympia, Cleveland and DesMoines, of the United States European squadron, Rear-Admiral Jewell commanding, have arrived here. The Olympia had in tow the British schooner Elizabeth, with which she collided Saturday night. The schooner's stern was badly damaged, but the Olympia was uninjured.

An Invitation to Dine.

"San Francisco is only an hour's journey from Baltimore, comparatively speaking," said a resident of the City of the Golden Gate. "In the old days it took a month to cross the plains, and you risked your life to round Cape Horn. Now you board a comfortable Pullman in Baltimore at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and take dinner at 6 in Frisco—almost. And since the days of rapid railroad transit have begun the Pacific coast has not been so far out of the world as one might imagine who had not taken the trip. Why, I remember when people read with awe of thrilling journeys all the way from the eastern coast towns to Pittsburg and when a man would shudder his teeth loose with just thinking of the terrible trip to Chicago, while to mention Salt Lake City or Denver would bring up hideous visions of starless nights on arid deserts and wholesale massacres by red demons. And, speaking of red demons, I think the cigar store Indian has done much to overcome eastern fear of the noble red man, standing in innocent bravery all day long, with a wooden hatchet in one hand and a bunch of cigars in the other.

"But what was I talking about? Oh, yes—Frisco being so close to Baltimore. Come out some Sunday and take dinner with me!"

An English Sporting Event.

A notable sporting event came off at York, England, in 1804. The wife of Colonel Thornton, a well known sportsman, had backed herself to race against Mr. Flint for 500 guineas a side. The crowd was estimated at 100,000. For three miles Mrs. Thornton led, but her horse had "much the shorter stroke of the two," and Mr. Flint then forged ahead, and Mrs. Thornton gave up in mercy to her horse. She was much less tender to Mr. Flint. A few days later the York Herald contained a letter from her, accusing him of lack of gallantry in refusing to allow a gentleman to ride round with her, so as to be handy for the rescue if her saddle slipped round, as it had done a few days before; in saying, "Keep that side, ma'am," gruffly to her at the starting point, and in beating her as badly as he could. She defiantly challenged him again for next year.—London Chronicle.

Surgery by Hand and Foot.

Surgery in the sixteenth century was not the refined science of the present day. Anaesthetics and antiseptics were unknown, and the battlefield operating theater was often just where the patient fell.

In one of the many battles in which the fighting Duke of Guise engaged he was knocked down by one of the enemy's arrows, which pierced his head between the nose and one of the eyes.

Pare, the famous French surgeon, was on the field, and he immediately put his foot on the duke's face and drew the arrow out by sheer brute force.

The operation inconvenienced the duke somewhat, but he survived it and lived to be assassinated.

To Enliven the Liver

AID DIGESTION AND REGULATE THE ACTION OF THE BOWELS YOU MUST USE

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

THE GREAT SPECIFIC FOR LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASES.

It is the liver that is largely responsible for indigestion and constipation — derangements that are a constant source of trouble.

The bile, which, when left in the blood, is a poison to the system, causing biliousness, head ache and muddy complexion, becomes of priceless value when passed into the intestines to aid digestion and ensure regular action of the bowels.

The healthy liver separates bile from the blood and sends it into the intestines.

IF YOU FIND YOUR LIVER SLUGGISH AND TORPID IN ACTION, DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS WILL BRING RELIEF AND CURE MORE PROMPTLY THAN ANY TREATMENT YOU COULD FIND.

By enlivening the action of the liver they remove the cause of biliousness, headache, indigestion, constipation and other accompanying symptoms.

This specific action of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on the liver is what makes them of so great worth as a family medicine and ensures them a lasting place in the home.

MR. ROGERS CLANCY, farmer, Chepatowe, Bruce County, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and would say there family cure for stomach troubles, biliousness, torpid liver and headache. I was troubled a great deal with these ailments before using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have proved wonderfully successful in my case."

One pill a dose at bedtime and Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will ensure healthful, regular action of the kidneys, liver and bowels; 25 cents a box at all druggists, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 2

CANADIANS AT OXFORD

THE GREATEST OF OPPORTUNITIES FOR CANADA'S SONS.

Dr. Parkin Points Out the Benefit to the Country of the Rhodes Scholarships—What Is Expected to Result Described in Detail—Two Things Canadian That He Has Great Contempt For.

At a recent luncheon of the Canadian Society of London, England, Dr. Parkin gave a short address on his work in connection with the Rhodes scholarships. The president and chairman, in introducing him, paid a tribute to the work Dr. Parkin had done in Canada, and expressed regret that his energies were now spread over the world, rather than among Canadians.

Dr. Parkin, on rising, said he would confine his remarks more particularly to the relation of the scholarships to Canadian young men. He said that Oxford, after the first fears of a barbarian invasion had been allayed, had risen splendidly to the occasion.

Mr. Rhodes in the original draft of his will had only provided scholarships for Ontario and Quebec. As a result of arguments he had put forward it had been arranged that six more scholarships, one for each province and territory, should be given to Canada. This year there will be nine young Canadians at Oxford, and eight next year and for all time to come. He looked back on his own youth and the struggle he had made to put in one year at Oxford, the most fertile and important of any he had passed in his life. He did not see why the same could not be said of the young men now there. One met more men who were talked about at Oxford than in the whole course of a life in Canada.

What They Expected.

In what way, then, was it going to help Canadians? Let them take it a little bit in detail. In Canada an Oxford degree added greatly to a man's prestige. He did not, however, attach so much importance to that as he did that it ought to add to his power. (Hear, hear.) There poor Canadian boys had the opportunity of getting the best the world had to give. Two-thirds of the men at Oxford lived on £250 a year, and a man would do well on £300. Suppose a man wanted to be a medical man. In Oxford they had not yet developed a medical school at least equal to London and Edinburgh. A man going with a Rhodes scholarship could go for three years, and get all the scientific education probably as good as he could in any other place. He was told that when a man had an Oxford training he was sent forward into the London hospitals to get his clinics. Four years out of the five could be got by a Rhodes scholarship man. Could greater opportunity be offered? What was the difference between training received in this country and that in the old country? The men I know who are talked about were studying at Oxford a few years extra, to get the extra training which fitted them to take the best medical positions. It was the men who studied till they were 27, 28 or 30 before they got their first case who succeeded best. The greatest difficulty in Canada in producing men of the professional class was the early age at which they came in. Had he himself been able to take the course such as the Rhodes scholarship man could obtain at Oxford he could have done the same work with his little finger that he now had to put the whole strength of his body into.

Canada's Education.

The doctrine he had always preached in Canada. There were two objects in Canada for which he had an absolute contempt; one was the feeling of "Canada for the Canadians," and the other was that they had got the best educational system in the world. They had not got anything like the best in the world. They must go to France, Italy, Germany, etc., and when they had got the best of all these systems, then let them come back and pour it out upon their own country. If he could send every young Canadian over every continent in the world, and bring back every good thing he found, and then devoted himself to the service of Canada, he would be doing the greatest thing possible. (Hear, hear.) The greatest advantage of Oxford was, in his view, that it conferred "the comparative idea," and the democracy at Oxford was unequalled in America. What was going to become one of the most wonderful results of their scholarships was to get into the American mind the comparative idea. (Laughter.)

This was only the beginning of their movement; they could not see how the idea was going to shape itself, but they had just little indications. The interesting part of their work was going to begin when they had to plant these men back. Every man they had had his whole educational history written down, and there would therefore be no body of young men of whom there would be a more complete record. Would that not form a centre from which men were going to be drawn? They were going to try and get the best out of their men, and send them back in that way. What they were doing was going to be one of the great powers of the world, and it ought to be, to do justice to the great thought and the great man behind it. No Englishman since Chatham thought on the lines that Rhodes had done. Questioned as to his ideas, Rhodes had replied: "You know my ideas; you carry them out, or I will come back and worry you." If Rhodes' conception was not an inspiration to their young men, and if the Rhodes scholarship men did not to a man try and realize it, they would prove themselves unworthy of the benefits they were enjoying.

"Do" and Not "Blow."

He was particularly happy about the group of Canadian young men they had this year. He did hope that their Canadian fellows would be marked this next year by their extreme modesty, by the little they had to say and the great deal they did. That, he thought, was the great point in this country for Canadians generally. He did not think there was anything he was so sensitive about in their Canadian people as that they should "do," and not "blow"; that they should accomplish things. These were only the crumbs, as it were, of his thought, but he was very grateful for the opportunity of speaking to them. (Loud applause.)

Questioned by the chairman as to his views upon introducing engineering into the studies at Oxford, Dr. Parkin left this an open question, but observed that a country like England, which was going to look around the world and take the best, would never grow old, and had the spring of vitality in it. (Hear, hear.)

There is nothing like Sunlight Soap for Household Utensils.

When you have to use hard water it is not an easy matter to wash household utensils. To do good washing you should have good soap and soft water (rain water). If you use hard water you must have good soap, and the best soap you can get is Sunlight Soap because it softens the hard water and makes a copious creamy lather. Use Sunlight Soap for all household purposes and the results will surprise you.

A Quart Baby.

Now and again there is an item in the newspapers concerning the birth of a puny baby so small that a quart cup holds it comfortably. If the article told all the facts it would probably tell also of a mother who in weakness and misery had looked forward to the baby's advent with shrinking and fear.

To have fine, healthy children the mother must be healthy, and it is the common testimony of mothers that the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only promotes the mother's health but also gives her strength to give her child.

"Favorite Prescription" accomplishes these results by tranquilizing the nerves, promoting a healthy appetite, and giving refreshing sleep. It increases physical vigor and gives great muscular elasticity, so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best of tonics for nursing mothers.

"I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. J. W. G. Stephens, of Mills, Northumberland Co., Va. "Before my third little boy was born I took six bottles. He is the finest child and has been from birth, and I suffered very much less than I ever did before. I unhesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhœa, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 50 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 31 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Recreations of Cabinet Ministers.

It is probable that the recreations of of the cabinet ministers of the present time when on vacation are, however frivolous, slightly dissimilar from those of their eighteenth century predecessors. Fox, for instance, spent a morning in Bond street counting cats against the Prince of Wales, and as he chose the sunny side of the street he saw thirteen to the Prince's one and won the game. Lord Oxford, too, riding in his coach with Swift, used to count poultry with him all the way up to town, and whoever counted thirty-one first or saw a cat or an old woman was the winner. Lord Bolingbroke, joining them one day for the purpose of discussing European affairs, was at once interrupted by Oxford's saying, "Swift, I'm up; there's a cat!" and left them in disgust. As Swift wrote, "Such tattle often entertains my lord and me as far as Staines."—London Chronicle.

Dressmakers on the Street.

An odd fact about dressmakers is that nearly all of them have the same fault—on the street they cut their friends. A noted dressmaker said in explanation of this fact: "The street is to us dressmakers what a picture gallery is to artists—a grand storehouse of ideas. On the street we are always on the lookout for new fashions, and from the neck down we study every person that passes, for from one we may get a new skirt pattern, from another a new sleeve, from a third a new collar, and so on. We are never busier than when on the street; our eyes are never more alert, but they don't reach up to the face level; they can't spare the time from their study of dresses to go any higher than the neck. And hence on the street we cut impartially our mothers, our sisters, our best friends."

The Blood of Men and Apes.

Between the blood of men and apes there are many points of similarity and evidences of a distinct relationship, but the blood of monkeys can readily be distinguished from that of men. The difference is more or less marked, according to the species, the greatest resemblance being seen in the case of the gorilla and the least with the lemurs, a small species about the size of a cat and having a face somewhat like a fox. A singular fact is that, judged by the blood, there is less evidence of relationship found in the American families of apes than in those of the old world.

Ostriches In Harness.

There are several instances on record where in South Africa the white master or black servant has trained one or more ostriches to harness and has driven them regularly in a light trap or even ridden them like a horse. It need hardly be said that ostriches are extremely swift when used in such a way and can cover a tremendous number of miles a day if not given too heavy a load. They have even been known to show real signs of enjoyment and pleasure at being in harness, and certainly they go to work with a will when thoroughly tamed in this manner.

Curious Flowers.

The Brazilian flower known as the running antelope is so called because its white petals have a series of well defined, dark colored lines and dots in which the imagination can readily trace the form of an antelope, with its limbs outstretched and head thrown back, seemingly fleeing for its life. In the "caricature plant" one species has the imitative form on the petals, and another has it outlined in the ribs and shading of the leaves.

The last mentioned curiosity bears a remarkably well executed likeness of the Duke of Wellington and has on that account been named "Arthur and His Nose." Among the orchids the imitative form is entirely different in character, being exhibited in the shape of the flower itself. Some are exact counterfeits of bees, butterflies, moths, etc., while others take upon themselves the form of worms and beetles. Naturalists believe that in the first instance it is nature's trap to lure other bees, moths and butterflies, but in the case of the worm and the beetle, orchids or those that are the exact counterparts of toads, lizards and huge spiders, they do not attempt to explain.

Truly Good.

"What is your idea of a truly good wife?" asked the youth.

"A truly good wife," answered the Cumminsville sage, "is one who loves her husband and her country, but doesn't attempt to run either."

Dangerous Scheme.

The Mother—How can I get my boy to do right? The Friend—Give him good advice. The Mother—But he always does just the contrary of what I recommend. The Friend—Then give him bad advice.

Out of the Question.

Her Husband—I suppose a woman would have to be quite a philosopher to be indifferent to her appearance. She—She'd have to be a lunatic.

A Speaking Likeness.

Mrs. Fondmar—Don't you think baby grows more like me every day? Fondmar—Yes, dear, especially so since she began to talk.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

A Remarkable Photograph.

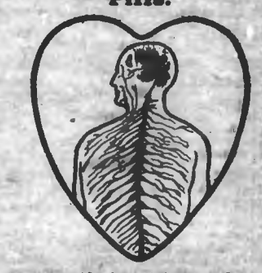
In some respects one of the most remarkable war photographs ever made was secured by a man named Meyer, a correspondent for a German illustrated newspaper, during the war in South Africa. Meyer was with the Boers, and one day, during one of Buller's attacks along the Tugela, he took a position on the firing line. The fire from the British batteries across the river was very heavy during the preliminary part of the assault, and shells literally rained on the low lying kopjes occupied by Botha's army. Meyer thought he saw a good opportunity to secure a fine picture, and he jumped out of his "schanze" to snap it.

Just then a big liddite shell exploded within a few feet of him, killing him instantly. I afterward secured the camera, which was comparatively uninjured. When the film it contained was developed I discovered that Meyer had made a beautiful photograph of the huge shell which snuffed out his life. I sent a copy of the picture to his residence in Germany.—Everybody's Magazine.

A Deathbed Pun.

Puck relates a story concerning the late Senator Alexander T. Goodwin of Utica, who left behind him the reputation of never having been too tired nor too ill to give or take a joke. During his last illness a relative, knowing the senator's extreme fondness for brandied peaches, sent to his sickroom a small jar of that most delicious preserve. A few days later the relative called and was admitted to the sickroom. Quickly turning on his pillow and without giving his caller time to extend the usual formalities, the sick man exclaimed, "My dear Louise, how can I ever thank you for those delicious brandied peaches?" "I thought you would appreciate them, Alexander," returned the caller modestly. "Ah, yes; ah, yes!" he assented, with a smile which broadened and finally broke into a chuckle that seemed almost noisy in the hush of the sickroom, as he added, "And how much more I appreciated the spirit in which they were sent!"

MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills.



Are a specific for all heart and nerve troubles. Here are some of the symptoms. Any one of them should be a warning for you to attend to it immediately. Don't delay. Serious breakdown of the system may follow, if you do: Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Dizziness, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Rush of Blood to the Head, Smothering and Sinking Spells, Faint and Weak Spells, Spasm or Pain through the Heart; Cold, Clammy Hands and Feet. There may be many minor symptoms of heart and nerve trouble, but these are the chief ones.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will dispel all these symptoms from the system.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25.

WEAK SPELLS CURED.

Mrs. L. Dorey, Hemford, N.S., writes us as follows:—"I was troubled with dizziness, weak spells and fluttering of the heart. I procured a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and they did me so much good that I got two more boxes, and after finishing them I was completely cured. I must say that I cannot recommend them too highly.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM A. J. BURNS

States Mr. Joyce's Reason for Saying Race was Faked.

To the Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In regard to the statement made by Mr. Joyce in your Saturday's issue, I wish to say a few words to the sporting public of Peterborough, through your paper. Mr. Joyce wishes the public to have the impression that he had nothing to do with the race, I wish to state that Mr. Joyce was one of the promotors of my races with Mr. Harrison and was also my timekeeper and one of my supporters. On my first race with Mr. Harrison, Mr. Joyce was well pleased with the results because he made money on me and in this race I understand that he lost money. This, I think, is the reason he is trying to make the public believe it was a faked race. Mr. Joyce has the idea that because I have had success in Peterborough, that I cannot be beaten, but I wish to state that had I not met with an accident that afternoon I would have beaten Mr. Harrison, if the course had been even shorter. Mr. Joyce signs himself clean sport. I think that in the future he should keep away from foot runners and foot racing or any other kind of sport if he cannot take a loss more manly than he has taken this loss. He signs himself clean sport. I think he should have signed as "poor sport."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I remain

Yours truly,
A. J. BURNS.

ARGONAUTS MADE A STRONG FINISH.

Peterboro's Defeated in Toronto on Saturday by 11-7 in a Closely Contested Game.

Locals Had Best of First Half But Unsteady Work in the Second Period Lost the Game.

Argos had Strengthened team and Played Well. Three District Teams are now Tied.

"Defeated but not disgraced" was the was the Peterborough rueby team last Saturday in Toronto.

A number of excuses of "How it happened" could be offered, but as Capt. Crowley remarked after the game "Well, cheer up, boys, we're beaten, let's take our medicine and not squeal."

The boys met their second defeat of the season and their second defeat in Toronto, which seems to be the hoo-doo city for the locals. The atmosphere there seems to have a tendency to make the team go to pieces at critical moments and to lack that gingery spirit and upset their judgment as is not the case when they play at home. At any rate, something goes wrong and the boys lose to teams which are not superior to them in the art of rugby.

LOCAL BACKS UNSTEADY.

The Argonauts won, and won fairly. On the whole they played a better game on Saturday, but that is not saying they can do so next Saturday or any subsequent date. They won the game through the steadiness and general good work of their back division which played almost faultlessly. And the locals lost through the unsteady playing of the back division, which was off-colour in the second half. They seemed to lack system, used poor judgment at critical points and many errors of ommission and omission were recorded. Frequently in the second period, the backs lost the ball on a fumble or bad pass and the Argos would have a scrimmage, sometimes, but a few feet from the line. But the fact the Peterboro wings are the best in the district, and that in line bucking the locals were superior to the visitors, prevented the Argos scoring touch-downs on more than one occasion. As it was the ball on the third down was passed back to Hamber who kicked over for a rouge. Had the locals had anything like the chances to score in the second half that the Argos had, they would have won easily. It must be admitted that the defence got out of some difficult places in commendable style but had it not been for errors, they would not have been put in these tight places so often.

FINE RUGBY DAY.

The game was played at Rosedale before a crowd of about 600 people, many of whom were Peterborough supporters. A fairly large number accompanied the team to the city where were to be found many other ex-Peterborians who gave their support to their old town. The day was an ideal one for rugby, there being no wind or sun to give either team the advantage.

GOOD START; BAD FINISH.

Peterborough started in well enough and for the first fifteen minutes had things their own way, scoring a touch-down and keeping the ball continually near the Argos line. Towards the close of the half the play was more even and the half ended Peterboro 7 Argonauts 0. In the second half the play for the most part in the locals' territory and the winners added five points on rouges. Good punting did the trick.

ARGOS STRONG.

The Argos presented the strongest team they have had this season. Their strength lay in the back division. Hamber at centre of whom so much has been said of late, fully sustained his reputation as a star player. His good work was largely instrumental in the Argos victory. He never missed a catch, was very hard to tackle and used excellent judgment in placing his long punts. Grant and Trimmer also did fine work and rarely made a slip. The latter's line bucking in the second half was fine, while he punted and caught well. Ardagh at full back was also a source of strength to the team and did very effective work. The wings were heavy and aggressive though they had no advantage over the locals. The team is a good one, but the local team do not think they will win the district.

THE PETERBOROS.

The Peterborough team was, with one exception, the same as that which defeated the Torontos here a week ago, but the boys did not play the same game. Had they displayed the same form as in the game with the Torontos, victory would have been theirs without a doubt. But they didn't, that's all. McGrath who had had but a week's practice was played at full back. He had no chance to display his ability to handle punts or to kick, but he was frequently given the ball for a run. He made several good runs but was watched very closely and it was seldom that he could get away. Capt. Crowley played the best game of the backs, but even he has shown up to better advantage. He was playing great ball in the first half, when a heavy tackle put him out of business for a time and he was not himself afterwards. He made several beautiful runs, however, and nearly won the game in the last five minutes by a fifty-yard zig-zag run. Shaw was away off colour in his kicking and his long soaring punts, so effective in winning against the Torontos were absent on Saturday. He made the mistake of kicking low with the result that frequently the opposing wings blocked the kick or the local wings could not follow up fast enough to tackle the Argos halves before they returned the ball. Hamber, on the other hand, kicked high, giving his wings time to follow up and several rouges resulted. Shaw made some good runs in the first half and worked hard throughout, Morgan was not as steady as usual in his catching though he generally recovered the ball before a very serious damage resulted. He did his best work in the first half. Graham worked with a will to stave off the defeat and played a most useful game. The wings played a fast and aggressive game, and tackled fairly well. It was through no fault of their's that the game was not won. Rickey was very fast. McDonald tackled finely while Magher and Hurtubise at inside wings were like a stone wall and did excellent work. Greene put up a plucky and effective game while Cameron had plenty of speed and made some splendid tackles. Burnham did good service at centre throughout the game.

THIS WAS HARD LUCK.

Peterborough lost a touch-down and incidently the game in the first half, by a decision of the referee, which is disputed by many. Shaw punted the ball well over the line to Ardagh, who when about to be tackled passed to Hamber, who missed the leather, McDonald failing on it for a touch-down. It was claimed that Ardagh had made a forward pass though Hamber did not catch the ball. Instead of getting five and probably six points as the kick for goal would have been an easy one, the locals got but one point.

The Argonauts were late in reaching the grounds and it was after 3 o'clock before the teams lined up as follows:—

ALL OURS AT THE START.

Peterboough got the kick-off, which went to Trimmer. Graham intercepted his pass and Peterboro had the ball about twenty yards fom the line. A bad pass to Morgan nearly lost the ball but the former recovered it. Shaw punted to Grant who returned well up the field to Graham, who made a ten yards run. Shaw gained five yards by a buck and on the last down punted over the line to Grant, who muffed and Rickey by fast following up fell on the leather for a touch which Shaw failed to convert. Score, 5-0.

THE ARGOS SCORE.

The locals were getting a fast clip and out-played the Argos at every stage. Shaw caught Britton's kick-off and ran thirty yards before being downed. Hamber punted to Morgan who made a neat catch, and sprinted twenty yards. A fumble brought the ball into Peterboro territory and Trimmer got over for a lucky touch which was converted. Score, Argos, 6; Peterboro, 5.

PETERBORO PRESSING.

But the Argos' advantage was a short one and the play was soon confined to the vicinity of the scullers' good line. Rickey stole the pigskin on a pass of Hambers and made a good gain. As luck would have it, Shaw's punt hit the goal post and bouncing back to the field look a likely chance for a score. Cameron cleverly blocked Trimmer's punt and Shaw kicked to Ardagh, who was forced to rouge. Score, 6-6.

LOCALS IN LEAD AGAIN.

The play was in Peterboros' favour so far. Morgan made a long run down the side and Crowley also gained thirty yards by a dodging run. Shaw kicked over to Ardagh, who passed to Hamber, McDonald securing the ball for what looked like a touch. A forward pass was allowed and the locals got but one point. Score, Peterboro, 7; Argonauts, 6.

Hamber did some nice punting. Ardagh worked in a thirty yards run and Hamber punted well down the field to Shaw, who sprinted twenty-five yards. McGrath received a pass and before he was stopped had covered forty yards. Crowley and Grant each made nice runs, the play being open and very pretty to watch. An exchange of points by Hamber and Shaw gained little ground for either. Crowley was laid out for five minutes by a heavy tackle. Ardagh's nice run and Hamber's long punt brought the ball in Peterboro territory. Crowley muffed a punt near the goal line, but recovered the ball and Shaw relieved by a punt. Half-time saw the score card unchanged.

A TALE OF WOE.

The Argos started out to win in the second half. Smith gained fifteen yards by two fine line bucks. Rickey again stole the ball and Crowley made a twenty yards run. McGrath gathered in a pass and sprinted for fifteen yards for a gain. Shaw's punt was blocked near the centre and Grant punted well down the field to Morgan, who fumbled. Shaw did likewise a moment later and the Argos had the ball two yards from the line. It looked bad, but the Argos couldn't budge the locals' line and Crowley got the ball and ran twenty yards. Grant was ruled off for tripping. McGrath fumbled Graham's pass near the line and it was the Argos ball. Hamber kicked over the line and the score was 7-7.

ARGOS TAKE LEAD.

The play was in the centre of the field for the next five minutes, each side making temporary gains. Rickey was put off for a minor offence. Gray got five minutes on the side for rough work. Trimmer and Grant made a pretty gain. Hamber punted over the line to Shaw who was downed before he could kick. Score, Argos, 8; Peterboros, 7.

BAD FUMBLING.

Another fumble brought the play again into Peterboros' territory and Ardagh punted over to McGrath who was forced to rouge. Score, 8-7.

After a series of scrimmages Grey blocked Shaw's punt and the locals were again in danger. Hamber's long punt went to Morgan, who was tackled for a rouge. Score, 10-7.

Ardagh made a pretty run of thirty yards. Hamber's fine punting kept the locals' backs guessing and Morgan's muff near the line nearly resulted in a score. Crowley punted to Trimmer, who returned to Shaw, who muffed, but Greene grabbed the ball a foot from the line and another try was saved. Shaw punted to Trimmer who kicked into touch. Britton was ruled off. Trimmer after a nice run kicked well over the line to Crowley, who was downed for another rouge. Score, 11-7.

Greene brought Grant down by a beautiful tackle. The locals seemed to waken up and made a series of good gains. Crowley's long run brought the play near the Argos' line. Shaw punted to Grant who returned. It looked like a Peterboro score but time was called.

JUST NOTES.

Cheer up.
Can't win always.
We're not out of it yet.
The game was a comparatively clean one.

It looks as though the snow will be flying before the finals are decided.

Hamber was a source of great strength to the Argos.

It was a good game to witness, with plenty of open play.

It was anybody's game from start to finish.

The backs got the rattles in the second half.

Capt. Crowley worked in some long runs and nearly got over the line on two occasions.

Trimmer did great work for the Argos.

Fumbling the ball at critical moments was disastrous to the locals' chances.

Rickey was always prominent on the wing line.

Had the local backs used the judgment in placing their punts that their opponents did, there might have been a different story to tell.

The Torontos, Argonauts and Peterboros are now tied. The Toronto teams will likely play off next Saturday and the winners meet the locals on neutral ground.

HOCKEY.

President J. Ross Robertson of the O. H. A. has addressed the following letter to the officers at the head of the clubs in the Association.

"Might I, as a friend of hockey, writing, I believe, in the best interests of the game, call your attention, also as a friend of hockey, to the growing evil of canvassing for votes, more particularly with regard to governing positions upon the Executive of the O. H. A.?

"You must realize, as well as I do that the best canvasser is not always the best official, and I hope you will not misunderstand me, when I suggest that the best interests of hockey demand that it should be the ambition of every club to send unpledged delegates to the annual convention of the O. H. A.

"I am moved to send this appeal because, in my judgment, a serious wrong has been done to the O. H. A. by the weakness of representatives who are the product of this system of canvassing for votes.

"Office should seek the man and not man the office, and this is the principle which should actuate all who have any ambition in that direction.

"I am sure that you will agree with me that if the O. H. A. is to maintain its reputation as a well-conducted organization under the charge of those who have the highest interests of amateurism at heart, it must be managed in a spirit of fidelity to this sound principle.

"Will you kindly have this letter read to your club at its next meeting. A reading may do some good. It can do no harm."

NOVEMBER CLEARING SALE

Tuesday morning started our annual November Sale.

We must make room on our second flat, as Santa Claus visits us this year in four weeks from to-day, Dec. 1st.

We are obliged to clear out over 250 Dinner and Tea Sets and Chamber Sets, of which we have the largest range of any retail house in Canada. The same can be said in reference to our Wall Paper, Window Shade and Room Moulding Stock.

We are delighted when you will take the trouble to look elsewhere before coming to us, as then we have a chance of showing you what low prices we really are offering.

When you get a Dinner and Tea Set combined, 97 pieces for $4.19, we claim that is a lower price than ever you heard of a set of that size being sold at. We also know that our Chamber Sets which we are clearing at $3.49, are as good as any set you have ever seen at $6.00.

Our Embossed Gold Wall Paper advertised at 10c a roll, will compare with anything you may see at 25c, and the border usually sells at 8c a yard—our price is 5c.

We've earned a reputation for biggest variety, best goods and greatest values, and now we will more than be on our best behaviour in clearing the above mentioned lines—for room we must have, or rent another building.

We will make your dollar go further than any other store for the next four weeks. If you are likely to need the above mentioned lines, we will make you feel that we mean every word that we say through the paper.

Y. W. C. A. WORK AND ITS NEEDS.

Secretary of the Board Writes an Eloquent Letter.

The Work Must be Carried on and Citizens Should Support it.

The Examiner gladly gives space to the following letter from Miss Dennistoun, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Board, in which an explanation of the work and needs of the association is given.

This enterprise is a very worthy one and should meet with hearty responses from the citizens. The letter speaks for itself:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—At the present time there seems to be a word of explanation necessary with regard to the Young Woman's Christian Association. The ladies who so kindly collect for the running expenses have lately met with great discouragement, many of the yearly contributors saying they have already given to the new building. That is all right, but what about our work, while the building is in the course of erection?

Surely in Peterborough, now at the opening of the winter season, it will not be necessary to close the room where the work is carried on, where classes meet, and where all young women are welcomed. The sum of $45.00 per month is all that is required to meet running expenses. Will not those who have stood by the organization for years continue to give their support, and those who have not yet helped us, take this opportunity of doing so?

There must be many people in Peterborough who can send us something, even a small subscription, and whom I feel sure will do so, if a knowledge of the needs of the Young Women's Christian Association is made known to them.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space to make this explanation, believe me

Yours truly,
MILDRED DENNISTOUN,
Secretary of Board of Y.W.C.A.

A TRIP THROUGH HUNTING COUNTRY

Mr. Fred Roy Will Take Views of Hunters Camps.

Mr. Fred Roy started out yesterday for a tour of the hunting camps in the back country. He will be absent for about ten days, during which time he will be engaged in taking interesting photographs of the deer stalkers and their exploits in the different camps.

It will be remembered that the series of photos taken last year by Fred proved to be by far the most interesting ever seen on the continent, and that copies were in demand from all over the world.

HAS BEEN A TRAMP FOR THIRTY YEARS

Henry Dermot Sent to Central Prison for 6 Months.

Judge Edmison went to Norwood yesterday to deal with the case of a tramp, Henry Dermot. He is a man of about 45 years of age, and stated that he had been a tramp since he was 12 years of age, and had been in nearly every country on the face of the globe. He had frequently served terms in prison, sojourning last winter in Cobourg jail, the previous winter in Whitby jail, and some years ago had spent a term in the Central Prison. In answer to a question as to which of these he preferred, he said he rather took a fancy to the Central Prison, where the treatment he received was more to his taste than in the county jails. The judge accordingly sentenced him to six months in the Central Prison. The prisoner seemed perfectly satisfied.

PETERBOROUGH MAN PASSES AWAY IN IOWA

Death of Mr. Hugh Bicket, Formerly of Otonabee Township.

The Star-Clipper of Traer, Iowa, has a notice of the death of a former resident of Otonabee township, Peterborough, Hugh Bicket. The deceased came to Canada in the early forties, and settled on the east half of lot twenty-seven, concession two, of Otonabee, now owned by Mr. H. Moore. He was married to Janet, daughter of the late Wm. Fife, of Indian River. He removed to Iowa in 1857. He leaves nine surviving children, all grown up and married: Frank, John and Henry, living on farms in South Perry; Thomas, of Dinsdale; Jessie Carlile of Greene County, Iowa; Mary Dodd, of Des Moines; James, of Spokane, Wash.; Hugh, of Seattle, Wash.; Jean, wife of Wm. Dodd, Brainerd, Minn.

BARGAIN DAY RATES TO WORLD'S FAIR

Tickets Only $14.35 Good for Seven Days—The Cheapest Ever.

Reference to the Grand Trunk advertisement in another column, announces a marvellously cheap rate to the St. Louis World's Fair—$14.35, good for seven days, beginning November 9th.

This is a splendid chance for those whose time, or means, or both, are limited, to visit this exposition. It is also a splendid chance to form a party of congenial spirits. In the event of a party of at least twnety being formed, it will be personally conducted by Mr. W. Bunton, the popular up-town agent of the Grand Trunk. A Pullman will be attached to the Grand Trunk train leaving here at 11.45 a.m. for Toronto, where connection will be made with the International Limited, which will reach St. Louis the next day.

This is an offer unprecedented in its liberality. It gives four or five full days at the Exposition and a journey of about 1500 miles both ways at less than one cent per mile.

GUY FAWKES DAY WAS CELEBRATED

Tea and Entertainment at Downer's Corners Last Evening.

A very successful tea and entertainemnt was held in the Town Hall, Downer's Corners last evening, under the auspieces of the Orangemen of that section of the county. The affair was in every way a great success. There was a very large attendance, the tea was a first-class one and the programme was one of high merit.

After the tea, a progvamme of a literary and musical nature was supplied, the chairman for the evening being Mr. Waldie, Master of the lodge. Several very enjoyable vocal solos and recitations were given and addresses were delivered by Ald. Batten and Rev. J. A. Wilson. The former spoke of the history of the Orange Order and of the objects which it represented. He spoke of the prosperity which the society was enjoying and of its widespread influence. Rev. Mr. Wilson referred briefly to the past history of the Order, and of the principles which it espoused and stated that while it might be a good thing to be an Orangeman, it was something better to be a man. He spoke of true manhood as a characteristic which all should possess and thought the Orangeman could no be true to their Order, and live up to its principles without being first men in the true sense of the word.

At the close of the meeting a bugh bonfire was lighted in a field near the hall when an effigy of Guy Fawkes was burned to the stake.

Sale of Work and High Tea.

The ladies of St. Paul's church will hold a sale of work and high tea in the Sunday School Room of the Church on Thursday afternoon and evening, Nov. 10th; tea served from 6 to 8. Admission to tea 25 cents.

ARMIES NOW FIGHT HAND TO HAND

Japs Drive Effective Wedge Into Russian Centre.

GEN. STOESSEL IN LAST DITCH

Climax of the Bombardment of Port Arthur on Saturday Afternoon was a Superb Spectacle--Only 40 Feet Separate the Contending Forces--Russian Officer Killed in a Personal Conflict

Chicago, Nov. 8.—A Daily News special from Daisy, Nov. 6, via Kobe, Nov. 7, says:

"After three days of continuous bombardment of Port Arthur, which caused extensive destruction to the Shojusan and Niryusan forts, in the west centre of the Russian line of defence, and also to Keekwan fort, the right wing of the Japanese army assaulted Shojusan yesterday afternoon. Having carried the approaches to that height the assailants entrenched themselves under the glacis of the forts. In the evening the left wing delivered an assault on Keekwan, fighting its way to the lower parapet. There the Japanese held their ground stubbornly in the face of Russian counter attacks.

"Having been reinforced during the night, the Russians charged down upon the Japanese and desperate hand to hand conflicts ensued. The Japanese beat back the enemy and destroyed two covered positions in the front moat. A Japanese sub-lieutenant with 30 volunteers then succeeded in making his way to the rear of the fort. There he engaged in a personal conflict with a Russian officer and killed him. Having discovered two more defences in the rear of the moat, the sub-lieutenant withdrew his force, losing two men.

"Later in the night the advanced position of the Japanese was taken and retaken twice. The besiegers succeeded in holding the approaches and constructing trenches connecting them with the army's front parallel. At dawn numbers of dead were visible on the slope. Fort P, north of the new and old batteries in the left centre of the line of defence, was captured by the severe fighting of the night. These operations have successfully driven an effective wedge into the Russian centre. Severe explosions and extensive fires have occurred in the fortress within the last few days. The total casualties of the Japanese in the late attacks were 1,100. Over 600 were killed up to Oct. 29. The spirit of the men is magnificent. The firing of all the guns is wonderfully effective.

"The climax to the late bombardment came between 4 and 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon. It was a superb spectacle. Every fort of the enemy was engaged and the fighting in the trenches was constant and severe. The outposts of the contending forces were only 40 feet apart. At 1 o'clock yesterday morning one of the Japanese trenches collapsed into a Russian gallery. The enemy being surprised underground, fled in confusion."

Czar Masses All His Forces.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—The necessity for officers for service at the front has resulted in the mobilization of all reserve officers in St. Petersburg, Vilna, Warsaw, Kieff, Odessa, Moscow, Kazan and the Caucasus. The loss of officers at Liaoyang and below Mukden was about 1,300. The mobilization, while intended to supply the deficiency, is also necessitated by the grand scale on which the war in the Far East is to be prosecuted.

Kuropatkin Acts.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—The news from the front indicates that Gen. Kuropatkin is devoting his attention chiefly to keeping the Japanese busy along the line of their fortifications below the Shakhe River.

Within Hailing Distance.

Mukden, Nov. 8.—The Russian and Japanese armies, extending from Bentsiaputze east to Liao River west, at places are almost within a stone's throw of each other. At Bentsiaputze not more than 400 yards separate the advance posts, and at Sinchinpu, on the Shakhe River, just west of the railway and 15 miles south of Mukden, the Japanese and Russians occupy the extreme ends of the same village.

At Humgshantse the Russian centre has thrown advance posts across the Shakhe River. Both armies are still strengthening their positions all along the lines. The slightest movement on either side is the signal for firing, which occasionally lasts all night. The Russians are using six-inch guns.

The Japanese on Saturday night attacked some of the Russian outposts in considerable force, but the Russians had been warned and the Japanese were repulsed. They were not able to take away all their killed or wounded, leaving 28 bodies on the field. The Russians lost only nine men.

South of the Tumen.

New York, Nov. 8.—A despatch to The Herald from Wonson, Corea, Oct. 28, via Che Foo, Nov. 6, says that 15,000 Russian troops are south of the Tumen River, with 33 guns. Of these 6,000 of the main body are quartered at Kyungsung, 2,000 along the coast in town garrisons, and 4,000 cavalry are thrown out westward in small bodies, menacing the Japanese lines of communication and railway construction between Pingyen and Wiju by frequent cross-country raids. The remainder of 3,000 are operating in strong scouting detachments to the southward at Peacheng, south of Hoeasan.

Grant Hall Handed Over.

Kingston, Nov. 8.—Last evening Grant Hall, which cost $40,000, was handed over to Queen's University authorities. The ceremony took place before a brilliant gathering in the hall.

Wife Murderer Pleads Guilty.

Winnipeg, Nov. 8.—Taylor, who murdered his wife in Winnipeg recently, pleaded guilty at the Winnipeg fall assizes on Saturday afternoon. He is in an advanced stage of consumption, and although he will be sentenced, it is hardly likely he will live till the day he is to be executed.

Italian Election Returns.

Rome, Nov. 8.—Definite returns show that all the members of the Cabinet have been re-elected. The Government has been victorious over the extremists, who lost twenty seats. Signor Nasi, former Minister of Public Instruction, and a fugitive from justice, accused of peculation, was re-elected unanimously by his fellow townsmen at Trapani. Signor Palizzolo, who is considered to be the head of the Mafia Secret Society, was defeated at Palermo.

Asphyxiated in Bed.

Niagara Falls, Nov. 8.—William Fenwick, aged 24 years, employed on the power works, was found dead in bed about 1.50 o'clock yesterday morning by his room-mate, William Solvey, who, upon entering the room, was almost overcome by escaped gas. The deceased came from Sault Ste. Marie, where his parents reside.

Child Killed By Gun.

Quebec, Nov. 8.—Getting out of its bed early Sunday morning, while its parents were asleep, Mary Christine, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Connell, St. Valier street, secured a bottle of gin and drank a large quantity, dying from the effects later in the day.

To Be Tried By Judge.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Charles Sach, the Doon boy, charged with manslaughter in having killed his sister, Mary Sach, by shooting on Oct. 24, was arraigned before Judge Chisholm Saturday morning and elected to be tried by the judge rather than by jury. Barrister H. J. Sims appeared for the prisoner, and Crown Attorney Bowlby for the Crown. The trial was fixed for Friday, Nov. 18, at 10 a.m. The prisoner will not be fourteen years old until Nov. 19, and the code provides that in the case of a prisoner under that age being charged with manslaughter the Crown must establish that the accused was competent to know the consequences of his conduct and to appreciate that it was wrong.

Shot His Own Father.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—Edward Howard was shot and instantly killed yesterday by his son Arthur, aged 21 years, while the elder man had his wife and daughter pinned to the floor by their throats. Howard was so holding them when Arthur came in. He secured a revolver and caught hid father by the shoulders. As the father turned the revolver was discharged accidentally, Arthur and his mother insist. Howard died and the young man is under arrest.

Str. Germanic Burned.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—The steamer Germanic, owned by Hutchinson & Co. of Cleveland, and valued at $45,000, was burned to the water's edge yesterday, in the St. Clair River. The Germanic had been aground since Friday morning, and was loaded with 2,000 tons of soft coal.

Dirty Lassa.

Lhassa is a dirty town, according to the Englishmen who have seen it. "Black pools of water," writes a correspondent, "has flooded the wide, uneven space into which we emerged, and even the Chinese quarter to the right of us was dirtier than Chinese sections generally are. The main drain of the town runs fetidly between black mud banks, and in the open square before the Chinese amban's residence herds of black pigs rooted in rubbish heaps, which were more than usually repulsive in composition. To the left the houses of a few ragyabas, or professional scavengers, were betrayed by the famous horn walls, which no visitor to Lhassa has failed to notice. Perhaps the sight of those walls reminded one of that other duty of the ragyabas—the cutting up and distribution to animals of the corpses of the dead. The cemetery is only a few steps away, and the reputed food of Lhassa pigs became in fact a disgustingly probable reflection."

Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1904.

ALAS, POOR CANADA.

Canada is open to an unopposed invasion, and gobblement, by the United States, any day that country takes the "notion"—as the result of the elections of November 3rd. The nations' verdict declared that Lord Dundonald's services were not particularly wanted, and Mr. Seymour Gourley, the fire-eating member of Parliament, who from his place in the House, single handed, hurled defiance, if no more lethal weapon, into the teeth of Uncle Sam, has been cashiered. With Seymour Gourley in the firing line, and Colonel Sam Hughes in reserve, the country felt, and was safe. With Seymour sulking in his tent, and Sam deserting his ranks to give place to the pacific Mr. Borden, our defences are indeed laid low. After Uncle Sam is through with his elections, and the World's Fair, we may expect him any fine morning to saunter over the border and take possession of this doomed country, to set up his calico flag on the ramparts of Quebec, and burn a few "niggers" on the Plains of Abraham, by way of inaugurating the reign of the new civilization. Why, it is asked, in the name of our suffering country, did we send Dundonald home? Why did the electors of Colchester lay the axe to Seymour Gourley's neck? Why, at this crisis of our national existence, does Sam Hughes propose to lay his armour by? At at the moment of the triumph of the Liberal party, when Canada was about to enter upon doing a bigger business on the front street of the Empire, to get such a set back is disquieting.

BELLVILLE'S BALLOT BOX ROORBACK.

(Kingston Whig.)

On election day a telegram from Belleville politicians was circulated about the city. It announced the discovery and confiscation of five boxes which were meant, it was alleged, for election purposes, and by the operation of a handle in which ballots could be switched from one compartment to another.

The Intelligencer went further, and announced, in its issue of Thursday that four hundred of these boxes had been brought into Canada from the United States, and that thirteen of them had been put into West Hastings.

How any one of them clumsy in construction and faulty in looks could possibly be palmed off as a ballot box passes understanding. The evidence is lacking that they were ever seriously meant for election purposes—beyond the information which the reported discovery of them produces.

The truth seems to be that Mr. Porter, the Conservative member-elect, is the only one who knows anything about the boxes. He claims to have got a hint regarding their whereabouts, that he sent two young men to the country in search of them, that they secured the boxes at the house of one Lott, a brother of the Liberal candidate. But Mr. Lott does not know anything about them, and the young men who conveyed the boxes to the city say they do not know the man who served them and could not identify them.

The returning officer, Mr. Williams, a resident of Belleville, is pronounced by the Intelligencer as "a gentleman' and he knows nothing about the boxes. Neither are Mr. Corby and Sir Mackenzie Bowell possessed of any special knowledge respecting them, and yet these persons signed the telegram which was sent all over the country on election day, and which indicated that an awful political crime had been detected.

The Liberals of Belleville are warranted in making an investigation and in throwing on E. Gus Porter and his allies the onus of proving that any attempt was made by the Liberal party to interfere in any way with the election. At present the case bears an ugly look. Appearances suggest a vile conspiracy on the part of the Conservative party to discredit the Liberal candidate in West Hastings, and it is hoped he will not rest until all the facts in connection with the case have been made known.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Carleton, (New Brunswick,) Sentinel, wins the guessing contest. The day before the polling, its forecast of the result was a government majority of 61.

A despatch from Ottawa to La Presse, Montreal, gives currency to the rumour that Hon. A. B. Aylesworth is to be made chairman of the Railway Commission in succession to Hon. Mr. Blair.

The Hamilton Conservatives invoked the spirit of Sir John to help them in the elections — by decorating his monument, which for years past has been neglected. Sir John didn't seem to fall in with the remains of the party he once led — and to victory, too. One of the Hamiltons he he had made solid, was lost to the Liberals.

The theory of a solid Quebec for Laurier has been upset by the result of the late elections. Quebec gives the Liberal Government a majority of 43. Take this out of the reckoning altogether and the Government majority would be reduced to 21, quite enough to carry on the affairs of the country.

The Peterborough Review has discovered another terrible crime of the unspeakable Grits, "Mechanical machinery was invented," etc. Reference is probably made to the alleged bogus ballot boxes of Belleville, which, many think, were placed by Conservatives in their interest, where they were found by Conservatives, or somebody acting in their interests. It would seem that the Porter was a little too fresh that time.

Our Conservative friends can't take a beating with good grace. In Quebec, Premier Parent has had the Local Legislature dissolved, and will appeal to the province for a judgment on his record, and the Conservative Opposition have decided to ignore the call to the conflict — they will nominate no candidates. One frequently hears of the representation of an odd constituency being allowed to go by acclamation, but this is the first case in the history of responsible government when a general election has been allowed to go by default. The result of the Dominion elections showed that the Conservative party was considerably demoralized, but no one expected the panic that has seized the Quebec Conservatives.

La Presse, an independent journal published in Montreal, gives the following reasons for Sir Wild Laurier's hold on Quebec. Speaking of the large majorities gained in Quebec, by the Liberal candidates, La Presse says: "The result is due, without doubt, to the personal prestige of the Premier, to his great popularity, and to the sincere sentiment of admiration and devotion with which he has been able to inspire all his compatriots, by his noble character, by his high intellectual qualities, his genius for public affairs, and the most scrupulous rectitude of all his actions." It adds that "the Conservative party can never hope to regain its ancient ascendancy in Quebec so long as its permits itself to be directed in its external, as well as internal organization, by those who have conducted the recent contest."

A LOYAL BLACKSMITH.

When Charles I., was dethroned, the Commonwealth ordered the destruction of the quaint statue of His Majesty now standing in front of Trafalgar Square, and a blacksmith offered to make knives and small articles out of the iron if he were allowed to break it up. His request was granted, and soon afterwards numerous medals purporting to have been struck from the iron, and bearing the King's head, were distributed to devotees of the unfortunate monarch. At the time of the Restoration the delight of the Royalists was unbounded, when the blacksmith proudly made known that the statute was still preserved intact, and he dug it up from his garden, where it had lain during the troublesome times. In appearance the medals he made are little iron discs about one and one-half inches in diameter, stamped with the head of Charles I., and it is needless to say, remarks London Opinion that owing to their unique associations, they are greatly prized by collectors who are fortunate enough to secure a specimen. —St. James' Gazette.

Severe Chest Colds And Painful Coughs

Demand Prompt and Active Treatment.

The great danger in troubles of this class is "delay." Don't neglect a Cough or Cold, it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected—Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Asthma, Catarrh and Consumption will surely follow the neglect to cure.

The first dose of

will ease the cough, soothe the inflamed throat and loosen the phlegm.

Mrs. Joseph Paradis, Blackwell, Ont., writes:—I had such a bad cold I could hardly breathe. I noticed Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so had my husband get me two bottles—I had only used one before I was cured. I recommended it to a friend, and two bottles cured her after other remedies had failed—we both keep it in the house now and would not be without it. It is the best cough medicine I have ever taken."

Price 25 cents per bottle.

DR. YOAKUM'S STORY OF CURE

How he Came to Believe in Divine Healing.

Eminent Doctor, who is at Present in Town, Tells a Wonderful Story.

Dr. Yoakum, whose services in the Bethany Tabernacle have created such interest, tells the story of his healing in a booklet, issued by himself, in the following terms:—

I am forty-five years of age, I have been practicing medicine for twenty-three years. My present place of residence is Los Angeles, I am in good health, strong, and able to do more work than in any former period of my life.

In 1894, I was practicing medicine in Denver, Col. Riding on a Broadway car in that city, July 18th, on my way to organize a Class Leaders' Association of the Methodist Church, I got off, at 8 p. m., at the Crossing of Cedar Street. A drunken man was driving a horse furiously down the street at the time, and when I was fifteen feet away from the street car the shaft of this buggy struck my body two inches to the left of my spine, breaking the seventh and eighth ribs, and hurling me forward. The concussion was so great that the horse was thrown backward on his haunches. Before the horse could recover himself, a policeman, who was on duty at the crossing, had arrested the driver.

The blow I received sent me to the ground, breathless and speechless. Two carloads of people, one on either side of Cedar Street, saw the rundown, and the conductors and passengers on both cars came hastily to my assistance. When I saw them coming, there flashed into my mind the scripture: "The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him." I had perfect peace and calmness in my soul.

I was lifted upon my feet by the two conductors, one of whom pressed his hand upon my breast over my heart, while the other sustained my back. By this means I was enabled to breathe but not to speak. I was, as you may imagine, in great pain.

They carried me into a near grocery-store and physicians were sent for. In an hour the ambulance arrived. I had not then recovered speech. The doctors placed me carefully in the ambulance, two of them riding with me, their hands resting upon my breast. I was driven five miles to my home.

The Street-car Co's physician had hastily visited my home, and had informed my wife of the accident, and that the doctor's corpse, most likely, was coming; that I had been telephoned to him that I had been fatally injured.

When I arrived home I was still unable to speak, and could only breathe intermittently. The pain on breathing was indescribable. The doctors bandaged, plastered, poulticed, and filled me. At the end of eight days they thought I was greatly improved, and permitted me to sit up. I was dressed and went into the parlour. The exertion caused me to sneeze violently. This brought back the same sensations as I had experienced eight days before: I became breathless and speechless.

The doctors concluded that I was dying. They thought that a hemorrhage had taken place in the pleural cavity—which contains the heart and lungs. Their opinion was, a first hemorrhage had taken place when I was first struck by the shaft of the buggy, and now a second hemorrhage had set in. They decided that the only thing that could be done was to cut out a part of the seventh rib. That was done, seven or eight doctors being present, the chief surgeon operating. Two gallons of blood were let. After the operation was over, the surgeon cleaned his instruments, remarked to my wife: "The doctor is dead"; and left the house. Two days afterward he met the attending physician and said, he was watching the papers to see when doctor Yoakum's funeral would take place! The physician replied: "That crazy Yoakum says he is not going to die; but we know he will." I was many times given up for dead; my friends expected my decease hourly. The wound the surgeon made kept open about four months, discharging a foul pus, sometimes having the odor of a rotten egg.

I was impressed to come to Southern California, against the wishes of my friends and family. Here the wound closed up externally, and my health continued to decline, fever never leaving me for eight months. My side grew larger and larger, filling with this foul pus.

Now to go back a little. The night before the surgeon performed the operation upon me, I had a vision. I had the same vision twice before—once when I was converted twenty-seven years previously, and the second time when I was sanctified, which was four years before the accident. In my vision I saw the Lord, walking in the cool of the trees. His words to me were: "My brother: be of good cheer; I will heal you; you will not die. Do not fear; only trust me, as you did when you were converted, and sanctified." The words of the vision have never been erased from my memory. Amid the discouragement of thirty-two doctors pronouncing my case hopeless and death certain, I never lost courage, but believed I would be healed.

I could not sleep except under morphine, and every breath caused me great pain in my body. It was impossible for me to climb three steps without resting. It seemed the grave was opening before me, and my wife, nurse and friends expected every day the end to come.

Two months before my physical healing, the doctors said my left kidney was over large and that death from blood poisoning was imminent. The pain extending from left kidney to my heart was so great, that in my loneliness, with my wife sick in an adjoining room—in my utter helplessness and utter necessity—I cried to the Father to "Take me home"; that the pain was greater than I could bear. While lying there, waiting for Him to answer my prayer, a great warm hand was slipped under my left side and firmly pressed on my back; and from that moment I knew that my kidney trouble was healed, and I have never been troubled since with any ailment of that kind.

Two months after this I heard of the Christian Alliance, and that they prayed in Jesus' name for the sick.

I went down to 1071-3 North Main Street, Los Angeles, and with the help of two brethren, resting three times, I was taken into the hall.

Brother W. C. Stevens asked me my desire. I said, I came to be healed in Jesus' name. After a few words of exhortation, they annointed me, laid their hands on me and prayed, claiming the fulfillment of the promise recorded in James 5:15, "the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up." My pain was more than I could endure—every joint seemed to be pulling asunder, every bone breaking, I told them, I must go home.

Two brethren helped me downstairs. I suffered greater pain than I had known since I was first stricken. At the foot of the stairway, there is a flag-stone three inches above the pavement, and as the brethren let go of me I stepped from the flag-stone with my right foot, with my left foot toward the street below. Somewhere between the flag-stone and the pavement—as already said, only three inches below—the Lord made me a free man! He delivered me from the power of the devil; the prayer of faith did save the sick, the Lord did raise me up!

As I went from the curb-stone to the carriage, my whole thought was to go home and tell my precious wife; and as I went staggering into the house, light-hearted and free, my wife looked up and said: "Darling, how is it?" "Wife!" I said, "I am well!" I expected to hear her shout "Glory!" but instead I observed the most incredulous expression upon her sweet face; as good as to say: "Poor fool! those people told you to say you were healed, and now you believe it." I said: "Wife! get me some beef-steak and bread quick!"; for I was hungry, the first time for months. It was the first time I had asked for something to eat that I had really desired it. She speedily prepared it; and oh, how sweet, how sweet it was! I was so ravenous that I could not wait to use my knife and fork; but, taking it into my hands, devoured it like a hungry dog. I then said: "Wife! fix my bed; I am sleepy." She then, with increased haste and confidence, prepared my bed for me.

It was many months since I wanted to go to bed when I was up, or desired to get up when reclining. I slept from nine o'clock that night until eight next morning; and awoke feeling that I was indeed healed of the Lord—made "every whit whole!" That was the fifth of February, 1896.

When I was stricken down I weighed 225 lbs.; when I was healed, I weighed 100 lbs. Three months after I was healed, I weighed 190 lbs., having gained just one pound a day! Now I weigh 228 lbs.—three pounds more than I weighed when I was injured.

I want to state that my heart had become misplaced, and that the doctors pronounced my left lung entirely gone. The morning after my healing, I felt my heart beat 52 to the minute, when previously it had been running from 120 to 160 per minute.

"My nurse, Brother Lindsay, said to me: "What about that pus, doctor? Will you not have a surgeon to take it out?" I had never thought of the pus poisoning my system; and I asks dfor the Holy Spirit to guide me. Quickly I looked up and said: "Brother Lindsay! I have taken Jesus as my physician, and I now take Him as my surgeon." Immediately there was a gurgling sound and the pus came out through my bronchial tubes, filling a vessel, and scenting the house with a foul odor as a rotten egg, so that nobody could stay in the room.

I have been examined repeatedly by physicians, and they have pronounced my left lung in as good condition as any one's; especially Dr. J. W. Exline of Denver, Colo., who was with me for four months. He examined me ten months after I was healed, and publicly at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Los Angeles, pronounced me a well man; and said, that nothing but the unseen Hand could have thus marvellously restored me. (His testimony follows this article.)

After our brother had related this experience of the Lord's healing to an immense audience, he called for those who were sick and, wanted prayer in Jesus' name for their recovery, also for sinners who desired salvation, to come forward; when, it is estimated, as many as two hundred persons responded. The peculiarity of it was, that many of those who came for healing were the doctor's own patients—doctor Yoakum uses natural remedies and skill for those who have not faith to take Jesus as their physician—upon seeing which our brother humorously remarked to Brother Merritt, of New York, who was standing beside him at the time, he believed he would have to hunt himself a new calling.

"And it came to pass that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux; to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him. So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed." (Acts 28:8, 9.)

IN EVERY COUNTRY AND EVERY CLASS

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are Carrying on Their Great Campaign Against all Stomach Troubles.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have reached out into nearly every country, and into every class of society. Indigestion and Dyspepsia are everywhere and where they are found there will also be found Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets rescuing people from discomfort and suffering. You can read of the great work they are doing almost every day. People who find life once more worth living are telling about it.

Mr. W. Lacay, formerly a captain of the Salvation Army in Hamilton, but now a resident of British Columbia, says:

"I was troubled for eight years with Dyspepsia. I have had it so bad I could not work. I tried different remedies but could not get a permanent cure. I used one box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and now I can eat anything. I am cured, and I want other sufferers to know Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure them."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavour similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of Pooleville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by all druggists.

Fire At Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Nov. 8.—About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the residence of Miss Anna Dregar on the corner of Regent and Centre streets was discovered on fire. The alarm was given, and the fire brigade was soon on the scene. In a short time they had the flames under control. The fire is said to have been caused by a defective grate. The damages will reach nearly $1,000, fully covered by insurance in the Royal.

PERMANENCE OF CURE.

The Chief Merit

Many so-called pile remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of sufferers do not expect more than this. Women, especially, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of Piles, have come to the conclusion that there is no cure except by operation. This is rightly viewed with dread, because of the shock to the delicate nervous system of women, and many of those afflicted have resigned themselves to the situation, with never a thought that there is any help in sight for them.

We invite the attention of all such to the experience of the lady whose address is given below.

"I feel it my duty to recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure, for after suffering for ten years with a most distressing form of Piles, I am entirely cured, thanks to this remedy. Anyone doubting this can write to Margaret Brady, 156 Whitman st., Cleveland, Ohio."

Ten months later she writes, "I am glad to say that I am still perfectly free from Piles, and I have not had the slightest trouble since I first used your remedy. I am well known in Cleveland, and have advertised Pyramid Pile Cure extensively here. I take pleasure in doing so, as it saved me from an operation, which I always dreaded, and you are assured the remedy can have no firmer advocate than I."

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical that Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures but cures to stay cured. It is in the form of a suppository; can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected, and does its work quickly and painlessly.

Druggists sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package, and we urge all sufferers to buy a package now, and give it a trial to-night. Accept no substitutes.

Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the cause and cure of Piles, which is sent free for the asking.

The Lemin Assault Case.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—"We find the prisoner guilty of assault with intent to murder, with a recommendation to mercy," said the foreman of the jury in the Criminal Assize Court after two considerations of the charge. "Upon what grounds do you base your request for mercy?" asked Chief Justice Falconbridge. "Upon his previous character and not abusing his family," replied the foreman. His Lordship deferred the passing of sentence on Malcolm Lemin, who was found guilty of this serious charge, until he learns something further about the character of the convicted man.

CAPITOL DESERTED

Even the President Has Gone Home to Cast His Ballot.

BROTHER JONATHAN VOTING

Betting Favors Roosevelt By 6 to 1 On the General Result—$2,000,000 Wagered On the National and State Tickets in New York City—But Despite the Betting Democrats Are As Confident As Republicans.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 8.—A few hours before the balloting in the Presidential contest finds the national capitol practically deserted by qualified electors. From every department of the Government hundreds of officials and clerks have gone home to vote.

Only two members of the Cabinet, Secretaries Hay and Morton, were in the city last night. On account of his health Secretary Hay felt that he ought not to make the trip to Ohio at this time, and Secretary Morton is detained here by important business in the Navy Department.

Arrangements have been completed for the President's trip to Oyster Bay, where he goes to cast his vote. A special car for the accommodation of the President and his party will be attached to the regular Pennsylvania Railroad train, which leaves here for New York at 12.30 a.m. Mr. Roosevelt will be accompanied by Secretary Loeb and several White House attaches who will also vote at Oyster Bay.

Both Sides Confident.

The President will remain at Oyster Bay only long enough to cast his ballot, returning in time to catch the 1.14 train for Washington. The party is scheduled to arrive here at 6.16 o'clock. Returns of the election will be received by the President at the White House. At the headquarters of both parties last night the utmost confidence is expressed. Betting on the result has been heavier in Washington than ever before. The odds on the general result are at 5 to 1 in favor of Roosevelt and Fairbanks, but many wagers have been made at shorter odds. The interest of bettors centres on New York. Odds of 2 to 1 have been offered that Roosevelt would carry the State, and they have been accepted. Many wagers have been recorded also on the result in Maryland and in West Virginia, but Republican money is as scarce on the former State as Democratic money is on the latter.

$200,000 Wagered On Result.

New York, Nov. 8.—The betting on the presidential result was livelier yesterday than at any other time during the campaign. It is estimated that nearly $200,000 were wagered on the Broad street curb and in the various hotels. The ruling odds were 6 to 1 on Roosevelt on the general result; two to one that Roosevelt will carry New York State, and 2 to 1 that Herrick will defeat Higgins for the governorship. One bet on the president was of $5,000 to $8000. One man offered $50,000 or any part of it at odds of 5 to 1 on Roosevelt without takers. The heaviest state bet was $10,000 to $8,500 on Herrick. Another Herrick bet was $10,000 to $6,000.

On national and state tickets it is estimated that $2,000,000 has been wagered in New York City.

AGAIN DISCUSSED.

Another Protest Against Relinquishment of French Rights in Newfoundland.

London, Nov. 8.—The Anglo-French Convention again was discussed yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies, Paris. M. Suchetet protested against the relinquishment of French rights in Newfoundland, expressed the fear that the rights of French subjects would not be respected and referred to regulations which might possibly be framed by the Newfoundland Legislature.

Premier Delcasse interposed that if such regulations paralyzed the exercises of French rights, the French Government would address itself directly to the Imperial Government.

Mr. Suchetet went on to relate the grievances suffered by French from the hands of the Newfoundlanders, and described what was conceded to France as a deceitful mirage. The inhabitants of St. Pierre and Miquelon were dissatisfied and prepared to accept union with the United States.

The discussion was adjourned.

Cowan Goes to U.T.P.

Windsor, Nov. 8.—M. K. Cowan, K. C., member for Essex in the last Parliament, has gone to Montreal and arranged the removal of his family to that city on Dec. 1. Mr. Cowan will enter the offices of the solicitor for the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways, and will permanently reside in Montreal.

Chief Reduced to Ranks.

Berlin, Nov. 8.—The resignation of Chief of Police Winterbalt has been accepted. Last week he was suspended by the police commission for having been drunk on duty. He will, however, be retained on the force, being reduced to the rank of a constable. P. C. George O'Neill was appointed acting chief.

Immediate Agreement.

London, Nov. 8.—Colonial Secretary Lyttelton, in a speech at Leamington yesterday, said there was an excellent hope of the almost immediate agreement by Russia to all of Great Britain's demands in connection with the North Sea affair.

Fatal Fall Downstairs.

Belleville, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Samuel Robinson, an aged lady of this city, fell down stairs a few days ago, receiving internal injuries, which caused her death at the hospital Sunday night. She was 79 years of age.

When a Sore Won't Heal.

Because of its power to heal raw, flaming flesh, to allay the inflammation and stop the dreadful itching, Dr. Chase's Ointment has a world wide reputation. If you have become discouraged by the failure of other treatments put Dr. Chase's Ointment to the test. Like thousands of others you will be surprised and delighted with the results.

A UNIQUE RESOLUTION.

Two Conservatives Move Resolution in Ottawa City Council Congratulating Sir Wilfrid Laurier On His Victory.

At the meeting of the Ottawa City Council Monday night something unique in the way of a resolution was passed. Sir Wilfrid Laurier as a citizen of Ottawa was congratulated on his success in the recent elections, and the motion was moved by two Conservatives, Ald. Stroud and Ald. Champagne, the latter being one of the recently defeated Conservative candidates in the city.

An Ottawa Globe Special says: A meeting of the Cabinet will be held on Wednesday, when important developments are looked for. Mr. Aylesworth has been offered a seat in Gaspe, and it is believed he will accept. He may be sworn in as a member of the Cabinet on Wednesday. Gossip has been busy with Mr. Fitzpatrick's plans, and it is quite within the bounds of probability that he may retire from politics at an early date. Mr. Fitzpatrick himself yesterday morning pronounced the reports concerning himself to be all "poppycock." Nevertheless there is a persistent rumor that he will succeed Sir Henry Taschereau as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Borden to Go South.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 8.—R. L. Borden left Halifax yesterday morning to spend a few days with his mother in King's County. Mr. Blount, his private secretary, said yesterday afternoon that he had received several offers of seats, but for the present he would give no definite answer to any of them. Mr. Borden is feeling the effects of the hard work of the campaign, and shortly after he returns from King's County he and Mrs. Borden will go south for a complete rest.

Chancellor Boyd and Mr. Justice Teetzel on Monday gave judgment awarding Dr. Snider, the petitioner, in the North Norfolk election trial, $230 costs for witness fees.

The Dominion Cabinet will hold a session on Wednesday. Premier Laurier visited Lord Minto at Government House Monday at noon. He declined to be interviewed as to his choice between Quebec East and Wright.

IT IS IMPORTANT

To Know What You are Taking When Using Catarrh Medicines.

Catarrh is the short route to consumption, and the importance of early and judicious treatment of catarrh, whether located in the head, throat or bronchial tubes, cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The list of catarrh cures is as long as the moral law and the forms in which they are administered, numerous and confusing, from sprays, inhalers, washes, ointments, and salves to powders, liquids and tablets.

The tablet form is undoubtedly the most convenient and most effective, but with nearly all advertised catarrh remedies it is almost entirely a matter of guess work as to what you are taking into your system, as the proprietors, while making all sorts of claims as to what their medicines will do, always keep it a close secret as to what they are.

The success and popularity of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is largely because it not only cures catarrh but because catarrh sufferers who used these tablets know what they are taking into their systems. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets being composed of Red Gum, Blood Root and similar valuable and antiseptic ingredients, and are pleasant to the taste and being dissolved in the mouth they take immediate effect upon the mucous lining of the throat, nasal passages and whole respiratory tract.

The cures that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have accomplished in old chronic cases of catarrh are little short of remarkable, and the advantage of knowing what you are putting into your stomach is of paramount importance when it is remembered that the cocaine or morphine habit has been frequently contracted as the result of using secret catarrh remedies.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets meet with cordial approval from physicians, because their antiseptic character render them perfectly safe for the general public to use and their composition makes them a common sense cure for all forms of catarrhal troubles.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized packages.

Editor Jaffray Injured.

Galt, Nov. 8.—J. P. Jaffray, editor of The Galt Reporter, met with a very serious accident in Preston on Saturday evening. While attempting to board the front end of a moving street car he missed the step, and the wheels passed over his foot, crushing it terribly. Mr. Jaffray was removed to the Galt Hospital, where his injuries were attended to. It is not yet certain whether the foot will have to be amputated or not.

AT THE STATE BALL

Most Brilliant Social Function Held at Rideau Hall.

INVESTED WITH HIS ORDER

A Novel Ceremony in Which Sir George Drummond Was the Central Figure—Description of the Investiture—Mr. Pottinger and the Misses Bourbonnais Also Honored—The Quadrille D'honneur.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—The State ball given at Rideau Hall last night by His Excellency the Governor-General was one of the most brilliant social functions which the annals of the capital afford. Being the last public entertainment of the present regime, there were many guests from Quebec, Toronto, Kingston, London, Montreal and other outside towns, all gathered to say farewell to one of the most popular families who have yet reigned at Government House. Very early in the evening the guests assembled in the ball room, being received upon their arrival by Captain Bell, aide-de-camp-in-waiting. Promptly at 9.55 o'clock their Excellencies entered, preceded by the honorary aides-de-camp and the officers of the household staff in brilliant uniforms, and followed by their charming elder daughters, the Ladies Eileen and Ruby Elliot. Through an aisle formed by ribbons held in place by soldiers in red coats and busbies they advanced to their places on the dais.

Invested With His Order.

There an interesting ceremony took place, notable as being performed for the first time in Canada—except by the Duke of York while here—that is the investiture of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, the honor recently conferred upon Sir George Drummond of Montreal. Major Maude read the warrant authorizing His Excellency to make the investiture; then Sir George, preceded by Capt. Bell, who bore the insignia of the order upon a crimson cushion and attended by Sir Jas. Grant and Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, advanced to the foot of the throne, and, bending upon one knee, received the tap of the sword upon his shoulders and arose.

The Quadrille D'honneur.

With similar ceremony Mr. Pottinger and Messrs. Bourbonnais received the insignia and Order of Companion of St. Michael and St. George, and then after a few moments spent in congratulation of the honored guests the quadrille d'honneur was danced.

In this Lord Minto danced with Lady Laurier, and Her Excellency with Sir Wilfrid, the Lady Eileen with Hon. Sydney Fisher, and Lady Ruby with Captain Claude Bell. The others being Lady Allan and General Lake, Mrs. Lake and Hon. A. G. Blair, Mrs. W. C. Edwards and Senator Casgrain, Madame Lavergne and Sir James Grant. Then dancing became general until supper time.

Head Caught and Crushed.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Death came suddenly and in a peculiar way to Thomas Cuff, an employe of the Frazee Cartage Co., yesterday afternoon.

He was on the seat of one of the large moving vans operated by the company which had been driven in to the wagon shed in rear of the storage house on College street. The driver alighted and went to the horses' heads to back the wagon under the shed. It did not go in as straight as was wanted, and he brought the horses forward again. As he did so, Cuff stood up for some reason and his head was caught and crushed between the hood over the driver's seat and the edge of the shed roof. When the horses were again backed, the body fell to the ground.

Dr. Ferguson was called, but death had been instantaneous. Coroner Elliott will open an inquest to-day. Cuff was about 50 years of age.

Caught By Steam.

Brantford, Nov. 8.—An Armenian, name unknown, was badly scalded at Waterous Engine works yesterday morning. He was working in a tank when the steam was accidentally turned on. Unable to escape the man beat frantically at the side of the tank, but those outside did not notice it for some time. As soon as it was noticed the steam was hurriedly turned off and the Armenian pulled out of the tank. He was badly scalded in the face, neck, hands and wrists, and all exposed parts.

Three Cars Jumped Track.

Brantford, Nov., 8.—The Grand Trunk Express No. 4, loaded with passengers, had a most close escape from a wreck Sunday morning. It was running between Princeton and Paris when the baggage and two passenger cars jumped the track. Strange to say, the accident was attended with no serious results. The coaches were not even overturned, and the passengers escaped with a bad jolting. The cause of the mishap could not be ascertained.

Libel On Our Cattle.

London, Nov. 8.—At a meeting of a branch of the Lancashire Farmers' Association on Saturday it was decided to petition the Board of Agriculture against the opening of ports to Canadian store stock, as desired by the Scotch and Norfolk graziers, because of the danger of importing disease and the disastrous effect it would have upon the rearing of young stock.

Body Found in Bay.

Port Arthur, Nov. 8.—The body of Thomas Kinleven was taken from the bay near the Canadian Northern dock last night. He was reported missing about a month ago, and had been employed at the Empire elevator.

Pitiful Helplessness.

Victims of nervous diseases are the most to be pitied, because their ailments usually terminate in mental or physical helplulness. Paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity can only be avoided by building up the nervous system at the first sign of trouble, and there is no preparation so well suited for this purpose as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great nerve restorer.

What precautions are you taking to secure perfectly pure food?

Perfect purity in food is very essential to perfect health. Yet how careless we are in regard to the purity of food we eat! Scrupulous cleanliness is absolutely necessary in the preparation and handling of food. Are you sure the food you eat gets it?

Delegates Reported.

At a meeting of the teachers of St. Paul's Sunday School last evening, the delegates to the recent Sunday school Convention in Hamilton, presented their reports. The delegates were Misses May Best and A. Williamson. Both presented full and comprehensive reports of the convention which lasted for three days. Miss Williamson dealt with the junior work, and Miss Best with that more advanced. The former also spoke in reference to the Kindergarten class, which was being successfully conducted in many schools, and which has recently been started in connection with St. Paul's.

ELECTRIC SMELTER FOR PETERBOROUGH

Report That a Smelter to Produce Pig Iron May be Established in Peterborough.

Completion of the Trent Valley Canal Will Make This Possible, is the Mayor's Opinion.

Will Use Iron Ore from the Belmont Mines at Blairton ---Cheap Power Here an Advantage.

The report of the Royal Commission, appointed by the Government, to investigate the question of the electric smelting of iron ore, has a greater significance for Peterborough than would appear at first sight, and the very great probability is that, with the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, a smelter, using electricity, will be established in, or near, Peterborough.

The Examiner is credibly informed that such an industry would be entirely practicable, and that already negotiations are under way for the establishment of such an industry. The present plan contemplates using ore from the Belmont mines at Blairton, which mines are only a short distance from the Trent River, and a short railway could be constructed to convey the ore from the mines to the waterway, or what would probably be the more feasible course, would be the deepening of the Orow River, which runs direct from the waterway to the mines, and which, it is believed, could be deepened quite cheaply to accommodate barges upon which the ore could be shipped direct to the smelter at Peterborough.

Smelting by electricity is a decided new departure in metallurgical operations, and it is a discovery which promises to completely revolutionize the iron and steel industry in this country. By the use of the new discovery it will be possible to establish smelters in parts of Canada where, if the old method of converting ore to metal were used, such establishment would be utterly impracticable, because of the distance from coal fields or charcoal forests.

By the use of electricity in the smelting operations, places such as Peterborough, where power may be obtained cheaply and in abundance, and where also there are ore fields, in a reasonably close proximity, will offer splendid advantages for the establishment of iron and steel works.

Peterborough is especially fortunate in the possession of two essential features, the combination of which places it in a position to offer superior facilities for iron manufacture under the new process. The first essential is the fact that there is lying at our doors practically an unlimited supply of electric power, and it is believed that there is only one place in Ontario where power in any quantity can be produced as cheaply as at Peterborough. This is the important item in the process of electric smelting. The second factor is the presence of a large body of first-class iron ore in the county, and in such a location that it can be cheaply and easily mined and shipped to Peterborough. The Belmont mines are a few miles only from the waterway and ore from this could easily be shipped here.

The older residents of this country remember when the Belmont Mines were operated under conditions, as far as shipping was concerned, which were incomparably inferior to those which the canal would make possible. In the early days the ore was shipped from the mines to the Trent River by rail, and then barges conveyed it to Harwood, where it was transhipped into railway cars again, and taken to Cobourg, where again barges were made use of for shipment across the lake to be once more shipped by rail to the smelters.

Compared with the easy method of shipment which the canal would make possible, this plan would seem to be entirely out of the question.

Mayor Roger was asked this morning by the Examiner, if he would be surprised to learn that an electric smelter was to be erected here, and he said that he would not. In fact if the canal were completed, as he now confidently believed that it would in the near future, Peterborough could offer inducements to every kind of industry, which would place this town far above every other town in the Dominion.

Interesting developments may be looked for along this line in the not distant future.

ORANGEMEN'S GOOD CONCERT.

Very Large Attendance at Foresters' Hall Last Evening.

Guy Fawkes Day was Commemorated a Splendid Literary and Musical Programme.

The Foresters' Hall was not sufficiently large last evening to accommodate the very large number of people which desired admittance to the annual concert under the auspices of the Diamond Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 80. This lodge commorates annually Guy Fawke's Day, Nov. 5, but as this date was on Saturday, the concert was postponed until last evening. In the point of attendance and as to the quality of the programme, the affair was in every way a grand success and must have been gratifying to those who had charge of the arrangements for the programme and specially to the chairman who had a prominent part in this work. Each number of the programme was well received and the frequent encores evidenced the warm appreciation of the audience.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt was chairman for the evening. The programme was opened with a well-played piano solo by Miss W. Anderson, which was followed by a vocal solo, "Heroes and Gentlemen," by Mr. R. N. Jolliffe, who responded to an encore. The chairman gave a short address in which he said that the large turnout evidenced the fact that the Orange Association in Peterborough was not without many friends and supporters. If there was ever a time when such an association was needed it was at the present time. It was not their aim or desire to stir up strife, but to preserve the blood bought principles; if their ancestors were willing to lay down their lives for these principles we, in the present age, should not allow them to be trampled upon. The Orange Association stood for the open Bible, for liberty of conscience and had the desire to see our country grow and prosper. There were strict principles to be observed and it was compulsory that all members observe these principles. The Association was an auxiliary to the church, and if a man were a true Orangeman he would be a true Christian. We needed more courageous men to stand up for Protestant rights and privileges.

Miss Nellie Davies sang in excellent voice and with artistic effect "An April Shower," and was heartily encored.

Rev. Mr. Whitelaw, of Omemee, County Grand Chaplain of the Orange Lodge, gave a short but earnest address. He made reference to the demonstration held here on July 12th, which showed that the Order was not dead or dying. He was glad to see a Methodist, Anglican and Presbyterian minister on the platform; if Orangemen did no hing more than to unite the hearts of these three denominations then it had no right to die. The speaker referred to the gunpowder plot and said that in the country in those days, there were plots along similar lines, although no gunpowder was used. He made reference to certain phases of the belief of the Roman Catholics, and also of the practice of allowing the Christian Brothers to teach, and claimed that they were not properly qualified to do so. Protestants, who were anxious for the best interests of their country, wanted to see the Catholic children educated as well as their own, and were enemies to the Roman Catholic system, but not to the people, whom he desired to see prosper. It was said that the Protestants were divided, and that the Catholics were united under one great head. The Protestants had one greater Head in Christ, and the speaker claimed that the Roman Catholics were more divided than the Protestants, giving his reasons for the statement. The Orange Lodge stood for equal rights for all, and special privileges for none; not to crush, but to uplift, and to unfurl the banner of liberty, and give to our Roman Catholic brethren the truth we love so well. Mr. Whitelaw said there was need for more men and women in the Order. There was a woman's Order, and he hoped that next year a concert would be held under the auspices of the ladies.

Mr. Jos. Halpany, the popular entertainer, made a hit with his humourous song? "Ain't it Funny what a Difference a Few Hours Make?" and was heartily encored. Mr. C. N. Brown gave a humorous reading, 'O'Rafferty's Sea Voyage," which was warmly received. Mr. R. A. Sutcliffe was very successful in his song, "When Father Laid the Carpet on the Stairs."

A piano solo by Miss Roadhouse was enjoyed, after which Miss Davies sang delightfully "A Japanese Love Song." Mr. Jos. Halpany gave a splendid interpretation of "Death Doomed," and as an encore recited by request, "The Statute of Liberty." Mr. Jos. Legg's pleasing tenor voice was heard to good advantage in the solo, "For the King."

Rev. Dr. Crothers gave a short address. He was very pleased to be present and to say a few words to the Orangemen of whose Order he was not a member but he was in entire sympathy with the cause of Orangeism. He congratulated the committee upon the excellent programme which had been presented and thought the thanks of the audience were due to the chairman who had taken such an active part in arranging the programme. He had great respect for the principles of the Orange Order. He told of a visit which he had had a few years ago to Derry, the town of "No Surrender," and described some points of interest there. Dr. Crothers believed that the Roman Catholics were mistaken in their ideas of what the objects of the Orangemen were for if any should be thankful for the existence of the Order, it should be the Roman Catholics. There was no country where the Roman Catholics enjoyed the freedom which they do under British rule. There were the priviliges of the Magna Charta, Petition of Rights, Bill of Rights, free press, the abolition of the system of Divine right of Kings, the fact that the people can be taxed only by parliament and other such privileges for which we should be thankful. He believed that the best system of Government in the world existed in England and here. The object of the Orange Order to have equal rights for all and special privileges to none was a laudable one and when the aims of the Order were better understood, the Order would be better supported.

Mr. Halpany sang "He M[illegible] Get Over it, But He'll Never Look the Same," in a manner which caused much mirth and applause. Mr. Brown gave another Irish reading which was followed by a solo, "Am I in the Way," by Mr. Sutcliffe, which brought a very enjoyable programme to a close.

After the programme refreshments were served.

The accompanists were Mr. J. L. Armstrong and Miss E. L. Jolliffe.

DEATH OF HIGHLY RESPECTED LADY

Mrs. John Bailey, of Emily Died Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday morning the death of Mrs. John Bailey occurred at the home of her son, Robert, of Emily Township, after an illness of only two days from heart disease. The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Ann Jane Birney, was the widow of the late John Bailey, and was 79 years of age. She came to Canada from Ireland, her birth-place, about 60 years ago, and was married shortly after to her late husband. She had been living in Emily township during the whole of her more than half a century's residence in Canada, and was greatly beloved by the many persons with whom she came into contact. She was for many years one of the most active members of the Bethel Methodist church, in the work of which she took a deep interest.

She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother, four sons and four daughters, as follows: Robert, of Emily; Sidney, of Emily; Mrs. Wm. J. Jackson, Emily; Mrs. Dundas, Peterborough; William Edward and Henry, of Carberry, also Mrs. W. T. Kerr and Mrs. Samuel Jackson, of Carberry.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, from the family residence, lot 21, concession 3, Emily, and proceed to the Emily Cemetery for interment.

"A WEEK AT ST. LOUIS"

Do you know that the Greatest Exposition ever held closes in six weeks, and that if you miss it you will also regret doing so. Every business man that is trying to keep abreast of the times can afford at least a week to see the World's best Exhibits, and it will be time and money well spent. Wide awake merchants are sending their bright young men and women to it. Why? Because it pays. Enormous Amounts for Advertising.

An American paper says:—"Statistics carefully compiled show that this country alone spends over a billion dollars a year for advertising—three times the value of the wheat crop, nearly five times that of the gold production, and ten times that of the iron industry. The reason is plain—it pays, when you have an article that people want, to let them know about it."

CROWDED HOUSE GREETS MARKS BROS.

A Splendid Show Last Evening at Opera House.

They're here again, as good as ever and as popular as ever.

Marks Bros' No. A1 Company opened a week's engagement at the opera house last evening and were given a hearty reception and a well deserved welcome. The hall was not nearly large enough to contain the great crowd which desired admittance, and after every available seating and standing room had been occupied, many had to be refused the pleasure of enjoying the entertainment. Crowded houses have greeted these performers at other places and there promises to be no exception to the rule in Peterborough.

The company is a strong one and present a clean, first-class show in every particular. Last evening a standard comedy-drama "The Man of Mystery" was presented in a most effective manner. All the principals acted their roles in a clever manner, but especial mention should be made of the work of Ernie Marks as Noah Lott, and M. S. Goldaine as Richard Glenwood, Harry Starr as Ned Keene, Edythe Winchester as [illegible] Burke and Kate Marsden as Flossie Glenwood. The costumes were very fine and the scenery generally, was good.

The specialities were above the ordinary and kept the audience in the best of good humour between the acts. Mrs. Kittie Marks and Miss Mabel Grace Purdon, gave a very pretty song and dance. Probasco, the juggler, did some very clever work, Nat Fergusson's song and dance was well received, Robt. Turner, the monologue artist kept the audience in continual laughter. Harry Starr sang "The Tie That Binds," and "The Valley of Shendoah," which were illustrated by splendid views and the moving pictures, operated by Joe Marks, were very good and included a daring train robbery. It was a good show from start to finish.

This evening "Tennessee's Partner" will be presented and to-morrow afternoon at the matinee "An Irish Hero" will be the attraction.

There will no doubt be a crowded house at every performance this week.

COUNTY POLICE COURT

Suspended Sentence for Franklin, Arrested for Theft.

Before Judge Edmison at the County Police Court this morning, judgment was given in the case against Alex. Franklin, who was charged with stealing sawlogs from the Dickson Co. He was found guilty, but on the request of the complainants was allowed to go on suspended sentence, after receiving a severe warning from the judge.

Joe. Moher was arrested in Douro last night by County Constable Cochrane. He is charged with stealing two calves from a neighbor, Maurice Condon, on or about October 6th. A search warrant was issued and the calves were found in the defendant's possession. He was allowed out on bail this morning, and will appear for trail at eleven o'clock on Thursday.

TRUSTEES CRITICISE SCHOOL EXPENDITURE

Regular Monthly Meeting of the Board of Education was Held Last Nigh

Mr. Stevenson Raises Important Question of Expenditure and of Keeping Children in After Hours.

Routine Business Transacted — Accounts Passed and Substitute Report of Property Committee Presented.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held last night in the Secretary's office.

The regular routine business of the Board was transacted, and a discussion on the improvements recently made to the schools also formed a portion of the evening's programme. It was precipitated by a report presented by the members of the Property Committee present. In the absence of the chairman of the committee, Mr. Morgan, after the presentation of the report called the attention of the Board to the fact that the furnace placed in the Fifth Ward school was the same kind as that which was in before, and which had proved unsatisfactory in the past. He thought that it was a pity to see so much money spent on a furnace which would not be any better than that in use before. He understood that the cost had been $135, and was informed by a member of the committee that the furnace now in use was the old one repaired.

Mr. Stevenson had two important matters to which he wished to direct the attention of the Board. One was the matter of expenditure, and he said that the council had been asked to submit a bylaw for the $300 for improvements to the schools, and if the expenditures kept on at the present rate half of the taxes would be required for school purposes alone. The second matter was with reference to the report that in the South Ward school scholars are kept in until five o'clock, which, he thought was not right. It had a tendency to instil a dislike for the school in the scholars' mind, and he considered that it was a matter for the Supervision Committee to investigate. It was finally decided to ask the inspector to report on the matter, as to whether the report was true or otherwise. The Board was agreed that young children should not be kept in as late as reports say they are detained in this school.

There were present at last night's meeting:—Chairman J. J. Hartley, and Trustee J. J. McBain, H. Morgan, L. M. Hayes, Wm. Pringle, Dr. Burnham, W. H. Hill, F. J. Jamieson, H. P. Kennedy, John Crane, Wm. Ferguson, Jas. Stevenson and R. Fair.

In the absence of the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. H. Morphet acted as Secretary.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communications were read as follows:

From J. R. Stewart, Pembank, Ont., asking for refund of his senior leaving examination fee, as he did not write.—Request granted.

From S. R. Armstrong, Secretary Board of Health, directing the Board's attention to the desirability of having Park street school connected with the sewer.—Referred to Property Committee with instruction to report to the Board.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Mr. John Crane in the absence of the chairman of the committee presented the following report:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:—

Gentlemen,—In the absence of the Chairman, the members of the Property Committee present beg leave to report, That a meeting was called to discuss and pass upon the remainder of the accounts for improvements to the schools.

At that meeting a resolution was passed authorizing the Chairman to procure a report on the work from the architect under whose supervision the work was done by orders, we understand from the Chairman of this Committee.

Mr. Mansell, the architect who prepared the specifications and plans for heating the Central School, met your committee and assured them that the cause of trouble in the heating of the lower rooms was an unimportant matter and that he would guarantee to make this system perfectly satisfactory.

The Chairman of this committee reported that upon investigation the repairs required in the furnace of 8th Ward School he found that much more was needed than was first apparent, and as the matter was urgent he had gone on and completed the work.

Respectfully submitted, John Crane, W. G. Ferguson, F. J. Jamieson, H. B. Kennedy.

Dr. Burnham moved, seconded by Mr. Hill, that Mr. Blackwell be asked to appear before the Board and report on the work done in the Fifth Ward School.—Carried.

KINDERGARTEN TEACHERS.

Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that Miss Dean and Miss Rogers be appointed second assistants at the Kindergarten school at a salary of $5 per month.

It was moved and seconded and carried that the schools close on Wednesday, Nov. 16, to open on the Monday following the Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. Stevenson asked if any members of the Supervision Committee had visited the schools. He said that he understood that in one school, the South Ward, a large number of the scholars are kept in until 5 o'clock, and as these children were small it was wrong to keep them in until that hour.

Mr. Hill speaking on this subject said that the matter should be referred to the Inspector, and that he should be instructed to report to the Board. A motion to this effect was carried.

Mr. Morgan asked what the cost of the flooring used in the West Ward School was. He asked because a local manufacturer had asked him to inquire because he understood that this lumber had been purchased from an Orillia firm and had cost $15.00 per thousand, while he sold the same, under ordinary circumstances, for $30. Mr. Morgan thought that material of this kind should not be purchased out of town, when it could be procured here at a reasonable price.

The information asked for was furnished and the Board adjourned.

STOVE TALK NO. 6.

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT WAS AVERTED

Mr. John Frise's Wagon Struck by a Street Car.

Was Crossing Tracks at McDonel Street When Car Hit His Wagon.

An accident, which might easily have resulted seriously, happened this afternoon at the corner of McDonel and George streets. Mr. Frise was driving along McDonel street, towards George, coming from his stable, and when crossing the car tracks his wagon was struck by car No. 13 going south, and had it not been for his presence of mind in whipping up his horses and thus getting almost across the track before the car was upon him, it is doubtful if more serious results might not have been chronicled. As it was, the wagon was upset and broken, and the harness was also damaged. Mr. Frise was hurled out on his head, and hurled back against the car. His head was cut, and he was badly shaken up. The fender on the car was considerably bent.

Mr. Frise's story is that the car was travelling at a rapid rate and that the gong was not sounded before the corner was reached, so that he had no knowledge that the car was approaching, until it was too late to avert the accident. As soon as he saw the car coming he whipped up his horses, as he saw that he could not go back, but before the wagon got across the track the car was upon him. The rig was fixed up and Mr. Frise was able to proceed on his way.

Remnants of Flannel Waists
Remnants of Lustre Waists

Tuesday morning we will place on sale eight dozen FINE FRENCH FLANNEL AND LUSTRE WAISTS, suitable for fall and winter wear, at about ONE HALF their regular value. These Waists are made up from short ends or remnants of materials left after the manufacturers' season was over, consequently there are a number of choice patterns, sizes 32 to 40, the regular prices of which would be $3.00 and $3.50. They were offered to us at a very low price to clear, and when we get a line of goods at a bargain it is our policy to share up with our customers. We will, therefore, place on sale, Tuesday morning, these beautiful Waists for Correcting Bad Habits Not Enough.

NATURE NEEDS ASSISTANCE.

To cure a torpid and inactive liver, more is required than the mere correction of bad habits. You change your diet, reform your manners of living, but unless you assist Nature your efforts won't be a success.

When the liver and bowels are acting improperly, something must be done to put them in condition again. There is lack of tone in the liver action as well as in the bowels. You feel depressed and unfitted for work, endurance or responsibility. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills impart tone to a tired liver, give the push-from-behind strength to torpid muscles. They stimulate the circulation, and make the liver active and the bowels regular.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure constipation, biliousness, headache in one night. 25 cents, all dealers.

All genuine signed W. F. Smith.

SMITHS BUCHU LITHIA PILLS
A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM AND ALL FORMS OF KIDNEY AND BLADDER ILLS.
AT ALL DEALERS 25 CENTS.
A CURE, AT THE PEOPLES PRICE.

NOTE.—Write the W. F. Smith Co., Temple Building, 185 St. James Street, Montreal, and they will send you a free sample of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills or Smith's Buchu Lithia Pills. Your druggist can obtain these goods of his wholesaler at a day's notice, and if he refuses to supply them, do not accept a substitute, but send to us direct. On receipt of 25c (you can send Canadian postage stamps) we will send you Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills or Smith's Buchu Lithia Pills by mail, postpaid, together with our valuable booklets. We guarantee safe delivery.

Seven Sutherland Sisters' Hair Grower

GREW THIS HAIR

The Great Hair Tonic is a Positive and Thorough Antiseptic

MISS MARY BRITT.
128 Bond Street, Toronto.

After Thirteen Years Miss Britt's Hair Measures 9 Feet.

Sutherland Sisters:—

Respected Ladies,—It gives me great pleasure to state for the benefit of the public, those who may be afflicted with diseased scalp or falling out of the hair, that I was afflicted with both. I used Seven Sutherland Sisters' Hair Grower and Hair and Scalp Cleaner; carfully followed directions, and in thirteen years' time I have a beautiful head of hair, nine feet in length. I cheerfully recommend the above Hair Grower and Hair and Scalp Cleaner as the best and most reliable remedies now in use.

I remain yours with respect.

THE TERMS SETTLED.

Anglo-Russian Convention re the North Sea Outrage.

IT COVERS NINE ARTICLES

Commission Under the Convention Will Sit in Paris Probably Within a Fortnight—Five Members Will Compose the Body—Latest Russian Story in Plea of Their Contention—Jap Denial.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—Russia has accepted the telegraphic draft of the Anglo-Russian convention for the commission of inquiry into the North Sea incident submitted to Russia Wednesday, as announced in these despatches at the time, and the final exchanges will be ratified in London. The convention covers six articles. The commission will sit in Paris, and will consist of five members, Russian, British, American and French. Broad outlines for the inquiry are laid down by the convention.

The terms of the Anglo-Russian convention agreement on the constitution of the commission as described by articles 9 to 14 of The Hague peace convention to investigate the North Sea incident are as follows:

Firstly—The commission is to consist of five members, namely, officers of Great Britain, Russia, the United States and France, these to select a fifth. If they cannot agree upon a choice, the selection is to be entrusted to the sovereign of some country to be chosen by Great Britain and Russia.

Secondly—The commission is to report on all the circumstances relating to the disaster and to establish the responsibility.

Thirdly—The commission to have the power to settle all questions of procedure.

Fourthly—The parties to bind themselves to supply the commission with all the necessary information, facilities, etc.

Fifthly—The commission to meet in Paris so soon as possible after the signature.

Sixthly—The report of the commission to be officially communicated to the respective Governments. Provisions are to be added regarding the assessors and agents' expenses, a decision to be reached by a majority, etc. It is expected that the commission will assemble in about a fortnight.

Three Additional Articles.

Sir Charles Hardinge, the British Ambassador, yesterday submitted to Foreign Minister Lamsdorff three additional articles of the Anglo-Russian Convention agreement, the first providing for legal assessors for the contracting parties, the second for a division of the expenses of the commission, and the third, that the decision of the majority of the commission shall be binding.

LATEST RUSSIAN PLEA.

Jips Organized An Attack From the Hague On Rojestvensky's Ships.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—A sensational report was current here Saturday, attributed to a high authority, that Russia will undertake before the International Commission to prove that the Japanese minister at the Hague actually organized an attack on the Russian squadron, and will produce a message sent by the minister, containing complete evidence that such was the case.

Japanese Minister Makes Denial.

The Hague, Nov. 7.—Noubakata M. Mitzuhashi, the Japanese Minister to the Netherlands, in an interview with the Associated Press yesterday, absolutely denied the statement cabled from St. Petersburg, on Nov. 5; that he had organized an attack on the Russian Baltic squadron. If Russia should produce, as the "high authority" in St. Petersburg is quoted as saying, would be done, before the International Commission a message purporting to have been sent by the Japanese minister "containing complete evidence that such was the case," M. Mitzuhashi said the document would be a forgery.

It develops that Emperor Nicholas, during an audience with British Ambassador Hardinge last Sunday, declared positively that there were Japanese torpedo boats in the North Sea. Apparently Denmark was impressed by the same belief.

Germany Has a Claim.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—The Foreign Office has communicated all the documents relating to the North Sea incident to Admiral Krasikoff, who had an audience with the Emperor yesterday. Germany has formally asked Russia for an explanation of the Sonntag affair, based upon the claim of the owner of the vessel that he lost his fishing nets by being obliged to leave for fear of being struck by Russian shells.

FROM SOUTH AFRICH.

New Way of Using Chamberlains Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbour of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy that the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Bullet Through Foot.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—Thomas Hawke of Streetsville went out shooting on Saturday. The trigger caught in his clothing and he received a bullet in his foot. He was brought to the city and the police ambulance took him to the Emergency.

Crushed By a Horse.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—As a result of being dragged by a frightened horse and crushed against the fence three weeks ago James Gourlay died at the General Hospital on Saturday. Gourlay is a farmer, and lived near Alliston.

The Way We Grow

There has never been a cracker made in Canada that won friends like

Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas

They have made the nation cracker hungry; made us double the size of our factory the first year, and made everybody think of MOONEY'S PERFECTION CREAM SODAS when they think of delicious crackers.

THE PACIFIC NAVAL BASE.

Two Men-of-War At Victoria, B.C., Ordered Home.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 7.—H. M. S. Grafton and H.M.S. Flora have received orders to leave immediately for England. The Grafton sailed Saturday morning. The Flora, from Coquimbo, proceeded without waiting for the Grafton. The unexpected depletion of the Pacific station of its two largest vessels is explained at Esquimalt on the ground that more powerful vessels are on the way from England to this station, which, since the friction with Russia became acute, has suddenly sprung into prominence as a naval base.

Passing Bogus Cheques.

Stratford, Nov. 7.—The police are after a young man who passed a bogus cheque for $8.25 at the American Hotel on Wednesday morning, and who Saturday morning tried to pass one for $14.60 on several city merchants, all of whom became at once suspicious and refused to accept it.

Be in Earnest.

Be in earnest about your health. Do not suppose that the headaches, back aches and other pains, from which you suffer, will pass away on their own accord, instead of developing into serious and chronic disease. If you are suffering from kidney, liver and bowel derangements there is no preparation that will be so helpful to you as Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills. One pill a dose.

Latest From Newfoundland.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 7.—The latest election returns increase Premier Bond's majority. Fogo returns Earle (Liberal) by a majority of 700. In Trinity Mr. Gushue, Minister of Public Works, and Mr. Lloyd, both Liberals, are certainly elected, while Mr. Miller, the third Liberal candidate, is 26 votes above Mr. Watson, the first Conservative candidate, with one precinct, containing 78 votes, yet unreported. Mr. Miller's election is probable.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Gergia, Vt. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and become acquainted with its remarkable qualities and you will never wish to be without it. For sale by all druggists.

Australia and Canada.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—According to a report received at the Trade and Commerce Department from J. S. Larke, Canadian commercial agent at Sydney, New South Wales, the Commonwealth's import from Canada for 1903 were £352,939, as against £346,580 for 1902. Australian exports to Canada amounted to £24,837, as compared with £38,372 for the year previous.

Frightful Dreams.

Dull Headaches.

TERRIBLE PAINS AND A FREQUENT DESIRE TO URINATE. Such were the troubles of Mr. Joseph Leland, Alma N.W.T. He happily found relief in

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Here is what he says:—"I was troubled with dull headaches, had frightful dreams, terrible pains in my legs, and a frequent desire to urinate. Noticing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended for kidney trouble, I decided to give them a trial. I procured a box, and was very much surprised at the effectual cure they made. I take a great deal of pleasure in recommending them to all kidney trouble sufferers."

Doan's Kidney Pills help the Kidneys to drain off the poisonous impurities which have collected, thus cleansing out the kidneys, bladder, and all the urinary passages. They correct inability to hold the urine, and thus obviate the necessity of getting up many times at night to urinate. Their good results will be immediately felt in all cases of kidney trouble.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. At all dealers, or will be mailed direct, on receipt of price, by THE DOAN KIDNEY PILL CO., TORONTO, ONT.

Died From His Injuries.

Guelph, Nov. 8.—A young man named Frank Swartzenburg of Toronto, who was run over by a train on the C.P.R. at Guelph Junction on Friday night last, died at the General Hospital on Sunday afternoon from his injuries. He was on his way to Guelph from Buffalo, and while waiting a few yards down the track in the darkness was struck by a ballast train. His left arm was taken off near the shoulder, also his left foot. Deceased was on his way to visit his mother, who was then ill at the hospital, where she since died.

Ottawa Man Missing.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—Edward B. Cope, a well known citizen of Ottawa, has been missing since Wednesday afternoon of last week and the police are endeavoring to locate him. He is about 56 years of age and had been district agent for the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company. He had no apparent reason for leaving home and a baffling mystery surrounds his strange disappearance.

TRIBUTE BY EARL GREY.

Glad to Know Our Lady of the Snows Idea Is Disappearing.

London, Nov. 8.—(C.A.P.)—Speaking at a banquet at Newcastle in honor of his appointment as Governor-General of Canada, Earl Grey paid a tribute to the national resources giving every advantage to those desiring a freer life. He was glad to know Our Lady of the Snows idea was fast disappearing. It was not wonderful that Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the nineteenth century belongs to the United States and twentieth belongs to Canada.

Asquith's View.

London, Nov. 8.—(C.A.P.)—Right Hon. Henry Asquith, speaking at Southampton, said Mr. Balfour at Edinburgh, had shown retaliation was no longer a possible program for the protectionist party when he accepted the irreducible minimum of Mr. Chamberlain's demands and assented to a fiscal conference within the Empire, thus leading the colonies to believe we were prepared to impose a preferential and, therefore, protective duty on food supplied by countries competing with the colonies. It was a betrayal of the confidence of the colonies if we did not warn them that under no terms were the people of this country prepared to assist such a policy as that to which authoritative statesmen in Australia and Canada seemed most predisposed.

Mr. Chamberlain's plan entered into no arrangements allowing British goods into their markets on level terms with our own. The conference idea was a sham and imposture.

The Question Is.

London, Nov. 8.—(C. A. P.)—The Times, commenting on Mr. Asquith's speech, says the question is not whether the colonies will admit our goods free, but upon what terms that shall neutralize the artificial disabilities imposed by foreign tariffs. It says there is good reason to be content with what the Liberals in Canada have done and are willing to do in the tariff matter.

Sympathy Significant.

London, Nov. 8.—(C. A. P.)—Speaking with reference to the messages of sympathy received from the colonies in connection with the Dogger Bank incident, Colonial Secretary Lyttelton said it showed how vitally the pulse of our great Empire beat together. This close sympathy and union was the guarantee and warranty for the righteousness of any cause we took up and the colonies cordially espoused.

Distasteful Reflections.

London, Nov. 8.—(C. A. P.)—Discussing the fiscal question, The Morning Post, says that Liberals who have consistently fought shy of the Imperial issues raised by Mr. Chamberlain have given great offence in the colonies by disparagement of the colonial "offer," and cannot even discuss the Canadian election without reflections exceedingly distasteful to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his friends.

Canada to Own Wireless.

London, Nov. 8.—(C.A.P.)—The Canadian Government has agreed if Great Britain takes over the national control of the wireless telegraph they will do the same in the Dominion.

Two New C.P.R. Steamers.

London, Nov. 8.—(C. A. P.)—The Glasgow Herald reports that the C. P. R. is arranging the building of two new steamers for the Liverpool and St. Lawrence service.

Sir Howard Protests.

London, Nov. 8.—(C. A. P.)—Sir Howard Vincent has written to The Times protesting against Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman making political capital by interpreting the Laurier victory as a Chamberlain set-back.

Be Ready For Croup

And Protect Your Children by Keeping in the House

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP of LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

The Thoroughly Tested and Reliable Family Medicine.

To overcome croup you must act quickly.

There is usually no time allowed for sending for doctors or medicines.

The hollow, croupy cough at midnight may be your first warning, and this will strike terror to your heart if you are not prepared to fight this disease.

It may be of little use to know that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a positive cure for croup if it is not to be obtained at the critical time.

Most persons who have tested this treatment for croup keep a bottle at hand, so that by prompt action they can prevent the disease from reaching a serious stage.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is composed of simple ingredients of unquestioned curative power, is pleasant to the taste, well liked by children, and can be used with perfect safety by old and young, so long as directions are followed.

MRS. GEORGE BROWN, 71 Harbord street, Toronto, writes:

"Our children have been very subject to croup, and we have found that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has always brought quick relief. By using it at the first sign of trouble the disease is checked at once. We always keep the remedy in the house, and, in fact, feel that we could not do without it. We also use it for coughs and colds with excellent results, and recommend it to our friends."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

"Advertised Responsibility"

Liberal advertising for many years has created in the public a justifiable expectation that the "Slater" Shoe combines comfort, durability, fit, shape-retention and beauty, and to hold its trade its makers are compelled to make it as good as the public expects.

BLOOD DISEASE CURED.

If you ever contracted any Blood or Private Disease, you are never safe until the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. Don't be satisfied with a "patch up" by some family doctor. Our New Method is Guaranteed to Cure or No Pay. We Issue No Deed without Written Agreement.

Cured When all Else Failed

"Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would not be necessary, though I was no more sinful than thousands of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I bless the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were first, and finding you had over 25 years' experience and responsible financially, I gave you my case under a guarantee. You cured me permanently, and in six years there has not been a pain, ache or any other symptom of the blood disease."

ANECDOTES OF JUDGES.

Collection of Stories About Their Lordships That Are Full of Humor With Many a Pathetic Touch.

A notorious London prize fighter and disorderly character was on trial for assault and battery. He was convicted, and just before the judge passed sentence his counsel appealed for mercy, saying that his client intended to leave London at once.

"I know it," said the judge; "he is going to leave it for six months, during which time he will reside in gaol."

Egg and Bacon.

Some years ago the late Vice-Chancellor Malins was sitting upon the Bench one day when a man rose in the body of the court and threw an egg at him. The Vice-Chancellor took the affair in very good part. "This application," he remarked, "must have been intended for my brother Bacon!"

His "brother Bacon" was, of course, the well known Vice-Chancellor of that name. The man who threw the egg proved to be a lunatic.

Two Meanings.

Sir Fletcher Norton was noted for his want of courtesy. When pleading before Lord Mansfield on some question of manorial right he chanced to say, unfortunately for himself: "My Lord, I can illustrate the point in an instant in my own person. I myself have two little manors."

"We all know it, Sir Fletcher," immediately interposed the judge with one of his blandest smiles.

What He Caught.

Sir Henry Hawkins was once hearing a case, and while the counsel for the plaintiff was addressing the Bench His Lordship was obviously more intent on giving instructions to the attendants to close a window and try to stop a draught than attending to the arguments put forth. At length, when His Lordship was more composed, the learned Q.C., annoyed at his words going to the winds in such a manner, said:

"I am not quite sure whether your Lordship caught that point."

The judge was all attention again.

"I am not quite sure I did," he said. "There's only one thing I am sure I have caught, and that is a cold!"

Too Strong.

A well known counsel once had the worst of an encounter with Sir Henry Hawkins. He was arguing a case before the judge in Chambers, and His Lordship showed much vacillation concerning a knotty point on which the argument turned. First he motioned to the one counsel and then to the other. At last the barrister alluded to, getting impatient, leaned over the table, and thumping the mahogany with his fist, exclaimed, "Be strong, My Lord, be strong!"

The startled judge, with astonishing celerity, replied:

"Sir, I will be strong. I dismiss your case with costs!"

Quashed!

Henry, Lord Brougham, when at the Bar, opened a case before Lord Chief Justice Tanterden in which the matter of dispute was the amount of a wager laid upon the event of a dog-fight, which, through some unwillingness of dogs or men, had not been brought to an issue.

"We, My Lord," said Brougham, "were minded that the dogs should fight."

"Then I," exclaimed the judge, "am minded to hear no more of it!"

And he called the next case.

Heated Remarks.

Some good stories were told of the late Sir Matthew Begbie, Chief Justice of British Columbia. In 1888 a man was charged in Victoria with having killed another man by means of a club, and in the face of the judge's summing up the jury brought in a verdict of "Not guilty." This annoyed the Chief Justice, who at once said:

"Gentlemen of the jury—Mind, that is your verdict, not mine. On your conscience will rest the stigma of returning such a disgraceful verdict. Many repetitions of such conduct as yours will make trial by jury a horrible farce, and the city of Victoria a nest of immorality and crime. Go! I have nothing more to say to you."

And then, turning to the prisoner, the indignant judge added: "You are discharged. Go and club some of these jurymen; they deserve it!"

An Apology.

Sir Robert Graham, when once passing sentence upon a batch of convicted criminals, accidentally pronounced sentence of transportation on one it was intended should be hanged. Shocked beyond measure when apprised of this mistake, Sir Robert desired the culprit to be again placed in the dock, and hastily putting on the black cap, he addressed him:

"Prisoner at the bar, I beg your pardon!"

Then he proceeded to pass on him the awful sentence of the law.

Rose High.

Baron Pollock, who died in 1897 at the age of 74, was, as a boy, at St. Paul's School, under Dr. Roberts. It is related on good authority that young Pollock, fancying he was wasting his time there, as he intended to go to the Bar, intimated to the headmaster that he would not stay; and that the doctor, who was desirous of keeping so promising a pupil, thereupon became so cross and disagreeable that one day the youth wrote him a note saying he would not return.

The doctor, ignorant of the cordial terms on which the father and son lived together, sent the note to Pollock, senior, who called upon him to express his regret at his son's determination, adding that he advised him not to send the note. Upon which the doctor broke out:

"Ah, sir, you'll live to see that boy hanged!"

The doctor, on meeting Mrs. Pollock some years after his ex-pupil had received university honors and professional success, congratulated her on her son's good fortune, adding, quite unconscious of the humorous contrast:

"Ah, madam, I always said he'd fill an elevated situation."

In the good old days the sexton announced a death in the community by a stroke on the church bell for every year of the life that was gone. People expected, then, to live to old age, and speculation at the first tap of the bell took a narrow range including only those who had lived the allotted time. There is no reason why people should not have the same expectancy of age to-day, except for the neglect and abuse of the one organ on which all the other organs depend—the stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery enables men and women to be strong and healthy, by curing diseases of the stomach (and other organs of digestion and nutrition), which prevent the proper nourishment of the body.

"I had been sick for two years with indigestion and nervous debility, and had taken medicine from my family doctor for a long time without much benefit," writes Mrs. W. H. Peebles, of Lucknow, R. C. "Was induced by my husband to consult Dr. Pierce by letter. You advised me to take 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did, and, to my great surprise, after taking six bottles I was cured."

The Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free for 21 one-cent stamps to pay customs and mailing only. Address Doctor R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

THE VAGRANT'S EPITAPH.

Change was his mistress, chance his counselor.
Love could not keep him; duty forged no chain.
The wide seas and the mountains called to him,
And grey dawns saw his campfires in the rain!

Sweet hands might tremble—Aye, but he must go;
Revel might hold him for a little space,
But turning, past the laughter and the lamps,
His eyes must ever catch the luring face.

Dear eyes might question—Yea, and melt again;
Rare lips, a-quiver, silently implore,
But ever he must turn his furtive head
And hear the other summons at the door.

Change was his mistress, chance his counselor.
The dark firs knew his whistle up the trail.
Why tarries he to-day? And yesternight
Adventure lit her stars without avail!
—Theodore Roberts.

Saved His Money.

Lord Chief Justice Kenyon was conspicuous for economy in every article of his dress. Once, in the case of an action brought for the non-fulfilment of a contract, on a large scale, for shoes, the question was, whether or not they were well and soundly made, and with the best materials.

A number of witnesses were called, one of whom, being closely questioned, returned contradictory answers. Thereupon His Lordship, pointing to his own shoes, said:

"Were the shoes anything like these?"

"No, My Lord," replied the witness; "they were a great deal better, and more genteeler."

The court was convulsed with laughter, in which the Chief Justice heartily joined.

Gen. Gordon's Bible.

The King has ordered that the late General Gordon's Bible, which used to stand under crystal in the grand corridor of the private apartments of Windsor Castle, shall be placed in the royal library of the castle. There it will be in company with a letter from Nelson to his mother announcing the victory of Copenhagen, a fac-simile of the letter from the Duke of Marlborough announcing the victory of Blenheim, and the two miniature white silk flags, adorned with the gold fleur-de-lis of France, which represents the rent of Blenheim Palace for the years 1902 and 1903.

Warned by a Photo.

Here is a curious little story told by a solicitor. He had among his clients a few years ago a notorious company promoter whose financial affairs came to grief. One day happening to pass by a stationer's shop his attention was attracted by a portrait of Mr. ——, the well known barrister. Mr. —— was attired in wig and gown, and in his hand he held a paper on which the solicitor's sharp eyes caught the name of his client. His curiosity aroused, he purchased the photo and proceeded to decipher the words of Mr. ——'s brief, speedily discovering that they indicated that a warrant was "out" for the arrest of his client. In a few hours the man of finance was out of England, to which country he has not since returned.—London Globe.

NEW DANGER IN KISSES.

Disease in England Traced to Osculation—Imported From Africa.

A new danger has been added to the many which medical men assert surround the habit of kissing. According to Dencer Whittles, a lecturer on dental histology and pathology at Birmingham University, the crawcraw disease, common on the west coast of Africa, has been introduced into this country. Birmingham, he says, has hundreds of cases, while traces of the disease have been found in many other places.

The disease is due to the presence of the nematode worm, which has a peculiar penchant for destroying the white corpuscles in the blood. The chief symptom is an intense itching of the skin.

Kissing, Mr. Whittles asserts, is one of the means by which the disease is disseminated. There are large numbers of courting couples suffering from crawcraw in Birmingham, he said, and oftener than not one transmits the disease to the other by kissing.

In one case which came under his observation the engaged girl was kissed by her sweetheart, who was a victim of the disease. Shortly afterward she complained of a terrible itching. The trouble was incorrectly diagnosed, and the young woman, who slept with her sister, transmitted the disease, and the latter passed it on to a younger brother. Thus four persons became affected through kissing.

In another case a barmaid went to see her brother, a soldier, on his return from war. They kissed each other, and the result was the young woman a few days subsequently complained of intense itching of the skin.

The soldier was unaware of the fact that he himself was suffering from the disease, the nematode worm being distinctly shown in a number of blood films.

Bachelor Boarders.

At Ealing it is possible that there may soon be established a bachelor's boarding house.

The Borough Council some time ago bought six and a half acres of land near Ealing Cemetery, and on five acres of it 121 houses and 18 flats have been erected; and it has been suggested that 34 more might be built on the remaining acre and a quarter.

Col. Menzies, a member of the Council, believes there is plenty of house accommodation. He has, however, seen a number of working men, who agree that what is required is a big residental lodging house for single working men.

"Young men of this class find great difficulty in inducing families with comfortable quarters to take them in. My scheme, as I have roughly outlined it, would provide a cubicle for each man, fitted with a chair, box, table, etc., lit by electric light, for 5s."

Dining rooms and sitting rooms would be provided for the 50 bachelors the establishment would accommodate.

The cost is estimated at £3,000. The borough surveyor is considering the plans, and will report to the Housing Committee.

Dressing the Shopkeeper.

A gentleman dressed in a loose coat entered a ladies' outfitting establishment at a time when the proprietor was alone in the shop. The gentleman asked to be shown some ready made ladies' cloaks, as he wished to give his wife a little surprise. After a careful inspection he fixed upon one and asked the shopkeeper:

"Have you not a young lady at hand to put on the cloak to see how it looks?"

The proprietor regretted that none of the ladies of the establishment was in at that moment.

"Well, perhaps you wouldn't object to putting it on yourself?"

The unsuspecting shopkeeper slipped on the cloak, buttoned it and turned around in all directions.

"Magnificent!" exclaimed the purchaser, with seeming ecstasy, but at the same moment he made a grab at the till, which he thrust under his coat and bolted out of the shop.

The horrified proprietor rushed after him into the street, where, however, he was seized by the passers-by, who dragged him back to the shop in the supposition that the poor fellow had gone mad, and before he could explain matters the rogue had disappeared.—London Tit-Bits.

REASONS WHY THE PETERBORO'S LOST

Toronto Papers Comment on Saturday's Game.

The Toronto papers in their comment on Saturday's game attribute the defeat of the locals to the same cause as that given in the Examiner yesterday—to lack of judgment and headwork on the part of the backs in the second half and to the superior aggressiveness of the Argonauts. It was recognized that the Peterboros made the fatal mistake of bucking the line in the second half instead of punting and when a run was attempted the players tried to go through the line instead of around the end. The evening papers comment as follows:—

The Star—There was but few brilliant, or even [illegible], and the Argonauts won by superior aggressiveness.

It was a hard game, despite its rawness. Both teams were out to win, and they fought it out to a finish. There was lots of unnecessary roughness. For Peterborough Hurtubise used the knees and the strangle clutch, while Bruce Rickey was slipping over the short arm jolts regularly. The rest of the Peterborough team played a fairly clean game. On the Scullers' side of the sheet Grant must be slated for a deliberate attempt to trip, and Grey's tackling was not above reproach. He had a nasty habit of pulling up his knees that should have received attention from the referee. Rickey, Grey and Grant were all off for illegal work. Hurtubise got away with his genius play.

The Peterborough team was a trifle superior on the line, and their back division was mighty good, but they lost the game by pig-headed running and bucking. Crowley could not get it knocked into his head that punting was the game for him to direct. Every time he did send his men out to punt he gained. Shaw easily easily outpointed Hamber, Trimmer, or Grant. In fact, Irving Ardagh was the only man Argos had who could boost a ball any distance. His punts were as scarce as hen's teeth. Hamber put the leather into the ball a dozen times, but in nearly every instance his wings beat the pigskin down the field and had to back up to keep out of the way of the Peterborough man who received the oval.

The new full-back of the Peterboro team, McGrath, is a whirlwind, to run, but he made the mistake of hitting the centre of the line. Several times he made great gains around the ends, but in the majority of instances he hit the line when he had the ball, and was thrown back for a loss. He is too light. Shaw was the pick of the half-line, while Rickey was the star of the wing line.

The Telegram.—Peterborough tried several criss-cross plays, but they invariably ended in failure, because they always consisted in short, close passes that brought the runner to the old futile proposition of bucking through the centre. The idea was good, but the place to go through was badly chosen. There was not a little off-side interference, but it was penalized but once.

The visitors were by far the better ball getters, and though the Argos improved as the game progressed they were never the equals of their opponents. As a result the easterners had a great deal more of the ball than they were entitled to which accounts in a great measure for the smallness of the score against them. Rickey was perhaps the most aggressive of the visitors in this way and played fine football, as did also Hurtubise, Crowley and Shaw.

As it was the Argonauts gained in bucks, in runs and in punts, but the visitors managed to stave off the half hour with five points against them. Twice the oarsmen lost the ball not more than six inches from the line. Another down and they should have gone over but bucking through the centre failed.

Peterborough was utterly unable to make any impression on the oarsmen's line in bucking, but they clung to attempts at it and always tried twice before punting. Their halves were given chances to run but almost always returned to centre to plunge through and lost ground.

Seldom did they try around the end on long passes. If they had done so they would doubtless have got away with more than one good run. Sticking close to the centre gained them nothing and lost them much. For sprints, McGrath was pulled up from back and did some good work early in the game, but was too closely guarded after two or three good gains.

On two or three occasions Peterborough lost their heads enough to take a flying kick at the ball and missed.

The News says—"One of the Argonauts supporters visited Anna Eva Fay on Friday night, and asked the question which team would win Saturday's game, Argonauts or Peterboro. Miss Fay promised a victory for the Oarsmen, and they got it by the poor judgment used by the backs of the visitors in the second half."

JOHN ARMSTRONG WON STRATTON CUP

Scored Highest in the Havelock Civilian Rifle Association Match.

(Havelock Standard.)

Mr. John Armstrong proved to be the lucky winner of the "Stratton Challenge Cup" at the Havelock Civilian Rifle Association's match last week, Mr. Wm. H. Johnston, the popular clerk of Belmont, was a close second, being only three points behind. Owing to the time necessary to shoot off the seven different ranges a large number of the members were unable to shoot, some started and did not finish.

The trophy which Mr. Armstrong has won, is a beauty, and he is indeed, to be congratulated on his skill in winning it. The cup will arrive here in a few days and will be put on exhibition in Mr. Ed. Bunnell's window.

The Y.M.C.A. Hall was again crowded with men Sunday afternoon, when Mr. C. M. Copeland, Provincial Secretary, was the speaker.

His address was a splendid one, his subject being "Four Fools." He dealt with the athiest, the formalist, the rationalist and the materialist, the speaker impressing his points by Scripture and illustration.

Miss Bertha Parnell sang, "I'll go where You want me to go." The number was very effectively sung, and highly appreciated.

The results of the hunters' deadly aim are already being made manifest and venison will be the popular viand for the next few weeks. Reports from the local parties are to the effect that all are enjoying huntsmen luck and that many deer have been shot. Six fine deer were on exhibition at Mervin's butcher shop this morning, which had been sent in on Saturday night by the party at Windover's. Two large deer, each weighing over 200 lbs. were received at H. P. Kennedy's butcher shop; they had been shot by Mr. J. Brightman many miles east of here.

WELSH TANNING COMPANY LIMITED.

Confermation of Report That the Company was to be Incorporated.

Mr. John Lang, of Berlin Probably Interested in the Company.

In confirmation of the announcement made in yesterday's Examiner that the Welsh tannery in Hastings had been taken over by a joint stock company the following from the Ontario Gazette states that acharter creating and constituting John Welsh, and James Francis Welsh, tanners; Thomas Henry Quigley, accountant, and Mary Quigley, Quigley, all of the village of Hastings, and John Alexander McGrail, of the city of Ottawa, tanner; and any others who have become subscribers to the Memorandum of Agreement of the Company, and their successors, has been granted and a Corporation framed for the purpose of carrying on the business of tanning and dealing in hides; the name of the company to be The Welsh Tanning Company, Limited; the share capital of the company to be two hundred thousand dollars divided into two thousand shares of one hundred dollars each, the head office of the company to be at the said village of Hastings, and the Provisional Directors of the Company to be John Welsh, John Alexander McGrail and Thomas Henry Quigley.

The statement made in yesterday's Examiner that Mr. Lang, the Berlin tanner was probably taking an interest in the Hastings tannery is believed to be correct.

It is learned that Mr. John Lang has withdrawn from the Ottawa business and he was in Hastings for some time last summer which lends a colour of truth to the report. Mr. John McGrail was also associated with Mr. Lang and intended to take an interest in the Ottawa business, but since then has changed his plans and has become interested in the Hastings business.

The prospects are that the business will be considerably changed now with the introduction of the new blood and new capital.

CAR COLLIDED WITH A BUGGY

Another Accident Recorded on Street Railway.

An accident occurred on Saturday afternoon, near the corner of George and Dalhousie streets, by which Mr. D. L. Somerville, principal of the Havelock public school, had a narrow escape from serious injury. He was driving down George street with a horse which became frightened at a street car coming behind, and at the corner of Dalhousie street the repair wagon was standing, reaching almost to the track, and Mr. Somerville was obliged to drive on to the track to pass. Before he could get off the track again a car coming from behind struck the buggy smashing it considerably, and throwing the occupants out, injuring Mr. Somerville's arm, and breaking the harness. The horse fortunately was not hurt, and was caught before it had gone far with the demolished rig.

Mr. Somerville required the services of a physician to attend to his injuries.

YOUNG MEN WERE GOOD ENTERTAINERS

All Saints' Girls, Guild Guests of the Young Men Last Evening.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at All Saints' school room last evening, when the Young Mens' Guild entertained the Girls' Guild of the church. Both societies were largely represented and the programme was much appreciated.

Mr. E. Poole, president of the Young Men's Guild occupied the chair. Vocal solos were rendered by Messrs T. Crowe and W. Williams, the orchestra rendered several selections, the Messrs. Colman were heard in a vocal duet, and a musical sketch by Messrs. McLaren and R. Williams was also well received. Miss Ida Mulholland was accompanist during the evening.

The affair was in every way a most enjoyable one.

ST. JOHN'S YOUNG PEOPLES MEETING

Very Enjoyable Programme Presented Last Evening.

The regular meeting of the St. John's Anglican Young People's Association was held in the School House last evening. There was a large attendance and the programme was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. J. Patte, president, was in the chair. After the regular routine of business, an address on "The Standard Raven" was delivered by Mr. J. H. Burnham, at the conclusion of which a hearty vote of thanks moved by Mr. H. Cluxton, seconded by Mr. T. Dawson, was tendered the speaker for his able address.

Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Ruth Dawson and Mr. Broad, and were well received.

MOST POPULAR AUTHOR

REV. SILAS HOCKING'S SALES EXCEED THOSE OF OTHER WRITERS.

His Brother's Novels Also Have Larger Sale—Their Works Are Wholesome and They Always End in a Manner to Satisfy Ordinary Readers—Their Works Are Not, However, Read in Belgravia.

Judged by the number of his books sold, says a London correspondent, the most popular living writer of fiction in England is the Rev. Silas K. Hocking, whose latest novel, "Meadowsweet and Rue," has just been published.

Critics pay little attention to him; his name never figures among those of great authors; his works are not read in Belgravia, and fashionable book shops do not stock them, but for all that they have a larger circulation than those of Marie Corelli, Hall Caine, Sir Conan Doyle, Sir Gilbert Parker, Anthony Hope or any of the conspicuous stars of the literary firmament.

Happy in the knowledge that a big sale awaits every fresh book he writes, Mr. Hocking pursues the even tenor of his way, turning out a new novel every year with unfailing regularity. His first was published in 1878 and he has now twenty-seven volumes to his credit. As he is only fifty-four and in vigorous health it is probable that he will write many more before he lays his pen aside and gives better known competitors a chance to catch up with him.

He does not belong to the strenuous school of writers; he shocks nobody; he sees to it that virtue is always rewarded and vice punished, and thus enjoys the advantage, which may account for no small measure of his success, of being regarded by middle class persons as an eminently safe purveyor of mental pabulum for the young person. He has held no regular pastorate for eight years, but he still preaches righteousness in a fashion that affords much satisfaction to non-conformist audiences.

He first essayed short story writing when he was sixteen in the hope of winning a prize of $500 that had been offered by some temperance society for the best story setting forth the evils of strong drink.

"I commenced," he says, "by writing out thirty in all—then I began to compose in grim earnest. But I soon discovered that my method, however good in theory, would not work out in practice. My chapter headings had to be revised, my tragedy and comedy got hopelessly mixed, my plot developed in unexpected directions, and, worse than all, my characters became unmanageable; my funny man grew pathetic, and my gentle, fair haired, blue eyed heroine developed an amount of stubbornness that compelled me to erase all I had written about her earlier on.

"My principal hero, too—I had several of them—developed qualities that I had not foreseen, and finally took the bit between his teeth and bolted. In fact, by the time I had reached the middle of the eighth chapter my characters had got themselves and me into such a hopeless muddle that I gave up the whole thing in despair and never returned to it again."

When he was twenty he entered the Methodist ministry. Often the impulse to write stories came upon him and he found plots almost unconsciously developed themselves in his mind and clamored to be worked out on paper, but he resolutely put the temptation aside, considering that he had been "called" to another sphere of duty, and for seven years kept the literary fiend at bay. Then came a day when he fell. He had no sermon to write and the inclement weather had kept him indoors, but pen and paper were at hand.

"I began to write," he says, "listlessly, and without purpose. The first paragraph was but the expression of a mood, but all unconsciously and without contriving the things took shape and grew. Like Bunyan with his dreams, 'the more I pulled the more it came.' I became interested at length, and the old passion for writing flared up into a white heat. My wife wondered what chained me so long and so late in my study, but one day, over the tea table, in the presence of an editor friend, I let the secret out. He begged me to let him see the manuscript, and then gave me no rest until I gave him permission to publish it in his weekly paper."

Thereafter he surrendered himself freely to the obsession of the literary fiend. "My books," he says, "have never been declined with thanks, and have never lacked readers when published. For over twenty years their sale has averaged one thousand copies a week, and the circle of my readers is still increasing. This," he adds modestly, "is quite as great a puzzle to me as it is to my critics. I have aimed at one thing, to tell a story simply and directly—a story that should be wholesome and entertaining, that should teach a lesson without seeming to teach, that should leave behind it a pleasant flavor."

Incidentally, Mr. Hocking credits himself with having given Conan Doyle the suggestion that he should rid himself of the burden of Sherlock Holmes by dropping him down a crevasse. But the public compelled him to resurrect the great detective hero, and while he can still coin money out of him there is no likelihood that he will kill him off a second time.

Mr. Hocking's younger brother, the Rev. Joseph Hocking, since 1891 has also been turning out novels at the rate of one a year, and they find a larger circulation than those of many more famous authors. Between the literary products of the two brothers there is a close family resemblance. Joseph's conscience will not permit him to pay taxes to be expended in providing religious teachings of which he does not approve

His Point of View.

"Do you think the world is growing better?"

"No, confound it! I dropped the nickel the conductor gave me in change this morning, and it rolled off the car."

Changed It.

The Lady—That isn't the same story you told me before. The Beggar—No, lady; you didn't believe the other one.

ALL ENGINEERS ARE CANADIANS.

The Transcontental Railway Route now Being Surveyed.

Thirty Parties of Engineers in the Field, and all Headed by Canadians.

The Transcontinental Railway Commissioners announce that they have eleven parties in the field in District "A," which covers the province of New Brunswick, and a like number in District "B," which constitutes that portion of Quebec from the New Brunswick boundary line to Clear Lake, with the following engineers in charge: J. E. Sirois, C. A. Bourget, P. C. Talbot, Alphonse Larue, Samuel Lepage, F. Hibbard, Paul Mercier, J. A. Beaudry, R. E. Hunter, E. Bourgeois. In District "C," eight parties are out, four of them up the Gatineau, and four up the headwaters of the Ottawa. The engineers in charge are: W. Osborne, E. O'Sullivan, A. B. Haycock, R. A. Harelwood, D. B. Brown, J. Wilgar, F. J. Armour, J. P. Pim. Mr. Ioare, the Chief Engineer of the Quebec bridge, has a party surveying the approaches to the bridge. Two parties are being despatched to the west side of Lake Abitibi. It is stated that all the engineers in charge of these parties are Canadians. Major Hodgins, C.E., has been appointed District Engineer for the Winnipeg District and has been notified to proceed to Winnipeg and organize the staff preparatory to the commencing of the location surveys from that end. Mr. Armstrong, of the Canadian Northern, has been appointed as Chief Engineer of the Division between Winnipeg and the Pacific coast. F. W. Morse, third vice-president of the Grand Trunk, is to take up his residence in Winnipeg, and administer the affairs of the G. T. P. in the West. The Winnipeg Free Press states that the terminal facilities in that city will be arranged by the Government Commission. The point of entry has not been decided, and surveys have not been brought nearer than ten miles off Winnipeg, in order to give a choice of location for the station and depot. This will be settled so that work may begin in the spring. — Canadian Engineer.

INSIDE THE PEARLY GATE.

In loving memory of little Harold Carpenter, who died in St. Joseph's Hospital, October 30th, 1904.

"Inside the pearly gate" What comfort rare!
To think that in the Heavenly Father's care
Free from temptation and sin's evil snare
Our darling waits awhile.

Though lent to us just seven summers here
His gentle spirit claimed affection dear
From all this loved ones and with sigh and tear
We give him back to God.

Not that we would deny him, Lord, to Thee
Who said "Let little children come to me"
And purchased at such cost, salvation free,
For all who will believe.

But still 'tis hard with everyone to part,
Heaven holds the only care for aching heart.
"Thy will be done" we say, O Lord, Thou art
But taking what is Thine.

Let every heart before the Saviour bow,
Let us renew our oft forgotten vow,
And some day hear the Father's "Enter Thou
Inside the pearly gate."

REGULAR MEETING HELD LAST EVENING

Charlotte Street Young Men's Guild Listened to Address by the Pastor.

A meeting of the Charlotte Street Young Men's Guild was held last evening in the new Guild room. There was a fairly large turnout of members. After the regular business had been transacted an address on "Looking After Number One," was given by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Joliffe, who spoke of the necessity for each one to look after himself both from a spiritual, mental and physical standpoint and to promote the best of development along each of these lines.

The Guild room where the meeting was held has recently been re-carpeted and enlarged and is now a most attractive room for the young men to congregate. The room is open nearly every evening in the week and is supplied with suitable reading matter for the young men.

CABINET SILVER FOR HON. MR. STRATTON

Handsome Presentation to the Provincial Secretary at a Banquet to Officials.

Premier Ross' Eloquent Tribute to the Minister's Administrative Ability.

Mr. Stratton Makes Reference to Reports Concerning His Probable Retirement.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, gave a dinner in the Speaker's Chamber in the Parliament Building last night to the Superintendents of the public institutions and the deputies of his departments. Mrs. Stratton, Premier Ross, Messrs. Robert Jaffray; R. R. Hall, M.P. for West Peterboro'; John Finlay, M.P. for East Peterboro' and other guests. The officials present were Mrs. O'Sullivan, Messrs. Thos. Mulvey, K.C., J. F. C. Ussher, R. Christie, E. Saunders, J. W. Gordon, E. A. MacLaurin, E. C. Myers, Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, Dr. C. A. Hodgetts, Dr. D. Clark, Dr. T. Gilmour, Toronto; R. Mathison, Belleville; H. F. Gardiner, Brantford; Dr. G. A. McCallum, London; Dr. C. K. Clarke, Kingston; Dr. Jas. Russell, Hamilton; Dr. N. H. Beemer, Mimico; Dr. T. H. Moher, Brockville; Dr. E. C. McNicholl, Cobourg; Dr. A. H. Beaton, Orillia. The whole party sat at one table, which was artistically decorated, the feature being a pleasing arrangement of chrysanthemums, carnations, ferns and smilax. Only three addresses were made, the speakers being the host, the Premier and Dr. Clark. The latter acted as spokesman for his colleagues in the service in the presentation to Hon. Mr. Stratton of a handsome cabinet of silver, and, of course, made no political allusions.

Neither the Premier nor the Provincial Secretary dealt directly with the present political situation, any reference thereto being in an incidental vein. Both gentlemen were frequently heartily applauded.

Provincial Secretary's Speech.

After the toast to the King had been duly honored, the Provincial Secretary addressed the gathering. He was glad to have with him, he said, the heads of the various institutions and departments under his charge, as well as the Premier, and perhaps the next greatest Liberal in Ontario, Mr. Robert Jaffray. For five years he had occupied the position of Provincial Secretary, and he felt that at least once in that time it would be nice to meet with the officers of the department to thank them for the hearty and generous way in which they had co-operated with the Minister in the carrying out of their various duties. The intentions of the Government and the directions of the Legislature in regard to the public institutions of the Province had been splendidly obeyed by the Superintendents of the public institutions. He desired to include in that statement the head of the Central Prison and the Mercer Reformatory, and he commended in connection with the former the Salvation Army's prison gate work. Continuing, he spoke warmly of the manner in which the duties of the Assistant Provincial Secretary, Mr. Thos. Mulvey, K.C., were discharged, and dealt in some detail with the work of the department as a whole. In 1899, when he (Mr. Stratton) was appointed, the revenue from the issuing of licenses to companies was $17,000; now, by a rearrangement of fees, it amounted to $120,000 per year. The Provincial Board of Health in that time had made great advances, with the result that the health of the people of Ontario was better than that of any other Province or any State of the United States, and outbreaks of disease in unorganized districts were promptly grappled with and prevented from spreading throughout the Province. Another branch of the department had attracted a good deal of attention—the liquor license branch. It was well conducted; the law was enforced, he believed, to the satisfaction of the people of the Province, and he thanked the responsible officers most heartily for their work. The rearrangements affecting the asylum at Cobourg and the reformatory at Penetanguishene had, Mr. Stratton continued, saved to the people some $250,000 to $300,000. While speaking in this connection, Mr. Stratton regretted the absence, through ill-health, of Mr. John Noxon, Inspector of Prisons and Reformatories.

His Tenure of Office.

"Whether my time as Provincial Secretary be short or long," Mr. Stratton proceeded—"and if you believe the newspapers it may be short, but it may be longer than they think—there is no feeling but that of the greatest kindness between the Premier of the Province and myself. It is not the wish of the Premier that my time as Provincial Secretary be short, and it is perhaps not my wish that it be too long." He had been pretty closely associated with affairs of the Province during the past five years, and could honestly say that no man had given or could have given more time, attention and honest effort to the uplifting, upbuilding and advancement of the Province than the Premier. No one had done more to aid his Secretary in advancing and guarding the welfare of the public institutions, and in bringing them into that condition where officers were able, after visiting others in Canada and the United States, to say that Ontario's institutions were the best managed and conducted. The Premier's promises made in this regard in his Whitby speech of 1898 had been amply fulfilled, and he believed that whenever an appeal was made to the people of the Province they would express their approval and gratification of that course. So far as the Opposition's attitude on this question was concerned, Mr. Stratton said he was often surprised at their lack of ideas and policy, and the weak criticisms they advanced in the Legislature, often showing they had no knowledge of the questions they were supposed to be discussing. He concluded with a reiteration of his pleasure at having the officials of his department with him, and his thanks for their splendid work, and then proposed the Premier's health.

HON. J. R. STRATTON,
Provincial Secretary.

The Premier's Tribute.

Premier Ross thanked Mr. Stratton for his kind appreciation of his services as Premier, and as Superintendent-General of hospitals, charities and all that appertained thereto. He did not know whether it was an easy thing to be Premier of the Province. He could resign its honors with pleasure if he was only able to hand his resignation into the right hands. Until that time came, or something unexpected happened, he would proceed with the discharge of his duties, and if he carried on his work as Premier through the next decade or two he hoped they would find him as worthy as they appeared to find him to-night. Mr. Stratton, he said, occupied a seat in the House for many years, and both as a private member and as a Minister it was noticeable that he was always in his place and always at work. The life of a politician was not an easy one; the competition between members of the House was keen, and those who got to the front did so because of their industry and application to and capacity for business. No Minister of the Government had discharged his duties with greater faithfulness, zeal and personal self-sacrifice than had Mr. Stratton. That sacrifice had been made by the Provincial Secretary in the public interest, not for the Liberal party—that would be an unworthy object indeed—but for the Province. He was not sure that this was appreciated now as it should be, but he was sure that when the history of the public institutions came to be written it would then be recorded that there never was a more capable and efficient Minister. In conclusion Mr. Ross eulogised Mr. Stratton's administration of his department. If he should feel it to be in his own interests to withdraw some future time from the public service, he (the Premier) and his colleagues would part from him with deep regret. Those who minimized his capacity and usefulness would regret their want of appreciation of his splendid work for the Province. He concluded by proposing the health and prosperity of Mr. Stratton, to which the latter briefly replied.

The Presentation.

In a short address Dr. Daniel Clark of the Toronto Asylum, who in a few weeks will have been thirty years in the service, presented to Mr. Stratton the cabinet of silver referred to. Every piece in the cabinet bears Mr. Stratton's initials, and on the lid is the following inscription, carved on a small silver plate: "Presented to Hon. J. R. Stratton, Secretary and Registrar of the Province of Ontario, by the Superintendents of public institutions and the deputies of the department, as a token of their esteem, 8th November, 1904."

Mr. Stratton expressed his thanks for the gift and for a magnificent bouquet of roses which was presented to Mrs. Stratton.

Work On the G.T.P.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The first work of the G. T. P. will be from Winnipeg east to connect with the Thunder Bay branch, upon which construction will likely commence right away. Other points of starting will be Moncton West and Montreal East. Survey parties are now out from Moncton to a point 120 miles west of North Bay, where they join with G. T. P. parties. Branches may be built from other points on Lake Superior to carry in material, but arrangements for rapid construction east to North Bay will be made to furnish outlet for freight which winter precludes sending out by Thunder Bay branches.

Body Rises to Surface.

Port Arthur, Ont., Nov. 9.—As the steamer Myles was coming up to the dock Monday evening the disturbance of the water raised to the surface a dead body, which was discovered to be that of Tom Kirkness, an old resident of Port Arthur, who has been missing for nearly a month. He was a well known character in the town, having been one of the guides of the force of the first Red River expedition under Lord Wolseley, and after going as far as Fort Garry he took up his residence in Port Arthur.

On Suspended Sentence.

St. Thomas, Nov. 9.—Edward Johnston, Albert Boughner and Leonard Graham, who pleaded guilty to twice burglarizing S. A. Crawford's store, and also burglarizing two creameries and George Wegg's carriage shop, were yesterday morning arraigned before Police Magistrate Glenn and discharged on suspended sentence.

Refuses a Preference.

London, Nov. 9.—(C.A.P.)—The Chancellor of the Exchequer in a letter to a West Indian Committee, refuses to consider proposals to give colonial alcohol a preference over other imported spirit. He also refused to consider the advisability of having a colonial member on the committee.

Province $24,035 Ahead.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—A cheque for $24,035 was received by the Ontario Treasury yesterday from the Edmund Hall estate of Michigan. Mr. Hall was a big lumberman, with mills in Sarnia and timber limits on the Spanish River. This is the second instalment. The first was of $12,000.

Challenges Balfour.

London, Nov. 9.—(C. A. P.)—Sir Edward Grey at Coventry, challenged Mr. Balfour to answer "yes" or "no" to Mr. Chamberlain's policy, which is a real peril to the Empire. In proposing a conference Mr. Balfour is simply placing the card answering the call from his partner.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

This is the sixty-third birthday of, after Queen Victoria, the best ruler that has ever occupied the throne of Great Britain. He is par excellence the people's King—"Our Teddy," but with all that he is a thoroughly constitutional monarch, and a statesman of high rank, with a deep sense of his responsibility, and with a never-failing tact which permits him to exercise effective sway without friction—the people are effectively governed almost without knowing it. He is popular with all classes of his subjects. He has done more by his personal influence in advancing the solution of the perennial Irish question than all the fussy, elaborate and and experimental statesmanship of the past, and if Ireland soon takes her place with her wrongs redressed and her rights extended, a very large share of the credit will be due to King Edward. He is not only the people's King and a statesman of the first rank, but he occupies the foremost rank in influence for peace and the progress that flows from peace, in the diplomatic councils of the world. His reign has been so far an eminent success and if he is spared to reach the venerable age of his illustrious mother, he has before him a full score of years of royal usefulness to the Empire and to the world of which it is so large and vital a part. God Save the King.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Now that the country is saved, now that Peterborough has a live representative at Ottawa who will look after the parliamentary end of the town's needs, it becomes the duty of the citizens in the selection of a mayor for 1905—assuming that the present incumbent will not again be a candidate—to select one who has the business qualifications which Peterborough demands in a chief magistrate. Without going into details, it may be pointed out that Mr. Roger has been an efficient and painstaking mayor, who has made an alert and judicious effort, and with no small degree of success, to advance the material interests of the town.

What we want in a mayor for the next two years—for the double term seems to be sanctioned by usage—is a mayor with a like and, if possible, intensified, enterprise in looking after Peterborough's progress. Such a mayor can advantageously co-operate with our representative in parliament and cut out the latter's work for him in the way of discovering the needs of Peterborough. We are coming rapidly to the dignity of a city, and after next January may be a city in deed and in name, if the people think well of the proposition which will in all probability be presented to them at the municipal elections.

In that event new conditions will have to be dealt with and we require a mayor who will be equal to the demands of the occasion. One thing all will be agreed upon—Peterborough whether city or town, must be kept growing. To grow in population and incidentally in commercial importance, we must have growing industrial expansion, and with Peterborough's natural and made advantages as a manufacturing centre, what is required to bring about this expansion is a live civic administration, headed by a live, energetic mayor.

The Examiner has no particular person in mind answering these conditions, but certainly in a prosperous community like this, such a man, or two or three to choose from, should not be difficult to discover. It is only a little more than two months till the elections are upon us, and it is none too soon to consider the question of our municipal representation. It seems to be a mistake to leave the important question of the composition of our council to the chance of nomination day, and to the hazard of the ambition of mediocrity, which takes courage to enter the field when the opposition of good and capable men as rivals is not to be feared. It goes without saying, that these remarks are only the expression of a general principle, and have no specific or personal significance.

It is quite time that our prominent citizens, who may themselves have no ambition for municipal honours, but who, nevertheless, have a substantial stake in the town, and a real interest in its prosperity, should confer upon the important question of bringing good candidates into the field. This suggestion, made in ignorance of the intentions of the present members of the aldermanic board as to seeking re-election, are none the less pertinent. If the services of the present aldermen have been satisfactory, and they are willing to serve, the search for suitable men will be necessarily simplified. But, even if the present aldermen should all wish to serve again, that need not preclude the search for good candidates. It is desirable that good men, even if they are not elected, should be put in training — introduced to the ratepayers as the coming aldermen of the town or city of Peterborough.

It is the experience of those who have served the public, no matter how faithfully and successfully they have done their duty, that serving the public is often a thankless task. This may be so, but this fact should not deter citizens from doing their duty; the path of duty is not always upholstered with rose leaves — more kicks than halfpence may be the reward of even the faithful public servant, but the solid satisfaction of duty faithfully done, should outweigh the unpleasant accompaniments, especially, when to such a satisfaction is conjoined the satisfaction of having done something to help up-build the town of which we are all so proud, and in whose welfare we all take so deep an interest.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Review has solved the problem of how to conduct an election campaign without talking politics.

Nothing illustrates the dominating power of party more strongly than the decision of the Conservatives of Quebec to refrain from nominating candidates in the forthcoming elections in that Province. Of course there is little hope, judging from the composition of the late House of Conservative party success. But there is something certainly higher than mere party triumph. The Opposition in Parliament is under our constitution as essentially a necessary feature of a parliament or legislature as the Government party. True patriotism would suggest a fight in the interests of the province even if less than a corporal's guard were elected. The Opposition even if weak in numbers might be strong in the discharge of its duty. To throw down arms without striking a blow is not brave.

NOTES FROM OMEMEE

Aftermath of the Elections and Items of Interest.

The elections are over, and the Omemee and Emily Conservative majorities were reduced lower than ever known in the history of political life, being only about 50.

McLaughlin made a splendid stand against Hughes, only having eighteen days to go over such a large riding—one of the most extensive in the Dominion. It is now whispered that Hughes will give his place over to Borden.

The Hughes reception and demonstration took place last evening, and the news that the fine band of Peterborough would be in attendance, attracted large crowds of both sexes. Besides Col. Hughes, Messrs. Carnegie, M.P.P., Fox, M.P.P., and a number of other prominent gentlemen, were on the platform. It would have been a tame affair but for the band, as the Conservatives are divided.

The Pauline Johnston and McRae entertainers promise to attract a large crowd on Monday evening, Nov. 14th, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church.

Professor Milliner, organist, late of Cornwall, England, left this morning to complete arrangements to accept the position of organist of the George street Methodist church, in Peterborough. Mr. Milliner was delighted with his reception in Peterborough last Sunday. The professor is capable of making, and keeping friends, and has won many here.

Can Eat Anything Now.

How many Dyspeptics can say that?
Or perhaps you are dyspeptic and don't know it.

Have you any of these symptoms?

Variable appetite, a faint gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach, unsatisfied hunger, a loathing of food, rising and souring of food, a painful load at the pit of the stomach, constipation, or are you gloomy and miserable? Then you are a dyspeptic. The cure is careful diet; avoid stimulants and narcotics, do not drink at meals, keep regular habits, and regulate the stomach and bowels with

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS,

Nature's specific for Dyspepsia.

Miss Laura Chicoine, Belle Anse, Que., says of its wonderful curative powers:—"Last winter I was very thin, and was fast losing flesh owing to the run-down state of my system. I suffered from Dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get, but to no purpose; then finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. From the first day I felt the good effect of the medicine, and am now feeling strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after-effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER.

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities, by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability, making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business, and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigour. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well-known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy, but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store, and took two or three tablets after each meal, and occasionally a tablet between meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health, and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was going to cure completely, and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and drink and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy, asking for information as to what the Tablets contained, and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin, (government test,) malt diastase, and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this: the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Digestive Tablets will digest the food, give the over worked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength; they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue, is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can assure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been on the market only a few years yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach troubles.

—Things have been very quiet since the elections. There was no police court again this morning.

THE LATEST NEWS FROM HAVELOCK.

Interesting Happenings at the Busy Railway Town.

A Coming Concert, Personal Mention Local Improvements, Town Council.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dell, of Niagara are the guests of Mrs. J. Conkrite, of town.

Mr. E. A. Barrett of town, left on Tuesday for a short visit to Montreal.

Mr. Darcy Somerville, of Manvers, is the guest of his brother, Mr. D. L. Somerville, teacher, town.

Mr. Alex. Innis is to be congratulated on the birth of another son on Monday evening.

Miss Aggie Campbell of Montreal, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Jas. Campbell of town.

A concert will be given in the town hall on Thanksgiving evening, under the auspices of the English church choir. The first part of the concert will consist of music, singing, etc.; the latter half will be a cantatta, composed of local talent. This is looked forward to by a great number with interest, as it is the event of the fall season.

The lower story of Mr. H. T. Andrew's new building is at last completed, and is the first to be up since the fire. Mr. C. Williams has moved in, and has put in a lot of fine furniture—a 20 foot dresser, two large mirrors, five by four and a half feet, also a large number of new tables, chairs, etc., are on the way.

Mr. Wellington Wiles has also moved his harness shop into the next store in the same building. Mr. Andrews is getting his stock of groceries in and in a few days will be ready for business. This new store is without exception the finest looking establishment in town, and the metallic ceiling on the inside makes a vast improvement on the looks of the interior.

Mr. E. White has added two fine mirrors to his barber shop.

The new hotel which has been under construction for the past two months is going up rapidly. A few more days will see the brick work completed. It is expected the interior will be ready for habitation by Christmas.

Mr. Jos. Campbell, who took the paralytic stroke at Koshabogamog, some time ago, is in a critical condition and is not expected to recover. Although he has been doing as well as could be expected he has since had a relapse.

The young Davis boy, who was accidentally shot last week, while out shooting partridge, died on Wednesday last.

A comical occurrence, that has just come to light, happened on Hallowe'en night. The circumstances of the case were that a number of boys happened to be rapping at a door in town, and then ran away. About five minutes after they had gone a lady caller happened to be rapping at the door, when she was very much surprised to receive a pail of cold water down the back of the neck from an upstairs window. It is not known who was the more surprised, the caller or the person called upon. But the former thought it was a rather watery reception anyway.

Miss L. Mills of Tweed, was the guest of Mrs. Lancaster on Tuesday.

A hard winter is expected around here; there are no less than three weddings to come off before Christmas.

A very pleasant time was experienced at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Doxee when the married couple celebrated their five years of married life by giving a wooden wedding. A large gathering was present to help put the thing through pleasantly. "There was hard wood, soft wood, kindling wood, to light wooden wood, and shavings enough to make a bed, all came into Doxee's house when he was five years wed." About seventy-five people, who were there, enjoyed themselves immensely.

A number of our boys leave for the West to-night to take up the positions as engineers and firemen on the western section of the C.P.R. Mr. Harry Toman, Wm. White, Joseph Muldoon, Jack Hastings, Edwin Dorricott and John Black are among the number leaving. We all regret their leaving town but our hearty wishes for their future welfare go with them.

A great deal of comment is being made by the people on account of the street lamps not being lit early enough especially at six o'clock when everyone is going home from their work it is rather annoying not to see them lit.

Council met at 8 p.m., Nov. 7th, present the Reeve, Councillors Campany and Thompson. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. On motion of Councillors Campany and Thompson, the following accounts were ordered paid:—Electric Light Co., $60.00; John Little, $18.85; Matthew Little, $36.00; William Simpson, $12.00; S. Walbridge, $13.87; David Weems, 75c.; C. Coom, salary for month, $36.00. Moved by Councillors Campany and Thompson, that J. D. Foster get a rebate of taxes according to bylaw. A few other minor matters were discussed and the council adjourned.

The question of the hour is, Who is going to put up a rink?

A vast number of improvements are in operation on the C.P.R. Mechanical Department at this point. They expect to have everything completed in about two weeks.

ROOSEVELT WINNER

Judge Parker Buried Completely Out of Sight.

BY REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDE

Messages Between the Victor At the Polls and the Vanquished—Roosevelt Carried All the Doubtful States—Declares He Will Not Again Be a Candidate For the Presidency.

New York, Nov. 9.—The Republican national ticket has been elected by a vote in the electoral college that will exceed that of 292 given to McKinley in 1900. The result of yesterday's balloting was astounding even to the most sanguine of the Republican managers. Confident as they were of success, they were not prepared for the astonishing figures which followed the closing of the polls—bringing into the Republican column not only all those States they had claimed as safe for their candidates, but with the possible exception of Maryland, every State classed as doubtful.

Democratic successes are confined to the solid south, in which Kentucky is included, and Mr. Parker has not carried a single State which did not give its vote to Mr. Bryan four years ago. Unofficial returns indicate that he has lost some of those who the Nebraskan candidate held for his party. Official figures from some of the Northwest States may slightly change the totals, but based on the returns available at a late hour last night the electoral vote stands as follows:

The Electoral College.

For Roosevelt:

State.	Estimated Plurality	Electoral Vote.
Colorado	5,000	5
*California		10
Connecticut	25,000	7
Delaware	2,500	7
*Idaho		3
Illinois	150,000	27
Indiana	50,000	15
Iowa	122,000	13
Kansas	30,000	10
Maine	37,000	6
Maryland(prob- Repub.)		8
Massachusetts	80,000	18
Michigan	100,000	14
Minnesota	100,000	11
*Montana		3
New Jersey	50,000	12
Nebraska	30,000	8
New Hampshire	20,000	4
Nevada (probably Repub.)		3
New York	185,000	39
North Dakota	25,000	4
Ohio	100,000	23
Oregon	20,000	4
Pennsylvania	300,000	34
Rhode Island	5,000	4
South Dakota	30,000	4
Utah	8,000	3
Vermont	30,000	4
West Virginia Rep. maj. unknown)		7.
Washington	30,000	5
Wisconsin	60,000	12
Wyoming (largely Rep.)
*Conceded Republican.

This gives Roosevelt a total of 335 electoral votes.

For Parker:

Alabama	37,500	11
Arkansas	40,000	9
Florida	18,000	5
Georgia	45,000	13
Kentucky	10,000	13
Louisiana	35,000	9
Mississippi (largely D.)		10
Missouri	35,000	18
N. Carolina (largely D.)		12
S. Carolina (largely D.)		9
Tennessee	25,000	12
Texas	190,000	15
Virginia (largely D.)		12

This shows a total electoral vote of 151 for Parker.

New Party to Arise.

As a dramatic climax to the sensational majorities given him, came President Roosevelt's formal announcement that he would not be a candidate for re-election, lending the only exciting aspect to an election night otherwise so one-sided that it was impossible for even the victors to attain that degree of enthusiasm which usually marks the occasion.

Late in the night came an announcement from Melvin G. Palliser, manager of the campaign for Thomas E. Watson, Presidential candidate of the People's party, that as a result of the overwhelming Democratic defeat, steps would be taken to form a new party. To this end, according to announcement given out, Mr. Bryan, Mr. Watson and William R. Hearst would hold a conference in New York in about a week's time.

Story Summed Up.

Beginning with the State of New York, which gives a Republican plurality of approximately 185,000, the tale runs practically throughout the country, Kentucky alone showing Democratic gains. Indiana is credited with at least 40,000 plurality, Iowa 125,000 and Pennsylvania heads the list as the banner Republican State with the magnificent plurality of 325,000. Even in the Southern States the vote has been light, Georgia's Democratic majority being only between 30,000 and 35,000. Texas will probably not exceed 100,000. Nevada, which was carried by Mr. Bryan four years ago, is Republican, and the indications are that Montana, Idaho and Colorado, also Democratic in 1900, have gone back into the Republican column. Delaware is credited at about 50,000 Republican, Massachusetts about 90,000, and Connecticut, in which the more sanguine of the Democratic leaders claimed to have had hopes, is about 25,000 for Roosevelt. While on the national ticket the Democrats have suffered a crushing defeat they have retrieved themselves on some State tickets. They have reversed the national vote by electing Governors in Massachusetts, Minnesota and probably in Colorado.

Very Formal.

Esopus, N. Y., Nov. 9.—At 8.30 p. m. yesterday Judge Parker sent this telegram to the President:

"Rosemont, Esopus, N.Y., Nov. 8, 1904.

"The President, Washington, D. C. —The people by their votes have emphatically approved your Administration and I congratulate you.

"(Signed) Alton B. Parker."

Washington, Nov. 9. — President Roosevelt's reply to Judge Parker was as follows:

"Alton B. Parker, Rosemont, N.Y. —I thank you for your congratulations.

"(Signed) Theodore Roosevelt."

No Third Term For Roosevelt.

Washington, Nov. 9. — President Roosevelt last night, after the election returns clearly indicated the result, issued the following statement: "I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit. On March 4 next I shall have served my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form. Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

DEATH OF WILLIAM TYRRELL.

One of Foremost Holders of Municipal Office in the Province.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—In the death of William Tyrrell, which occurred at his residence in Weston yesterday morning, there passed away one of the foremost holders of municipal office in the Province, reckoned by length of service. Mr. Tyrrell, who was 88 years of age on March 5 last, was the first reeve of Weston and was reeve of York for a continuous period of 23 years, besides having been warden of that county for several terms. Death was due to a paralytic stroke.

Mr. Tyrrell, who was a native of Kildare, Ireland, came to Toronto in 1836 and has ever since resided in the vicinity. He served as a captain of militia in the rebellion of 1837. He married Elizabeth Burr, daughter of the late Rowland Burr of Toronto, by whom with three sons he is survived. The sons are Dr. R. S. Tyrrell, 1 Rusholme road; J. A. W. Tyrrell, C.E., Hamilton, the noted explorer, and H. G. Tyrrell of New Britain, Conn.

$1,000 Pile Cure.

A thousand dollar guarantee goes with every bottle of Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, the only certain cure for every form of Piles.

Geo. Cook, St. Thomas, Ont., writes:

"Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cured me of a very bad case of Piles of over ten years' standing. I had tried everything but could get no permanent cure until I had used Hem-Roid. I had Blind and Bleeding Piles and suffered everything. Ointments and local treatments failed but Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cured me perfectly."

Hem-Roid is a Tablet taken internally which removes the cause of Piles. $1 at all druggists, or the Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

Killed By a Train.

Kincardine, Nov. 9.—Yesterday John Kirpatrick, an old and highly respected resident of the Township of Huron, lost his life. Mr. Kirkpatrick was driving to town on the Baugeen road with a load of grain and in crossing the Grand Trunk Railway track was struck by the engine of the incoming train. He was instantly killed. One of the horses was killed and the other so badly injured that it died shortly afterwards. Mr. Kirkpatrick leaves a family, consisting of wife, one son and one daughter at home, and three daughters married. Mr. Kirkpatrick was sixty years of age.

WELCOME LINEVITCH

Commander of the First Russian Army Takes His Duties.

JAPS ARE ON THE OFFENSIVE

Occupied Several Villages Russians Held On the Line, But Were Driven Back By Russians—Report That the Japs Have Offered the Russians in Port Arthur Terms of Surrender.

Mukden, Nov. 9.—Lieut.-General Linevitch, recently appointed to the command of the first army, arrived yesterday by special train and was met by Gen. Sakharoff. He was enthusiastically welcomed by all the troops. His escort consisted of men who had been decorated with the St. George's cross. Gen. Linevitch will take command immediately. The Russian front now extends 66 miles. Quiet was broken the morning of Nov. 7 by a Russian cannonade of an intensity that had had no parallel in weeks. There is no sign yet of a Japanese advance.

Japs On Offensive.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.Gen Sakharoff reports that the Japanese vanguard assumed the offensive on Nov. 7 along the line from Changtan to Khonan, and occupied the villages of Outiatse, Kitaitsw and Paosintung, from whence, however, the Russians afterwards expelled them, re-occupying the original line. There was no fighting yesterday.

JAPS APPEAL TO FILES.

Offer Terms of Surrender to the Russian Soldiers in Port Arthur.

Che Foo, Nov. 9.—The Japanese besieging Port Arthur, ignoring Lieutenant General Stoessel, the commander of the Russian military forces there, have offered terms of surrender to the Russian soldiers, according to advices leaving Port Dalny Monday. In the meanwhile the ceaseless activity of picks and spades gradually advancing the trenches, spells inexorable fate, to the watching Russians.

A Russian prisoner, captured Oct. 26, said the soldiers composing the garrison of Port Arthur, in want and dispirited, saw the hopelessness of the struggle. Despairing of relief, with food scarce and medicine, and hospital supplies insufficient it was admitted by the Russians that a Japanese victory was ultimately inevitable. The soldiers, according to the prisoner, see no reason to prolong the resistance which brings glory to their officers, but chiefly hardship and death to them. Upon hearing the prisoner's story General Nogi drafted a letter to be circulated among the soldiers themselves, the prisoner having promised to deliver it in mercy to his comrades.

The letter related General Kuropatkin's retreats and his inability to make an impression on the army of Field Marshal Oyama, to say nothing of breaking through his forces and relieving Port Arthur. The letter also pointed out that the second Russian Pacific squadron has just started on its slow voyage. Continuing, it called attention to the resistless advance of the Japanese trenches, making it a matter of weeks when the Japanese would walk into the main Russian strongholds.

In conclusion the letter offered humane treatment to all who surrendered, saying it was in the interests of humanity to prevent further useless slaughter.

Several copies of the letter, written in Russia were given to the prisoner, who regained the Russian lines unobserved by his officers. That night the Russian returned, saying his comrades would answer within a few days. He said the temper of the men seemed to show that while they were mutinous towards fate, they also did not like the idea of an unofficial surrender. The letter did much, however, to dispel among the Russian troops the impression fostered by their officers that a massacre would follow a Japanese victory. The company to which the prisoner belonged originally numbered 800, and now totals thirty men.

Processing Satisfactory.

Tokio, Nov. 9.—Unofficial news received from Port Arthur since Saturday's report of the progress made by the besiegers, indicates that the Japanese operations are proceeding satisfactorily, though slowly. Limestone formations and rocky ground interfere with firing. It is now considered that the capture of Rihlung Mountain and East Kechwan Mountain without Antse and Etse Mountains is not sufficient to force the Russians to abandon the city proper.

Both Armies Passive.

Tokio, Nov. 9.—Reports from the Shakhe River state that both armies are still strengthening their positions along the river and are otherwise busily preparing for another great battle. The scouts are constantly in touch and frequent outpost skirmishes occur, but there is no likelihood of a general engagement for the present. Reinforcements of Russian troops, guns and supplies are constantly arriving at the front, filling the gaps caused by the crushing losses at the battle of Shakhe River.

None Ever Returns.

New York, Nov. 9.—A Berlin despatch to The Times says: A circular, widely distributed to the Russian army, despite the strictest control, has reached here. It contains the following: "No one going to war returns. It is better to defend our rights than to shed blood unnecessarily. We workmen cannot look on with indifference while our comrades perish." As a result of these circulars further riots were reported Monday at Kaner, where several persons were killed or wounded. At Rodeneck in a chah between reservists and police several men were killed.

Firing Continues.

Mukden, via Pekin, Nov. 9.—Artillery firing was continuous all along the lines on Monday and intermittent yesterday morning. A battle might commence at any hour. It will be a question of many days, if not weeks, to decide the position which is the most interesting since the commencement of the war. Each side is waiting for the other to attack.

Jap Ship Sunk.

Shanghai, Nov. 9.—It is reported in British naval circles that a Japanese man-of-war has been sunk by a mine off Port Arthur.

Chinese Spy Executed.

Shanghai, Nov. 9.—It is reported here that a Chinese official of high rank was executed by the Japanese on Nov. 2 at the village of Shake. The official was discovered in the act of spying on the movements of Japanese troops, it is said, on the order of Theng Chi, the military Governor of the Province of Skengking.

Recalled By War Department.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.—Captain Reichmann and Lieut.-Col. Walter Schuyler, the United States military attaches with Kuropatkin's army, are returning to the United States, having been recalled by the War Department.

Russia Will Not Join.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.—Foreign Minister Lamsdorff has received through Charge d'Affaires Eddy the American proposal for a second peace conference at The Hague to proceed with the work begun in 1899. Russia will decline to participate so long as the war lasts.

Duck Hunters Drown.

Detroit, Nov. 9.—Jas. H. Foote and Alfred Gaines, electricians, were drowned while duck hunting at the St. Clair flats on Sunday and their bodies were recovered in the north channel in shallow water, about 150 feet from the shore, yesterday.

Hunter Shoots His Eye Out.

Kingston, Nov. 9.—J. Kenny, who lives near Arden, met with a serious accident Monday. While cleaning out his gun one of the cartridges exploded and the bullet entered his left eye. He was brought to the Kingston General Hospital and the eye removed.

TALENT SOCIAL A GREAT SUCCESS

Very Enjoyable Programme Under Auspices of George Street Girls' Guild.

Highly successful in every particular was the Talent Social at the residence of Mr. G. E. Whiten, Aylmer street, last evening. The affair was under the auspices of three members of the Girls' Guild of the George street church, and the proceeds realized, which amounted to a handsome sum, will go towards the church debt fund. There was a very large attendance, and the occasion was highly enjoyed by all present.

A programme of more than usual merit was presented and the hearty manner in which each number was encored, gave ample evidence of the satisfaction of the audience. Vocal solos were given by Miss C. Bellegham, Master Herb Mowat, Messrs. J. Bowes, J. Browne and H. Herd, a vocal duet by Misses Parnell and Gray, and a piano solo by Miss W. Gumpricht. The accompanists were Mrs. Mowat and Mr. Schneider.

After the programme refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and a pleasant time was spent in social intercourse.

The ladies in charge of the affair wish to express their thanks to those who so kindly assisted on the programme and to Mrs. Whitton for the use of her home.

WEDDING BELLS.

Interesting Event in Painesville, Ohio, Last Week.

The following clipping is from the Painesville Daily Republican of Thursday, Nov. 3rd, and will be of interest to many in Peterborough:—

Miss Katherine Wade and Mr. Otis Kintner of this city were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock at their future home on South street in the presence of their immediate friends and relatives.

At the hour set for the ceremony, the bride, attired in white habuati silk and carrying white roses, accompanied by the groom, entered the parlour to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Margaret Blakely of Willoughby.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur F. Skeel of the Congregational church, the couple taking their places under an immense bell decorated in yellow and white and entwined with smilax.

The decorations were especially pretty, the front parlours being done in yellow and white chrysanthemums and carnations and the dining room in pink roses and maiden hair fern. At either end of the bride's table were candelabra with pink shades and candles and suspended directly over the centre of the table were two immense pink and white hearts pierced with Cupid's arrow white different length pink ribbons suspended from the large hearts held small white hearts on which each guest wrote their best wishes to the bride and groom.

The pink and white effect of the dining room was carried out in the dainty refreshments which were served by Stephen Freeman, the well-known caterer.

Mr. and Mrs. Kintner received many beautiful presents and after the usual ordeal of decorated carriage and rice [illegible], they left on Lake Shore train No. 2 at 10.14 for parts unknown.

Those who attended the wedding from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. John Kintner of Wooster, father and mother of the groom; Mrs. Walter Shepard of Buffalo sister of the groom; Miss Florence Wade of Peterborough, Canada, and Mrs. Thomas Redpath, of Wheeling, W. Va., sisters of the bride and Miss Margaret and William Blakely of Willoughby.

South Burleigh	50

The bidding opened briskly. Mr. Kerr offered nine cents, Mr. Rollins 9 1-4, and Mr. Wrighton to 9 1-2, Mr. Kerr to 9 9-16, Mr. Cook to 9 11-16, Mr. Fitzgerald to 9 3-4, Mr. Kerr to 9 13-16, Mr. Fitzgerald to 9 7-8. At this price Mr. Fitzgerald took Keene, Central Smith, Westwood, Myrtle, Fraserville, Lakefield, Fleetwood, Buckhorn, Cedardale, East Emily, Warminster, Warsaw, Maple Leaf, Bensfort, Lang, Indian River, North Smith, Shearer, Pine Grove, Peterborough and Trowern, a total of 2063 boxes.

Mr. Whitton offered 9 7-8 and called Norwood, Percy, Ballyduff, Oakdale, Daisy D., Ballyduff refused.

Mr. Rollins offered 9 5-8 and called South Burleigh, Oakleaf, Stony Lake, North Dummer, Young's Point.

At 9 7-8 Mr. Cook took Missing Link.

At 9 3-4 Mr. Fitzgerald took Ballyduff.

Mr. Harry Hodgson of Hodgson Bros., Montreal, was present and addressed the meeting. He said the local board was always considered a banner board and he hoped it would always maintain its present reputation.

At the close of the meeting several votes of thanks were passed. Mr. Whitton moved, seconded by Mr. T. D. Young, that the thanks of the Board be tendered the president for his very capable services during the past and in former years.

Mr. E. E. Kennedy moved, seconded by Mr. Whitton, that the thanks of the Board be tendered to the town council for the use of the council chamber for the meetings of the Board.

Upon motion of Mr. Whitton, seconded by Mr. J. Riddell a vote of thanks was tendered to the Ontario Bank for the kind use of their Board Room during the past few months.

Mr. P. Gallagher thought a vote of thanks should be tendered to the Liberal Government because of the recent rise in the price of cheese. Mr. Whitton said he was a good Tory, but he nevertheless thought he would second the motion.

Mr. Whitton also with his usual thoughtfulness moved a vote of thanks to the press for the manner in which the meetings had been reported, and that the thanks be shown in a more substantial manner than simply by words. Mr. G. J. Galvin seconded the motion.

All the motions were unanimously carried and the board adjourned for the year.

JUDGE CLARKE DIED IN COBOURG.

Passed Away This Morning After a Lingering Illness.

For Many Years Judge of Northumberland and Durham Counties—A Man Well Known and Respected.

Judge Clarke died this morning at his family residence in Cobourg. The deceased was one of the oldest and most distinguished residents of the Town of Cobourg and was well known in these parts. He entered the bar when a young man and at the early age of about thirty years he was appointed Junior Judge of the united counties of Durham and Northumberland. When still quite young, on the retirement of Judge Boswell, he became Senior Judge of these two counties and held that position for a term of many years when he retired and accepted the Chief Solicitorship of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company with his head office at Montreal. He continued his residence in Cobourg during this time and retired about three years ago from the position. He has resided at home since then and during the past two years has been in poor health. During the last two months he has been confined to his house and passed away this morning.

The late George M. Clarke was married to a sister of Judge Weller of town, daughter of the late Wm. Weller of Cobourg, who was proprietor of all the lines of stages between Montreal and Toronto previous to the construction of the G. T.R. His widow survives him. He leaves no family, but three grandchildren who have been living with him.

The deceased was a man of strong character; of splendid legal attainments and was held in high regard by all who knew him.

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT Y. M. C. A. HALL

Kinetoscope and Phonograph Supply a Delightful Evening.

The Y.M.C.A. Hall was last night packed with the younger folk and their parents who attended the kinetoscope and phonograph entertainment given by Mr. James Stubbs, under the auspices of the Boys' Department. For two solid hours Mr. Stubbs held the attention of his delighted audience as he took them on a trip across the ocean and through England, Ireland and Wales.

The views of this journey were interspersed with a large number of moving pictures, including scenes in the South African War; the trip of the Duke and Duchess of York; the King and Queen going to their first Parliament; fire scene and "Mike's adventure with the steam roller."

Mr. Stubbs also put on the canvas a number of miscellaneous views of Canadian subjects.

The lecture throughout was racy and given in an original style, punctuated every now and then with first-class anecdotes. The delightful evening was brought to a close by an illustrated recitation "Curfew Shall Not Ring To-night."

Mr. Hutchinson spoke a few words in regard to the Boys' Department, and Mr. Geo. Lee moved a vote of thanks which was seconded by Mr. Dormer and carried with great applause.

BELMONT IRON MINES.

Another Contribution to the Discussion of the Important Question of Their Developmentt

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Yesterday's paper contained a statement that it was possible that the iron of the Belmont mines might be smelted at Peterborough by electricity, and that much depended on the completion of the Trent Canal—and that by deepening Crow River, barges could be loaded right at the mine, which is on the edge of Crow Lake.

This is very interesting but it is vague. The Belmont iron is hard and sulphurous and required washing to get rid of the sulphur. Coal, which contains plenty of sulphur is unsuitable for smelting and it is altogether possible that electricity could successfully deal with the ore. As to reaching the mine by way of Crow River, that is out of the question.

There is a railway now from a point below Havelock right into the mine—it only requires to be ironed. Ore was lifted by buckets and dropped right into the cars. These cars could be run to Peterborough and landed right at the smelter and this would be cheaper than any water route as there is less handling. The Trent Canal would be useful in shipping the pig iron. Besides ore limestone is required. This could be brought from Stony Lake by barge or rail.

If we had smelters here, we could have large iron manufacturing establishments here, which now are deterred from coming to Peterborough by reason of freight difficulties.

In 1863 a large excursion left Peterborough by steamer and went to the Narrows, thence by rail to the formal opening of the Belmont mine and thereafter for many years about 40,000 tons a year were shipped to Peterborough by rail from the mine to the river, by river and Rice Lake to Harwood, thence by rail to Cobourg, thence by schooner to Buffalo and Cleveland, then by rail to Pittsburg. All this involved many transfers and as against the splendid and easily smelted ores of Michigan and the cheap freight, the Belmont ore could not hold its own. The entire enterprise was dropped. Now with electric smelting and railway from Peterborough to the mine there is every prospect of success. If foreign ores were required to mix with the Belmont ore, it could be brought from Midland by cargoes. If this smelting proved a success we could fairly expect immense industries requiring much iron to locate at Peterborough.

Yours truly

CROWDED HOUSE AT MARKS BROS.

A Splendid Show Again Last Evening at Opera House.

Another packed house greeted Marks Bros. No. 2 Company at the Opera House last evening, the seating capacity of the hall being again far from sufficiently commodious to accommodate the large crowd present and people were standing in all the aisles. The four-act Comedy-Drama "Tennessee Partner" was presented in a manner which greatly pleased the audience. The principals acted their roles in commendable style, but the acting of Harry Starr as "Caleb Swan," M. S. Goldaine as "Asa Rice," and Ernie Marks in the comic role of "Geewhittiker Hay," deserves especial mention. The ladies' parts were taken in superb fashion and up to the high standard of the company.

The play was of a bright, spirited and mirth-provoking nature with plenty of opportunity for the principals to display their marked ability to interpret in an effective manner their different roles.

The specialties were again worthy of mention and included the clever juggling of Probasco, Mabel Purdon's songs in Indian costume, which were highly unique and enjoyed. Nat Ferguson's step dancing, which at once took the fancy of the audience, and other features. The illustrated songs by Harry Starr included 'Neath the Pines of Vermont" and "Always in the Way." The Kinetiscope was as popular as ever.

To-night "The Emerald Isle," a play entirely new to Peterborough audiences, will be presented.

REV. J. C. DAVIDSON AT BELLEVILLE

A Practical Sermon on "The Strenuous Life" Last Sunday.

Rev. J. C. Davidson rector of St. John's Church preached in Belleville Sunday, and yesterday's "Intelligence" says of the sermon:—

Preaching last night in St. Thomas' Rev. J. C. Davidson, of Peterborough made a few pointed references to civic affairs. As a visitor from a sister city, he said, it gave him pleasure to be here, and he saw a bright future before Belleville. In Peterborough they were living the strenuous life. If many smoking factory chimneys, an incoming rush of population, a house famine and high prices meant prosperity, the speaker supposed they must have it in some degree. They had natural advantages which made this possible. But why should every town strive after the same ideal. Providence had richly endowed Belleville with great advantages not less in quantity, but perhaps different in kind, which should be developed. Belleville was richly endowed in its natural beauty of situation and had many opportunities as a charming residential city of culture and refinement. Its rulers and citizens should co-operate to make it a lovely and a loving home-like place, so that it might be noted as a delightful abode, where everyone felt a kindly interest in everyone else. The great power of love ought to be brought boldly to bear in all directions, and wonderful results would follow. Our people had lately been divided into two sections by the general election, and perhaps some hard things had been said. Men ought now to seek out their opponents and resume friendly connections again. There were the terrible divisions occasioned by that religion of the loving Lord, which should unite, instead of dividing, all His followers. Could we not do something to improve so sorrowful a situation? We must loyally cherish our convictions, in so far as they were true, and maintain the heritage which we held in trust for others. But while doing this might we not feel and give expression to, a sincere Christian love for members of communions unfortunately separated from our own? If only our loving thoughts were to go forth to and follow other congregations as we saw them assembling, it would put us in a right attitude and something would come of it. We must not believe that other followers of our Blessed Lord could be against us. The question of our national needs and our national policy had of late been well discussed. The speaker believed that Canada's greatest curse lay in our divisions, sectional, political and chiefly religious. As lovers of our country, we should all work for a greater national unity and a richer and a more harmonious national life. This would come from increasing liberality of sentiment and an increased receiving and development of the great gift of love. The preacher also, in the course of this sermon, warmly congratulated the congregation of St. Thomas' on the striking beauty of the church and on the beautiful and devotional services in which it was a privilege to take part.

In reference to the above address the Intelligence has the following editorial remarks:—

Rev. J. C. Davidson, of Peterborough, preaching in St. Thomas' yesterday, gave utterance to some sensible and noble thought in his sermon, a report of which appears in another column. Men may well ask themselves if "the strenuous life," with all the consequences which follow in its wake, is the best after all.

SAVED HIS LIFE WON HIS HEART.

Romance of a Graduate of Peterborough Hospital.

H. C. Pierce Wounded in a Holdup is Cared for by Miss Margaret Bryson Formerly of Peterborough in Chicago Hospital—Wedding Follows.

The following account of an interesting romance appears in the Chicago Tribune. The young lady referred to is Miss Margaret or "Frankie" Bryson, who was born in Fenelon Falls and was a graduate of Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough:—

"All the essentials of a melodrama are contained in the romance of H. C. Pierce, revealed yesterday by the announcement of his marriage. His bride is a trained nurse the daughter of Dr. W. G. Bryson, 4918 Calumet avenue. This will afford a clue to the plots unfolded in the acts which follow.

Act one is laid in Elgin, with green fields and placid river in the distance behind the Pierce homestead. The time is a year ago. The only son of a wealthy mother, young Pierce decides to leave home and win his own way in the world. He came to Chicago.

Fortune making is not always easy in Chicago, and act two, time March 18 last, finds Pierce working as conductor on a North Halsted electric car. Not a particularly romantic avocation for a hero, but wait.

First comes the villain, a negro highwayman, who holds up Pierce's car. The conductor fights to save the company's money and the watch his mother gave him. There is a struggle and Pierce is shot. The robber escapes, but the money and watch are saved.

The rising of the curtain for act three discloses the conductor unconscious and apparently dying in the Presbyterian Hospital. White clad internes and nurses hover about him, but the bullet had pierced the abdomen and the case is declared hopeless.

Dr. Nicholas Senn is called in for consultation, and he summons Margaret Bryson, a graduate nurse, to care for the wounded man. She is considered an expert in emergency cases, and hour after hour, she watches over Pierce.

At the end of three days the wounded man rallies, and not till then does Miss Bryson seek rest. The fall of the curtain leaves Pierce out of danger and showing the incipient signs of an affection of the heart.

All through act four Miss Bryson watches over her patient, who rallies rapidly from the bullet wound. But the heart malady grows as rapidly. There are symptoms, too, that the young nurse is taking more than a professional interest in her patient. When the day comes on which he is discharged as cured Pierce takes Miss Bryson's hand.

"You saved my life," he tells her. "Now make it worth the saving. Without you existence is worse than the grave. I love you, Margaret."

The last act was yesterday. Miss Bryson and Pierce were married in Chicago on Sept. 18th, but the ceremony was kept a secret. In the morning Pierce and his bride returned to the homestead in Elgin. He rings the door bell, they enter the house and then his mother appears.

"Mother," says Pierce, "this is my wife. She saved my life when others declared I must die." The elder woman clasps the younger in her arms. And the curtain comes down."

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

LOCAL OPTION BY-LAW FOR SMITH

Interesting Meeting at Bridgenorth on Monday Afternoon.

By far the most interesting event in local temperance campaign, took place on Monday afternoon, when the council met to receive petitions re Local Option. Two largely signed petitions were presented, one for, and one against the submission of a by-law. Lawyer Haverson, of Toronto, supported the latter on the ground that the hotel keepers should be compensated and that it could not be enforced. He also affirmed that it was a failure wherever tried. Rev. J. G. Potter of Peterborough, ably replied, showing that it was unfair not to give the people a chance to speak in the matter. He questioned Mr. Haverson's statement that Local Option was a failure in Toronto Junction. Upon reliable authority he stated that it was working well there and liquor selling was practically stamped out. He was also certain that it could be worked with similar success in the township of Smith. As for compensation he was satisfied that the hotel men would not sustain the loss they anticipated, since good temperance hotels could be run with profit to the owners and with great moral benefit to the community.

The council then considered the petitions, and, thinking that the people should be given the right to speak for themselves, it was moved by Mr. Graham, and seconded by Mr. Braden that such a bylaw be submitted. After the first and second readings, it was pronounced carried, the three councillors present voting for it.

Mr. J. W. Bennet, barrister, of Peterborough, gave most excellent service to the council by way of legal advice in framing such law.

The large audience showed that the people were thoroughly alive to the subject.—Com.

ST. ANDREW'S GUILD REGULAR MEETING

Splendid Paper by Mr. T. G. Anderson Last Evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church, was held last night in the school room. Mr. Chas. Anderson, president, was in the chair. There was a large turn out of the members and the meeting was in every way a profitable one. An excellent paper on "Culture, without College," was read by Mr. T. G. Anderson. He spoke of the value of studying and improving oneself in spare time, and gave instances of great men who had had no college education, but had risen to lofty heights by their own perseverance and study. They were self-made men, and the success they had met with should serve as an encouragement to all young men. The paper contained many points of interest and value, and was much enjoyed by all present.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the paper.

Remnants of Flannel Waists
Remnants of Lustre Waists

Tuesday morning we will place on sale eight dozen FINE FRENCH FLANNEL AND LUSTRE WAISTS, suitable for fall and winter wear, at about ONE HALF their regular value. These Waists are made up from short ends or remnants of materials left after the manufacturers' season was over, consequently there are a number of choice patterns, sizes 32 to 40, the regular prices of which would be $3.00 and $3.50. They were offered to us at a very low price to clear, and when we get a line of goods at a bargain it is our policy to share up with our customers. We will, therefore, place on sale, Tuesday morning, these beautiful Waists for

"THE LADDER OF SWORDS."

Saturday Review's Criticism of Sir Gilbert Parker's New Book.

The following criticism in the Saturday Review of Sir Gilbert Parker's latest book, "The Ladder of Swords," called for the author's protest to that paper that "it is little likely to inspire gratitude or respect in the mind of its author."

The editor replied—"Our fault is that we do not take Sir Gilbert Parker at his own estimate. We take him rather at the estimate of his Canadian fellow-countrymen."

The reviewer compares Sir Gilbert's book with "The Queen's Quair," another historical romance, and says: One of these tales is written as though it happened but yesterday, and yet goes back at once its three hundred years. There is about it scarcely a touch of the wilfully archaic; just a hint of place, and the rest the simplicity of all strong feeling. But this other, the "Ladder of Swords," uses every trick of diction, every device of antique coloring, to push its stage into the past, and succeeds in putting it no further from us than behind the footlights of a theatre. Theatrical it is in all its twistings; dramatic not a whit. We have ruffs, hose, jerkins, halberdiers, corselets, morions, Moorish pikes, birds from the Indies, jousts, tiltings, and so forth. Every bit of stale color from the age of Elizabeth is plastered on to the scene, but never for an instant do we get an impression of that age; never is the working of a single mind revealed that might not have been brought up on cheap science and the penny paper, and not once is there a hint of the moulding influences of a time so removed from ours. The men tilt and fight and drink canary, and the women sit upon rushes, wear ruffles and slashed sleeves, and use the time-honored phrases, but neither so much as suggested the ferment and roughness of their time. They belong, indeed, to an age, they are unpossessed of reality, they are of that great company of impossibles that people the stage.

Of the character of Queen Elizabeth, the writer says she sets a high standard of theatrical verbiage. "Her eyes," he tells us, "wore over a determined look, were persistent and vigilant, with a lurking trouble, yet flooded, too, by a quiet melancholy, like a low insistent note that floats through an opera of passion, romance, and tragedy; like a tone of pathos giving deep character to some splendid pageant, which praises while it commemorates, proclaiming conquest while the grass has not yet grown on quiet houses of the children of the sword who no more wield the sword." That is a good deal to put into an eye, especially into a queen's eye, and the fact that all its piled-up descriptiveness produces no image makes it worth quoting here as significant of the entire effort and failure of the book. It is in construction and development hopelessly artificial; there is not anywhere in it a single direct human touch to impart to one of the characters a savour of reality.

A note appended to the story mentions that "there will be found a few anachronisms in this tale," but chronological displacements are a small matter, even in historical romance, compared with psychological. One does not complain that the facts and the people are out of keeping with a specified time, but that they are out of keeping with all time; that they not only misrepresent the Elizabethan age, they misrepresent humanity. One must suppose that that such a book is written in compliance with the market demand, for one cannot imagine its compilation proving of any interest to a man's intelligence.

Millions Go to Sunday School.

The report presented to the Sunday School Association of Ontario at the recent annual meeting by President Hamilton, though not altogether of a congratulatory character, was encouraging. He said the people of Ontario plumed themselves on the great resources of the province, on its advancement and increase in population, but he thought the Sunday schools had not been growing as they should have been. Less than one-fourth of the province was represented in the Sunday schools, and it was a question what was to be done with the remaining three-fourths. If the Dominion had ranked as high as Ontario, there would be about 416,000 more Sunday school members than at present. Of the 786,654 Sunday school members in Canada, Ontario's share was nearly 500,000, or about 225 to every 1,000 of population. That Canada's average, 147 to every 1,000 of population, was less than that of the United States, which country had over 13,000,000 Sunday school members, was due to the Province of Quebec. The total evangelical Sunday school enrollment of the world, teachers, officers and scholars, was 20,055,688.

Relic of a Tragedy.

"Do you see this," said James Beatty of Huron, as he placed a piece of flint on a Kincardine editor's desk. "There is a tragedy connected with that—a murder, probably."

Recently Mr. Beatty and George M. Chambers were walking along the plains south of Pine River, near the town plot of Alma, when they came across that piece of flint. Mr. Chambers went to pick it up when he found it imbedded in the hip bone of a human skeleton. The flint is about 1¼ inches long, and its widest point is about ¾ inches. It is pointed and was clearly an arrow head. The supposition is that the shaft was shot by an Indian, but whether the victim was an Indian or a pale face, Mr. Beatty cannot say. He has been here over fifty years and does not think it could have happened in that time.

The skeleton was buried face down, and the sand had recently blown off it. The skeleton was in a cramped position, as if the body had been hurriedly thrown into the grave.

THE HALL OF HUMANITIES.

A Notable Occasion and a Notable Man One Estimate of Dr. Goldwin Smith and His Work.

The dedication of the Hall of Humanities at Cornell University by Dr. Goldwin Smith is an event of no ordinary significance in the academic and intellectual world, says The Toronto Globe. Dr. Smith became a professor at Cornell over thirty years ago, when the new school of learning was not much more than in the germ. It has since then flourished with a vigorous growth until it is now recognized as one of the great intellectual centres of the United States. In his dedication address Dr. Smith feared that he would not look upon Cornell again. Let us hope that his fears in this respect will not be confirmed, and if Dr. Smith's physical powers were as well preserved as those of his mind, to indulge such a hope would not be extravagant. To observe the interest which the Sage of the Grange still maintains in the questions of the hour, the vigor and flexibility of his faculties, and the survival in his eighty-second year of his unrivalled power and felicity of expression, is an encouragement to all whose field of labor is among the things of the mind.

Dr. Robertson Nicoll, in a recent number of The British Weekly, had some references to Dr. Smith which illustrate how contradictory and haphazard are sometimes the judgments of hasty journalism. Dr. Nicoll in almost one and the same breath declared that nothing that Dr. Smith had written would live, and that he had carefully collected everything from his pen, even employing a friend to pick up for him in Canada the old copies of The Bystander. Dr. Nicoll has only done what hundreds have done. It may be urged that these works are valued for their form and not for their subjects. This can scarcely be said of the two volumes of the "Political History of the United Kingdom." They contain the ripe judgment on the annals of his own land of a man who has given a long lifetime to the study of history. It is couched in a style which is the perfection of the union of compressed narration and reflection. Condensation is aimed at, but the pages are nevertheless studded with phrases and passages, allusive or illuminative, of singular charm. We cannot think that these judgments of the most scholarly of our historians will soon disappear from the shelves of lovers of books.

Who shall say what in literature will longest survive the changes of taste? When Pennsant, the famous scientific man of his day, was receiving letters from Gilbert White, an obscure country clergyman, he could little have guessed that these unstudied communications would become an English classic, and that the only guarantee of his being remembered by future generations lay in the fact that his name was preserved in their pages. The one sure thing in literature is that fascination of form is the indispensable quality.

There is a little book on which the name of Goldwin Smith appears, entitled "A Trip to England." We feel quite unable to imagine how the mind can so alter in time to come that that little volume will cease to charm. We know of no pages of his which exhibit in a higher degree that simple and restrained perfection of expression that has gained for him a place among the masters of modern English style. Among those masters we have no hesitation in giving him the highest place. The whimsicalness of Carlyle, the mannerisms of Arnold, the exaggeration and want of measure in Ruskin, the preciosity of Pater, are quite absent in the exquisite English of the "Lectures on the Study of History," and continued without diminution of justice till the present day.

Dr. Smith has undoubtedly thrown much of his energies into questions of the day which require journalistic treatment. What a wealth of information, scholarship, and taste has been employed in this way, and who shall say that it has not been in the main well employed? It has always been sincere and conscientious, and calculated for the improvement of the times and of humanity. Dr. Smith holds opinions as to the destiny of Canada that are distasteful to the vast majority of us, but to conclude from that fact that he has had no influence in Canada is to show a woeful lack of discrimination. We think it may be said, for example, that the growing urbanity of Canadian journalism received its first impulse from Dr. Smith, and that his has been a potent influence in rendering the national conscience sensitive to whatever would be dishonoring to public life. This alone is an achievement which any man might be proud to claim as his.

Rapid Unloading of Ships.

The world's record for boat unloading has just been broken at Conneaut, on Lake Erie. The Wolvin, the largest freighter on fresh water, was emptied of a cargo of 9,945 tons of iron ore in four and one-half hours, reducing by six hours the best record heretofore made. The total delay from the beginning to the end of the unloading did not exceed five minutes. One by one eight monstrous hoisting machines were transferred in turn to the thirty-three cargo hatches of the Wolvin, while a vast audience watched the proceedings from the adjacent docks. Not that the unloading of big boats is rare at Conneaut. It is to-day the foremost ore port of the world, its ore receipts for July being 786,554 tons, nearly 100,000 tons more than were ever received before.

A Century for Leap Years.

The greatest possible number of leap years will occur in the twentieth century, the year 1904 being the first one, and every fourth year following up to and including 2000. In the same century, February three times will have five Sundays—in 1920, 1948 and 1976.

Gladstone's Colony.

An old and almost forgotten story of British expansion was recently recalled by the death of F. E. Stewart in Melbourne, Australia. Stewart was the last survivor of William E. Gladstone's colony in north Australia. This attempt at settlement was inspired by the doctrines of Gibbon Wakefield and had all the resources of officialdom behind it, for Gladstone was then in the Ministry of Sir Robert Peel. It was he who drew up its constitution to the minutest detail and otherwise provided for its political framework. But British colonics are not to be developed in this way, and so the Gladstone settlement languished. The only evidence that it ever existed is the little town of Gladstone on the Gulf of Carpentaria.

Preached on Victoria's Succession.

Canon Norgate, rector of Foxley, Norfolk, is probably the only incumbent now living, says The Telegraph, who preached on the occasion of the late Queen Victoria's succession to the Crown. The reverend gentleman was Vicar of Bylaugh in 1836, has been rector of his present parish since 1840, and attained the venerable age of 92 years on Friday last, on which day he conducted a funeral service in an impressive manner and with a clear voice both in the church and at the graveside of a parishioner.

No Danger of a Salt Famine.

The amount of salt in the sea water of the globe, if extracted, would be greater in mass than the land so far as it appears above the surface. The seas cover 73 per cent. of the earth's surface, estimated at 9,260,000 (German) square miles. The percentage of chlornatrium in the sea is the same at all depths. Assuming that the average depth of the sea is a half (German) mile, there are then 3,400,000 cubic miles of sea water. A cubic mile of sea water contains on the average about twenty-five kilograms of salt. The 3,400,000 cubic miles of sea water would therefore contain 85,000 cubic miles of distilled pure salt.—From the German.

A MOSQUE FOR LONDON.

Imposing Structure of Rock and Yellow Stone for Mohammedans.

A mosque for London's 2,000 Mohammedans will shortly be built in central London. For years past Mohammedan missionaries have been trying to spread a knowledge of Islamic teachings, but their efforts have been handicapped for want of a central mosque, says The London Express.

Robert Williams, F.R.I.B.A., received a commission from a Turkish Pasha to prepare the plans, which have been despatched to Constantinople for the approval of a committee of pashas. Ultimately they will be submitted to the Sultan.

"The mosque," explained the architect to a reporter, "is intended for all Mohammedan in London—Indian, Egyptian, Afghan and Persian as well as Turkish, for King Edward VII., it must be remembered, rules over more Mohammedan subjects than any other sovereign."

It will be an imposing structure in red and yellow stone. The decorative work will be carried out in marble and jasper, and a broad flight of steps in marble, granite and jasper will lead to the great central entrance.

A graceful minaret, surrounded by galleries whence the muezzin will call "the faithful" in London to worship, is a notable feature of the design. The minaret is surmounted by a cupola, and the golden crescent will be 200 feet from the ground.

A Hen Rears Kittens.

Some ten days ago, says The Northern Gazette of Middlesboro', Yorkshire, England, a fine black cat, the property of Mr. Percy Dodds, of the Bank, Redcar, gave birth to four kittens in a stable near Redcar old Catholic Church. When the kittens were but a day or two old the cat left the nest for a few minutes, and immediately a white hen flew down from her accustomed perch in a manger above, and, spreading out her wings, covered the young kittens, and has been rearing them and looking after them ever since. Strange to relate, on the cat's return she in no way endeavored to disturb the hen, but was quite contented to sit on some hay beside her, and watch. Now, the kittens are nearly a fortnight old, and each night the old cat suckles them, whilst the hen sits near, and at daylight in the morning the cat comes off the nest and the hen flies on. What adds to the sympathy of the picture is the hen has only one leg, which she hops about on, the other one having been broken some time ago. The kittens take very kindly to their feathered foster-mother, and on several occasions I have seen them crawling upon her back, and playing with her wings and comb. The mother cat generally sits near by, and often licks the hen's neck and beak, whilst on one occasion I peeped in the stable, and I saw her sitting near the hen with her paw round the latter's neck. Several people in Redcar have seen this happy family, and are greatly surprised at the sagacity of the hen, who will not let anyone, except Mr. Dodds, touch the kittens.

NEW POWER AND STRENGTH FOR EVERY ORGAN OF THE BODY IN THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Good digestion, ruddy complexion, splendid circulation, clear brain, steady, nerves, sound, restful sleep, better health and greater strength of mind and body, is what you may expect from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Not in any mysterious way but from the hard fact that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is composed of the elements of nature which go to form new red corpuscles in the blood, or in other words, make the blood rich in the nutritive principle which creates nerve force — the power which runs the machinery of the body.

WITH THE VITALITY OF THE BODY THUS BROUGHT TO HIGH WATER MARK, WEAKNESS AND DISEASE GIVE PLACE TO HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

Impaired digestion, irregular action of the feminine organs, weakness of heart, lungs, or other bodily organs, pains and aches, and all the annoying consequences of weak nerves and blood disappear because the cause of their existence is removed.

By noting your increase in weight you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue are being added by this great restorative.

MRS. H. A. LOYNES, Nurse, Phillipsburg, Que., writes, "I was all run down and could not do my work. Everything I ate made me sick. In nursing others I had seen the good results of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and resolved to try it. As a result of this treatment I have gained ten pounds, do my own work alone, and feel like an entirely different person. I have received so much benefit from this medicine that I am glad to recommend it to others. I have a copy of Dr. Chase's receipt book, and would not part with it for $50 if I could not get another."

Test the extraordinary upbuilding power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food; 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

ATIONAL IDEALS.

As Its People Think So Is the Status of the Nation.

Thoughts are the mothers of deeds. A man's own desires are the worst tempters he has to fear. Whatever is most inside him he will live out sooner or later. The only way to reform him is to eradicate the evil from his heart. This can be done by supplanting the ignoble thoughts by a higher ideal.

We are just beginning to realize that the ruling world is the interior world. The social filth we see is but an indication of the mental filth we do not see. The greed everywhere apparent is the result of the love of money inculcated in the minds of the children for generations.

The fear of the law does not permanently reform men. If a man has it in his heart to steal and is deterred by dread of punishment, he will usually scheme around to overreach and cheat his neighbors in less hazardous ways. In other words, actions are ruled by internals, not externals.

Whatever the ideals of a people are will be shown in the national life. If they are greedy and covetous they will want conquest. If their chief aim is material wealth they will reverence and enthrone the man who has most of it. If they have little regard for the rights and liberties of others they will be less liable to resist oppression themselves. If they are corrupt in their hearts they will wink at corruption in others. In fact, they are more lenient toward a wrong that they would commit if they had the opportunity.

The roots of governmental wrongs are in the people themselves. The reform of the nation begins at the fireside. The man who would get society right must get right himself and teach others to get right. If we would have cleaner politics we must have cleaner hearts.

The world is just beginning to understand the power of thought and suggestion. Many a jailbird would do better if everybody did not regard and treat him as a thief. Many a woman who has gone wrong would get back into the right path if she had the help of a little love and confidence. Let everybody constantly suggest to a man that he is a rascal, and after awhile he may get to thinking so himself, and then he will become one.

Find out what a man thinks of most and you will be able to tell what kind of a man he is. His actions are only the outward expressions of his dreams. If his mind is full of carousing, of lewdness, of greed, of murder, and he does not get rid of these thoughts, his actions finally will get in line with his desires.

The need is not only to guard the deeds and the words, but the thoughts. In them is the fountain head of evil. Set a warder on your mind. Quit thinking of the unworthy thing. Drive the unclean concept from you, for therein is the root of sin. You do not carry your exterior through the gates of death.

The man is not sinless who keeps his mind on the plane of wrong, filth and uncharitableness. Do you say you cannot control your thoughts? Oh, but you can. Use your will. That is sovereign. You are master, not your appetite. Your body is only a machine to obey you. It will rule you, it is true, if you are weak enough to let it. But, like a dog, it will be submissive if you assert and maintain your mastery.

Think of the good, the pure, the sweet, the beautiful. Every time you catch yourself thinking of something unworthy turn to nobler things. After a time the higher thinking will become a habit.

The Christ explained all these things perfectly, and it has taken us nineteen hundred years to begin to realize them. "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." Solomon expressed it also, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." Some one else has put it, "To the pure all things are pure." And still another, "Evil to him who evil thinks."

Ideals are the dynamic force that rule the world. Keep your mind upon the true, the lofty and the loving, and your life will become as beautiful as the things you contemplate.

The Passing of the Home.

Thoughtful students of the currents and tendencies in American home life are having their attention arrested by the transformation which is taking place in domestic habits and surroundings in the larger cities. One notable feature is the almost startling change in the house-building business in New York. The change in the organization of domestic life is indicated in the change from separate dwellings to the "tenement" and the "hotel," which has transformed New York from a city of private homes to a city of "associated dwellings." That change took three centuries in Paris; in New York it has taken but three decades. Last year only fifty-six dwellings, aggregating a cost of less than $3,000,000, were erected in New York, and the first half of the present year shows the total number of plans for private houses thus far is only thirty, and the cost less than a million. Of these eighteen are to be in Washington Heights, a residential suburb, while lower Manhattan, with its teeming life, will have only twelve.

This change from the separateness and independence of home life to the more complex and more artificial "associated dwelling" is fraught with danger to family training and to public welfare, says The Toronto Globe in commenting on the above facts, which every intelligent and reflective citizen must guard against and seek to avert. The change in some circumstances may be inevitable, but the supreme interests of the home and family must be preserved. The family is the unit of the Church and of the State, and in its well-being, its integrity and influence, every great public interest is involved.

There are a great many hungry hearted women who would attend a baby sale if babies were ever offered for sale, because there are a great many wives who love children and have been told by physicians that they can never hope to nurse a child of their own.

Some of these women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of womanly ills have been made happy mothers as a result of the cure of womanly disease and the building up of the general health.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I wrote to you some time ago to get information about my case," says Mrs. Mary Lee Pleasary, of Dryden, Va. "I was troubled with female weakness and pains. Received answer from you, advising me to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and found it did me good. I had been married four years and had no children; now I can say that our house is blessed with a little baby boy, born July 9th, by the help of God and your medicine. I praise your medicine highly.

"You can publish this letter if you wish."

Suffered Intense Pain Around The Heart For Four Years.

Was Very Dizzy.

Four Boxes of

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

Effected a Complete Cure.

They are a specific for all troubles arising from a weak condition of the heart or from the nervous system. For troubles such as Palpitation of the Heart, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Faint or Dizzy Spells, Shortness of Breath, Starting in the Sleep; Cold, Clammy Hands or Feet, Brain Fag, etc., we would strongly advise the early use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, as this remedy, taken in time, has been the means of saving many a life, and restoring strength to those who were weak, nervous, health-shattered invalids.

Mrs. E. Kilmer, Humberstone, Ont., writes:—"Allow me to tell you of the great results I have derived from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. For four years I suffered intense pain around the heart, and was very dizzy. After using four boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I was completely cured."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25.

POST OFFICE PHONES.

British Villages Now Connected With the Larger Cities.

An important experiment, which may have far-reaching results, is being made by the telegraph department of the British General Postoffice in half a dozen villages. The object is to ascertain if it is practicable to make village postoffices serve the purpose of public telephone call offices. If successful the result will be the removal of one of the disabilities to life in villages.

For the past six years, although the fact is not generally known, it has been the practice to use the telephone, which officially is a telegraph instrument, to transmit telegraph messages from town centres to small village postoffices. The installation of a telephone wire is cheaper than the telegraph installation, and the messages can be sent more expeditiously than by the needle instrument of the A B C code, the methods generally used in village postoffices. The messages are written out and stamped by the sender, and are sent over the wire by the clerk.

In the selected villages it is now possible for any member of the public to ring up a subscriber and use these postoffice telephones in the ordinary manner at the ordinary rate. Should the person with whom communication is desired not be on the telephone the sender can telephone his message to the nearest postoffice and have it sent on by express messenger. In the case of long messages the saving in expense, as compared with sending the same message at telegraph rates, will be very considerable. Similarly, the town-dweller will be able to communicate with the villager.

The point to be decided is whether this new arrangement meets a real public want.

The Religious Life of the Home.

It would be vain to ignore the warning voices which tell us, on either side of the sea, of a certain decadence in the definitely religious life of the ordinary home—a falling off, that is, in the very force which gave its distinctive inspiration and its distinctive power to so much of our grandsires' lives.

If that be true—and, in spite of all explanatory qualifications, nobody will, I think, say it is wholly false—it surely behooves every gathering of churchmen to consider well what they can do to safeguard the men and women, and, above all, the children, from a peril whose gravity it is impossible to overestimate, because it affects the very foundation of our Christian life.

I am not presumptuous enough to try to judge of the degree to which this danger is at present yours. You can tell, as I of course cannot, whether adequate provision is somehow being made in the Canada of to-day for securing that the children shall nowhere grow up ignorant of the fullness and the significance of their Christian heritage.—Archbishop of Canterbury.

The Pelican Made a Mistake.

A strange thing happened in St. James' park the other day. A pelican was sitting on the rock which forms its usual roosting place, apparently asleep, and a gull was swimming close by in the water.

Suddenly the pelican darted out its huge bill and picked the gull up bodily. Up went the bill into the air, and the gull disappeared into the long pouch. The swallowing capacity of the pelican was overtaxed, however, and one could see by the moving pouch that a fight and death struggle was going on inside.

Ultimately the bill of the pelican was lowered, the gull tumbled into the water and swam away, shaking its feathers. It then coolly perched on another rock a few yards away from the pelican, looking none the worse for its exciting experience.—London Chronicle.

A Novelty.

Down in the Old Dominion the people used to set much store by their pedigrees. An anecdote is told of the captain of a steamer plying at a ferry from Maryland to Virginia who, being asked by a needy Virginian to give him a free passage across, inquired if the applicant belonged to one of the F. F. V. "No," answered the man, "I can't exactly say that; rather to one of the second families." "Jump on board," said the captain. "I never met one of your sort before."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier as He Is Seen by An Enthusiastic Admirer in the House Press Gallery.

As the eyes of a maiden look to the hand of her mistress, so do the reporters in the galleries study the countenance of the Prime Minister at the opening of each sitting, writes the special Ottawa correspondent of The Toronto Star. Especially is this true of those whose location in the gallery prevents their seeing the faces of the members on the front rows of the Opposition benches. Sir Wilfrid is continually watching the Opposition, and his countenance in a measure reflects what he sees there, combined with his own attitude in view of what the Opposition is apparently going to do. When the Premier thinks, as the discussion begins to shape itself, that the Opposition are not playing fair or that the member on the floor deserves a castigation or a sharp rebuff, his frame stiffens, and his brow grows black with coming thunder. The characteristic of this session has been the Premier's physical "fitness." There is no appeal for sympathy in his countenance or any movement or attitude. He is ready for whatever comes, and the man must have good nerves and thick skin who can see that tightening of the frame, that flash of the eye, and gathering thunder, and know that he is the cause of it, without shrinking just a little from the coming storm. This session everything about the Premier indicates that he is a bad man to stir up.

Or it may be the First Minister sees where the man on the floor has made a false move, has forgotten a very inconvenient piece of history, or, perhaps, is only talking in a humorous way. Under such circumstances the Premier leans back in his seat, throws his head back, and while his physical eyes see the carved woodwork and prism glass of the ceiling, he is mentally conning over his reply. Pleasant smiles play over his face and the outline of his jocular reply can be seen.

As may be known to many, Sir Wilfrid is the deskmate of Sir William Mulock, while on his left sits Sir Richard Cartwright. As one or other of these Ministers is often out of the House, this leaves a vacant seat next the Premier, and, at other times, they accommodatingly move to an adjoining seat to give room for the Premier's visitors. When the House is in committee or when some subject is under discussion, say the Militia Bill, where another Minister is in charge, the Premier is comparatively free and members take advantage of the opportunity to press their views upon, or explain some matter to him. Sometimes it is Mr. Calvert, the chief Liberal Whip, alert, silent, and serious; upon whom the session seems to wear as much as upon anyone. Or it may be Mr. Taylor, the Conservative Whip, though, as a rule, Mr. Taylor transacts his business "outside the counter," from in front of the Premier's desk. At rare intervals, when some matter of procedure is being arranged, Mr. Borden, the leader of the Opposition, sits down gingerly and essentially as a visitor at the desk he hopes some day to occupy as a matter of right. Of another kind is the visit of Mr. Jean Baptiste Morin, of Dorchester, who has lived in the United States, and there learned to love his own country and the rights of a British subject better than ever. Mr. Morin, having built railways from the ground up, grows impatient with impossible projects to force railways over broken portions of Quebec or New Brunswick, when better routes (sometimes through Dorchester county), are available. He, therefore, feels when he crosses the House and talks hard, common sense, to his eloquent, but, as he believes, deluded fellow-countryman, he is doing good service to Canada. When Mr. Bourassa turns the chair about and faces the Premier, though his voice does not reach up to the gallery, the onlooker can almost imagine what he is talking about from his rapid and effective gesticulation. The Premier seems rather to like these visits, but, as a rule, he remains unconvinced.

He will laugh with Mr. Bourassa, but apparently will not agree with his enthusiastic reasoning. Some times it is a back bencher briefly making a request, sometimes it is Mr. Hance J. Logan of Cumberland, called by the irreverent "Handsome Hance," or Colonel Thompson the militia expert, the twin Apollos of the Government side. More frequently it is a member of the Cabinet who drops in for a brief whispered conversation about something going on in the House or about to come up. These visits sometimes stretch out and the Minister seems to be arguing out some rather important point. Upon such an occasion when the Premier does not take the same view as his colleague, and say "No," the onlooker realizes how incomplete and erroneous is that view of Sir Wilfrid which represents him as a smiling jellyfish whose only skill is that of keeping the diverse elements in his Cabinet in harmony. To see him say "No," even at long range is to be convinced of his backbone and determination and to realize that behind the sunny ways there is a will of steel.

SENIOR FINALS WERE SETTLED.

Peterboro' to Meet Winner of Toronto--Argonaut Game on Thanksgiving Day.

All Games to be Played in Toronto—Two Queen City Teams Play Sudden Death Game on Saturday, and Locals Play Winners.

Three of the four senior games in the semi-final and final series of the Ontario Rugby Union will be played at Toronto, according to the decision of the Executive, arrived at last night at the meeting held in the King Edward. President W. N. Ferguson was in the chair, and the officers present were:—Vice-President S. S. Dumoulin, Hamilton; Dr. W. G. Wood, Dr. McKeand, Hamilton; Dr. Caldwell, Dundas; J. Hay and Secretary F. D. Woodworth. The senior clubs' delegates were:—Argonauts, C. Forlong; Victorias, W. J. Slee, and London, F. Hobbs. There was a long discussion over the tangle in the senior series. Hamilton wanted to come in and play off with one of the clubs in District No. 1, but the glad hand was not extended to the Tigers. It was decided that the Argonauts and Toronton should play off next Saturday, and that the expenses and net receipts be divided equally between the teams, and also the payment of the union's share of the gate. On Nov. 17 (Thanksgiving Day) the winner of the game will play Peterboro here, the former to guarantee Peterboro $80. The visitors may take half of the gate after expenses, including the $25 tax of the union, are deducted, if they so desire. The first of the final games with Hamilton will be played on the grounds of the winners of District No. 1 on November 19, either here or in Peterborough, while the return match is scheduled for the following Saturday. In the finals each club will take its own gate and pay the union's share.

This agreement is satisfactory to the local club, which will get right down to practice.

RUGBY.

The Peterboros will practise to-morrow night and on Saturday afternoon.

• • • •

The third trip to Toronto this year should be the lucky one.

• • • •

This will be the first year for some time that the intermediate championship of the Dominion will not be played for. In the Ontario Union there is no intermediate series, this being due to the fact that all of last season's intermediate teams are either playing senior or junior. The only way that a match of this kind could be arranged would be to play the winner of the O. R. F. U. junior championship against the eastern intermediate winners, and they would no doubt be able to hold their own, as the junior teams this season are all strong ones.

• • • •

Simpson played the star game for Hamilton against London on Saturday.

• • • •

The Argos were trying to persuade Percy Biggs, the ex-Varsity quarterback and one of the best in the business to turn out with them. Russell and Chadwick, two old-timers may also be found on the Argos' line in the next game.

• • • •

Hamilton will likely play Ottawa College for the Dominion Championship, should they win the O. R. F. U. senior honours. The Tigers claim they can get together a good scrimmage and if such is the case should make a good showing. Though the Champions of the eastern district of the O.R.F.U., should give them a hard game, it is generally conceded that the Tigers will capture the Ontario Union Championship.

WRESTLING.

If you want to learn wrestling, the "Royal sport of the Ancient Greeks", come to the class at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

HOCKEY.

There doesn't seem to be much doing in either Belleville or Port Hope in hockey circles these days. Wonder what's the matter.

• • • •

Lindsay is going hockey crazy according to reports. It's so long since they had a hockey team up there that could beat anything outside of school kids that the Scugogville sports don't know just exactly how to feel over it.

• • • •

The Toronto Marlboros are hot after players and the Dukes expect to be very strong again this year.

• • • •

What is going to be done in the Trent Valley League this winter. Last year the league was enlarged by the addition of several teams from the south. The season was a successful one and there should be a flourishing league again this winter.

• • • •

Everybody wants to know, but no one seems to know whether we are to have a team here this winter or not. There is plenty of good players about the town for a team to beat most of them, but the question is, will they get into the game. Of course there will be a junior team and why not a senior?

• • • •

In the meantime, the Review is making desperate efforts to scrape together a seven that they hope will make a respectable showing against the Examiner. Here's hoping these same efforts meet with success.

• • • •

Several towns and cities are talking city leagues. The idea is a good one to develop players and there is no doubt but that a strong league could be formed in Peterborough.

• • • •

A Guild Hockey League is being discussed. So successful was the baseball league among the Young Men's Guilds of the town during the past summer that the advisability of forming a hockey league upon a like plan is being considered. The greatest difficulty seems to be in procuring suitable ice accommodation.

• • • •

"Pete" Charlton is now getting the same notoriety that Phillips got last season in hockey circles. The Berlin team claim to have secured him, while the champion Marlboros do the same thing. Charlton, it is said, has led his team of last season to believe that he will be with them again this year, and it is more than likely that when the season opens up he will be found wearing the blue and white of the champions of the O. H. A.

• • • •

The prospective backers of the Brantford Hockey Club, whether it be senior or intermediate, will likely meet this week, probably on Friday, for the purpose of definitely arranging their plans. It is understood that about ten local sporting men will run the club this winter and have sole powers of management over players. All of the places on the team have been filled, and all the players are now in the city—and will remain here, too,—Expositor.

SPRINTING

Dave Belland will run Taylor inside of a week o rany time he wishes.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A COUNTRY CLUB.

There is some talk about the town of the possibility of the Golf Club merging into a Country Club, thus forming a larger and more representative sporting organization. The idea is looked favourably upon by many and the scheme is thought to be a most feasible one. If the play is carried out, a club house will be erected with proper gymnastic appliances, tennis courts will be fitted up and a boat house built and sculling encouraged. Nothing definite has as yet been decided, but the prospects of a Country Club in Peterborough are good.

HIS MAJESTY KING EDWARD VII.
Born November 9th, 1841.

God save our gracious King,
Long live our noble King,
God save the King;
Send him victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us,
God save the King.

NEWSY NOTES FROM VILLAGE OF KEENE

Gossipy Record of the Week's Events in the Valley Village.

Mr. Jos. Elmhirst, who has spent the last two years in Oregon, is visiting his parents at present.

Mr. Sam English of Lakefield, was in the village on Thursday last.

Mr. Louis Foley of Hastings, was the guest of Keene friends on Sunday.

Misses Annie and Milly Foley spent Sunday with friends in Peterborough.

Rev. Sister St. Agatha, of the Gray Nuns, Ottawa, accompanied by Rev. Sister St. Agnes, visited her cousins, the Misses Foley, at Rice Lake, last week.

Dr. Fairbanks, and Mr. Field, of Cobourg, were in the village last Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon, the residence of Mr. Jas. Fife, about three miles from Keene, was destroyed by fire. The fire was caused by sparks from a fire outside where they were boiling soap. The woodshed was burned first, and before the house was destroyed all the furniture was carried out and placed in safety. The loss will amount to over $1000; there was an insurance of $500 on the house. Mr. Fife has another house on the farm, into which he moved.

Miss Maggie Walsh was the guest of Peterborough friends over Sunday.

Mrs. Clement of Marmora, was visiting her cousin, Miss M. Quinn, this week.

Mr. Thos. Drain, of Norwood, was in the village on Tuesday.

The Skating Rink Co. held a business meeting on Monday.

R. J. McCamus left on Tuesday for Bancroft, for the deer hunting season, Mr. J. Henderson and a number of others went back on Saturday.

Mr. Alex. Purser and nephew, are at their cottage on Grape Island.

Mr. P. Dorris paid his friends a short visit here this week.

Mr. Jas. Campbell, who has been in Calgary for the benefit of his health has decided to stay there some time longer.

Miss Maud Esson is home from the Guelph Agricultural College, where she completed a course in Domestic Science.

The river was frozen over last Tuesday morning for the first time this fall. Last year the river and lake were frozen over sufficiently hard to carry a man on the 24th of November.

There were 185 votes polled in this division on Thursday last, as against 170 in 1900. Mr. Finlay got 81, and Mr. Sexsmith 84. This is the first Conservative majority that has been recorded in this polling sub-division for many years. The election passed off very quietly. In the evening the returns were given out in the town hall as they were received by telegraph. There was a large crowd present, and as the news poured in of victory after victory for the Liberals the majority of them gave vent to their satisfaction in hearty cheers. Of course there were a few to whom the news was very unwelcome, but they didn't stay long.

PATENT REPORT.

HEAD SOLID SORE

Awful Suffering of Baby and Sleepless Nights of Mother.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Skin Fair as a Lily with no Scar to Recall Awful Sore Writes Mother.

"I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease, eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering and myself many sleepless nights.

"My babe was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of, but nothing seemed to help; in fact, it grew worse. Her hair fell out where the sore was, and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment right away.

"To please him I did so, and to my surprise by their use the sore began to heal over, the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore, and it is over eight months and no sign of its returning."

Mrs. Wm. Ryer, Elk River, Minn.

"Cure permanent." So writes Mrs. Ryer, Feb. 25, 1903, six years later:

"Your letter of the 19th inst. received, asking in regard to the cure of my baby some six years ago. Well, the disease has never returned to her head which at that time was a solid sore on top and down the back. Once or twice since then a patch has come on her hand near the wrist, but it finally disappeared after proper treatment with Cuticura."

Cuticura Resolvent, liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., Sole Proprietors.

THE RUSSIANS REFUSE PEACE

Rejects Offered Suggestion of Japan in This Behalf.

JAPANESE MINISTER'S VIEW.

Japan Cannot Voice Sense of Humanity for Fear of Being Misunderstood—Stoessel Asks for an Armistice—Slaughter at Port Arthur, and Terrible Sufferings of the Besieged.

London, Nov. 11.—Japan unofficially has made representations to Russia looking to peace. This action has resulted in failure and such representations even privately are not likely to be repeated by Japan. Although the suggestion of a pacific settlement was made unofficially, it actually had behind it all the weight of an offer by the Japanese Government. It was made direct to Russia. No power acted as an intermediary. The proposition was put forward tentatively and unofficially, so that the Japanese Government would be in a position to deny any report that it was suing for peace.

The failure of these direct negotiations, however, resulted in bringing intervention within a measurable distance. Foreign Secretary Lansdowne's plea for arbitration Wednesday evening at the Guildhall banquet is taken here to be a pointed suggestion to the United States and France that the time is approaching when the powers must take some action. It can be definitely stated that Lord Lansdowne made his speech with full knowledge that Japan will not resent a proposition looking to peace from the three powers—the United States, France and Great Britain.

Baron Hayashi's View.

In an interview regarding the foregoing, Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Minister, said:

"I should not be surprised to see the three powers named, or two of them, take the action suggested. Exactly upon what basis of a settlement peace could be secured it is at present impossible to see, but there is not the slightest doubt that combined representations, especially if led by President Roosevelt, would have a far-reaching result between two countries, one of which was thoroughly defeated. It is comparatively easy to make peace in this case, as neither side is thoroughly defeated yet. The prospects for the success of friendly intervention have vastly increased since the commencement of the war. The two nations now respect each other to a degree never dreamed of before they met in battle. That mutual respect is the most hopeful factor for peace. Japan does not want to go on fighting forever. Yet, even with all the victories won during this war her statesmen would render themselves liable to be most seriously misunderstood, especially in Russia, if they openly suggested in the name of humanity some method whereby the war could be stopped. It would be altogether different, however, at this stage of the war, should a friendly offer, prompted by that sense of humanity which Japan cannot voice for fear of being misunderstood, emanates from the United States and Great Britain, but nothing can be done until the fall of Port Arthur."

Fall of Port Arthur.

Baron Hayashi intimated that he thought that the fall of the fortress would not long be delayed, and added:

"In the meantime, I have no doubt that the powers who are now so willing to express their desire for peace will confidentially exchange views in the hope of arriving at some suggestion practical to both belligerents."

Was Not Found Favor.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 11.—In official circles Lord Lansdowne's veiled suggestion, that the Russo-Japanese conflict might be settled by arbitration finds an unfavorable echo. The sentiment prevails stronger than ever that Russia's prestige must be vindicated before the idea of peace can be entertained. The mere fact that the suggestion comes from Great Britain's Foreign Secretary does not tend to its kindly reception here. The firm conviction is expressed that Lord Lansdowne's suggestion could not have been the result of an understanding between the British and French Governments, if being stated that the Russian view of the situation is too well known to her ally to make it possible that she could have been privy to such a move. The general opinion is that Lord Lansdowne's suggestion was in the nature of a personal trial balloon.

Did Tokio Inspire Lansdowne?

Hopeless as is the idea of bringing the war to a conclusion it seems, however, that there are those in high quarters who consider that there is a bare possibility of bringing the conflict to a close on the basis of arbitration if such a proposition came directly from Japan. Indeed, it is even intimated that Lord Lansdowne's suggestion may have been inspired from Tokio. Russia has announced again and again that no proposition from an unINTERESTED power would even be answered, but that any proposition from Japan direct, no matter through what intermediary, would be considered. A proposal from Japan to arbitrate the controversy would appeal strongly to Emperor Nicholas. He is extremely proud of being the author of The Hague conference, and, in spite of the difficult position in which Russian military prestige would be left by a cessation of hostilities at this juncture, those competent to judge actually entertain the belief that such an offer on the part of the Japanese would not be in vain.

No Intervention For Russia.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Emphatically, but with all courtesy, Russia, through her Ambassadors abroad, has several times informed the neutral powers that she will brook no mediation at this time with her war with Japan. It can be announced that Russia expects her wishes will be respected by all the powers to which she has communicated her views.

Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, said last night to a correspondent of the Associated Press: "I can announce that if have very good reason to believe that my Government's emphatic opposition to any mediation at this time will be respected and observed by all neutral powers."

CALL FOR A PROVINCIAL CONVENTION.

Liberals everywhere will hear with satisfaction that a convention of the party in Ontario will be held in Toronto on Nov. 23. It is more than twenty years since the Provincial party met in convention. Some pressing questions have come to the front since that time, and the leaders of the party will address themselves to them with renewed confidence when they have come in touch with the people in the frank and outspoken way which a convention invites, and receive their authorization and mandate for the course of the next few years. The giant of the fable renewed his strength by contact with the earth. Liberals have similarly found in the past that contact with its supporters in the free and candid atmosphere of a convention has been invigorating and vitalising.

The leaders of the Parliamentary party can face their supporters with nothing to blush for or apologise for. The record of faithful and honest administration which was handed them by their predecessors has been maintained in its very highest traditions. So much is this the case that criticism of administration has been virtually abandoned by their opponents. The Opposition rests its case wholly on the cry of corrupt conduct at elections. No Liberal will deny the gravity of such a charge. There can be nothing in government of greater importance than that the votes of the electors shall be recorded as they are cast, and cast freely and unpurchased. That is good Liberal doctrine, and every piece of legislation on the statute books of the Province with this end in view has been put there by Liberal Governments. That legislation has been immensely influential in forming a sound public opinion on the heinousness of electoral corruption in all its forms, and in making the public conscience sensitive as to such matters. It is not true that there is any degeneration in this respect. The standard is constantly rising. Acts that to-day meet with general reprobation would, not so many years ago, have been regarded as smart pieces of electioneering. It would be doing a bad service to public life to palliate recent wrong-doing; it is equally bad to stifle the spirit of progress by pretending that all our efforts to purify the methods by which our Legislatures are chosen, have been futile.

Still more unjust is the Opposition attempt to hold the Government responsible for whatever occurs in a constituency. The Government has furnished the most ample means of discovering and punishing wrong doing. These means have been freely availed of, and never has the lesson been more impressively conveyed that dishonesty in elections will be ruthlessly repressed than in the past year or two. When official wrong-doing was rampant in Ottawa, the Liberal Opposition did not call for the punishment of Ministers for offences with which they were connected remotely or not at all. It traced them right to their doors, and compelled a hostile Parliament to acknowledge their malfeasance and suffer the consequences. If the laws against electoral misdeeds can be improved, they should be improved; but it is not right to say that no progress has been made in securing pure elections, nor is it just to hold the Administration responsible for occurrences for which it has never been shown to have had any responsibility. A convention will have the tendency to clear the air and define the attitude of the Liberal party on those questions of the day which are pressing for a solution.—Globe.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC.

The crushing defeat of the Conservatives on Nov. 3rd seems to hurt the Mail and Empire more than anybody else. Many Conservative journals have accepted defeat gracefully—more or less—but the Mail and Empire continues to squirm. It kept itself busy misrepresenting the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway bargain before the elections and is continuing its slimy work. Yesterday it printed several extracts from United States newspapers to show their satisfaction with the result of the elections, as associated with the endorsation of the Transcontinental railway enterprise. These deluded journals seem to think that the building and operation of this line will, by making Portland an outlet for Grand Trunk Pacific freight, have a beneficial effect. These journals are not to blame. They are not supposed to know as much about the terms of the railway bargain. They may not know, as the Mail and Empire, and every other Canadian paper knows, that there are specific clauses in the agreement, providing that the Grand Trunk Pacific shall carry every pound of freight originating on its line, to a Canadian port. The chief points the Government was anxious about, in negotiating for the construction of another Transcontinental Railway, was that it should run every inch on Canadian soil, and possess a terminus in Canada, with a view of developing Canadian trade to the utmost. This was needed, for the eastern terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway, runs for 200 miles through United States territory—the State of Maine—and there was, and is, a perpetual possibility that at the caprice of a United States Government the bonding privilege might be revoked, and Canadian freight passing over the C.P.R. blocked in its passage to a Canadian port. Then the seaboard terminus of the old Grand Trunk is at Portland, in Maine. Under these circumstances the Government "tunnel down" the proposal made on behalf of the old Grand Trunk that the Government should assist that railway to build a line from North Bay west to the Pacific, because in that event the present Grand Trunk System, ending in a foreign port, would be utilised as the seaboard terminus. Another reason why the Grand Trunk Pacific, apart from the specific agreement, will send its freight to a Canadian port over the Government owned section of the line, is that the company has to pay three per cent. rental on the cost of the line for its use and it will need all its freight to provide earnings to meet this obligation. Sir Wilfrid Laurier made the Grand Trunk Pacific the main issue in the recent election campaign, —"on it we stand or fall." The people took him at his word, and over-whelmingly endorsed the railway. The railway is a settled matter of policy, and will speedily be a matter of fact, and will be running from ocean to ocean, opening up a new zone of Canadian territory to settlement, and stimulating and vivifying the whole of the settled portion of the country. It will be as great, if not a greater factor in Canadian growth and development, as the Canadian Pacific is now.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A Swedish traveller and journalist has been in Montreal, and spoke of the success of the State owned railways in that country. "for the simple reason that politics are eleminated from the management." The question is whether that can be done in Canada where everything is so thoroughly permeated with party politics, where even the Conservatives seek to import party politics into municipal elections.

In 1883 the Mail referred to the delegates attending the Provincial Liberal Convention held in Toronto, as "semi-civilized partisans in need of a bath and looking for whiskey and cigars." The leopard has not changed his spots only to make them more pronounced. The Mail was shameless enough in those days, but it has steadily degenerated and we may expect on the occasion of the Provincial Liberal Convention on Nov. 23rd, that the organ will be equal to an equally delicate and dirty salutation.

FLORENCE NIGHTNGALE BRITAINS BEST BELOVED

The Gentle Founder of the Red Cross Nursery Work, One of the World's Greatest Movements of Mercy.

Few people know that Miss Florence Nightingale, who fifty years ago brought order out of chaos in the British hospitals during the Crimean war, is still living in London, or that her friends on October 21st, the anniversary of Miss Nightingale's departure in 1854 for Scutari, visited and congratulated the invalid, who at eighty-four is till as cheerful and tender of heart as she was when she earned undying fame as "the Lady with the Lamp." This was how Sir Wm. Russell described the hospitals before she and her thirty-eight volunteer nurses arrived:—"The commonest accessories of a hospital are wanting; there is not the least attention paid to decency or cleanliness; the stench is appalling; the polluted air can barely struggle out to taint the atmosphere save through the chinks in the walls and roofs; and, for all I can observe, these men die without the least effort being made to save them. There they lie, just as they were let gently down on the ground by the poor fellows, their comrades, who brought them on their backs from camp with the greatest tenderness, but who are not allowed to remain with them. The sick appear to be tended by the sick, and the dying by the dying."

In a few weeks all this was changed. The sick and wounded had clean linen instead of filthy rags; good food instead of badly-cooked rations; tender treatment instead of the clumsy efforts of untrained hospital orderlies. That the men well-nigh worshipped the gentle lady who had wrought the change is not surprising. One of them, in a letter describing her nightly visits to the wards, wrote: "To see her pass is happiness. She would speak to one, and nod and smile to many more, but ash could not do it to all, you know. We lay here by hundreds, but we could kiss her shaddow as it fell, and lay our heads upon the pillow content again."

That was the beginning of the Red Cross nursing work that now so greatly lessens the horrors of war.

LAKEHURST.

Mr. Alvin Johnston and his bride visited his parents and other friends in this neighbourhood last week. All join in wishing them a long and happy married life.

A small party of our local sportsmen went to Deer Bay last week to spend a couple of weeks hunting. So far they have been fairly successful. Some more are busily engaged hunting "dear" around Lakehurst; fairly successful.

The election here last Thursday was attended by the usual excitement. A good deal of crowing was done by the other party, but when the ballots were counted it was our turn to sing "Cock-a-doodle-do."

Miss Lizzie Smith, who is attending the Business College in Peterborough, spent a few days at home this week.

Mrs. Renwick, relict of the late William Renwick, an old resident of this place, who for some years has been living with her daughter, Mrs. Miller, of Omemee, died very suddenly last Friday night. On Monday the remains were brought to the Lakehurst Cemetery and interred beside those of her husband, who predeceased her about nineteen years. The deceased had reached the advanced age of 86 years. She leaves children, grand children, great grand children and great great grand children.

Our cheese factory has closed for the season, and our popular cheesemaker, Mr. Sharpe and his wife, intend visiting friends in Westwood shortly.

Mr. W. J. Smith, and Mr. W. Doube, who have been working in the Keene cheese factory during the summer, are visiting friends here.

It is a pleasure to state that Miss Beatrice Clarkson, who was ill for a few days last week, is recovering.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Pickup is sufficiently recovered to resume his work. He was able to fulfil his duties here and at Rockcroft Sunday.

Mr. H. Crome had quite a successful ploughing bee last week at which the boys showed their skill by turning up the sod in good shape. The world can never do without the man behind the plough.

ADVISE ATTENTION TO THE ORCHARDS

Work Done During the Fall and Early Winter.

Will be Beneficial to Trees and Fruit—Bulletins Issued by Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Much can be said of an annual fall orchard cleaning, although many of our fruit-growers are indifferent in this matter. Aside from the fact that there is more leisure after the fruit has been gathered than in the rush of the early spring when so many odds and ends must be attended to, there are many urgent and convincing reasons why our orchards should be very carefully cleaned of rubbish and litter during late fall and early winter.

People often wonder how it happens that certain insects appear in such alarming numbers during the summer. A few careful observations during the fall and winter will show how these insects pass the cold period of the year. The egg masses of the tent caterpillars will be found encircling the smaller branches. If these bracelets of eggs be removed whenever seen, much serious damage will be averted the following spring. The cankerworms pass the winter in the egg state, and these eggs are often to be seen in mass s on branches. The oak ng-worm passes the winter in a cocoon, under bits of bark, boards and in crevices, and a general clearing will get rid of many of these troublesome pests. The grape vine flea-beetle and the plum curculio pass the winter in their full grown beetle condition in sheltered spots, often near the base of the plant. Squash-bugs also winter over full grown in sheltered spots, under boards, and in corners of out-buildings.

There is also a necessity for a thorough cleaning up of the orchard for the purpose of destroying many of the fungi, which remains on the ground in diseased leaves and fruit. It is a well known fact that many injurious fungi produce winter spores, and though the leaves decay, the spores do not. In early spring these will produce spores which will soon spread to the early leaves. The diseased fruit, plant, and leaves should be burned, not thrown on the manure pile, for then the spores will be able to survive the winter and reproduce the disease the following season. Moreover, many fungi persist in the leaves as delicate threads, which develop rapidly in the spring and produce spores which are soon blown by the wind to the leaves, where they germinate and produce disease.

It may safely be said that if all leaves, decaying fruits, and diseased twigs be burned at the approach of winter, the damage from fungous diseases would be lessened very materially.

SELECTION OF PROPER SEED.

Particular Care Should be Taken in Choosing Seed Corn.

The present season has been a disappointing one to the great majority of the growers of corn in Ontario. The characteristic lack of care in selecting and testing seed has this year, more clearly than ever, proved the truth of the old adage that "experience is a dear teacher." We have had no more glaring example of misapplication of energy and waste of labour than in this connection. This condition of things is doubly injurious. First, it causes disappointment in expected results; and secondly, it discourages further efforts. The task of the farmer is arduous enough even when he works in conjunction with nature. How much more difficult must it therefore be when her co-operation is not forthcoming.

On the other hand we find corn growers in this province who have this year, and who always have, good crops of corn. These men have learned to discriminate between the good and the bad and to sow only the best seed. The method of producing this seed is very simple, yet withal so scientific that it becomes extremely interesting, and we would refer those who desire to take up systematic work in the improvement of seed corn to the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, Ottawa.

In the Northern parts of the Province, where so-called silage corn is grown, the seed is secured in most cases through the medium of the seed merchant. A grower will order a certain quantity of seed, asking to be supplied with nothing but the best; he receives the seed and in the majority of cases nows it without testing its vitality, and if it fails to grow lays the whole blame on the seedsman. The farmer should test his seed for himself and if it be good give the seedsman his due; if on the other hand it be bad let him dispose of it as best he can. A failing that many growers have is to delay securing their seed until too little time is left to obtain an adequate knowledge of its real value. Hence the seed is sown in a hap-hazard manner and the results anxiously awaited. There is little cause to wonder at the numerous fields of Hungarian Grass and Millet to be seen throughout the country and which, though poor substitutes for corn, are once more occupying that position during the present season.

We would therefore strongly urge the corn growers of this country to see to it now that well matured ears of a desirable type and the product of a variety noted for successive large yields be secured for next year's seed. These should be suspended in a dry place until a couple of weeks before sowing time, when a few kernels from each ear should be tested to ascertain the all-important percentage of vitality of the seed in general. The time of the year is now at hand, therefore when those who grow their own seed, or aim to supply others, should do their utmost to secure the best possible seed ears, and then store those selected ears in such a manner that their vitality will be in no way impaired.

SELECTION AS APLIED TO SUGAR BEETS.

In France and in Germany sugar beets now produce twice as many pounds of sugar per acre as they did before the improvement of the sugar beet was undertaken in a systematic manner. That work was done by Vilmorin, of Paris, three generations ago. The sugar beet industry could not succeed at all if the practice was not kept up continuously.

First of all, the finest beets of smooth shape, well formed and of medium size, are selected. These choice specimens of the root are harvested and kept in a cool place until spring. The sugar beet is a biennial, producing what we call the beet root the first year from seed, which root being planted the next year yields seed. The seed is sown for the crop of beets roots for sugar making. These selected beets are stood in a cool place; and before the time for planting a small core is taken out of each beet. The juice is pressed out and tested for the per centage of sugar and purity. All the beets that test over 15 per cent of sugar are put by themselves; and all that test above 16 per cent. are put in another lot. These become two sets of mother beets. These are grown under favourable conditions with plenty of room. The seed from each beet, each mother plant, is sown the following year in a separate row. The grower finds which row gives him the best value of beets, in total yield, in weight per beet, in shape and position of growth and in per centage of sugar and purity of juice. Out of the rows which gives the highest general average, the individual beets, which stand highest in sugar content and purity, are shown to become the mother beets of the following year. The sugar beet growers keep up continuously the practice of having seed from the best mother plants. By that process the sugar content of the sugar beet crop has been raised from about 7 to 8 per cent, to between 14 and 16 per cent. That is the result of systematic, intelligent selection of the best plants and the use of the seeds from those plants, selected out of each generation continuously.

However, beets cross-pollinate. The pollen from one row of beets will cross with those of others. The growers adopt the plan of planting mother beets where only the good beets can cross-pollinate with each other.

Yankee Cruiser Gets Ashore.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 11.—The big cruiser Columbia, which is to convey Secretary of War Taft and his party to Panama, went ashore at 8 o'clock yesterday near Pensacola Harbor, and every available tug of the port is now on the scene endeavoring to pull the war vessel into deep water. The effort thus far has proved unsuccessful. It is expected she will be floated without injury at high tide in the morning.

Crown Says Martins Planned Their Baby's Death.

ADDRESSES OF THE COUNSELS

No Witnesses Called For the Defence in the Martin Murder Trial—Mr. Robinette Urges Innocence of the Woman—Mr. Haggard's Plea For Male Prisoner—Same Verdict For Both.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The trial of the Martins on the charge of murdering their child on Aug. 8, last, will be resumed at 10 a. m. to-day, when Chief Justice Falconbridge will make his charge to the jury. The courtroom was crowded all day yesterday. The prisoners were more downcast than on the day before, and seemed to cling to one another for sympathy and protection. They realised more fully the awful position they have placed themselves in.

Confession Not Evidence.

The principal witness of the day was Mrs. Whidden, the police matron, to whom Mrs. Martin made a confession the night she was arrested. His Lordship informed the jury that this confession could not be used as evidence against the husband. Mrs. Martin's confession was that she and her husband went out in a boat. Her husband complained that she was taking too long to find a place for the child. He wanted to go to the fort, but could not, as long as they were burdened with the child. They quarreled, and Martin reached over, snatched the child from her, struck it on the head with something (it was not an oar), and threw it into the lake. Then she fainted. When she revived, they were some distance from the spot. She saw the child floating in the water. She said to her husband, "Oh, Alex! Oh, Alex! Row back! Row back!" They did so, but the baby had sank. Mrs. Martin did not say whether the crime had been planned or not in advance. After the confession, Mrs. Martin had asked if she might have a rattle that was found on the body of the child as a memento.

During the recital of the confession by Mrs. Whidden, the prisoners were both much affected.

This closed the Crown's case, and the defence did not call any witnesses.

Counsels' Addresses.

Mr. Robinette, counsel for the woman prisoner, was the first to address the jury. He argued that whatever took place in the boat, Mrs. Martin was not a party to it. Her confession to Mrs. Whidden was the whole and the true story. Before a verdict of guilty of murder could be found against the woman, the jury must find that she aided and abetted the crime. There was no evidence to show that she was anxious to get rid of her child. That she had not told of the deed was due to the fact that she wished to shield her husband, the man she married and loved. The jury might find her guilty of the concealment of the murder, but a further imprisonment would add to her punishment. She had already suffered great anguish and trouble. Counsel spoke for 45 minutes.

For over two hours Mr. Hassard spoke on behalf of Martin. He said there was no evidence to show that the prisoners had plotted the crime, or that they had made any efforts to get rid of the baby.

It was possible that the child may have been irritable, and Mrs. Martin, while trying to soothe it by swaying it to and fro in her arms, dropped it, the head striking on the edge of the boat, the body falling into the water. In order to avoid paying for a funeral, which would be expensive, they decided upon telling the story that the child had been taken to Port Hope.

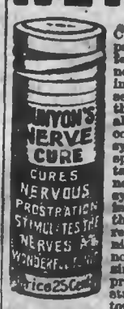
If murder had been planned, they would not have gone to such a public place as Munro Park. They would not have returned to the place where they had been stopping. They would have removed the clothing, so that identification would have been impossible. The jury must not find that a murder had been committed. Was it possible that it was a case of manslaughter? The life of that little child was not so valuable that the lives of the two prisoners should be taken from them. Counsel closed with an impassioned appeal to hand him back the prisoners with a verdict of "not guilty."

Same Verdict For Both.

Crown Prosecutor Proudfoot explained to the jury that it was only his duty to lay before them the evidence, and not to make an appeal for the conviction of the prisoners. He argued that the crime was premeditated, that their coming to Toronto and engaging rooms under false names showed that there was a crime intended. When they hired the boat at Munro Park, they had the child with them. When they came back on the ferry boat it was not with them. Where was it? When they left the ferry, why did they not go to their room instead of remaining away until all in the house had retired? It was to give credence to the story that they had been to Port Hope and left the child there. It showed that the woman was willing to cover up what had taken place. Her sorrow on the street car going to the park showed that she knew what the journey was for. The jury must not let sorrow for the prisoners obscure their vision of justice. It was always difficult in murder cases to obtain direct evidence of the commission of the crime, and in most murder cases something was forgotten that led to the conviction of the guilty. In this case Martin had forgotten that the body of an infant would float. If the woman did know that it was her husband's intention to murder the child, she was as guilty as he. If she loved the child, what was to prevent her making known his intentions? The jury must find the same verdict for both.

OH THOSE

NERVES



MUNYON'S NERVE CURE has been especially prepared for those who suffer from nervousness and nervous exhaustion. Every ingredient in it has been selected to act directly on the nerve centres. It cures all the symptoms of a weak condition of the nervous system, such as depressed spirits, peevishness, irritability, general sensitiveness of the whole nervous system, failure of memory, inability to concentrate the thoughts, morbid fears, restless and sleepless nights, pains in the head, noises in the ears and dizziness. It cures nervous prostration, stimulates and strengthens the nerves, and tones up the whole body.

In MUNYON'S NERVE CURE we have a remedy comprising all that the most careful researches of scientific treatment have developed—a remedy which, if faithfully depended on, and religiously adhered to, will restore those overworked and sensitive nerves to a normal condition. Price 25 cents. Special large size, $1.00.

Women are especially subject to nervous disorders because of functional troubles which are alarmingly prevalent. To meet these conditions has been provided, and its success in the cure of these weaknesses is something remarkable. Hundreds of suffering women who have been cured by Munyon's Home Treatment have written letters of gratitude saying that this cure relieved them of these troubles when all others failed. Where disordered and troublesome nerves are due to diseases peculiar to women the cure as above should be taken in alternation with the Nerve Cure, and brighter, happier days, unmarred by pain, will follow.

Munyon's "Guide to Health" speaks freely on this subject. Why not ask your druggist for it? It is free.

BIRTHDAY OF KING EDWARD.

Made Occasion of International Amity Demonstration At New York.

New York, Nov. 11.—Last night, under the auspices of the British Schools and Universities' Club, a dinner was held in honor of King Edward's birthday, which developed into a demonstration of international amity. It was a mingling of "America" and "God Save the King," of "Vive la France" and of "Banzai." In turn, there were toasts for the cordial relations between England and America, the Anglo-French entente, the English-Japanese alliance, and all nationalities joined in singing the praise of the newly-elected President of the United States.

In the toast-maker's chair sat the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Judge, president of Bishop's College, Canada. England was represented on the dais by Sir Percy Sanderson, His Majesty's Consul-General; France by Yves Guyot, formerly of the House of Deputies, and Japan by Baron Kentaro Kaneko, formerly Minister of Justice in Japan, and Saduzchi Uchida, the Japanese Consul-General. On the walls of the banquet hall was entwined the flag of the United States with the emblems of England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales.

First a cable message was read from the King of England thanking the society for the congratulations sent him through the medium of his secretary. It was greeted with loud cheers.

The President's letter of regret that he could not accept the invitation of the club to be present caused a demonstration for Mr. Roosevelt which continued for several minutes. The Rev. Dr. Judge extolled the King as a true and real king. Then followed the toast to the President, which was the signal for another ovation.

Be in Earnest.

Be in earnest about your health. Do not suppose that the headaches, back aches and other pains, from which you suffer, will pass away on their own accord, instead of developing into serious and chronic disease. If you are suffering from kidney, liver and bowel derangements there is no preparation that will be so helpful to you as Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills. One pill a dose.

Tiaras For Sir Wilfrid.

London, Nov. 11.—(C. A. P.)—The Times says Lord Hugh Cecil's remark that Canadian and Australian loyalty cannot be bought by two shillings a quarter on corn and a penny a pound on meat, will only provoke irritation and is not the kind of sentiment to prove acceptable in a thorough preferentialist colony like Canada. The British Opposition's efforts to show that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's confirmation in power lends force to their contention only reveals its weakness. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who first gave the original preference to the mother country, and then extended it in his electoral speeches, has given the plainest testimony of his willingness to go still further.

Mr. Hill Made Registrar.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The Cabinet Council yesterday afternoon was somewhat prolonged, and it was nearly six o'clock before the Premier was finally free to make the announcement of the appointment of William John Hill, ex-M.P.P., to be registrar of deeds for the East and West Ridings of York, in place of the late James Massie, who died on May 2 last. The fees and emoluments in the registrarship average almost $5,000 a year, out of which deputy registrars and other charges have cost for some years past about $2,850 per year.

CONVENTION PREPARATIONS

Province Favors the Calling of the Convention of Ontario Liberals On Nov. 23—There Is Plenty of Fighting Ground Yet Between the Parties—The Question of Corruption.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The committee charged with the important duty of making arrangements for the great Liberal Convention which has been summoned for Wednesday, November 23rd, has lost no time in getting to work, and has entered upon the discharge of its duties with energy and enthusiasm. Under the Presidency of Mr. W. B. McMurrich, K.C., there was a largely-attended meeting yesterday afternoon, at which sub-committees were appointed to look after the innumerable details which have to be attended to, in order that the business of the convention may be proceeded with promptly and smoothly. Care was taken in the appointment of the committees to select men having special natural aptitude, as well as business and practical training to fit them for the duties assigned to them.

The Sub-Committees.

The sub-committees and their conveners are:

Finance—P. C. Larkin.

Arrangements, etc., Hall and Reception of Delegates—Dr. McMahon.

Order of Proceedings—R. Jaffray.

Printing—Joseph Oliver.

Credentials and Registration—J. H. Denton.

Railway and Press—Ald. J. B. Hay.

The Chairman of the several sub-committees, with the convener of the General Committee, constitute the Executive of the General Committee.

Mr. J. D. McMurrich was appointSecretary of the Committee on Railways and Press, and Mr. Thomas Reid of the Committee on Credentials and Registration. Mr. E. T. Malone, K.C., was appointed Treasurer of the convention.

The circulars notifying the Executive officers of each riding and others interested of the convention have been sent out in order that there may be ample time for the selection of thoroughly representative men from each riding, the desire being that the convention shall reflect the sentiment of the Liberal party throughout the Province.

Received With Enthusiasm.

The call issued by the Liberal Executive has been received with enthusiasm all over the Province. It is regarded as an evidence that the Liberal party is still the party of the people, and that the program upon which the next appeal shall be made to the electors shall be the program not of a little coterie of men, however distinguished, but of the representative Liberals of the Province. There is still plenty of room for constructive legislation and for distinct issues between the two parties in the Province. The Government's administrative record is unassailed and practically unassailable. Conservatives know that Ontario has been well and economically governed.

The Question of Corruption.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—It cannot be said that the opinion of the Liberals of Ottawa, is unanimously in favor of a Provincial Convention. Some have not given any thought to the subject, which comes upon the community as a surprise. Others are dubious in regard to the wisdom of such a policy. They concede that it is an excellent thing for an Opposition to meet in convention, but that in the case of a Government differences that exist may be accentuated and magnified.

On the other hand, several of the most prominent and most respected Liberals in the city waxed enthusiastic over the proposition. To them the idea of meeting together, and taking stock, comparing notes and talking things over, appealed with irresistible force.

One gentleman, who has been closely identified with Provincial politics, and whose name is honored and revered in Ottawa, whilst warmly approving of the convention, said: "There must be repudiation of all connection with the political corruption which the disclosures in the courts have shown to exist. It seems to me that a declaration in favor of electoral purity must form one of the chief planks in the platform to be framed by the convention."

Stubborn Skin Diseases.

Nothing is more discouraging than a case of eczema or salt rheum which refuses to heal. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment, however, you soon see that new skin is forming, and the sore part is becoming smaller and smaller. The itching is entirely overcome after a few applications, and you are given satisfactory evidence that a continuation of the treatment will bring a thorough cure.

MR. HAYS' RETURN.

New Railway Building to Be Begun Early Next Spring.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—Chas. M. Hays, second vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, returned yesterday from a three weeks' trip to England, where he had gone on business connected with the Grand Trunk Pacific. He says that the new railway will be in process of construction from a point near Lake Superior, working westward, as early next spring as the weather will permit. He believes that there should be no trouble in raising money to build the new line because he found that the securities of Canada abroad were placed in the front rank of investments.

VICE-REGAL FAREWELL.

Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Minto Are in Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The farewell visit of their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Minto to Toronto began last night, when Lord Minto attended a private dinner at the Toronto Club and her Ladyship presented prizes to the Royal Grenadiers at the Armories. The visit will last until Saturday night, when the vice-regal party leaves for Ottawa, where they remain until Wednesday. Thursday and Friday of next week will be spent in Quebec, and on Friday night they will say a final good-bye to Canada and sail on the Tunisian for England.

A Civic Address.

This evening Lord Minto will be entertained at dinner by the Canadian Bankers' Association, leaving at 9 p.m. to receive with Lady Minto at the City Hall from 9.30 to 10.30.

The Council will assemble at 8.30 p.m. in the room of the corporation counsel. The first event will be the presentation of the civic address by the Mayor and Council.

The orchestra from the band of the Queen's Own Rifles will render an appropriate program.

ARMISTICE ASKED BY STOESSEL.

If Port Arthur Held Out Till Captured Massacre May Result.

Tokio, Nov. 11.—It is reported that Gen. Stoessel, commanding at Port Arthur, has asked the Japanese for an armistice, the purpose of which is not stated. A confirmation of the report is unobtainable. It is hoped here that Gen. Stoessel will capitulate before the city proper is taken. The Japanese soldiers are angry and inflamed on account of the alleged abuse of their wounded by the Russians. They believe they will be murdered if captured. Under these conditions it will possibly be difficult to avoid a massacre when the troops meet in the final combat.

A report from General Nogi's headquarters before Port Arthur, dated November 9, says: "The enemy's military warehouse, situated in the northern part of Port Arthur, was bombarded November 6 with heavy siege and naval guns. The bombardment caused a conflagration. On the afternoon of November 6 the magazine of an old battery on Sungacov Mountain was exploded by our shells."

Horrors At Port Arthur.

London, Nov. 11.—Special despatches from Port Arthur and Che Foo printed in yesterday morning's newspapers give terrible descriptions of the condition of the besieged. The Daily Mail's correspondent before Port Arthur describes the Russian killed and those taken prisoners as greatly emaciated and asserts that the men subsist entirely on a daily ration of less than two pounds of black bread.

The Daily Telegraph's Che Foo correspondent declares that the task of burying the bodies of the slain at Port Arthur is now beyond control and that the corpses are simply pitched into the new dock excavations near Golden Hill and where there is only a few feet of water. The condition of the helpless women is heartrending. Several groups of them going to market have been blown to pieces. The street scenes there are said to be sickening.

Bennett Burleigh also sends to The Daily Telegraph a harrowing picture of the condition of the wounded in Port Arthur, of whom great numbers are lying unattended within the inner forts. In the name of common humanity he thinks some effort should be made in behalf of these helpless sufferers. He suggests that as soon as possible they should be taken upon neutral vessels flying the Red Cross and transferred to hospitals at Che Foo and Shanghai.

Russians Defeat Japs.

Mukden, Nov. 11.—The Japanese yesterday assumed the offensive on the left bank of the Hun River, and occupied three villages. The Russians, however, attacked, drove them out and again established their original lines of defence. Vice-Admiral Skrydloff arrived here yesterday.

To Bury the Dead.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 11.—The War Office has no late advices from Port Arthur, and nothing is known here of the report that Gen. Stoessel has asked for an armistice, but if so, it is considered that it must have been to bury the dead, and not in view of a capitulation.

After Half An Hour.

Gen. Oku's Headquarters, Nov. 11. (4 p. m.)—Via Fusan, Nov. 11.—A spirited Russian attack on an advance post Tuesday night was repulsed after a half hour of musketry fire. The scouting of positions is progressing.

Laid Villages in Ruins.

London, Nov. 11.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent with General Oku cables under date of Nov. 9:

"Last night the Russians made several determined attacks upon Lamunting and Sinchingpo, but were repulsed with heavy losses. The artillery laid the villages in ruins."

For North Sea Inquiry.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 11.—The following have been appointed assessors of the North Sea Commission: Lieut.-Col. Stenger of the Ministry of Marine, Lieut.-Col. Wolkoff and Dr. Maudelstam, the latter dragoman of the Russian embassy at Constantinople, and an authority on international law.

Inquiry Opens Nov. 15.

London, Nov. 11.—The Board of Trade inquiry into the North Sea incident will open at Hull, Nov. 15. The proceedings will be public.

Pitiful Helplessness.

Victims of nervous diseases are the most to be pitied, because their ailments usually terminate in mental or physical helplessness. Paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity can only be avoided by building up the nervous system at the first sign of trouble, and there is no preparation so well suited for this purpose as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great nerve restorer.

SALE OF WORK AND HIGH TEA.

Very Successful Affair at St. Paul's Last Evening.

Handsome Sum of $250. Realized—Under Auspices of Ladies Aid.

The sale of work and high tea in St. Paul's school room last evening could hardly have been a greater success. The affair was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church which accounts to a large degree for its very satisfactory issue. There was an exceptionally large number present and it was found difficult to accommodate all those who desired admittance. The expectations of the ladies in this regard were more than surpassed and they wished to express regret that the tables were not waited upon in a manner which they would have desired, but with such a crowd it was found impossible to give the best of satisfaction. However, under the circumstances excellent service was given and the ladies have every reason to feel gratified with the outcome of the affair.

The sale of work was carried on with great success. Three of the alcoves in the room were converted into booths which were very prettily decorated with flags and bunting while numerous small incandescent electric lights added a brilliancy to the pretty sight. In fact the whole room presented a most inviting spectacle. At the first of the booths were found for sale fancy and useful articles for which there were ready purchasers, Mesdames Walsh, McKibbon and Mason presided at this booth. At the apron department was Mrs. A. Gibson and at the candy booth were Mrs. McLean and Miss A. Hall. A handsome sum was realized from the sale.

There were five tea tables provided with the most tempting delicacies and the ladies had a busy time supplying the wants of the very large number which sat down to the tables.

The ladies in charge of the tables were Mrs. A. H. Ferguson, Miss Cameron, Mrs. Miller, Miss Hamilton, Mrs. Magie, Mrs. Hill, Miss Dennistoun, Mrs. Rich. Hall, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Miss L. Davidson, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Robertson.

While tea was being served Mrs. Dr. Terrance played several delightful selections on the piano.

Two hundred and fifty dollars was realized from the affair and will be devoted towards the fund for renovating the church.

The officers of the Ladies' Aid Society are:—President, Mrs. J. F. Denistoun: 1st Vice, Mrs. Robt. Innis; 2nd Vice, Mrs. Rich Hall; Sec-Tres. Mrs. R. R. Hall; Executive, Mesdames R. Hall, W. F. Ferguson, W. Davidson, E. F. Mason, A. Gibson.

MISSION BAND HELD CONVERSAT

Very Pleasant Social Evening at Saint Andrews.

The Congersat in St. Andrew's School room last evening under the auspices of the Mission Band of that church proved to be a most enjoyable affair for the many who attended. The room was very tastefully decorated with flags, bunting and Chinese lanterns, presenting a very brilliant spectacle. Refreshments and candy booths were arranged very prettily and received liberal patronage during the evening. Upon entering the room, each one was handed an "Ask for a Parcel" ticket and upon presenting this at the Express office and paying the express charges a handsome parcel was received.

The first hour was spent in social intercourse during which time the orchestra rendered several very pleasing selections. A short programme was afterwards rendered and was heartily appreciated. Mr. M. M. Wilson, who has recently been appointed leader and soloist of the church choir sang very effectively "Whisper on the Twilight". Mr. Wilson possesses a tenor voice of fine quality and will no doubt prove a great favourite in Peterborough. He responded to an encore. Miss Florence Miller sang in her usual delightful manner "In May" and was heartily recalled. Mr. Gilbert Scott was very popularly received upon his rendition of "A Jolly good Laugh" and a solo by Miss Bertha Parnell was sung in splendid voice. Mrs. P. Kerr was the accompanist.

After the programme refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

VILLAGE SWAIN SEEKING A MATE

Coldwater Bachelor in Red-hot Pursuit of a Wife.

Believes That he can Make Some Woman a Good Husband—His Steps in That Direction

The necessity for ladies remaining in the state of doubtful happiness, known as single blessedness, is removed by the generosity of a gentleman, whose advertisement appeared in the Examiner of yesterday. This gentleman who hails from Coldwater, Ont., and who is to use his own words "well fixed," as far as material prosperity is concerned, wants a wife, and he rightly believes that the press can help him to the realization of that material and laudable desire. He is a firm believer in the power of the press, and in this belief he inserted the following advertisement in yesterday's issue of the Examiner which this paper in its generosity and desire to promote the happiness of a large and deserving class of the community, and to second the laudable efforts of the matrimonial philantropist inserts a second time here gratuitously:—

—Ladies, from 30 to 45 years of age, who want a good home and a decent husband are asked to meet Mr. C. J. Boyd, at the C.P.R. station, ladies' waiting room, on Saturday, at two o'clock. Come one; come all. Rich or poor.

Mr. Boyd is a retired farmer living near Coldwater, on a nice place 10 acres in extent, but he owns a farm in the vicinity, which he has rented, and is living on his income.

This gentleman's object is not an entirely selfish one, for he believes that there is to be found a lady who would appreciate the kind of a home that he can offer, and the kind of a life which she as his wife would be able to lead.

Peterborough had been recommended to him as a town in which he might be able to find a suitable mate, and his visit here was for that purpose. Mr. Boyd confided to the Examiner that in Toronto he had inserted an advertisement in one of the city papers, and in response to it, he had received sixteen applications, but none of them measured up to his ideas of what a wife should be, so that he decided to try Peterborough.

While believing in the power of the press, he also believes in supplementing it with personal work, and yesterday afternoon he went into Mr. Whiten's photo studio and had his picture taken, at the same time asking him to be on the look out for a respectable, fairly good-looking lady who would not mind getting married, and to refer her to him.

Mr. Boyd says he is a man with no bad habits and believes that he would make a good husband for some woman.

It is suggested that Mr. Boyd has never experienced the doubtful joys of a married man, or he would not be so anxious to make the experiment.

DAME RUMOUR'S DOUGHTY DOINGS

How She Killed Two Men Within Twenty Two Hours.

Rumour is a sturdy old dame, who never dies, and whose motto is, "Never say 'die,'" so long as there is the slightest shred of probability, or even improbability, to work upon.

Yesterday Rumour took a man who, in a drunken brawl, got a bang upon the nose, which spotted the pavement on Charlotte street — she took the man and killed him, and sent the reporters scurrying about town in search of his lifeless body. Of course the man didn't die, but rumour was not to be worsted — she was bound to kill somebody — she took another man with the same surname, and had him shot in the woods, where he was with a deer-hunting party. Of course this sent the reporters upon the scurry again, only to find that the man whom rumour had shot in mistake for a deer, hadn't been shot at all, in fact he wasn't even "half-shot." When gossip can work up so much excitement out of nothing, the mystery of the birth of the election roorback is easily explained. If the reporters could verify one-tenth of the fool rumours that are brought to the news editor, the newspapers would have to double their size to print the wonderful stories that would materlign.

—Two drunks occupied the attention of the police court this morning. Robert Mitchell was fined $2, and Wilfred Gridale, who was not only drunk, but disorderly, was fined $2. Both fines were to be paid forthwith or a sojourn of ten days in jail would result. Neither had any cash to spare, but hoped to collect it later.

—Bear in mind that by paying your taxes to-day, you avoid the rush on Monday and Tuesday of next week. All unpaid taxes after the 15th of November will be collected with costs inside the present year to enable the audit of the collector's roll by the auditors at the beginning of the incoming year, to be completed.

—Hon. Mr. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, has issued a circular letter to all the issurers of marriage licenses within the province, informing them that the licenses issued by them are only for use in case of marriages solemnized within the Province. New forms are being issued, containing a clause that the licenses can be used only within the province, and an endorsement to the same effect.

—Mr. Alex. Niven, who for five months has been engaged in completing the survey of the islands in Lake Temagami, was at the Parliament buildings yesterday. During the time mentioned he surveyed and marked 914 islands, which, with 344 surveyed by other parties last year, brings the total of the islands in the lake up to 1258. He says the islands range in size from a square mile to a few small bush covered areas, and that on a number of the larger ones there is a considerable quantity of valuable timber, chiefly pine.

FOR CARE OF THE INSANE.

Persons of Unsound Mind Being Removed From Jails.

Provincial Secretary's Implicit Instructions to Jailers and Sheriffs Throughout the Province.

The Provincial Secretary, through the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, has given instructions that each jailor in the province shall make a special report to the department on the first day of the month, giving the names of all persons confined in the jails, who have been certified by the jail surgeon to be insane. This report will give also their ages, length of time in jail, together with a special certificate from the jail surgeon, under the same date, in regard to the mental and physical condition of each person thus reported to be insane.

The Sheriff of each county has also been requested to make a similar return upon the first day of each month, and to send that return to the medical superintendent of the asylum for the insane for the district in which that jail is located.

The department is at present removing from the jail and placing in the asylums all those persons that are suitable for asylum treatment, and is calling the attention of the court officials to persons who are confined in the jails, who should be in the house of refuge of the county. The jailors have been instructed that no insane person while temporarily detained in jail shall wear jail clothing as supplied to ordinary prisoners, which, it has been found under the recent inspection, was occasionally done, owing to a misunderstanding of the rules.—Globe.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE HOLY LAND

Interesting Lecture Last Night by Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Belleville, in George Street Church.

More Holiness in Peterborough in one Hour Than in Palestine in Twenty Years.

Facts Concerning the Most Talked of Country in the World—Women are not Respected.

The World's Sunday School Convention held last March in Jerusalem, Palestine, has been the subject of two very interesting, but totally different lectures in Peterborough. The first was delivered by Rev. Dr. Potts, the chairman of the International Committee, and the second was that that given last night in the George Street Methodist Church, by Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Belleville, a noted Sunday School worker, and for years Superintendent of the Bridge Street Sunday School. Mr. Johnston was one of the 800 Americans and Canadians who made the memorable trip to the Holy Land, and was one of the few Canadians who participated in the event.

Mr. Johnston confined his talk last night to Palestine, and its characteristics and geographical features, and did not deal with the convention which was the object of the trip, nor the other countries to which visits were incidental to the main trip.

The lecture last night was given under the auspices of the Sunday School, and the church contained a goodly number of persons, all of whom evidenced a deep interest in the lecture, and who listened with pleasure to the two hours' talk. Preceding the lecture Mr. Milner, the new organist of the church, gave a short recital. Rev. Dr. Crothers, the pastor of the church, acted as chairman, and in a short opening address spoke of the pleasure which it gave him to hear Mr. Johnston give his talk in Peterborough.

Canadians, according to Mr. Johnston's statements, have no reason to be ashamed of the showing made by natives of this country in the World's Convention. He said that Rev. Dr. Potts was recognized as the man of the party, and when the party wished something said well Dr. Potts was called upon to say it.

MR. JOHNSTON'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Johnston expressed his pleasure at being in Peterborough, and meeting so many of his old friends. He remarked that from his early associations with Mr. Dumble and others he had a high appreciation of Peterborough people. The trip to Jerusalem which he was to speak of, was a marvellous one, and he, hardly knew where to start to describe it. The people of Peterborough had recently heard an eloquent lecture from Rev. Dr. Potts, on this trip, and for once, he said, the two town papers agreed fairly well in their report of what the reverend doctor said. Dr. Potts was, he said, the great man of the trip and it was a great pleasure to the Canadians to know that one of their number above all others was by unanimous consent chosen to speak when they wanted the best things said in the best way. Mrs. Bryner, who is to speak in Peterborough in the near future, was the lady who took precedence over all other ladies.

In view of the fact that Dr. Potts had dealt largely with the Convention and with the trips into the other countries, he would confine himself entirely to Palestine. The size of that country is, he said, very generally misunderstood. So many important events have taken place there in the past ages, and also because of the fact that Christ was born and lived there, there is an exaggerated idea of its size prevalent. It is, however, a very small country, being only 170 miles long and 60 miles wide, or about the same size as Lake Ontario. The speaker then took up the geographical divisions of the country, explaining the different sections, and by whom they were inhabited. The River Jordan forms a natural dividing line through the centre of the country, and is the only river in the whole country, and it is only about one-third of the width of the Otonabee River at Peterborough. In nine miles to the Sea of Galilee it falls 900 feet, and from that body of water it flows 120 miles to the Dead Sea.

Mr. Johnston said that his feelings as he first set foot on Palestine were indescribable. Gafa was the part at which the party landed, and it lies at the foot of Mount Carmel, frequently mentioned in the Scriptures. Speaking of the hotels in that land he said for the encouragement of those who might contemplate a trip to Palestine, that the hotels were not bad at all, the only trouble being that they tried to cook the food in the way that the visitors had been used to and not in their own way, and the result was not always satisfactory. He had climbed Mount Carmel, from the top of which he had a splendid view of the country, and the Mediterranean Sea. At this point in his talk Mr. Johnston started to show a number of coloured pictures, illustrating familiar scenes in that land, and he said jocularly, as a number of those present were stretching their necks to see the pictures, "I see some of you are trying to do the impossible—see over some millinery creations."

In Palestine there were three beasts of burden, camels, donkeys and women. Since he had seen the way women were treated in that country he had formed a higher opinion of the sex, and looked forward to the time when they would be given a voice in the government of the country, which time, he thought, was not far distant. The camels are not as intelligent as the donkeys, and a string of the former are always led by the donkeys.

The next scene shown was that of a shepherd with his sheep. These shepherds are very common in Palestine, and he related some of the peculiarities of the life of the shepherds, corroborating the Scripture stories. He told of one shepherd who was entertaining his sheep with music on a lute.

The houses are very unpretentious dwellings, the walls, in most cases, being not more than seven feet high, and there is an almost absolute lack of furniture, and he said that housekeeping there was house keeping made easy, as there was no furniture to dust.

There was no country in which flowers grew in such profusion. There were over two hundred varieties of wild flowers, and of these the lily was the most common. But it is not the lily as we have here, and, which is usually white, but of very bright scarlet, like the English poppy.

The goat forms the principal item of diet there. Its milk is used, and butter from goats' milk is general, while goat flesh, usually boiled, is the common meat diet. All the grinding of grain is done by women, by hand, and there is not a single grist mill in the land.

The Bedouins, as in the olden times, are still the terrors of the land, and wander through the country, living in tents, in absolute filth and degradation. He mentioned the fact that there was a large number of lepers and blind persons in Palestine, the prevalence of the latter being due, he thought, to the great number of flies, which carry disease, and which light on the faces of the children. No attention is paid to their eyes at all.

The farming methods are very primitive, the sowing being done by hand, and the ploughs used are entirely of wood, excepting a small iron point, and are usually hauled by oxen or sometimes by a donkey and a women.

There is one particular in which the women of Palestine, and those of other lands are alike, and that is in their love of jewelry, but perhaps the fondness of the women of Palestine for jewelry adornment is greater than that of the ordinary women. The speaker said that no matter what work they were engaged in they always wore jewelry, which was in many cases handed down from mother to daughter.

Mr. Johnston paid a high tribute to the work being done in Palestine by the Anglican and Presbyterian churches. In Nazareth an Anglican mission was established forty years ago, and the result of this mission's work is readily seen in the moral tone of the town, which is above that of the average place where there were no such missions. At Nazareth Mr. Johnston met the Anglican missionary and spent a few hours in his company, and was shown places where Jesus had walked during the years that he lived there. The hill from which He was told to cast Himself down, was also seen.

Cannaan of Galilee, was the next stopping place, and here the Sea of Galilee was seen. At first sight the Sea was disappointing. It resembles a mill pond more than a lake, and is surrounded by high hills. He enjoyed a seven hours' sail over its waters.

An interesting event was witnessed in Tiberias when a wedding ceremony was being performed. The event was the occasion of a holiday, and the whole town was apparently in the streets. The bride was seated in a canopy on the back of a camel, and was preceeded by a brass band, and everyone was trying to make as much noise as possible.

Joppa was the next place at which a stop was made and this was reached by water. After all the centuries there is still no dock or landing place at this port, and the party had to wait a day before a landing could be effected.

From Joppa the trip to Jerusalem up the mountains 2,800 feet was made by train, which took away considerable of the sentimentality which had been anticipated with regard to the trip to this city. Jerusalem is a city of 60,000 people of whom 30,000 are Jews, an increase of 20,000 in the last 10 years, and is said to be the beginning of the return of the Jews to the Holy Land.

It was a disappointment to see in Palestine, the home of Christ, so little Christianity, and Mr. Johnston said that he would see more holiness in Peterborough in one hour than he would see in that land in 20 years.

The effect upon him, of the trip was that the Bible was a more real book, and he had an added faith in the Word, and a stronger belief that the prophecies would be fulfilled. The speaker said that in the church of the Nativity, in Bethlehem, he saw Turkish soldiers, the representatives of the deepest idolatry, stationed for the purpose of keeping the Christians in one part of the church, from fighting with the Christians in the other part.

Another effect was to impress upon him the fact that there was no land on earth equal to Canada. He spoke of the journey across the Atlantic, when the delegates from the United States held State days, but the Canadians decided that Canada day should eclipse them all, and in this they were successful. He added that he came home with a greater love for his native land.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Johnston was moved by Mr. T. W. Robinson, which was seconded by Mr. D. W. Dumble and unanimously passed by the audience.

STOVE TALK NO. 6.

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

Fruit is Nature's Laxative.

Fruit contains certain principles which act like a charm on the liver—and keep the whole system well and strong. But these principles in the fruit juices are too weak to have any marked effect on the internal organs. The value of Fruit-a-tives

or Fruit Liver Tablets

lies in the secret process by which they are made. The fruit juices are so combined that they have an entirely different effect from fresh fruit. Their action is the action of fruit greatly intensified. They have a marked effect on the liver—toning it up—making it active. "Fruit-a-tives" are, without doubt, the only complete cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

MARTINS ON TRIAL.

Testimony Taken At the Criminal Assize Court At Toronto After They Had Pleaded Not Guilty.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The trial of Alexander Martin and his wife, Ethel, was commenced in the Criminal Assize Court yesterday, before Chief Justice Falconbridge. They are charged with having murdered their infant child on Aug. 3, last. William Proudfoot, K.C., is Crown prosecutor; T. C. Robinette, K.C., is appearing for Mrs. Martin, and A. H. Hassard for the husband. Both prisoners pleaded "not guilty." Court adjourned at 5 p.m., and the jurors were locked up over night.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forbes, 208 West Richmond street, testified that the prisoners under the name of Johnson, engaged a room for a week on Aug. 2 last. They had a child with them. On Aug. 3 they went out with the child and returned the same evening without it. Mrs. Martin said she had left the child in Port Hope with its grandmother.

Mrs. Butler told of her seeing them on a King street car on Aug. 3. They got off at Munro Park and walked towards the lake.

Henry Noakes, caretaker of Hicks' boathouse, identified the prisoners as a man and woman to whom he had rented a boat on Aug. 3.

Richard Clark, who was out sailing on Aug. 3, testified that he saw a rowboat about five miles from the shore, and about a quarter of a mile distant from him. There was a man and woman in the boat. While watching the boat and its occupants the man ceased rowing, picked up something and made motions, as if knocking or shaking something and then threw it into the lake. He could not distinguish the object. The man resumed rowing, heading west and then turning towards the island.

Mrs. Winnie Ward said she saw a man and woman pulling a row-boat up on the beach on Aug. 3. She could not identify the prisoners.

Mrs. Clara Ward saw a man and woman walking west on the breakwater, but could not say whether they were the prisoners.

Mrs. W. Williamson, who came over from the island on the "Kathleen," positively identified the prisoners as a man and woman she had seen on the boat. She noticed them particularly, on account of the woman's nervous and dejected appearance. She was holding the man's hand and appeared to have been crying.

This is as far as the Crown prosecutor got. The case will be resumed at 10 a.m. to-day.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER.

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities, by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability, making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business, and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigour. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well-known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy, but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store, and took two or three tablets after each meal, and occasionally a tablet between meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health, and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was going to cure completely, and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and drink and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy, asking for information as to what the Tablets contained, and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin, (government test,) malt diastase, and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this: the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Digestive Tablets will digest the food, give the over worked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength; they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue, is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can assure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been on the market only a few years yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach troubles.

Appetite Was Poor.

Dizzey Most of The Time.

Could Not Sleep at Night.

Many people are unaware of having anything wrong with their heart or nerves till some little excitement or overwork makes them feel faint and dizzy, or perhaps simply going up or down stairs causes dizziness and specks to float before the eyes. People troubled in this way should heed the warning, and not fail to take treatment before something more serious occurs.

For all heart and nerve troubles there is nothing to equal

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

We do not claim that they will cure chronic heart disease, but we do claim that they will strengthen the weak heart, and build up the shaky nerve system.

Here is what Mrs. Sidney Hoffman, Hillside, Ont., says:—

"I was troubled greatly with my heart, and was so very nervous that the least little thing startled me.

"My appetite was very poor; I could not sleep at nights, and was dizzy most of the time. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am very pleased to say that they did me a wonderful lot of good."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All druggists, or mailed direct.

ROOSEVELT'S PLURALITY.

Greatest Ever Given to a Presidential Candidate in the United States—A Too Conservative Democracy.

New York, Nov. 10.—With the election returns still incomplete, the plurality of President Roosevelt in the nation, according to all indications last night, will exceed 1,500,000—the greatest plurality ever given an American candidate. The nearest approach to this vote was in 1896, when McKinley received a plurality approximating 850,000, and in 1872, when Grant received 762,991 plurality.

Last night the interest centred in Missouri and Maryland. Late returns indicate that the former state is in the Republican column so far as presidential electors are concerned, but that James W. Folk, the Democratic candidate, has been elected governor. In Maryland the presidential vote will probably be cast for President Roosevelt.

In other states it is simply a question of pluralities.

The "Solid South" was broken by the probable defection of Missouri, this section of the country usually having thirteen states in the Democratic column. The figures last night show but twelve states with 133 votes for Judge Parker. President Roosevelt carried all the northern state, swept them, in fact, and last night he had 344 electoral votes.

Democracy Too Conservative.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 10.—William J. Bryan last night gave out an extended statement concerning Tuesday's election.

"The Democratic party has met with an overwhelming defeat," he says. "The questions for consideration at this time are, What lesson does the election teach? and What of the future? The defeat of Judge Parker should not be considered a personal one. He did as well as he could under the circumstances; he was the victim of unfavorable conditions and of a mistaken party policy."

Mr. Bryan then declared that Judge Parker had the support of the interests that had bolted in 1896, because of the attitude of the party on the money question. The reorganizers are in complete control," he says, "silver can not be blamed for the campaign was run on a gold basis. Neither can the defeat be charged to emphatic condemnation of the trusts, for trusts were not assailed as vigorously this year as they were four years ago. It is evident that the campaign did not turn upon the question of Imperialism, and it is not fair to consider the result as a personal victory for the President, although his Administration was the subject of criticism.

"The result was due to the fact that the Democratic party attempted to be conservative in the presence of conditions which demand radical remedies. It sounded a partial retreat when it should have ordered a charge all along the line."

Freak Names.

A. G. Wright in his Directory Bulletin says:

"In the way of freak names a publisher chronicles the following:

"One of our canvassers ran across a man who gave his name as W. H. Angel. When asked what the W. H. stood for he declined to answer. Through another source, however, it was learned that the man's full name was Welcome Heavenly Angel. Small wonder that he felt a delicacy about disclosing it.'

"Of the same nature were the names conferred by one of Milwaukee's eccentric pioneers, who named one of his boys Welcome U and signified his approval of another by stamping him O. K."

New Liskeard, Nov. 11.—Arthur Davey, who was working in the Henderson lumber camps near Milberta, New Ontario, was killed by a falling tree on Friday last. He was using a saw when the tree split and fell back, striking him across the stomach. He only lived about an hour. He had just located land, intending to become a settler in the new district.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Are Easier—Montreal Market Shows Small Receipts—Prices Easy

London, Nov. 10.—Live cattle are quoted at 8½c to 11¾c per lb.; refrigerator beef at 9c to 9½c per lb; sheep, 11c to 12c per lb.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the City Market were 138 car loads, composed of 1645 cattle, 2472 hogs, 3312 sheep and lambs, with 122 calves.

A few exporters, 1300 to 1400 lbs. each, sold at $4 to $4.55 per cwt. Export bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt.

Choice picked lots of butchers' cattle sold at $4.25 to $4.40; loads of good at $3.90 to $4.15; medium at $3.50 to $3.75; common at $3 to $3.25; rough and inferior at $2.25 to $2.75; canners at $1.50 to $2 per cwt. The bulk of butcher cattle sold at $3.25 to $3.50 per cwt.

There was a fair demand for feeders, but prices were easy at $3.25 to $3.65 for feeders weighing from 1000 to 1100 lbs each; light feeders, 800 to 900 lbs. each, sold at $3 to $3.25; stockers, 500 to 700 lbs. each, sold at $2.25 to $2.50; bulk of common eastern stockers sold from $1.50 to $1.75 per cwt.

About 40 milch cows, the bulk of which were of medium quality. Prices ranged from $30 to $60 each. More good cows would have found ready sale, as there were several farmers who could not get what they wanted.

Prices for veal calves ranged all the way from $3.50 to $5.50 per cwt., but the bulk sold from $4 to $5.25 per cwt.

Deliveries were large, about 3400, but prices held fairly steady at firm prices. Sheep sold at $3.50 to $3.60; bucks, $2.50 to $2.75; lambs at $4 to $4.60 per cwt.

The run of hogs was larger than for some time, 2500. Prices ranged from $4.80 for selects to $4.65 for lights and fats.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—About 150 head of cattle, 25 calves, 300 sheep and lambs and 200 fat hogs were offered for sale at the East-end Abattoir to-day. There were no prime beeves, nor even good medium cattle on the market and trade was dull, with the price ranging from 2c to 3½c per lb. The calves were nearly all grassers, some of them four or five months old, and not too fat. The yeold at about 3c per lb. Shipping sheep are $3.40 per cwt. The others, 2¾c to 3¼c per lb. Lambs sold at 4c to near 5c per lb. Fat hogs sold at 4½c to 5¼c per lb.

Twenty-Seven Men Were Drowned.

Hamburg, Nov. 11.—The crew of the German bark Thalia, all of whom were lost through the foundering of the vessel during the storm in the North Sea, numbered twenty. There were seven men in the crew of the schooner Neptune, also lost.

Good Only in Ontario.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The Provincial Secretary has issued a circular letter to issuers of marriage licenses warning them that their licenses are good only in Ontario. New forms with a statement to that effect on them are being prepared.

— OF THE COLONIAL SPIRIT.

Bonar Law, M.P., Says Lord Rosebery Has Mistaken Idea.

London, Nov. 10.—(C.A.P.)—Bonar Law, M.P., Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, speaking at Edinburgh, said that Lord Rosebery took a wrong view of the spirit of the colonies. The colonial Premiers on London a few years ago suggested that preferential trade was desired not so much for individual benefit as because they wished to continue to feel citizens of no mean country. If reciprocity between Canada and America became a fact, could anyone doubt its effect would be to weaken the ties of interest and sympathy with the mother country?

Can't Buy Loyalty.

London, Nov. 10.—(C.A.P.)—Lord Hugh Cecil, speaking at Newcastle, said as to the authority for the saying that preferential trade brought nations together they couldn't buy the loyalty of Canada, by two shillings per quarter on wheat and a pennt per pound on meat. The foundation of loyalty was common race, common patriotic feeling and a common sentiment of devotion to a great cause. To persuade the colonies to become free traders was the only way to improve fiscal relations.

Death of Ex-Judge Clark.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The death took place yesterday at Cobourg of George McKenzie Clark, K. C., for many years judge in the County Court of Northumberland and Durham. He resigned in 1887 to become solicitor for the C.P.R., which position he vacated three years ago. Deceased was 76 years of age, having been born in Bellevillo, April 14, 1828, was educated at Upper Canada College, called to the bar in 1850, and practiced his profession at Cobourg. Mr. Clark served on many great commissions of inquiry.

Another North Sea Disaster.

Hamburg, Nov. 10.—The Thalia and the Neptune, both from Hamburg, have foundered and all hands have been drowned. A severe storm is raging in the North Sea.

Suicide in New Ontario.

Haileybury, Lake Temiskaming, Nov. 11.—Eric Johansen, a settler, committed suicide last Thursday at Tomstown, on the White River, near the height of land, and on the proposed route of the Grand Trunk Pacific. He used a razor, cutting his throat from ear to ear.

For a Camping Ground.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—It has practically been settled that the training central camp for the Canadian militia will be at Petewawa, on the line of the Canadian Pacific.

Hear It in London.

London, Nov. 11.—The King announces that J. C. Forbes will paint a picture of the King to hang in the House of Commons, Ottawa.

Do You Choose

YOUR MEDICINE WITH CARE AND INSIST ON HAVING

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed AND Turpentine

FOR AILMENTS OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS

You cannot be too particular in buying medicine.

It may be a question of life or death. There are so many cough and cold remedies that there is a tendency to be careless in the selection of treatment, and yet what is more dangerous than a cold?

You would not think of taking any medicine that might be offered for heart trouble or kidney disease, and yet far more people die from the result of neglected colds than from these ailments.

INSIST ON HAVING A MEDICINE OF RELIABILITY AND REPUTATION, SUCH AS DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE.

This great family medicine has stood the test of years, and never disappointed those who put their trust in it as a cure for croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, asthma, coughs, colds and throat troubles.

Do not be satisfied with substitutes and imitations, for they lack the curative powers which have given Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine its world-wide reputation.

MRS. GEO. GOOD, Tichborne, Addington Co., Ont., writes: —"It is with pleasure that I certify to the wonderful success of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a cure for colds. It is the best and surest treatment for coughs and colds that we have ever been able to find.—Mrs. Geo. Good, Tichborne, Addington Co., Ont."

MRS. A. A. VAN BUSKIRK, Robinson street, Moncton, N. B., writes:—"For years I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for my children when they have colds in the winter. I first used it with my daughter, who was afflicted from a severe form of asthma. The last exposure to cold would lay her up and she would nearly suffocate for want of breath. I must say I found it to be a most satisfactory treatment, and it has entirely cured her. It seems to go direct to the diseased parts and bring the desired relief."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

IN LAST YEAR'S NEST.

Nature's Lament at the Passing of the Year —A New Point of View in Wild Bird Lore.

As the leafy curtains are drawn aside and the little cosy nooks laid bare we see the traces of a hidden world of summer life. The nests so carefully concealed from inquisitive visitors are freely disclosed, and their deserted and dilapidated appearance seems expressive of lament at the passing of the year. The falling leaves and naked branches seem merely to exemplify the universal law of change, but in the abandoned nests, prominent and distinct in trees and shrubbery, there is a feeble protest against the universal decree of oblivion. The little visitors may be as helpless and as evanescent as the leaves that concealed their dwellings, yet they strive to leave mementoes of their patient and active industry. Some are so typical of the handiwork of the builders that they can be seen in fancy working away with all the hope and energy of the springtime of life. The mud-lined nest of the robin, baked hard in the autumn sun, has resisted the disintegrating forces of rain and wind. In the close dogwood shrubbery a catbird has piled up an unreasonably large foundation of heavy sticks for her loosely-constructed nest. Now that the concealing leaves are gone it makes a conspicuous object where it rested concealed by its size throughout the summer. Sometimes a big, straggling nest will blend more perfectly into the surrounding branches and be more completely hidden than the smaller and more compact nest of the careful builders. The circular and carefully wound nest of the bright little redstart recalls the fiery glow of his brilliant crescents among the green leaves. The deep nest of the wild canary seems sufficiently compact to withstand the changes of many seasons. In the top of a straight, symmetrical red oak which still retains its withered leaves the big, broad nest of a crow seems a weather-beaten survivor of many winters, and the woven basket of the oriole hangs from the outstretched arm of the willow.

Close to the ground is the strange relic of a stranger conflict in the perpetual struggle for existence. Some little mother has had the courage to assert herself and refuse the imposition of an unjust burden. The nest is so loose as to seem unfinished, and is hanging a few inches from the ground in some close, low hazel shrubbery. All about the withered vines of the hog peanut twine in easy confusion. The leaves that must have made an ideal nook for a little domestic establishment hang shrivelled on the slender vines, and the stems of the hazel are entirely bare. The pensile situation of the nest, its nearness to the ground, the many leaves used in its construction, and the absence of soft, downy lining suggest the indigo bunting. But in the bottom of the nest is the dry, empty shell of a cow-bird's egg. This persistent and shameless impostor has failed in one effort to impose her natural duties on the motherly care of another. The cow-birds, little black marauders that they are, assume no domestic responsibilities, but move about in migrant flocks through the nesting season. The guilty mothers slink away long enough to lay their eggs in the nests of other birds, and the young impostors soon starve off and crowd out the rightful heirs. The little mothers are not always imposed upon. Sometimes when the spurious egg is discovered a new floor is built in the nest above it, and the brood is hatched and reared in safety. When the parent birds innocently submit to the imposition it means the destruction of their own offspring. The young cow-bird is as importunate as his parents are dishonest and deceptive. His callow beak is forever open, and his insatiable appetite leaves nothing for the weaker nestlings. They are crowded out in the struggle that seems often to result in the survival of the unfittest. The indigo bunting is a wise bird, which helps to sustain her claim to the ownership of this abandoned nest. She is unduly sensitive about any intrusion near that sacred spot, and if followed or watched will persistently and exasperatingly keep away and ignore its existence. When she found that the cow-bird had laid an egg during her absence she abandoned both egg and nest. It must have cost her an heroic struggle to leave that ideal spot. The hazel twigs grew round as if specially designed to support a pensile nest. The low, close foliage made the little habitation invisible. The hog peanuts twined around as if to complete the pattern of the leafy curtain. And the place was endeared by the associations of a vision of domestic happiness. All this was abandoned by the little mother who refused to submit to the imposition of a spurious offspring. Her little world is not without its struggles and its tragedies.

Ignorance About Canada.

Mr. Arthur G. Scott, a member of the Manchester Board of Commerce, said when in Toronto the other day, "In spite of the efforts of your press, the Canadian officials in England, such as Mr. Alfred Jury, who is stationed in Manchester, and the spread of education, it is astonishing how little is known in the Old Country about Canada. You would hardly believe me when I assure you that when the news of the great fire in Toronto was received in Manchester several prominent members of our Board solicited subscriptions for the sufferers on the ground that the shops of Toronto were burned and the inhabitants had sought refuge in the neighboring woods exposed to dangers from the attacks of wild animals."

Where Money Talks.

"I am a poor man," he began, "but if the devotion of a true and loving heart goes for anything with you I'"—

"Oh, it goes with me all right," interrupted the fair but practical maid, "but I'm afraid it won't go with the grocer and butcher."

Colds

Have often you have remarked: "Nearly a cold," and a few days after with the grip in its full force. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be neglected.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

Afflicted with Erysipelas For Ten Years.

Cured by Four Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. N. Peister, of Brighton, Ont., was Cured Two Years Ago and Has Had No Return Of It Since.

Read what she says:—"It is now about two years since I was cured of a terrible attack of Erysipelas, with which I had been afflicted for about ten years. I had tried almost everything, including medicine from several doctors, but could get no relief. I had given my case up as hopeless, but I procured five bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it completely cured me. In fact, the cure has been permanent. It is now two years since I took Burdock Blood Bitters, and I have not had the slightest sign of the disease returning. I fully believe that your wonderful remedy has taken it so completely out of my system that I shall never be bothered again with it. I have the greatest of faith in Burdock Blood Bitters."

LONDON INSANE INCREASING.

There Are 24,000 Deranged Persons in the City Asylums.

"The total increase of 996 lunatics is the largest annual increase we have had to record, and the prospect of any diminution in the increase of lunacy appears to be most problematical."

Such is the terrible state of affairs reviewed in the annual report of the Asylums Committee of the London County Council for the year ending March 31, 1904, just issued.

The figures for London alone show a total of nearly 24,000 lunatics on the first day of the current year. This, as compared with three previous years, shows an annual increase of from 700 to nearly 1,000 in 14 years since 1890. The number of lunatics has increased by the enormous total of 7,590, which is out of all proportion to the increase in population.

Among the causes of insanity in patients admitted to the London asylums last year were the following: Intemperance, 666; hereditary, 783; love affairs, 61; domestic worries, 283; religious excitement, 78.

A well known specialist in mental diseases, in discussing the report, said:

"It is to be observed that the largest proportion of lunacy cases is among the laboring class. The reason is obvious. Depressing influences, the grind for existence in the slums and underground dwellings, and intemperance are all direct causes of lunacy.

"The class which comes next on the roll is that of clerks. Here much the same causes are to be found, but in the main, I think, the appalling bad feeding indulged in by this section of the community has most to do with the large increase in insanity.

"Hurried and insufficient meals of starch foods and tea in the middle of the day, cheap cigarettes and general stress of modern life tend to the unhinging of the mind."

Hindoo and Irish Bulls.

A correspondent in India heard a very unctuous Hindoo police kharvari say the other day: "When I went into the house I saw four dead bodies. One of them was carried away alive."

"Then you saw three dead bodies and not four?" I queried.

"No, sir," was the reply, emphatically and reprovingly given. "I saw four dead bodies. The one taken away alive turned out to be dead."

"What does he mean?" I asked of his European superior, an Irishman.

"He means, sorr, that of the four dead men the wan carried away alive deyed, by jings, as he was going along in the kyart."

And another story comes to us from the east: There is an orphanage at Bandora. A gentleman made a feast for the little inmates, one of whom was observed to be stuffing his pocket with cake. "Why don't you eat it?" said the kind donor. Quoth the orphan, "I'm keeping it till my parents come to see me." It need to be said that bulls were an Irish specialty. But, then, the learned are forever pointing out the oriental cast of Irish thought.—Westminster Gazette.

ONLY AN INSECT.

"On the crimson cloth
Of my study desk
A lustrous moth
Poised statuesque,
Of a waxen mould
Were its right limbs shaped,
And in scales of gold
Its body was draped;
While its luminous wings
Were belted and veined
With silvery strings,
Or golden grained.
Through whose slimy mase
In tremulous light
Danced quivering rays
Of the gladsome light.

II.

"On the desk hard by
A taper burned,
Towards which the eye
Of the insect turned
In its vague little mind
A faint desire
Rose, undefined,
For the beautiful fire.
Lightly it spread
Each silken van;
Then away it sped
For a moment's span,
And a strange delight
Lured on its course
With resistless might
Towards the central source;
And it followed the spell
Through an eddying maze,
Till it fluttered and fell
In the deadly blaze.

III.

"Dazzled and stunned
By the scalding pain,
One moment it swooned,
Then rose again;
And, again the fire
Drew it on with its charms
To a living pyre
In its awful arms;
And now it lies
On the table here
Before my eyes,
Shrivelled and sere.

IV.

"As I sit and muse
On its fiery fate,
What themes abstruse
Might I meditate!
For the pangs that thrilled
Through that martyred frame
As its veins were filled
With the scorching flame,
A riddle enclose
That, living or dead,
In rhyme or in prose,
No seer has read.
'But a moth,' you cry,
'Is a thing so small!'
Ah, yes; but why
Should it suffer at all?
Why should a sob
For the vaguest smart
One moment throb
Through the tiniest heart?
Why in the whole
Wide universe
Should a single soul
Feel that primal curse?
Not all the throes
Of mightiest mind.
Nor the heaviest woes
Of human kind,
Are of deeper weight
In the riddle of things
Than that insect's fate
With the mangled wings.

V.

"But if only I
In my simple song
Could tell you the Why
Of that one little wrong,
I could tell you more
Than the deepest page
Of saintliest lore
Or of the wisest sage.
For never as yet
In its wordy strife
Could Philosophy get
At the import of life;
And Theology's maws
Have still to explain
The inscrutable cause
For the being of pain.
So I sometimes fear
That in spite of both
We are baffled here
By this one singed moth."

—Grant Allen.

Better Than Stealing.

Many years ago a newly-arrived highlander was being shown the sights of Glasgow by a fellow countryman. As they crossed a street they saw in the distance a dense crowd of people, and the newcomer asked what it meant. He was told that there was a man being hanged. He then inquired what they were hanging him for, and he was told it was for sheep stealing. He looked aghast at this news and at last exclaimed: "Ochan, Ochan; hanging a man for stealing sheeps! Could he no' ha bocht them and then no' peyed for them?"—"Reminiscences of Sir Archibald Geikie."

Thought His Gas Bill Too Big.

Mr. Peck had an enormous gas bill after he had had a gas stove one month. Protest to the gas company brought no explanation, so he went to the cook Bridget for an explanation and opened the subject with "How do you like the gas stove, Bridget?" "Sure, it's foine. I haven't had to light the stove but once since it came."

NEW BRITISH CRUISERS.

Three Large Cruisers are About to be Constructed by England.

England is about to construct three cruisers which she believes will be the best in the world. They will be laid down at Portsmouth, Devonport and Pembroke. The new vessels will be named Minotaur, Shannon and Defence, and will practically be battleships. In both power and size they will exceed anything of their class afloat. Following are the particulars of the ships: Guns, four 9.2 inch, ten 7.5 inch; shells, 880 pounds and 200 pounds; rate, four shells per minute; penetration, 2½ feet of iron; armour belt, 300 feet of 6-inch steel; speed, 23 knots; horse power, 27,000; boilers, water tube; displacement, 14,600 tons; cost, £800,000.

Philip Watts, designer, has developed a combination of the speed of a cruiser with a battleship's strength in guns. The broadside discharge will be 100 pounds heavier than in the best British cruisers now afloat. The guns will be longer and more powerful and their striking power three and one-half times as great as that of the lastest cruisers. The new cruisers will be as effective at three miles as other cruisers now are at two miles. The power of attack, with 9.2-inch and 7.5-inch guns, is greater than that of the newest French ship, the Edgar Quinet. The 9.2-inch guns will be mounted in pairs in barbettes on the forecastle and upper aft decks.

Keen for More.

When Kean was looking very exhausted while playing Macbeth in Scotland, the manager of the theatre offered him some whiskey in a very small thistle-glass, saying at the same time by way of encouragement: "Take that, Mr. Kean; take that, sir. It is the real mountain dew; that will never hurt you, sir!"

"No," said Kean, with a significant glance at the small dose, "No; that I'll be sworn it wouldn't—even if it was vitriol!"

Vest and the Yellowstone.

A string of jack snipe was responsible for the founding of Yellowstone park, says a St. Joseph (Mo.) communication to the Galveston News. The snipes were carried into a hotel in St. Joseph one night in 1878 by W. C. Fredericks and attracted the attention of George Graham Vest, late United States senator. The jack snipes answered the purpose of an introduction, and the two men were soon on friendly terms. Fredericks, who had been all over the west, began telling Vest, who was a sportsman, of the wonderful country in Montana and other states. Vest later joined a party in Omaha and inspected the country of which Fredericks had told him. When he became a senator one of the first things he did was to introduce a bill setting aside the Yellowstone district as a national park.

WHAT IS THERE IN IT?

Scott's Emulsion is a careful blend of the purest cod liver oil, hypophosphites of lime and soda, glycerine and a dash of flavoring. The combination of these valuable ingredients emulsified as in Scott's Emulsion represents the greatest remedy yet discovered for weak lungs, poor blood, low vitality, child weakness and all wasting diseases.

CONGRATULATIONS TO NEW MEMBERS.

Messrs. R. R. Hall and John Finlay Recieve Telegrams.

Redistribution did not Effect Genera Result in This Riding.

Mr. Hall's victory in West Peterborough was a signal one, and an analysis of the official returns, made by the returning officer, displays the fact that, contrary to the statements made by some Conservatives, that the change in the riding made by the redistribution was responsible for his election, he would have had a majority of 26 over Mr. Kendry with the old boundaries. Mr. Hall was the recipient of a large number of congratulatory telegrams, among them being the following from Sir Wilfrid Laurier:

"You have won the gratitude of the whole party in winning Peterborough to us. My congratulations and my thanks to our friends.
"Wilfrid Laurier."

And from Hon. F. R. Latchford as follows:

"My Dear Hall,—
"Kindly accept my heartiest congratulations on your magnificent victory in West Peterborough. None more signal was achieved in the campaign.
"Faithfully yours,
"F. R. Latchford."

Other telegrams and letters were received from Sir Wm. Mulock, Hon. Jas. Sutherland, Hon. Chas. Hyman, Hon. G. W. Ross, W. R. Riddell, K. C., Toronto; John Finlay, M.P., Norwood, Geo. P. EXCELLENT PICTURE OF THE ATHLETICS.

The Lacrosse Team Which has a Most Creditable Record.

An excellent picture of the Athletic Lacrosse Club of town is on exhibition at Mr. F. A. Clarke's store on George street. The group is the work of Mr. R. M. Roy, and has been finished with the usual artistic effect and general excellence which is characteristic of the work of this well known photographer. The picture is a large one, 36 in. by 30 in., and has been handsomely framed. In the centre are two lacrosse sticks, crossed over the cup won by the team. Beneath is the record of the Club in the Junior series of the Canadian Lacrosse Association last year when the team won the championship of districts Nos. 9, 10, 11 and 12, have defeated Belleville, T.A.S. and Lindsay each twice, and St. Catharines once, and meeting but one defeat—with Elora. For three years, 1902, 1903 and 1904, the club was city league champions.

The officers of the club in the group are J. J. Howden, Hon. President; H. R. H. Kenner, President; R. M. Glover, Vice-President; A. W. McPherson, Secretary; H. Ruth, Treasurer; F. A. Clarke, Manager. The others in the group are T. Glover, E. Wasson, H. Rickey, E. Dillon, W. Cavanah, H. Morgan, W. Gall y G. Rob rtson, E. Bes , H. Dunford, V. Hamilton, G. Mem. Each of the men have been photographed individually.

The picture is being generally admired by all who have seen it.

CANADIANS STIR BRITISH PATRIOTISM.

Kilties Band Met With Warm Reception Everywhere.

While the "Kilties" Band of Belleville, Canada, were recently playing in the towns of middle and Northern England, British patriotism was at fever heat, the tragic incident in the North Sea being responsible for the sentiment that swept over the Kingdom. At every concert Bandmaster Robinson received requests for the band to play "Rule Britannia", and when the Scotch-Canadian musicians responded with inspiring renderings of the patriotic music, the audience indulged in the most enthusiastic demonstrations, singing the words of the song and cheering as the last strains died away. It was a new experience for English people to be stirred to the depths of their hearts by a colonial musical organization. The Canadian bandsmen will never forget the out-bursts of patriotism at those memorable concerts.

The "Kilties" continue triumphantly on their first tour of Great Britain, being cordially welcomed everywhere. At Halifax recently all the bandsmen were presented by the business men of the town with beautiful bunches of white heather, as tokens of "good luck," and the Scotch-Canadians enjoyed a dinner in the "oak room" of the Old Cock Hotel, the oldest dining room in England. The "oak room", which was originally used as a shooting box, dates back to the time of Henry VIII. Its beautiful old fire place, and wonderful hand-carved mantle-piece, still survive the ravages of time.

The fashion pages are unusually attractive, illustrating and describing the very latest modes in a way to make their construction during the busy festive season a pleasure instead of a task, and the literary and pictorial features are of rare excellence. A selection of Love Songs from the Wagner Operas, rendered into English by Richard de Gallienne and beautifully illustrated in colours by J. C. Leyendecker, occupies a prominent place, and a chapter in the Composers' Series, is an interesting supplement to the lyrics. A very clever paper entitled "The Court Circles of the Republic," describes some unique phases of Washington social life—is from an unnamed contributor, who is said to write from the inner circles of society. There are short stories from the pens of F. Hopkinson Smith, Robert Grant, Alice Brown, Mary Stewart Cutting and Elmore Elliott Peake, and such interesting writers as Julia Magruder, L. Frank Baum, and Grace Mac Gowan Cooke hold the attention of the children. Many Christmas suggestions are given in needlework and the Cookery pages are redolent of the Christmas feast. In addition, there are the regular departments of the magazine, with many special articles on topics relating to woman's interests within and without the home.

Power From Ragged Rapids.

WILL INCREASE PASTOR'S SALARY.

Park Street Baptist's so Decided Last Night.

Quarterly Business Meeting was Held Last Night—Reports Were Satisfactory.

The Quartely business meeting of the Park Street Baptist Church was held last night with Pastor Rev. A. H. Brace in the chair.

The meeting was opened with reading of the Scriptures and prayer. The minutes of the quarter were read by Church Clerk David Holt and adopted, and Treasurer's report was read by John Read and adopted.

Weekly Offering Secretary, Deacon Gillespie, read the weekly offering report, which was adopted as read. The various reports were highly satisfactory. The Dorcas Society especially so, showing amount now on hand $46.00.

A recommendation was brought down by the Finance Committee that the pastor's salary should be considerably increased.

His standing among the people, the acceptability of his ministry, the increased membership, growth of congregation and the satisfactory state of the Finance warrants this step being taken at once.

This was a surprise to the pastor and all the more pleasing, being the spontaneous act of the Finance Committee and altogether unsought by him.

Storm sashes are to be placed on the west side and north end of building, and the church banked all round to secure warmth and comfort until the new building goes up. The Mission Circle will have a special open session this Quarter. The Mission Band concert will be held about the middle of December.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the Harvest Home Decoration Committee and all the friends who sent in produce, which went to make the Festival a great success, and also to the choir for the efficient service rendered. The vegetables and fruit were to be sent to the Protestant Home for the aged.—Com.

The Canadian Jay.

Mr. Charles Pickering of Toronto, writes: On the 15th October I saw three Canada jays (Perisoreus Canadensis), the Wis-Ka-Tjan of the Indian, the Whiskey Jack of the lumberman, which were killed this morning on Fisherman's Island. Though common throughout northern Ontario and northward to Arctic America, it is very rare in southern Ontario. Mellwraith in his Birds of Ontario gives no authentic record of its capture so far south, though he mentions hearing of one being taken at Oshawa. This bird, well known to all lumbermen and prospectors, with whom he is a star boarder, is not thought so much of by the hunter, for whom he has destroyed many a fine carcass of venison, tearing off the fat and strips of flesh, which he would store in the cleft of some nearby tree for future use. Who can tell the cause of this unusual migration? It cannot be fear of cold nor yet scarcity of food, as he is a general scavenger, as much at home in the dense pine forest as around the mining camps, picking up whatever is thrown out in the shape of food. On the 15th I saw a large flock of snowbirds, and on the 11th and 12th flocks of wild geese were seen. On the 16th three more Canada jays were seen.

Game of Newfoundland.

Newfoundland, like Ireland, is innocent of snakes or reptiles. Its hills, all in the interior, are infested with bears, mountain lions, wolves, foxes and gophers. Song birds are few, the robin predominating in numbers, although there is a species of unmusical jay that may outnumber the red-breasted beauty familiar to more southerly and inland latitudes.

This summer more than $20,000,000 worth of forest timber burned. No sustained effort was made to stop the spreading fires, because most of the scourged land is the property of no man. At the brink of a river near the Bay of Islands in August were scores of caribou, wolves, foxes, bears and wild creatures of other kinds herded together by a mountain fire which had driven them from the wilderness toward civilization.

"BIG DAYS"

At the Golden Lion Sale of Fashionable

Mantles and Suits

This was the Opening Day of our Room-making Sale of Ladies' Mantles and Suits, Maids' Coats and Children's Reefers and Ulsters.

Nothing pleases ourselves half so well as a big days' business, and if it keeps up the same pace there will be few out of the 300 Garments left after Thanksgiving week.

The Reason Why.

There are plenty of things to say about these Garments and their reduced prices which we can't enlarge upon. But, if we are so deserving of your patronage, whatever we leave unsaid in our ads we can say personally to our customers.

We ought to sell all these excellent Garments in less than a week because of the newness and correct style of them, irrespective of the fact that they are offered regardless of cost.

The combination of high quality and low pricing is marked, as well as the desirability of the styles, the fashionable materials, the perfection of the workmanship and fit.

Warm Coats for little Maids—Cosy and Comfortable Coats for Toddlers trimmed in various pretty shapely styles—the nicest Wraps ever sold at the prices.

Customers are simply delighted at the great goodness and unmatchable values. The more you know about these values the more you'll like them.

These are only a few hints of what's to be seen and what's to be saved at Fair's Sale of Mantles, etc.

That Watch of Yours

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch, you put in it your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones, call around and see us.

A SOCIETY FOR LOCAL IMPROVEMENT

A Primary Movement in a Desirable Direction.

It is the intention of a number of citizens to form a society whose aim will be to encourage every effort to preserve features of natural beauty, and to develop and encourage the further development of landscape effects, tree planting, boulevards and roads, so as to make Peterborough as beautiful and interesting as her great capabilities will warrant. This is a good move. Such societies in the United States have secured splendid results. There is a fine field here for such a society and we heartily wish it success.

PORT ARTHUR'S FALL DELAYED

No Confirmation of General Stoessel's Capitulation.

RUSSIAN CASUALTIES 33,250.

In the Ten Day's Fighting on the Shakhe River—Armies in Battle Array Against Each Other but Doing Little but Sharp Outpost Work—Japs Sparing Their Ammunition.

London, Nov. 12.—No confirmation has reached London of the rumors current on Nov. 10 of the capitulation of Port Arthur, that General Stoessel was asking for an armistice, etc. According to The Daily Telegraph's Chee Foo correspondent, Japan has consented to open the Port of Antung to steamers chartered by silk merchants when the latter obtain special permits. This action is due to China's protest that exclusion of neutral shipping would ruin the silk trade.

Loss At Shakhe River.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 12.—A corrected list of the ten-day battle of Shakhe River, issued by the War Office, places the total of killed and wounded at 33,250, of whom 900 were officers.

The first returns, it is explained, contained duplications and some of the men were so slightly wounded that they returned to the ranks in a few days.

Chrysanthemum Party At Tokio.

Tokio, Nov. 12.—The Emperor yesterday gave his annual chrysanthemum party in the park of the Aoyama Palace, where he entertained about 1,000 guests.

JAPS SPARING AMMUNITION.

Which Indicates Relief in Big Battle Before Winter Yet.

Mukden, Nov. 12.—The positions of the armies on both sides remain little changed, though there is continual skirmishing going on with the object of securing minor positions tending to strengthen the respective lines of defence. The Russian scouts are very daring in secretly reconnoitering the whole of the Japanese line, some even creeping up to the Japanese trenches and lying concealed there all day and returning at night. The Japanese have constructed in many places double and even triple and quadruple lines of trenches, wire entanglements, mines and pits. A Cossack patrol on Nov. 10 penetrated as far as Sandiapu, where they inflicted a blow against a large force of Japanese and then returned rapidly to the Russian main line without loss. A patrol also got in the rear of two Japanese companies moving to attack a Russian position. The Cossacks defeated the Japanese and returned safely to the Russian line.

An artillery fire from both sides is continued at intervals. It is heavier on the Russian right wing, where all day on Nov. 9 and also during the night the Russians shelled the Japanese positions with their heavy guns. Neither side on that date gained any advantage.

Gained Great Advantage.

As a result of the heavy bombardment by the Russians the Japanese have withdrawn some of their batteries from the advanced positions. It is believed that not being ready to attack, they are falling back to the hills. The Russians gained a great advantage when towards the end of the battle on the Shakhe River they recapture Lone Tree Hill. This hill commands a large part of the plain over which the Japanese must advance.

The operations are about the same each day. There is artillery firing most of the time and the frequent clashes of infantry at night.

The soldiers of the opposing outposts in close proximity engage in the exchange of cigarettes and other luxuries.

There was a heavy exchange of artillery fire Thursday at the Russian right centre. The Russian batteries began shelling the Japanese trenches and the Japanese batteries responded.

During Thursday night Russian volunteers dislodged a detachment of Japanese infantry from trenches in front of Lone Tree (Poutiloff) Hill.

The Japanese continue to show activity on the left flank, without, however, engaging in any serious movement.

Comfortable dugouts are being built along the Russian lines, and the soldiers seem to think that they will winter where they are. The idea that Field Marshal Oyama contemplates an attempt to take Mukden is not generally entertained. Both sides seem to be content for the present with a suspension of hostilities. Warm clothing is being distributed among the troops.

Japs Sparing Ammunition.

During the bombardment Thursday night the Russians threw 60 large melinite shells into the Japanese camp opposite Manalon Hill.

The Japanese, who during the previous cannonading seemed to have successfully used a searchlight directed against the Russian positions for the purpose of covering their operations at night in the extension of their field works in the region of the railway, did not reply when the Russians attacked them farther to the east.

The Japanese are notably economical in the use of ammunition, as though anticipating an early battle, when great quantities will become necessary.

It is known that the Japanese have placed guns of large calibre in the vicinity of the Shakho railway station, bringing Schiatun, the next station to the north, within the range of their fire.

The great precautions taken by the Russians, their continued vigilance, and the disposition of their forces, would seem to guarantee their army against any repetition of disasters of enormous magnitude.

The demolition of the Chinese houses appears to continue only along the firing line, where their destruction is rendered necessary for strategical purposes.

Reports of the grave condition of the besieged at Port Arthur have reached Mukden, and the Russians here will not be surprised to learn of the capitulation of the fortress.

The course taken by the Government of Great Britain in the North Sea incident is now generally known here, and appears to be regarded as highly magnanimous.

In the extreme east the Japanese appear not to have advanced north to Saimachi, and to have concentrated their forces in their centre.

The prevailing conviction is that the reinforcements received by the Japanese have been much larger than reported, and consequently it is expected that they will attack.

Three Imperial Red Cross trains attached to the Manchurian forces remain constantly in the rear of the army on the Fushun Railway and the main railway.

Struck By a Train.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—Ed. Stahl of this town, was struck by a G.T.R. train at a crossing at about 8.30 last night. He was removed to the General Hospital in the ambulance, where it was found that he had a badly injured foot and some bruises about the head. Drs. Minchin and Cline are in attendance, and they hope to save his foot. This accident shows clearly the great need of gates at this crossing.

Lost His Fingers.

Westgate, Man., Nov. 12.—M. A. Christie, a young Englishman recently from London, an employe of the Red Deer Lumber Company, at Red Deer Lake, had both hands caught in a rope which was being used to haul a car to a siding by a stationary engine, and all of his fingers were torn out except one.

—Now that the elections are over they are showing 23 different colors of passepartouts at the "Framery" 428 George street.

IRON INDUSTRY IN ONTARIO

Conditions Surrounding the Establishment of the Belmont Iron Mines at Blairton.

Mr. Dumble Tells of the Official Opening of the Mine and Reviews Thier Interesting History.

Their Revival and Re-opening by the Introduction of Electric Smelting Process Probable.

Following the announcement made in the Examiner some days ago, that there was a probability of the Belmont iron mines being re-opened and worked, the ore to be smelted in Peterborough by electricity, Mr. D. W. Dumble, who is familiar with the conditions under which the old company worked, and who was present at the official opening of the mines, was asked by the Examiner to give some facts relating to that, at that time, flourishing industry. Mr. Dumble kindly consented, and the following contribution was supplied by him:—

For more than one hundred years, charcoal iron has been made at Three Rivers, in the Province of Quebec, and as early as 4, William IV., 1834, a company, called the Marmora Foundry Company, was organized to manufacture iron at Marmora, in the County of Hastings. This company erected furnaces, built large and substantial offices, and for many years made pig iron from the bog ores found near the surface in several places in Marmora township. The product was hauled to the front—forty miles—by teams. Charcoal was used and a good quality of iron made. The enterprise, however, was handicapped by difficulties, and although several times started with new energy and capital, it ultimately proved a great financial failure, and operations wholly ceased until about the year 1866, when a number of Pittsburg capitalists were interested in the project, and they finally bought out the whole concern, which included many thousands of acres of land in Elsever and adjoining townships, bought for a charcoal supply, and the Marmora property and mines. These gentlemen also bought the old Cobourg and Peterborough Railway, and reorganized it under the name of the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora Railway and Mining Company. The object of the company was to ship ore to their furnaces at Pittsburg, iron ore there being worth over $5 per ton.

The road to Harwood was repaired, a short line of railway—about ten miles — was built by the late Thomas Dumble, the younger, from the Narrows on the Trent, to an immense deposit of iron in the township of Belmont, on the shore of Crowe Lake, the village of Marmora being on the other side of the lake.

This mine was opened, and worked for many years by Mr. Dumble, Roger Bates, now deceased, and Mr. Aunger, the respected county councillor of former years, were employed in the working of the mine. The ore was taken from a great pit, and steam drills and derricks were used. The loaded cars were run down to the river and emptied into scows, then towed by the company's steamer to Harwood, where the ore was transferred to cars. These were run into Cobourg, emptied into schooners, which conveyed the ore to Buffalo and Cleveland, from where it was taken by rail to Pittsburg. From 30,000 to 40,000 tons of ore per season were mined.

The opening of the mine was at the time a great and memorable event. The late J. H. Dumble of Cobourg, was managing director of the company, and entrusted to the writer the duty of extending to the leading citizens of Peterborough an invitation to attend the opening. A steamer was at their service, and on a bright day in July, 1866, a goodly company of Peterborough's prominent men drove to Rice Lake, where a fine steamer, the "Isaac Butts," awaited them. A profusion of all things needful to make men comfortable was on board, and duly served its purpose. In due time we reached the Narrows where we took train for the Mine. A salve of explosions tumbled vast masses of ore from its bed for ages and thus the Belmont Mine was opened.

Only a few of our oldest citizens who were of that company are alive, but they will even now say, as Mr. Charles Dunlop did, that this was the best day he had in Canada.

The opening up of the great and splendid iron mines in Northern Michigan and the fall in the price of iron which came after the American war finally lead to the abandonment of the mine and the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora Railway and Mining Company finally went into bankruptcy, and their entire properties were sold by the bondholders under chancery proceedings. The late Thomas Pearse, of Marmora, bought the concern. He lifted the iron, sold all the plant, the lands and the franchise and is said to have cleared $100,000 by his venture. Before the Company went out of existence it was offered a bonus by the town of Peterborough, to be paid when the road was completed from Cobourg to Obemong Lake. The road was constructed to Obemong within the time stipulated—the men working night and day to get it completed by the day appointed to enable them to claim the bonus—then a claim was made through the Company's solicitor, the late Chief Justice Armour, for the bonus, but Peterborough's solicitor replied: "My dear sir,—Permit me to draw your attention to the terms of the contract, which says that the money is only payable when the road is complete from Cobourg to Obemong Lake, and as there is a gap at Rice Lake not yet complete your many cents Peterborough if she declines to pay, as she decidedly does." And so Peterborough did not pay the bonus, but got Scott free as she did also by the construction of her contract when she and the county escaped the payment of $200,000 to the Grand Junction Railway Company.

The late Chief Justice never had a very exalted opinion of Peterborough from that time out, but Peterborough broke no faith, so far as the Obemong branch was concerned, for without the Rice Lake connection the road to Obemong was useless, and not worth a cent to Peterborough.

And now there is talk of re-opening the Belmont Mine with a view to smelting the ore by electricity. Whether this is practicable or not remains to be seen. Time works many changes. Blairton, named after Mr. Blair, of Pittsburg, is a deserted village. The old mine is a deep hole with 80 feet of water. The men of that enterprising day are for the most part at rest, but the world moves on, and schemes that were abandoned or impracticable under then existing conditions may with new conditions and advanced and new scientific methods be successful with success, but that success will take nothing from the merit of the efforts of the brave men who in their day have helped to [illegible] about the more advanced conditions of the present.

THE FATE OF PETTY POLITICS.

When the circumstances connected with the defeat of the Conservative leaders in the recent elections are analyzed, the futility of the Conservative platform of petty politics, and of the "cries" that served in the stead of a policy, is emphasized. Mr. Borden's wobbling on the Grand Trunk Pacific question, with his half-score of alternative propositions, ending in the cry of public ownership a few days before the election, served to give him his dismissal. The panic his unstable position infused into the ranks, is further shown by the fact that Mr. T. Chase Casgrain, one of the Conservative leaders in Quebec, was defeated by a mere lad, Mr. Geo. Parent, just out of his law studies, and only 24 years of age.

In this connection it may be pointed out, what little impression the Dundonald incident exercised in the late elections. That distinguished soldier permitted himself to be exploited by a clique of Conservatives, and has been summarily punished, morally, of course, for his un-soldierly role of a partizan. During the election campaign, the Liberal journals were charged with unfairness in their treatment of the Dundonald episode at the time it first entered the field of Canadian politics. How far the views then expressed were the views of the people of Canada, is shown by the following results:

In Ottawa, the centre of the Dundonald agitation, and the city in which a farewell partizan demonstration, was magnified into a "citizens' demonstration of forty thousand persons," Belcourt and Stewart were elected by overwhelming majorities to support the Government which Lord Dundonald had attacked.

In Glengarry, where it was represented that indignation laid awake of nights, awaiting the day when the Scotch admirers of Lord Dundonald could avenge his alleged unfair treatment by the Dominion Government, the same common-sense Scotchmen, elected Mr. Schell, the Liberal, by a large majority to support the Government.

In the Eastern Townships, where the Pickell affair had its storm centre, Hon. Sydney Fisher scored a magnificent triumph personally and for the Government, and Mr. Rufus Pope, ex-M.P., the champion from that district of Lord Dundonald, received his political quietus by defeat at the polls. In Nova Scotia, the home of Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia and Defence—the chief target for Lord Dundonald's attacks—every one of the eighteen constituencies returned Government supporters, and Sir Frederick himself received a majority of votes three times in excess of any previous majority.

In Halifax, Hon. Mr. Borden, the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, and supporter of Lord Dundonald's position, was defeated at the polls. In Victoria and Haliburton, Colonel Sam Hughes, the champion of Lord Dundonald, in the House of Commons, received a smaller number of votes than ever before. In the Montreal constituencies the only Liberal to meet defeat was the man who organized the Dundonald demonstration in that city.

These cases are not cited to humiliate Lord Dundonald, but to show in what manner his consenting to be made a catspaw of a party to pull their chestnuts out of the fire, was resented by the people of Canada, who enjoy "home rule," and intend to enjoy it, and decline to submit to dictation of domestic policy from any source. And, moreover, to show how popular contempt will be poured upon the peanut politics of even a great party. Canadians in the main are patriotic, and not easily turned from the duty of exercising their franchise in the best interests of the country, and will support the Government of any party in whose hands they consider those interests safe.

HONOURING MR. STRATTON.

(Hamilton Times.)

The dinner given by Hon. Mr. Stratton last night in the Speaker's chambers in the Parliament buildings was a most enjoyable affair, and the testimonial of esteem presented to the Provincial Secretary was as well deserved as were the kind words Hon. Mr. Ross said of his colleague. Against Mr. Stratton the Tory machine and the mere unprincipled organs have conducted a bitter campaign of personal abuse. No scruples have been allowed to stand in the way of befouling his reputation; they have hesitated at no falsehood in the attempt to make better worse and right wrong in their war of vilification. The Gamey job was but the culmination of a long course of detraction, and the elaborateness of the plot as disclosed in the investigation shows how important to Toryism the conspirators against a good man's name and honour regarded the destruction of Mr. Stratton. The plot failed, and the miserable tools employed are now an encumbrance on the party, but the Tory press still seeks to extract capital from the infamy — a result which the good sense of the people of Ontario will prevent.

The Tory press pretended to look for Mr. Stratton announcing his retirement last night, and some of its duped readers actually believed it. Instead of that we had the Premier paying well-deserved compliments to the Provincial Secretary, whose ministerial career has been marked by great success, and against whose management of the office not a single charge has ever been successfully made. Mr. Stratton gave no intimation that he intended to withdraw from public life; Mr. Ross said it was not his wish that Mr. Stratton should retire. This may be disappointing to the Tories, but it is good for Ontario. Often a great many sticks and stones are found under certain apple trees, but that is no evidence that they bear poor fruit and should be cut down. The bitter war conducted against Mr. Stratton is a tribute to his worth. The policy of the Tory machine has been to make a concerted attack on one Minister at a time, in the hope of deceiving the unwary into the belief that he is unworthy. If the war had not been made on Mr. Stratton another would have been the target for Tory foulness.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is generally agreed that the Ontario License Law has never been so effectively enforced as under the administration of Hon. Mr. Stratton. That this is no mere ex parte statement is shown by the fact that at a W.C.T.U. convention in Bowmanville, when the subject of law enforcement was under discussion a delegate said that in Exeter they had enforced the law, and had appealed to the Hon. J. R. Stratton to assist them by instructing the officials how to act in certain cases. Their request was promptly and effectively complied with.

LABOUR COLUMN.

A Pertinent Question Regarding Your Rent.

Who are You Buying Your House for, Yourself or Your Landlord?

A writer in The Toiler, a labour paper published in Toronto, has the the following article on paying rent, which should be interesting for those who are renting houses:—

Most every man is paying for a house. Some pay for two houses in the course of their lifetime, and yet never own enough to stand on. What is the use of howling about the bloated capitalist, and yet year after year pay rent to make that capitalist wealthier? It is difficult work, attacking wealth, to the manual toiler. Somehow or other, it is hard to stick. Yet there are enough manual toilers owning their homes to show that more might own them if they would try as hard as their successful brothers have done. This question of attaching property to manual toilers is of national importance. Dudley Baxter, a careful statistician, computed that in 1868 the poorest 60 per cent. of all the families in the United Kingdom average £50 ($250) a year income. Charles Booth, in 1901, estimated that the poorest 30 per cent. of all the families in London received at most £54 a year ($270). This is family income, mind you. The figures for the United States show that seven-eights of the families own only one-eighth of the national wealth. These conditions perpetuated and aggravated tend towards anarchy. Is it possible for every manual labourer who wants to, to buy his home? Yes, it is if we work on sound principles. It is possible on two conditions: (1) the man must receive help from the Government; (2) the man must be willing, yea, determined, to help himself.

The foundation of a city's prosperity is its trade and commerce. It is reckoned quite a reasonable thing that the municipal government of this city should encourage enterprise tending to the development of trade and commerce. A capitalist may have half a million dollars in the banks, but he gets no bonuses or exemptions from the city. Another man may have only half that sum, but if he builds factories, employs many men and does a big trade, at once the city appreciates him, and gives him exemptions and privileges. Is not the good citizenship of manual toilers equally worthy of encouragement, and equally important to the city's prosperity? Then if it is right to encourage enterprise in manufactories it is equally right to encourage good citizenship in manual toilers. But what is good citizenship in manual toilers? Well, from a business point of view we must be good workmen. Manufactured goods command the market according to their efficiency and durability. We make the goods, but the manufacturer has to find and hold the market; therefore the boss should be the best judge of good workmanship. We want citizen toilers who can get a job and leave a job with a good record behind them. Another trait in good citizenship is the honest payment of our debts to grocer, butcher, landlord, baker, etc. The Socialist tells us that six hours a day is all that a man would have to work if the country was properly governed.

Yes! If what? If you could remove or greatly reduce the three classes of criminals or crooks, middlemen and non-producers. The worst of these three classes is certainly the crooks. It is computed that for every crook in jail there are two abroad, and their average income is $1,300 a year. Crime in the states, judges, courts, police, jails, sheriffs, etc., costs our neighbours seven hundred million dollars a year. That's where our extra hour a day goes, to pay for the crooks. Again, when you were out of work last winter, where did you get your groceries on trust, at Simpson's, or Eaton's, or at the corner grocery? Yet do you know that most every corner grocery of any length of standing carries a burden of bad debts of from $500 to $1,000? Will you join hands to help defend our friends, these small merchants, from the robbery of unprincipled dead-beats? Or do you say it "is no business of mine?" There are just as many dead-beats among the rich as there are among the poor. Do you know that if we "hold a candle to the devil" in this world we shall certainly stoke his fires in the next? The grand old gospel of Christ, with its beautiful Golden Rule, and its Sermon on the Mount, would have made this old world happy long ago if it were only given a chance. Playing good Lord, good devil, has made the gospel look ridiculous, but when Reckoning Day comes it won't be the Gospel that looks ridiculous. Well, what can we do to defend all honest men, whether merchants or toilers, from this army of deadbeats and crooks? We can adopt the society or union ideal of New Zealand. That is to say, that the government must recognise no person as an individual, only as members of societies or unions banded together to uplift and protect humanity. Then let every poor man who is trying to buy a home be endowed by his union or benefit society (if he be worthy of it) that he is an honest, industrious, good workman, and in the strength of that endorsation, let the government advance him a building loan on easy terms. One and a half million dollars has this city lent to railway companies, and not one cent have they returned in principal or interest. How much more are manual labourers entitled to a little help. Now, brothers, what are you going to do about it? Many Socialists and union men say some hard things about war and soldiers, and there is a good deal of truth in what they say. Yet some of our best friends among our political economists, tracing back the origin of American millionaires, find that they originated in the war between the north and south, in 1861-63. Charles R. Spahr, says "that the way the toilers of the North rallied to the defence of the Union was glorious heroism, but the way the financiers took advantage of the nation's extremities to make fortunes for themselves was rank treason."

Many of these militiamen, despised by many Socialists and union men, have marched and fought for days on half rations, with a lodging "on the cold ground," fighting for the national weal, but precious little of their own; but I have known many manual toilers who, rather than go on half rations, yea, rather than go without the theatre, beer, and tobacco, their piano, and a well-furnished parlour would remain the slave of a landlord all their lives. Believe me, my brothers, that the manual toiler who, even by the soldier's self-denial, if necessary, emancipates himself from the landlord and become a freeholder, yet reamining loyal to the cause of labour, does more for his country than he who fights on the battlefield.

But if I have to choose between the sleek, contented landlord's serf, and the brave militiaman, I would choose the soldier every time. Now, mind I don't say that a workingman should not have a parlour, or a trip to St. Louis, but I say all honour to the man who will go without these luxuries until he has paid for his home. From my heart I pity the contented serf, for mark you, the wage earners of Toronto may at present enjoy their parlours in their rented houses, but big city conditions are rapidly advancing in Toronto. A labour market glutted by the swelling tide of immigration will be an increasingly difficult problem for us to deal with, for, remember, the better off we get, the higher the wage, and the shorter our hours, the more attraction will emigrants have to come here. On our present aimless, drifting policy, higher dues and heavier levies, we shall have to pay to keep what we have won, and when in tenement buildings we have to pay $12 a month for three rooms, get our coal by the quarter ton, and raise it three stories high, good-bye to the workingman's parlour. Put a manual toiler on property of his own, and he can put in his spare time improving his estate, get in his fuel when it is cheap, and his self-respect and independence will vastly increase. Do not say, "Never bother; it will work out all right." Thirty years ago the workingmen of England had nothing to say when Gladstone ceded the Transvaal to the Boers. I was working in London at the time, and heard the talk, "It's no business of ours; the country is no good; give us another pint of half and half," and the music halls, "sing-songs," and "free and easies," were crowded, but thirty years after manual labour had to supply most of the blood that was shed. Manual labour has to pay most of the taxes, and to-day manual labour is staggering under the stagnation of trade caused by that South African war, and the manual labourer in the Transvaal, jostled by the Chinese coolie, is little better off.

Think, my brothers, think! and then for the sake of God and humanity and speak brave words of truth and wisdom. Let us as Canadian unionists heartily adopt the New Zealand ideal:

1. No government recognition or assistance to any individual unless he belongs to some undenominational society or union for the financial benefit and moral up-lifting of struggling humanity.

2. Financial encouragement from the government for the development of good citizenship among manual toilers.

3. This encouragement to be given only to those applicants who are endorsed by their unions or benefit societies, and by the merchants with whom they deal.

4. These societies and unions to co-operate with their members to help those who get a loan to attain to complete possession of their freehold.

Listen to Bobbie Burns:

"O Scotia, my dear, my native soil!
For whom my warmest wish to Heaven is sent,
Long may thy hardy sons of rustic toil
Be blest with health and peace and sweet content!
And O, may Heaven their simple lives prevent
From luxury's contagion weak and vile!
Then how'er crowns and coronets be rent,
A virtuous populace may rise the while,
And stand a wall of fire around their much-loved isle."

How Easily Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are Curing the Little Stomach Ills of the Nation.

Though there are many cases in which Dyspepsia threatens to prove suddenly fatal the vast majority have only the smaller discomforts and pains that mark the earlier stages of the disease. Most sufferers all know how quickly and easily they could regain their health by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets half the suffering in Canada would be relieved inside the next thirty days. Take one case. Mr. W. H. Harmer, Postmaster at Avonmore, N. B., says: "I was troubled with food and gas rising in my throat. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets stopped it."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets work naturally. They digest the food while the stomach rests and returns to its normal healthy condition. They always cure all stomach troubles. Everybody who has ever used them will tell you so.

PROGRESS OF A GREAT WORK.

Chairman of the G. T. P. Interviewed.

The Work of Surveying is Progressing Well and Men Well Provided For.

The chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Commission in an interview with the representatives of the press, made the following statement:

The Commissioners, being desirous of familiarizing themselves with as much of the territory that will be traversed by the Transcontinental Railway as possible, have just completed a tour, taking in Quebec, Edmonston, Connor, Grand Falls, Woodstock, Fredericton, Boigetown, St. John, Chipman, Moncton, and Halifax in the east, and Winnipeg and adjoining places in the west.

The work of the preliminary surveys is proceeding most satisfactorily all along the line from Moncton to Lake Abbittibi, and the reports so far received are very encouraging. Any doubts as to the possibility of running a good line around the corner of the State of Maine have been set at rest by the report of the engineer in charge of that section.

The preliminary survey between Fredricton and Woodstock is about completed and a good line has been obtained. The parties who were working there have been moved on between Grand Falls and Edmonston.

It is expected that the preliminary survey across New Brunswick will be completed this autumn. All the parties who will be kept in the field during the winter have been supplied with all requirements and made as comfortable as possible.

While at Winnipeg, the Commission rented offices in the new Union Bank building for the district engineer, and it is proposed to commence the work of surveying from that end at the earliest possible moment. At present there are thirty-four parties in the field.

Arrangements are being made to supply a fortnightly mail to all the interior camps. Persons wishing to send letters to parties attached to these camps should address them in care of the head office, Ottawa, from which place they will be forwarded as soon as the mail arrangements are complete, which will be in a very short time.

So far the supplies furnished have given entire satisfaction, all proving of the best quality. Each camp in the interior is furnished with a rifle, shot gun and fishing tackle. The game in this region is abundant.

Mr. A. L. Ogilvie has been appointed chief purchasing agent, and Mr. A. T. Gow chief accountant.

The Commission will press forward with the work of surveying as rapidly as possible, in order that construction may commence at the earliest possible moment.

FROM SOUTH AFRICH.

New Way of Using Chamberlains Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbour of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy that the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

SEES END TO WAR.

World About to Witness a Great Triumph for Peace.

Member of the Hague Court Believes Both Near East and Far East Problems are Near Solution.

New York, Nov. 11. — According to the Tribune, Oscar S. Strauss, who is a member of the Hague Tribunal, when asked yesterday if he saw any significance in the reference in the speech of Lord Lansdowne at the Lord Mayor's banquet in London to the "widely prevalent desire" that arbitration might be resorted to in the case of the present war in the Far East, said:

"I have long had the impression that we shall wake up some morning, to find that through the good offices of Great Britain, with the tacit consent of the signatory powers to the treaty of Berlin, an arrangement has been agreed upon by which the Near Eastern and Far Eastern questions have been settled by one stroke. That is to say, that Russia will have come to an agreement with Great Britain, and, secondly, with the signatory powers for having free access to the sea through the Dardanelles, in return for which a permanent adjustment of the Afghan boundary and Great Britain's domination of the Persian Gulf will be granted, and that in the Far East Japan's sphere of influence will be recognised in Korea, while Manchuria, with certain rights to Japan secured, will revert to China. This done, the peace of the world will be insured, certainly for our generation, and by the end of that time the nations will have become so accustomed to availing themselves of the Hague Tribunal, that war will be largely eliminated."

WHY HE IS OPTIMISTIC.

"What is your reason for so optimistic a view?" Mr. Straus was asked.

"There is every reason for such optimism," he said. "The peace idea is foremost in the minds of the Cabinets of Europe, as well as in the minds of the people. The desire for peace has been awakened, and also strengthened, by President Roosevelt's decision, in response to the resolutions of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, to convoke a second peace congress in accordance with the wish expressed, and the plan outlined for the Hague Conference of 1899. I have from the beginning maintained that some phase of the Far Eastern situation, sooner or later, will have to come before the Hague Tribunal, as the interest of neutral nations nowadays is such that they cannot permit either of two combatants to exact such terms especially when territory is considered, as the victor may be powerful enough to insist upon."

Tells of Benefit Derived from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Cures of Rheumatism and Dropsy by Canada's Great Kidney Remedy.

Yellow Grass, Assa., N.W.T., Nov. 11th. — Special. — "I think I should let the public know the benefit I derived from Dodd's Kidney Pills." The speaker was Mr. John White, well-known here, and he voices the sentiment of many a man on the western prairies who has been relieved of his pains and misery by the great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

"I have been afflicted with rheumatism for years," Mr. White continued. "I tried doctors and medicines but never got anything to do me much good till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. What they did for me was wonderful.

"I also know the Harris family, and I saw their little girl, Edith, who was cured of Dropsy by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I know that to be true. I tell you I feel like recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills even stronger than I talk."

There is no kidney disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot cure.

HUSBAND TOO EASY GOING

St. Louis Lady Could Admire Only a Masterly Man.

St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Evander L. Craig, a bride of three months, has left her husband because she says he is too good-natured and easy-going. Mrs. Craig declares she could admire only a masterful man, one who would keep a firm hand upon her. Her husband is just the opposite type of man, she says. Hence life became too monotonous, and she fled to her parents, where she declares she will remain.

"No doubt Mr. Craig is a good man," she said. "The trouble is he is too good for me. He never denied me anything. If I ever domineered then I did not know it. I could wind him about my finger, and my slightest wish was his law. This was not good for me, and I grew mighty tired of it. Even when I felt them he did not come to me and demand an explanation or command me to return to his roof. He sent friends to beg me to return. Such action by a man I regard as utterly detestable. Mr. Craig's charge made in the newspapers that I am being restrained by my parents by force and kept apart from him is too absurd to discuss."

VICE-REGAL FAREWELL.

Lord and Lady Minto Hold Public Reception in Toronto—Presented With a Eulogistic Civic Address.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—The public reception tendered to the Governor-General and the Countess of Minto last evening was attended by a large concourse of people and the City Hall presented a brilliant spectacle.

At 9.30 the band announced the arrival of the Vice-Regal party, and when they had gathered at the foot of the grand staircase, His Worship the Mayor read a highly eulogistic address of farewell.

Lord Minto said he deeply appreciated the honor of receiving such an address on behalf of the City of Toronto and thanked the Council for the kind words in reference to Lady Minto and himself. He would always remember with pleasure his visits to the city, regretted that it was his last visit, but hoped that some day it might be his pleasure to return and visit his many firm friends.

The members of the Council and ladies were then presented to their Excellencies and a steady stream of citizens followed for over half an hour.

After the first half hour the rush slackened and by 10.30 the public desire to meet the representative of the King had apparently been satisfied and the party took its leave to the accompaniment of the National Anthem by the combined orchestras.

The reception was most informal and the gathering was truly representative of the city.

Their Excellencies had many callers during the day. In addition, a deputation from the Daughters of the Empire waited upon Lady Minto.

The executive of the Ontario Curling Association waited on Lord Minto, and Mr. McMurrich, for the deputation, voiced the gratitude felt for his interest in the game and his bringing out of the Scotch curlers. In reply His Excellency said it was not a representative team, but merely a set of good fellows who had come out, and they had enjoyed their trip. He would, on returning to Britain, do what he could to spread the glories of Canada.

Last evening Lord Minto was the guest of the Bankers' Association at their banquet, prior to the reception at the City Hall.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavour similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by all druggists.

Crew of Martin Safe.

Owen Sound, Nov. 12.—The tug Hodgson arrived in port yesterday with the crew of the steamer Martin, which was wrecked on Devil's Island on Wednesday, while bound from Toledo for Owen Sound with a cargo of coal. The crew managed to reach Tobermory in the schooner's yawl, and communicated with the United States Consul here, W. Tate Robertson, who instructed the tug to bring the men to this port. They were sent on to Toledo.

HOW UNCLE SAM IS BOOMING CANADA.

Northwest American Mills "Must Have Canadian Wheat."

Acknowledgement That the Canadians Have the Yankees "Beaten to a Standstill.

Booming Canada. — A Minneapolis correspondent in discussing the wheat shortage in a Boston daily says that the Minneapolis millers cannot recapture the British market, as they cannot secure the wheat to do it with, and that if they are to expand they must get their wheat elsewhere than from their own farmers. The same correspondent had the following to say of Canada's great North-West, to the wheat productions of which the Minneapolis millers are looking with envious eyes: "Canada's got us beat to a standstill. It's three times the area of the Louisiana Purchase, and every acre of it's the finest wheat land in the world. We want that wheat. If we had the 60,000,000 bushels that Canada's raised this year, at the price it is selling at up there, think of how our mills would hum. I tell you, if our mills are to live, we must have that wheat. That Canadian boundary line is a wall 500 miles long and five feet high, and it's made of silver quarters, each quarter the American tariff on a bushel of Canadian wheat. That wall is a greater misfortune to us than Joseph Chamberlain's import tax on flour ever threatened to be. That wall stands between Minneapolis and the greatest boom any city in America has ever known. It stands between Minneapolis and a million population; it stands between us and such a prosperity as we never dreamed of. Of course, that's but one side of the reciprocity question. The American farmer is selling his wheat to-day for $1.03, while his neighbor across the Canadian line is selling his for but ninety-four cents—the farmer takes a different view of reciprocity. But the Minneapolis millers do want that wheat and want it terribly. They have always resorted to various devices to get it. They imported some of it in bond, made it into flour and shipped the flour abroad, thereby avoiding the duty, which the government does not impose on goods which are imported only to be exported again. But that has been cumbersome and red tape. And it has had one most serious disadvantage. When the wheat was imported, in order to escape the duty, not only the flour made from that wheat, but also all the by products, the bran and the siftings, must be exported. And there is no market for the by-products abroad. The millers suggest—and Congressman Lovering, of Massachusetts, has already introduced such a bill into Congress—that whenever a certain bulk of wheat is imported the duty on the wheat shall be refunded. But what solution of the question will ultimately be made remains to be seen. Perhaps the millers will do as the farm implement manufacturers have done within the past two years, build branch factories in Canada to supply the Canadian trade. And thereupon the millers will become, as these farm implement manufacturers have become, the most active opponents of reciprocity. Meanwhile Canada's wheat goes East by Canadian railways to Canadian ports. Meanwhile the biggest grain elevators in the world are being built at Fort Arthur and Fort William, Canadian lake ports which no one East has ever heard of, but which will loom large on the map within a few years. Meanwhile Canada is preparing for the autonomous, domestic handling of her own wheat crop, and looks forward to sit on America's throne as queen of the wheat world. Meanwhile the Minneapolis mills languish."

ORCHARDISTS IN CO-OPERATION

Western Fruit Growers Work Together to Mutual Advantage.

An Exhibition of Spraying Near Ingersoll was Largely Attended.

On Sept. 21st the farmers in the vicinity of Ingersoll, Ont., assembled to the number of about 75 or 80 to inspect the work done by the power spraying outfit managed in that vicinity by the Dominion Fruit Division. The object of the demonstration was to show that spraying might profitably be done as threshing is usually done in Western Ontario, one man taking the contract for doing the work of a large number of his neighbors. A circuit embracing 3,300 trees was contracted for and Mr. J. C. Harris was employed to do the work. He succeeded in spraying the whole number of trees four times with one outfit at a cost of something less than 20 cents a tree. The apples in the unsprayed orchards in that district are so scabby as to be practically worthless. The contrast between the sprayed and unsprayed fruit is therefore very marked.

The audience assembled at one o'clock at the orchard of Mr. J. C. Norsworthy and inspected very carefully a large number of trees, counting and grading the apples. Some unsprayed orchards were visited and again some sprayed orchards, until six or seven had been inspected. The results may be summed up as follows. In the sprayed orchards 90 per cent of the fruit would grade No. 1, while in the unsprayed orchards not more than 15 per cent. would grade No. 1. In some cases only 10 per cent. of first-class fruit was found and on some trees it was difficult to discover a perfect apple. The cost of spraying was about 20 cents per tree or 10 cents per barrel, and it is a fair estimate to say that for every 20 cents expended in spraying there was an increased value of about $1.00.

The inspection was witnessed by Prof. Hutt, O. A. C., Guelph; Mr. G. A. Putnam, Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, Mr. P. W. Hodgetts, Secretary Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, and a half dozen correspondents of agricultural papers.

Incidentally many points in general orchard culture were taken up. Prof. Hutt drew attention to the fact that, even though cultivation and pruning were neglected in some of the sprayed orchards, the trees were well loaded and the specimens large. He pointed out that had the season been dry these fine apples could not have been obtained. Mr. Putnam spoke of the success which had attended the operations of the fruit shippers' associations of Walkerton, Chatham and St. Catharines, and especially commended this system of disposing of their fruit.

Mr. McNeill spoke briefly on the topic "How to sell the apple crop." He strongly recommended selling in bulk. By this method the farmer was selling a product the quantity of which he was not in a position to estimate, to the buyer who had spent years in buying and was very apt in estimating the quantity of apples on a tree. He also condemned selling apples with the understanding that they be picked and piled on the ground until the packers came to pack them. This usually resulted in a loss of 50 per cent. A much better plan for the farmers was to pick, pack, grade and mark his own fruit, and then offer it for sale. The best way was, undoubtedly, the formation of a co-operative selling society, which would erect store houses and packing sheds at some central place and have the fruit packed and graded by men who were used to the work. This method would not only effect a great saving in the quantity of fruit to be marketed, but by giving a large number of packages of one variety and of uniform grade would attract larger buyers and secure better prices. With reference to the crop around Ingersoll this year, Mr. McNeill said that he could not conscientiously urge buyers to make an offer, inasmuch as in the unsprayed orchards there was almost nothing to buy. Many of the sprayed orchards had been sold, and no doubt with proper management the rest could be sold, though the individual farmer was at a disadvantage as compared with the co-operative associations.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED IN THE FIRST STAGES.

A Beautiful Girl Saved From Dread Consumption —Other Wonderful Cures.

Miss Amelia Weymer.

Hundreds of Women Cured of the First Stages of Consumption by Pe-ru-na.

The Following Letter From a Thankful Woman Tells Its Own Story.

Mrs. Mary E. Hoblit, 2501 Clinton avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"My son suffered for three months with catarrh of the bronchial tubes which threatened to become very serious. The doctors advised that he seek a more favorable climate, but as he had heard of Peruna as a specific for lung trouble he decided to give it a trial before he left his family for an expensive journey among strangers. For six months he used it faithfully and found that the trouble gradually disappeared and blessed health took its place. In two months he was perfectly well and able to perform his duties. You have indeed a grateful mother's thanks."—Mrs. Mary Hoblit.

It is the praise of those who have been cured by Peruna that makes this remedy so popular and so extensively used. No advertisement could have accomplished this result.

Peruna cures the first stages of consumption by removing the cause, which is chronic catarrh. The catarrh having been cured the cough and other disagreeable symptoms cease.

Miss Amelia Weymer, Appleton, Wis., writes: "Early last summer I contracted a cold which seemed to hang on to me and could not be shaken off. From the head it went to the throat, and then affected my lungs. My mother felt very anxious and as we had used Peruna in the family before, she advised me to try it. I was somehow very opposed but was persuaded to try Peruna. Using it one day convinced me that it was no ordinary medicine, within a week I was much better and in two weeks I was well, and I felt much stronger and in much better health generally. I was perfectly satisfied with the results from the use of Peruna."—Miss Amelia Weymer.

CATARRH CAUSES CONSUMPTION

Pe-ru-na Never Fails to Cure Catarrh Wherever Located.

THE medical profession has so thoroughly prejudiced the minds of the people against patent medicines that it is with great reluctance that anyone can be persuaded to try such a remedy at first.

In nearly every one of the thousands of remarkable cures that Peruna has made the patients had to be persuaded by friends very strongly before they could lay aside their prejudice against it.

A large multitude, of course, hold out against the persuasions of friends and die simply because they have allowed their minds to be poisoned against this very excellent remedy.

But fortunately there is another large multitude of people who are able to shake off their prejudice and try Peruna before it is too late. These people are rarely disappointed. They generally try other remedies at the beginning of their troubles. They allow a cold to develop into catarrh of the head. They allow catarrh of the head to gradually become catarrh of the throat. They still keep using the doctor's medicine, or some other ineffectual remedy. The catarrh stealthily spreads down the bronchial tubes and reaches the lungs. Everybody then becomes alarmed. Faith in the doctor begins to disappear. The patient reaches a state of mind in which he is willing to try almost anything. A bottle of Peruna is sent for.

The first week it produces a decided change for the better. A few weeks' continued treatment cures the patient. Then another happy man or woman is added to the long list of people who are praising Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

DEPUTATION WILL BE SENT

To Present Proposal of Council to Steel Company.

Committee of the Whole so Decided Last Night—Town may Secure the Industry.

The Committee of the Whole Council, as was announced yesterday, met last night to consider a proposition from an American syndicate to establish a steel works in Peterborough. At last night's meeting, which was attended by a majority of the Aldermen, and which was presided over by Alderman Morrison, in the absence of Mayor Roger, the Committee decided upon the inducements which it was proposed to offer the company to locate here, and appointed a deputation of the Council to visit the American city, in which the representative of this syndicate lives, and present to him the proposal made by the Council. The date of this visit has not yet been decided upon, the representative will have first to be written to, in order to ascertain upon what date such a visit will be convenient to him.

It is not decided yet that the industry will be secured for Peterborough, but the prospects look good. It is understood that Toronto is the other place being considered by the syndicate, and the advantages of the two places will be fully considered before a decision is reached.

If Peterborough is chosen it will mean a big thing for this town, as 700 men, nearly all skilled workers, will be employed.

A GOOD ESSAY ON LORD BYRON

Was Read Last Night at The Ladie's Literary Association.

St. Peter's T. A. S. Ladies' Society Held Interesting Meeting—A Good Programme Rendered.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T.A.S. was held last evening and was very largely attended. An excellent essay on "The Life and Poetical Works of Lord Byron," was read by Miss Kate McGrath. Miss McGrath introduced her subject by a well defined explanation of what poetry is, compared it with philosophy, contrasted the poet with the philosopher, and in fine, aroused considerable interest before arriving at the particular topic in her essay — Lord Byron. By a very careful treatment of her subject, the writer carried her audience gradually along through the varied and chequered career of the great poet. His early childhood, the unfortunate circumstance surrounding his youth, his keen, sensitive disposition and his violent temper; his power also of rising above misfortune and producing poetry which exemplified the better nature within; were all points beautifully illustrated in the paper. Attention was also given to the different works of the poet, special mention being made of the "Childe Harold." Miss McGrath has the faculty of using on the most beautiful passages in these poems with which she is dealing, and the quotation of these passages throughout her reading, made the subject of even deeper interest. The essay was in every respect an excellent and ably prepared one, and well worthy of the congratulations which the young lady received at the conclusion of her reading.

Rev. Father Galvin, who was also present, gave a short address in which he made some very interesting remarks on Byron and his works, especially on the different Cantos of the poem "Childe Harold."

Miss Carveth presided at the meeting and during the evening instrumental selections were contributed by Miss Josie Clancy and Misses Mabel and Eva Tangney. A vocal solo, "Star of the Sea," was sung by Miss Ethel Jayes and was heartily encored.

The next meeting will take place three weeks from last night, Dec. 2. An essay on "Brother Asarias" will be read by Miss Sue Kelly.

It is specially requested that all members of the Committee will attend a meeting next Friday evening, Nov. 18th, at eight o'clock, for the purpose of completing returns and discussing other matters of importance.

COURT QUEEN'S PLEASANT AT-HOME

Ladies of I. O. F. Gave Enjoyable Evening in Forester's Hall.

Last night a delightful evening was spent in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, when the ladies of Court Queen, I.O.F., gave an at home. About fifty couples were present, and the music, which was supplied by Wilson's orchestra, was of a superior order. Mr. H. Gainey acted as floor manager, in which capacity he showed efficiency. The ladies served dainty refreshments during the evening, which was a signal success.

CROWDED HOUSE AT MARKS BROS.

A Splendid Show Again Last Evening at Opera House.

Another crowded house greeted Marks Bros., last night. The play was excellent in every respect, and the house was taxed to its utmost capacity. To-night will be the last appearance of the company here this season. A good play, "In Convict Stripes," will be presented, and in addition a feature of much interest will be the amateur contest for local artists, about a dozen of whom have handed in their names.

MR. BOYD'S LOVE-MAKING A SUCCESS

Only One Lady answered the Coldwater Bachelor's "Ad" This Afternoon

But She Won His Heart and He Promises to Wed Her Shortly—The Strange Part of it all.

Mr. C. J. Boyd, the wife-seeker, met with success in his efforts this afternoon to secure a mate. It is difficult to state, however, just how long his joy will last and it falls upon the newspapers to give him further information as to his sweetheart who this afternoon promised to be his bride and to love him and love him hard. The courtship was a short one, but nevertheless, effective, and Mr. Boyd left his darling with the hope of seeing her again to-morrow and in the near future of having the nuptial knot tied—firmly and securely.

The readers of the Examiner will remember the advertisement which appeared in these columns yesterday and on Thursday to the effect that J. C. Boyd of Coldwater desired to meet ladies from 30 to 45 years of age who wanted a good home and a decent husband. They were to meet him at the C.P.R. station at two o'clock. Rich or poor were invited and Mr. Boyd expressed the hope that Peterborough ladies would appreciate a good thing when they saw it and make the best of the opportunity afforded them.

So promptly, or a little before two o'clock our Coldwater bachelor presented himself at the station. Several of the male porronage were there also to see who the lucky lady would be. Mr. Boyd entered the advertised place of meeting—the ladies' waiting room—and gazed about with a hopeful countenance. But there was 'nothin' doin'" much to Mr. Boyd's dismay and disappointment. But he still was hopeful and waited patiently. Several young maidens walked past the station, but none would stop and then, they were too young. Thirty-five years was the limit.

Mr. Boyd was feeling rather downcast and was evidently surprised at the slowness of the ladies of Peterborough and must have thought that newspaper advertising was not all that it was cracked up to be. He wandered across the road to the Oxford House and there to his joy and delight he was gently informed that a lady who did not desire to go to the station was ready to meet him in a room in the hotel and would hear his matrimonial suggestions.

Mr. Boyd was pleased beyond measure and began to think that the Peterborough ladies weren't so slow after all. He entered the room where was seated the one whom he hoped would some day be his wife. She was seated in a chair, was dressed in black and wore a dark veil.

Then the love-making began.

After beaming upon the youn lady and shaking hands with her, Mr. Boyd opened the conversation in the most natural manner by the question.

"What is your name?"

"Alice Dunn," replied the lady.

Mr. Boyd was then informed in answer to his questions that Alice's age was 35 years, that she was a Protestant, had never been married, was respectable in every way and would make him a good wife.

Mr. Boyd said he came from Coldwater, where he had a farm rented, the lease of which did not expire until next April. He also had 19 acres of land on which was a frame dwelling with stone foundation; there was a milk house and a good frame barn. He had $1,000 of his own and thought that he and Alice could live together in perfect happiness.

Alice's voice sounded rather hoarse but Mr. Boyd was told that his darling was suffering from a bad cold. Her hair was short and he inquired if she had been ill. He was told that she had just recovered from a serious attack of typhoid fever, but was now quite well again. He looked at her boots and said she had small feet. He asked that the veil be removed, but Alice, who thought perhaps he had oscillatory intent declined with true feminine backwardness. Still, even through the veil, Mr. Boyd thought she was very good looking and that she would do him alright. She looked healthy, even though she had had the fever. Fever was a bad thing, he thought, for he had had a daughter die of that disease. He did not say whether or not the child's mother was living.

Mr. Boyd was stopping with his brother James, whose residence was in South Monaghan, about four miles from Peterborough and close to the Midland Division of the G. T. R. He thought his brother would like very much to see Alice and in order to make things definite he asked to meet her to-morrow afternoon on the railway track between here and his brother's farm. He would meet her at Peterborough, if she so desired. Alice was perfectly agreeable and the bargain was made. The wedding would take place in a week or so.

Mr. Boyd then left his sweetheart whom he must have loved dearly and walked away from the hotel. He did not return to the station to inquire if there had been any in search of him while he was away, evidently being satisfied with Alice.

The amusing portion of the story was afterwards revealed. A reporter of the Examiner sought an interview with "Alice" who, after he had rid himself of much superfluous clothing of a feminine character appeared on the scene clad in male attire. Alice was George Smith, a resident of the Fifth Ward, and who is employed at the Matthews Company. The young man decided, when there were no applicants at the station, to create a little amusement over the affair and impersonated a lady as above stated. Mr. Boyd was apparently not in the least suspicious and it seems a shame to have his hopes, so fondly cherished, shattered. Mr. Smith hardly thinks he will appear at the railway track to-morrow, as he is a better looking lady in a hotel room with the window blinds down than in the open air.

Mr. Boyd was certainly "boy'd" this afternoon and it looks as though he will have to try another town before he gets his mate. Perhaps Lindsay would do. Peterborough ladies certainly don't appreciate a good thing.

SUCCESS OF MARK STREET LADIES.

Bazaar and Tea was Held Last Night.

An Enjoyable Event in Connection with Mark Street Methodist Church.

Last night the Ladies' Aid of Mark street Methodist church conducted a bazaar and tea in the Ashburnham town hall, which was filled, and the event was one which was, in every way entirely satisfactory to those under whose auspices it was given. The sale of work commenced in the afternoon, and the many useful and ornamental articles donated by the friends of the church sold rapidly, the winning personalities of the ladies in whose charge the different booths were, contributing materially, no doubt, to this satisfactory result. Those in charge of the stands were: Fancy goods, Mrs. J. H. Smith and Mrs. (Rev.) J. J. Lewis; Sundries, Mrs. Samuel Taylor and Miss Emma Smith; Candies, Mrs. R. Gibbs Miss Jennie Anderson, Miss Effie Fowler and Miss Florence Dorner.

Tea was served commencing at 5 o'clock, and the well-laden tables were surrounded a number of times by those who apparently thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed the tangible evidences of the culinary abilities of the ladies of Mark Street church. Tea was served continuously until nearly eight o'clock, and during the time of the serving Miss Rutherford and others gave a number of highly appreciated piano selections. The waitresses serving the two large tables were taken from the ranks of the members of the Ladies' Aid, which is a live organization in Mark Street Church, and they were assisted by a number of the younger ladies of the church.

The ladies, under whose auspices the affair was given, are to be warmly congratulated upon the signal success achieved by them, and this success was a two-fold one, both social and financial, in both of which particulars the aim sought after was reached, thanks to the untiring and concerted action of the members of the Ladies' Aid, and the ladies of the Church generally. Future events of this character in connection with this church will be looked forward to with considerable pleasure.

Those who participated in the musical programme rendered during the evening, were Mrs. Mowry, Mrs. Mowat, Miss Ida Rutherford, Miss Mabel Hooper, Mrs. E. D. Lewis, Mr J. C. Miller, and Messrs. Peters, Richards and Confield, and to these ladies and gentlemen the thanks of the ladies are extended.

Towards the close of the evening the goods that remained unsold were disposed off by auction, Mr. Thos. Weir acting as auctioneer, and his success in that vocation is evidenced by the fact that under his conduct of the sale, good prices were realized for the articles. About the sum of $180 was realized from the sale and tea, which result was highly satisfactory. The ladies gratefully acknowledge the kindness of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, for decorations, and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt for the loan of a piano.

RAILWAY COY'S. RESPONSIBILITY.

A Citizen Raises Interesting Question as to Company's Liability.

Whohas Right of Way of the Streets? —Opinion of Police Magistrate.

A citizen has called the attention of the Examiner to the frequency with which, particularly lately, accidents have occurred. On one day this week two accidents having been reported, one by the car approaching the vehicle from the rear, and the other occurring as the wagon was crossing the track. The point upon which this gentleman wishes information is this: whether there is any redress for the person who thus meet with accidents. If those who drive on our streets are supposed to make way for the street cars, and the latter have the right of way, then it should be known, or if a car is supposed to stop until a rig moves out of the way, before proceeding, then it should be known. This gentleman points out that in Toronto, Ottawa and other large cities, cars wait patiently until a rig on the track moves off, and does not see why the same rule should not apply to Peterborough; at any rate he wants to know just where he is at, because he sometimes drives himself, and he would like to know just what rights he has, and has not, on the streets.

Mr. D. W. Dumble was asked this morning for his opinion on the point raised in the above paragraph, and he stated that the street railway had no superior rights to the streets, and that, while it was expected that drivers would exercise reasonable care in driving, and would endeavour as much as possible to keep out of the way of the moving cars, still, on the other hand, the motormen had no rights above those of ordinary citizens, and in his opinion the company would be liable for accidents which occur where the employees of the company do not exercise proper care and regard for those who may be on the streets, either walking or driving. They are supposed to sound a gong when approaching crossings, and when a failure to do this results in an accident, the company should be held responsible.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY.

Mr. James McCabe Died Last Night After Long Illness.

Among the old residents of Peterborough who have passed away during the past year, and there have been a great many, one of the oldest and most highly respected was the late James McCabe, whose death occurred yesterday, after a lingering illness of about two years, during which time he suffered from kidney trouble and rheumatism. The late Mr. McCabe has been an almost constant resident of Peterborough county, having settled in 1843 in the village of Ashburnham, where he has since lived.

The deceased was born in Springtown, County Monaghan, Ireland, on May 18th, 1829, so that he was 75 years old at the time of his death. In 1831, when he was two years of age, the family left Springtown for Montreal, Canada, in the year of the great cholera plague. They lived in Montreal for a year and later removed to the township of Clarke, Durham County, a few miles from Port Hope, near the village of Newtonville, and lived there until 1843, when the deceased removed to Ashburnham, where he has since resided, a respected and beloved citizen, with the exception of a short residence in Peterborough and also Lindsay. One brother, Samuel, and one sister, Margaret, survive him, both living in Peterborough. The members of the family left are, three sons and three daughters, the latter being Margaret, Annie and Nellie, and the sons, Daniel and John, of town, and James, of Gamebridge, Ont.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from the family residence, Ashburnham, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and to the Roman Catholic Cemetery, for interment.

STOVE TALK NO. 6.

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

YOUNG MUSICIANS GIVE RECITAL

Pupils of Prof. Davies Heard in Delightful Programme Last Evening.

Assisted by Miss Helen Davies, Soprano —Very Creditable Showing.

Several of Peterborough's rising young musicians were heard in recital last evening when it was demonstrated beyond a doubt that there is in town some splendid talent which when developed fully will be heard of prominently in the musical world. The pupils of Professor Davies, assisted by Miss Helen Davies gave a delightful recital in the Y. M.C.A. Assembly Hall which was well filled with an audience that was in hearty sympathy with the young artists and which appreciated their efforts to the fullest degree. The recital was in every way a great success and not only the pupils but their teacher, Prof. Davies, have every reason to feel greatly gratified with the issue.

The showing of the pupils was indeed a great credit to themselves and to their instructor. A confidence was displayed by the players who showed but little signs of that nervousness so characteristic to many and so detrimental to the success of young pianists. All showed signs of careful training and thoughtful study, displaying a remarkable musicianly ability and power of interpretation.

Six piano and one vocal pupil were heard last evening. The piano selections were for the most part quite difficult, but the intricate passages were played with a remarkable precision and steadiness of tone, while the expression and general effect was good. It would be unfair to particularize in making reference to the different young artists as all did exceptionally well and are deserving of every laudation. The playing of Miss Katheryn Burnett, who was by many years the youngest performer last evening, was really remarkable and a brilliant future is before her. Under the very capable instruction of Prof. Davies all these young ladies will undoubtedly become musicians of the first rank by a consistent effort which will eventually result in a crowning success.

Miss Eleanor Courtney was the only vocal pupil heard last evening. She has an agreeable soprano voice and sings with good effect. Her second number was an especially musical one and was splendidly rendered.

Miss Helen Davies as usual charmed her hearers with the beautiful qualities of her voice and the depth of feeling, which marked her solos. Her singing was enthusiastically received.

The programme opened with a piano solo, Impromptu in E flat (Schubert), by Miss Gladys Crane. This number was very effectively played, the young lady displaying a marked ability to properly interpret the composer's motive. Miss Davies' first number was Allitsen's "The Lord is my Light," and was grandly vocalized. Miss Kate Graham gave a most artistic rendition of Bethoven's Rondo (Sonata "pathetique") which was executed with accuracy and careful expression. The next number was Presto Agitato op. 53, No. 3 (Mendelssohn) by Miss Hunter, and was brilliantly rendered, the player exhibiting a fine technique, and a keen interpretative ability. Miss Eleanor Courtney sang "In Old Madrid," by Trotero, in a very acceptable manner. Miss Katheryn Burnett's number, Hachmann's Gigue Bretonne, was one of the most enjoyable of the evening. This little girl's playing was marked by accuracy of fingering, well executed runs, and steady tone, and was enthusiastically received. Miss Jessie Anderson of Hastings, played Beethoven's Sonata op. 27, No. 2, "Moonlight.") This is a most difficult number, introducing the Adagio Sostenuto, Allegretto and Presto Agitato movements, and was brilliantly played. A delicacy of touch, evenness of tempo, correct use of the pedal and effective interpretative ability were shown by the player, who scored a great success in both her numbers.

In the second part, Miss Hunter played Beethoven's Allegro (Sonata op. 14, No. 1.) Miss Courtney sang Lane's "Roses of June," and Miss Burnett's selection was a very pretty valse, "Arabesque," by Lock. Miss Anderson played Grieg's Sonata, op. 7, for her second number. Miss Ida Mulholland, a rising young pianiste, played Chopin's Valse Brilliante op. 18; the intricate passages were played with a firmness of tone, the movement was well sustained, and the general effect was very pleasing in this number, reflecting much credit upon the ability of the player. Miss Davies sang a double number, (a) "Your lips have said you love me," by Hawley; and (b) "Beloved Sleep," by Slater. The closing number was a piano solo "Shepherds all, and Maidens Fair," (Nevin) by Miss Crane.

Prof. Davies performed the duties of accompanist in a most pleasing manner.

A Heintzman piano, of excellent tone, was used for the occasion.

The proceeds were devoted to the furnishing fund of the Y.W.C.A.

BUY YOUR GOODS FROM HOME DEALERS

Book Agents and Other Outside Solicitors Should not Get Preference.

The sentiment expressed by the words, "Made in Canada" is one which might be applied to local conditions in certain things, and one of these is the purchasing of goods from home merchants as much as possible, and patronizing home industry. A case in point may be cited. It is said that there are at present eight or ten book agents doing business in Peterborough, and all of them seem to be doing a fairly good business too. The Examiner inquired from a local bookseller as to the comparison between the prices charged by these agents and those by the local dealers, and he stated that the stores in town could supply the same books, or ones equally as good, at prices considerably less than those charged by these agents. It is distinctly unfair to the local merchants who spend their money here, and who help to build up the town for the citizens to send away for goods, no better than those sold in town, and in most cases higher in price.

FOR A LIFE IS A LIFE

Murder Equally to Kill a Child Just Born or Grown Man.

FATHER GUILTY--MOTHER NOT

A Verdict of Murder Against Alexander Martin For Killing His Child—Mrs. Martin Held Innocent of the Death of Her Baby—A Reserve Case Granted By Chief Justice Falconbridge.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Yesterday the Martins were tried on the charge of murdering their seven-months-old child. The verdict returned by the jury after considering the evidence for two hours was:

Alexander Martin—Guilty.
Ethel Martin—Not guilty.

Chief Justice Falconbridge immediately discharged Mrs. Martin from custody. On behalf of Martin, his counsel, Mr. Hassard, asked for a reserve case to the Court of Appeal for two reasons: whether the confession of Mrs. Martin should have been introduced, and whether the counsel for the defence should not have been permitted to address the jury after the Crown prosecutor.

His Lordship said: "I think I shall reserve the case, because there is a judgment of the court in favor of Mr. Hassard's proposition about the right of reply. Otherwise, on the first ground, I shall feel very little doubt or difficulty, but as there is a reported judgment in that direction, I shall reserve the case and direct the prisoner to be remanded for sentence until the judgment of the Court of Appeal has been pronounced."

Subsequently His Lordship sent for counsel for the defence. Mr. Hassard had left the building, but Mr. Robinett was found. His Lordship said he was positive he was right in allowing the confession of Mrs. Martin to be introduced, and the defence could go to the higher court on the right to reply only.

The Judges Charge.

The charge of Chief Justice Falconbridge to the jury was thorough, intense and sympathetic. He reviewed the evidence from start to finish, to the minutest detail. He pointed out that the evidence was mostly circumstantial. There were few murder convictions except on circumstantial evidence.

"If you conclude," said the Chief Justice, "that the child came to its death at the hands of the man, there are no circumstances which will justify your reduction from murder to one of manslaughter. With regard to the woman, you may come to a different decision. Here you have three courses open before you. If she did not aid or countenance the deed, she cannot be held guilty even though she was present and afterwards did not hand her husband over to justice. If she was in any way a party to the crime, she is guilty of murder. If she was under the influence of her husband, you may word your verdict manslaughter.

A Life Is a Life.

"I was sorry," said His Lordship, "to hear eminent counsel, Mr. Hassard, twice speak of the life of an infant as being hardly of great importance to society. I need hardly say to you that such a doctrine is to be utterly repudiated. There is no foundation in law or in morals for such an idea. The child who has just breathed is entitled under the law to have its life protected and it is murder equally to kill a child just born or a grown man."

After Mrs. Martin had been released from custody, a couple of charitable ladies came to see that she would have some place to go.

The further argument regarding Martin will take place at once.

Barrie's Murder Trial.

Barrie, Nov. 12.—At the Assizes yesterday Mrs. Saunders and her sister, Phoebe Davis of Orillia, were being tried for the murder of Mrs. Saunder's infant. The evidence given yesterday showed the birth of the child and its death half an hour later, also that on its head were found marks as if made by a blow from some sharp instrument. On the morning after its birth the body of the child was buried by its putative father. The testimony of the doctors who performed the post-mortem will be given to-day and it is expected the case will be given to the jury before noon.

Hogue's Sentence Commuted.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—Magloire Hogue, who was sentenced to be hanged this month for the murder of his wife in Montreal, will not ascend the gallows. The Cabinet had his case before them yesterday afternoon, and decided to commute the sentence to imprisonment for life. Hogue was drunk when he committed the crime, and, moreover, there was an entire absence of premeditation.

Not From His Gun.

Chatham, Nov. 12.—An inquest was Thursday held in Wallaceburg on the remains of John Pigeon, who was found lifeless on October 25 with gunshot wound in his chest, at Little Bear Creek. The jury gave a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound. "We don't know where the shot came from." Pigeon was out duck-shooting at the time the fatality occurred with a companion and when his body was discovered it was noticed his gun was not discharged.

HAMILTON SANDBAG THUG.

Walter B. Champ, Treasurer of the Bridge Works, Knocked Senseless.

Hamilton, Nov. 12.—An attempted hold-up of unusual daring and boldness took place last evening just at dusk. As Walter B. Champ, treasurer of the Hamilton Bridge Works, stepped out of the superintendent's office on Caroline street, a thug pounced upon him from behind and dealt him a heavy blow on the head. Mr. Champ shouted for help and the thug struck him again, knocking him senseless to the ground. The men in office heard Mr. Champ's cry for help, and they ran out, only to see a man going through Mr. Champ's pockets. Before they could reach him, Mr. Champ's assailant had taken to his heels, and they could not get a good look at him. Mr. Champ was soon brought around, and his injuries are not regarded as being at all serious. The outrage was evidently the work of some one who knew how things were conducted about the company's office. Mr. Champ had gone into the superintendent's office a short time before with over $1,000 in his pockets, but he had paid it all out in wages to the men before he left the office. The would-be thief was amazingly bold, for he made the attack right outside the works, where several hundred men are employed.

MIDNIGHT MECHANICS.

Break Into Private Banks At Florence and At Marmora.

Chatham, Nov. 12.—Burglars yesterday morning broke into the private bank of Isaac Unsworth of the Village of Florence, eighteen miles north of this place, and blew up the large safe and rifled the safe and offices for loot. They destroyed a number of valuable papers belonging to Mr. Unsworth, but only succeeded in carrying away a small sum of money. The safe is a total wreck. No clue to the robbers' identity has yet been discovered.

Confessed to Burglaries.

Brockville, Nov. 12.—In the police court yesterday Martin Lappan, who on his arrest confessed to being the perpetrator of three local burglaries, was sentenced to 15 months in the Central Prison at Toronto. Lappan acknowledged being a party to three other burglaries, but the charges were not pressed.

Committed For Trial.

Schomberg, Nov. 12.—Thomas Godson, Hamilton Bateman and Susannah Bateman appeared before C. Davis, J.P., yesterday, each one charged with arson. They pleaded not guilty, waived examination, and were sent for trial. All were admitted to bail in $1,000 each and two sureties of $1,000 each.

Wrote Threatening Letters.

Barrie, Nov. 12.—The fall assizes opened here yesterday, Chancellor Boyd presiding and R. D. Gunn, K. C., of Orillia, acting as Crown Prosecutor. Frank Pugh of Orillia Township, was found guilty of writing threatening letters to Mrs. Reid of that township.

Chinamen Were Robbed.

Windsor, Nov. 12.—Two Chinamen arranged with two Windsor men to be rowed over to the Detroit side of the river at night, but the latter, instead of taking the men across made a circuit of the river and returned to the Canadian shore farther down here. They assaulted the Chinamen and after beating them unmercifully robbed them of about $100 each.

Lifer Takes His Life.

Kingston, Nov. 12.—Gustav Mittlestadt, in prison for life for killing an Eganville blacksmith, hung himself in the insane ward yesterday by tying a sheet to the bars in his door. He was an old man.

Murder and Arson.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 12.—It is now known that Julius Weber, his wife, the 19-year-old daughter, Bertha, and their son, Paul, aged 14 years, were murdered Thursday night by an unknown assassin, who set fire to the home in an endeavor to cover his crime. Before the fire had made any great headway, the bodies of the woman and her two children were rescued from the burning house. An examination of the bodies showed that Mrs. Weber and the children had been shot before the fire had been started. On the boy's head were several deep cuts, and he also had been shot. Julius Weber, the father, too, had been shot.

John F. Scholes Shot.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—A painful accident befel John F. Scholes, the father of two world's champions, while out rabbit shooting at Collingwood yesterday. Mr. Scholes was visiting his son Jack, who is proprietor of the Globe Hotel there. The two were out shooting in the country. Mr. Scholes was about 50 yards in advance of his son, who fired. A grain of lead was deflected by a tree and it struck Mr. Scholes in the ball of the eye. The injury, while exceedingly painful, is declared not to necessarily indicate serious results.

A MOTHER'S PRECAUTION.

There is no telling when a medicine may be needed in homes where there are young children, and the failure to have a reliable medicine at hand may mean much suffering and, perhaps, the loss of a priceless life. Every mother should always keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. This medicine acts promptly and speedily, cures such ills as stomach and bowel trouble, teething troubles, simple fevers, colds, worms and other little ills. And the mother has the guarantee that the Tablets contain no opiate or harmful drug. One wise mother, Mrs. George Hardy, Fourchu, N.S., says, "I have used Baby's Own Tablets, and I find them a blessing to children. I am not satisfied without a box in the house at all times." If your dealer does not keep these tablets in stock, send 25 cents to the Dr. Williams' Co., Brockville, Ont., and you will get a box by mail postpaid.

Bell Phone Co. Beats Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—The Privy Council has dismissed the appeal of the city against the Bell Telephone Company, in which it was sought to restrain the company from entering upon or tearing up the streets of the city for the purpose of erecting poles or stringing wires. The decision practically gives to the company power to do as it pleases in the city, without being under the necessity of obtaining a franchise or securing any authority from the civic authorities.

No G.T.P. Terminus Yet.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 12.—In reply to a query C. M. Hays said yesterday afternoon: Cannot state definitely as to Pacific terminus, as it has not yet been decided, awaiting important surveys and reports of engineers.

Pullman Conductor Kills Self.

Montreal, Nov. 12.—J. H. Doherty, a Canadian Pacific parlor car conductor, committed suicide last evening by shooting himself near the Academy of Music.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Gergia, Vt. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and become acquainted with its remarkable qualities and you will never wish to be without it. For sale by all druggists.

Licking the Pencil.

One of the foremost lawyers in New York city licks the point of his pencil whenever about to write with it. The other day it was indelible, and his tongue was a sight to behold. His friends were alarmed, thinking he had met with an accident. "My boy does it," he said. "I did it when I was a boy, and my father and grandfather did it. And nearly every man of any consequence of my acquaintance does it and did it. Licking the point of the pencil is one of the choicest of human weaknesses."

Is It False?

"When a woman comes down to breakfast late," remarked the observer of events and things, "and her husband says, 'You've forgotten something,' why is it she invariably puts her hands up to her hair?"

Monkey Brand Soap cleans kitchen utensils, steel, iron and tinware, knives and forks, and all kinds of cutlery.

The Bad Cold of To-day May Be Pneumonia To-morrow.

The Sore Throat or Tickling Cough that, to the careless, seems but a temporary and trivial annoyance, may develop into Bronchitis.

Every hour delayed in curing a cold is dangerous.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

contains all the lung-healing virtues of the pine tree, and is a sure cure for Coughs, Colds, and all throat and lung troubles. Miss Bertha E. Craig, Almont, Ont., says:—"Last fall, for over two months, I had a very bad cold, and although I tried several remedies, it seemed as if I was getting worse instead of better. While looking over the Burdock Blood Bitters Almanac, I read about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and decided to give it a trial. When I had used about half a bottle, I found it was doing me good, so kept on until I had taken two bottles. It is the best cure for a cold I ever heard of."

Price 25 cents per Bottle.

HUMOR

ALMOST A SUCCESS.

The Farmer, the Farmer's Boy and the Scheme to Dig Potatoes.

"It was a grand idea," said Farmer Corntossel, "and it came mighty near workin' too. Just a little bit of keerlessness sp'iled the whole thing."

"Did Josiar help you dig the potatoes?" inquired his wife.

"No, but he purty near did. I thought we'd make it interestin' fur the boy and git a good deal of sport out of it. I went to some expense, too, havin' a lot of hoes cut different shapes and sizes, so's he could work in a variety of strokes and not tire the same muscles too much. You know how he has always been talkin' golf ever sence he's been home. Well, I suppose I had discovered a scheme by which I could show him a good time and likewise get him to help out on the farm. 'Siar,' I says, 'things is kind of dull fur you around here, and I've been tryin' to think up some diversion for you. Of course the main thing about golf is the exercise, ain't it?' 'Of course it is,' said he. 'Well,' says I, 'here's all that lot of different styles of hoe. There's long handles and short handles and wide blades and narrer ones. I've modeled 'em after your golf clubs as near as I could. This here's a putter, and here's a clerk and a mashie and a niblick, and so on. We'll go over in the side lot, and when either of us comes to a potato hill we'll go at it like it was a tee and give it a baff that'll do our systems good.'"

"How was you to keep score?" inquired Mrs. Corntossel.

"That's what he wanted to know, and I was tickled most to death to see him so interested. I explained to him that one potato would count one point, and whenever you got more than ten out of a hill that counted fifty points, and the first man who got 1,000 points won the game, only he was in politeness bound to turn in and give the other feller his revenge. I wanted to make it seem sociable and reg'lar like."

"Didn't he take kindly to it?"

"He did at first, but the arrangement fell through like so many other dreams that I have fondly cherished. He went so far as to get his suit on so's to play. But we had to give it up. Help is so scarce around here just now that we couldn't hire any of the neighbor boys to go along and be his caddie."

A Badly Written Telegram.

"Why!" exclaimed Brown, cordially shaking hands with the guest who had unexpectedly arrived two days ahead of time. "I'm glad to see you, Shiply; but, to tell the truth, I wasn't looking for you quite so soon."

"Didn't you get my telegram?" queried the guest.

"Why, yes," returned Brown, "but the writing was so villainous I could hardly make it out. I suppose I read Thursday for Tuesday."

"Papa!" gasped Brown's shocked young daughter, when the guest had gone to his room. "How perfectly horrid of you to tell Mr. Shiply that his handwriting was bad! I was so sorry for the poor man that I didn't know what to do!"

Too Many Questions.

The fallacy of asking too many questions is generally followed by much embarrassment.

I was stopping at a large hotel, and one day as I came out and took my hat from the hands of the hat keeper I said to him:

"How do you know that is my hat?"

"I don't know it, suh," said the boy.

"Then why do you give it to me?" I insisted.

"Because," replied the boy, "you gave it to me!"

His Style.

"He complains that he's got so much work to do he doesn't know which way to turn."

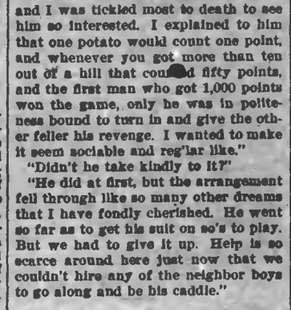
"I know him well enough to predict that he'll turn his back on most of it."

Not a Case of Abstract Value.

"What is coal worth now?"

"That has nothing to do with the case," answered the dealer frigidly. "The question is what you are going to be obliged to pay for it."

Not Eloquent.



"Is Mr. Smith still waiting to see me?"

"Yes, Miss Ethel. He's been waiting nearly an hour."

"That's good. He's had plenty of time to think of something to say."

The Mean Thing.

Nell—Oh, my, I don't like the shape of my new fall gown at all. I wish I knew how to improve it.

Belle—Why not let some other girl wear it, dear?

An Economical Trait.

"No, Frederick," she said, "I do not think I ought to sit on your knees."

"But, ducky," he urges, "it is perfectly proper for you to do so, now that we are engaged."

"Lovey," she murmurs, "I know it is proper, but your trousers have just been creased, and if I sit on your knees it will press out the creases and compel you to go to the expense of having the trousers pressed again. I think we should always think of how we can save money and thus lay the foundation for a future fortune."

Taking her lily white hand in his, he murmurs—

What would a man murmur under the circumstances?

Lacked Insight.

On a plantation down south the owner came out one morning and, speaking to an old negro at work in the yard, said:

"Mose, where is the hoe?"

"Hit's wid de rake," replied Mose, removing his hat.

"Well, where is the rake?"

"Why, massa," returned Mose, with some surprise, "hit's wid de hoe."

"Where are they both, then?" asked the owner, with rapidly rising anger.

"Lor', massa, dey's both together. Hit 'peers to me dat you is mighty unreasonable dis mornin'."

ANECDOTES OF ACTORS.

A Collection of Rich Stories of the Footlight Favorites Made by Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper.

The following "happy sarcasm" was given by Redmond Barry on John Crompton. He said once to Corry, who was praising Crompton's performance of some particular character a night or two before:

"Yes, he played that part pretty well; he hadn't time to study it!"

Not Sunlight.

The late William Terriss, when playing in "Harbor Lights," had to say, "And straight before us like two stars of hope we see the harbor lights."

Instead of that, however, he once surprised his audience by saying, "And straight before us like two bars of soap we see the harbor lights."

David the Great.

David Garrick, the great actor, was born at Hereford in 1717, and made his first stage appearance at Ipswich in 1741 under an assumed name. In October the same year he made his London debut at Goodman's Fields, his Richard III. taking the town by storm. Drury Lane and Covent Garden theatres became deserted, and the jealous managers had the East End playhouse closed by the authorities, which resulted in Garrick settling at Drury Lane.

Pope, the famous author, was one of those who went to see Garrick's Richard III. His verdict to Lord Orrery was: "I am afraid that young man will be spoiled, for he will never have a rival."

Author's Friend.

Mr. Henry Abbey, who died in 1897, had once the temporary management of the Lyceum Theatre. He was leaning back in an armchair, with great dignity, when an actor was announced. The new arrival presented a letter of introduction, and having read it, Mr. Abbey coldly looked him up and down. The acter was a slight man in appearance, and by no means tall.

"Ah!" said Mr. Abbey, "you are no good for the stage, I fear. We want men six feet high nowadays."

"I see," replied the actor, "you are buying legs. I am selling brains. Good day!"

However, before the end of the month the actor was engaged at the instance of the author, whose word with regard to the casting of his plays was even greater than that of the manager himself.

Manager's Gift.

A young actor having played a part tolerably well, Elliston one evening called him into his room and said:

"Young man, you have not only pleased the public, but you have pleased me; and as a slight token of my regard and good wishes I beg your acceptance of a small piece of plate."

The present was a silver toothpick.

Royal Inquiry.

When the late Mr. D'Oyly Carte took "The Gondoliers" down to Windsor Castle for the amusement of Queen Victoria, Her Majesty noticed that certain additions were made to the text by some of the artistes, and Mr. Carte was asked to explain the meaning of these interpolations.

"Those, Your Majesty," said Mr. Carte, "are what we call 'gags.'"

"Gags," returned the Queen. "I thought gags were things that were put by authority into people's mouths?"

"These gags, Your Majesty," answered the manager, bowing low, "are things people put into their own mouths without authority!"

The Queen smiled benignly, and seemed perfectly satisfied with the ready reply.

Reward of Zeal.

A drama had been having a successful run, when one morning a "super" presented himself to the manager with the following complaint:

"Sir," he said, "I have been playing my part now for a hundred consecutive nights with the utmost zeal and care. Can't you manage to give me a rise?"

"What part do you play?" asked the manager.

"I am in the third act, sir. I have to stake £20 in the gambling scene."

"Your claim is very fair," returned the manager. "From to-morrow you shall stake £40."

The Juniors.

Passing the Garrick Theatre, in London, some few years ago, two old actors stopped to look at the bills announcing the revival of Robertson's popular comedy, "School."

One of them commenced to read aloud the cast of the characters, and had got so far as "Mr. H. Irving, jun.," and "Mr. Hare, jun.," when the other actor interposed, with a chuckle over his own wit, and said:

"Well, old boy, I fancy this play ought to be re-christened 'The Infant School.'"

It was certainly curious that eight of the names in the cast should be "hereditary."

Lost to Drapery.

When Barry Sullivan was a young man he was employed as an assistant in an Irish drapery establishment. He was the leading spirit in all amateur dramatic performances, and spent his spare moments in declaiming his favorite Hamlet.

One day it so happened that the manager of the warehouse was absent, and Barry, finding that he had a willing audience in his fellow assistants, took down a lady's shawl, and spreading it over his shoulders to represent the "inky cloak," commenced the soliloquy of the Prince of Denmark. He had not proceeded far when the gruff voice of the manager stopped him with:

"Sullivan! It's on the stage you should be."

The young man, turning round, and meeting the frown of his superior, divested himself of his mantle, and replied, quietly:

"I think you're about right, sir. Sure, 'tis on the stage I should be, so I'll settle my account now!"

Walking into the office he obtained payment of the wages due to him, left the establishment, and soon commenced his fortunate career on the stage.

HOW HEALTH IS GAINED

The story of a great deal of the unhappiness of women is a story of lost health. Women wonder how it is that little by little the form loses plumpness, the cheeks grow hollow and sallow, and they feel tired and worn-out all the time. In a large proportion of cases when women are weak, run-down and falling off in flesh and looks, the root of the trouble can be traced to womanly diseases which undermine the general health. The proof of this is that women who have been cured of painful womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have recovered their general health, gained in flesh and in appearance.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which sap the general health. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I suffered for three years with ovarian trouble," writes Mrs. Anna Quinn (Treasurer Women's Athletic Club), of 835 Sycamore St., Milwaukee, Wis. "The treatment I took did not do me a particle of good, until a good neighbor who had been using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advised me to give it a trial. The next day took my first dose, and it was my first step toward recovery. In nine weeks I was a different woman; my flesh which had been flabby became firm, complexion clear and my eyes bright. It was simply an indication of the great change within from pain and suffering to health and happiness."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

ONE BOX OF DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED DROPSY.

Dropsy is not a disease in itself, as many people believe, but is an evidence of very severe kidney trouble. Dropsy is caused by watery particles oozing through the walls of the arteries when they are distended by unusual pressure, which can only be caused by obstructions in the kidneys. The symptoms of Dropsy are puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, urine changed in character and appearance, smothering feeling from exertion or excitement. The only rational method of treating this disease is to reach the kidneys and restore them to a healthy condition.

The most successful remedy for this purpose is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smithville, N.S., says of them:—"I caught a cold, which settled in my kidneys, and turned to dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet became bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and found by their use that I was cured in a very short time. I have never had any trouble with it since.

Price 50 cents. per box, or 3 for $1.25.

THE MELANCHOLY DAYS.

Now the year is getting older,
And the nights are getting colder,
And pretty soon the ice and snow will come, come, come,
And you'll need a furnace fire,
Though the price of coal is higher,
And the thought of paying for it makes you glum, glum, glum.

For your grate you'll need some cannels,
And some heavy winter flannels
You will have to buy to keep you nice and warm, warm, warm,
And your wife and charming daughter
Each will say she thinks she'd oughter
Have a sealskin to incase her lovely form, form, form.

Every season—ain't it funny?—
Has its new demands for money,
And the winter's no exception to the rest, rest, rest,
So without equivocation
Hand out that accumulation
In the right hand lower pocket of your vest, vest, vest.

His First.

Old Lady—Gracious, my boy! You don't mean to tell me you enjoy that awful cigar?

Kid (faintly)—Can't tell you yet, ma'am. I've only been smokin' it three days.

He Couldn't Cure 'Em.

The man sitting beside the minister was somewhat showily dressed, but quiet enough in manner. They had struck up an acquaintance and were chatting affably on various subjects. Perhaps it was because they were the only two men in the car who were not reading newspapers. The minister noticed this and noticed also that it was the sporting news which chiefly interested his fellow passengers.

"It is deplorable," he said, "that horse racing has such a fascination for all classes of people. One would think that sad experience would cure most of them of their infatuation, but apparently it does not. I fear this form of gambling is on the increase."

"I think it is," said the other man, "and I don't see how it is going to be stopped. I know I've done all I could to cure people of the betting habit."

"Indeed!" said the minister eagerly. "May I ask how?"

"By winning as much of their money as I could. I'm a bookmaker."

Explained.

THE LATE LADY DILKE.

Talented Woman Who Stood True to Her Husband in Trouble.

Emilia Frances, Lady Dilke, who died in October, 1904, was the second wife of Sir Charles Dilke, whom she married in 1885, under circumstances involving the greatest courage on her part. She was a daughter of Colonel Strong, an officer of the East Indian army before the Sepoy insurrection. Her first husband was the Rev. Mark Pattison (who died on July 30, 1884), rector of Lincoln College, Oxford, a man of letters and a recluse who was generally accepted as the original from whom George Eliot drew her character of that type of "Middlemarch." Lady Dilke was a talented woman, with literary and artistic tastes early developed in tuition from the artist Mulready.

In 1879 she published a work illustrated by herself, on "The Renaissance of Art in France," and in 1884 published in French a monograph on Claude. For some time she edited the art section of the Academy and she was a constant contributor to magazines. In 1886 a volume of stories appeared entitled. "The Shrine of Death," of a sombre character in consonance with the title. The book was written at the time when the Crawford-Dilke scandal placed all concerned in the fullest glare of public notoriety.

Early in 1885 the name of Sir Charles Dilke, then one of the chief Liberal ministers under Mr. Gladstone, was associated with the divorce suit instituted by Mr. Crawford, a fellow member of Parliament and a connection by marriage, against his wife on her own confession. While this suit was pending Mrs. Pattison, who was in India when the charges became a matter of common knowledge, declared her intention of carrying out her engagement of marriage to Sir Charles Dilke. The marriage was celebrated Oct. 3, 1885, at St. Luke's, Chelsea.

Many members of Parliament and prominent people, both politically and socially, were present, and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, who had been the closest political ally of Sir Charles Dilke, acted as groomsman. It was a time of great political excitement, but Sir Charles Dilke's career was blighted by the sensational denouncement of the divorce proceedings. After the first trial the case was re-opened on the intervention of the queen's proctor, but the first verdict was upheld and Sir Charles Dilke had to retire from public life. One of the tragic incidents of the trial was the appearance in court of Lady Dilke as a witness, giving evidence of an "alibi" in stanch support of her husband.

What Irish Peers Can't Do.

Irish peers, although they can sit in the House of Commons, cannot take part in any Parliamentary election unless they happen to be already members of the Lower House of the National Legislature. The reason for this apparent anomaly is that until an Irish peer is duly elected as a member of the House of Commons, he cannot be considered as entitled to the franchise of a commoner, but remains subject to all the restrictions and limitations imposed upon peers of the realm.

Attention has been drawn to the matter by the refusal of the revising officer of the London boro of Marylebone to permit the name of old Lord Radstock to figure on the list of Parliamentary voters. Lord Radstock is a peculiar man, whose principal title to fame has been acquired as a lay preacher, and who has been a source of no end of trouble to British diplomatic and consular representatives abroad by the numerous scarpes in which he has become involved with the provincial authorities of ultra-Catholic countries, and in Russia, by his self-imposed evangelizing, Bible distributing and public prayer meeting crusades. Especially in Spain and in Russia has he had trouble, as the police at St. Petersburg could not conceive that a wealthy British peer should devote himself to the organization of public prayer meetings, and were convinced that he had in view some ulterior and mysterious political object. Lord Radstock is a member of the historic House of Waldegrave, his barony having been conferred for naval services at the close of the eighteenth century

Had Seen Much War Service.

Rear-Admiral Sir Richard Poore, Bart., who succeeds Rear-Admiral W. Des V. Hamilton with the Mediterranean fleet, has seen a good deal of war service—first in the Naval Brigade landed to deal with the Malays in 1875-6, then as lieutenant of the Invincible in the bombardment of Alexandria, afterwards serving with the armored train with Sir John Fisher, and in the Nile expedition for the relief of Gen. Gordon. On the last occasion he commanded the steamer Nossif Rheir while passing the cataracts between Wady Halfa and Dongola, subsequently crossing the desert with the second division of the Naval Brigade. Sir Richard Poore was promoted to the rank of captain out of the royal yacht, and is an officer of the Legion of Honor. He is a cousin of Major Poore, who married the Duke of Hamilton's sister, and of the Duchess of Hamilton, who is Major Poore's sister.

Lord Selborne.

William Waldegrave Palmer, Earl of Selborne, says M. A. P., has been described as "so zealous and industrious that he has been known to spend a bank holiday in the empty Admiralty." What he has done as politician, First Lord of the Admiralty, and in other great offices, everybody knows. His private tastes and hobbies are thoroughly English and ordinary. He has a beautiful house in Mount street. He hunts, plays tennis, and is a devoted angler, being very deadly, they say, with the "dry fly." Lord Selborne was a footballer in his schooldays at Winchester, and played cricket for his college eleven at Oxford.

Degree For Morley.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—The degree of LL.D. was yesterday afternoon conferred upon Hon. John Morley by McGill University.

In the Navy 46 Years.

Rear-Admiral H. T. Grenfell, C. M. G., who has been appointed to succeed Rear-Admiral R. N. Constance with the Mediterranean fleet, has been in the navy for 46 years. As commander of the Cockatrice he did good work during the Egyptian war of 1882, and he gained the C.M.G. for his services in Crete five years ago. The Telegraph recalls an incident of the time when Grenfell was serving as captain of the battleship Benbow. The ship's boys were ordered to bathe in Plymouth Sound. One of them got into difficulties, and Captain Grenfell, as he then was, and Commander Wells, his chief executive officer, afterwards head of the London fire brigade, and now chief agent of the Conservative party, immediately jumped in to the rescue.

Swimming for Soldiers.

Many valuable lives would certainly be saved annually if swimming formed a portion of the national curriculum for soldiers. During the bathing season there were several fatal accidents to soldiers whose lives would have been saved could they have swum a few yards. During the South African war there was a case of a retreating detachment which could not fetch a boat from the other side on an unfordable stream, although no enemy but the water offered opposition. A couple of fair swimmers could have performed the service with ease, and, the river being narrow, the little command would have been ferried over before the pursuing Boers arrived on the scene.—London Globe.

PRESSED TO DEATH.

Fearful Punishment That Obtained Under Old English Law.

Under the old English law if a prisoner stood mute and failed to plead to the indictment a jury was impaneled to determine whether his conduct came from obstinacy or from a natural impediment. According to Blackstone, if the prisoner was found to be obstinately mute and the indictment was for high treason it was settled that his silence was equivalent to a conviction and that judgment and execution should follow. This same rule applied to petit larceny and misdemeanors, but upon appeal or indictments for other felonies or petit treason, according to the ancient law, the prisoner was not deemed convicted; but, because of his obstinacy, he received "the terrible sentence of penance or peine" and was pressed to death.

Blackstone thus describes this punishment: "That the prisoner be remanded to the prison from whence he came and put in a low, dark chamber and there be laid on his back on the bare floor, naked unless decency forbids; that there be placed upon his body as great a weight of iron as he could bear and more; that he should have no sustenance, save only on the first day three morsels of the worst bread, and on the second day three drafts of standing water that should be nearest the prison door, and in this situation this should be alternately his daily diet till he died or (as anciently the judgment ran) till he answered."

During the trials for witchcraft in New England a respectable citizen being so accused, knowing that by reason of the excitement of the times a plea of not guilty and trial would result in a conviction with confiscation of property, and the same judgment would follow a plea of guilty, refused to plead, thereby preventing a conviction and enabling his family to retain his property. The court ordered that he be pressed because of his obstinacy. The order was carried out and the victim died.

MOTION TOWARDS AMATUER HOCKEY.

Resolution to be Presented at Annual Meeting.

Declaration Asked for From Each Club —Form of Affidavit—Definition of Amateur Made Clear.

Mr. J. G. Merrick's notice of motion to be considered at the O.H.A. annual meeting on December 3rd is as follows:—

"Each club shall file with the secretary of the association at least one week before the date set for the opening game in the series in which it is competing, a declaration to the following effect, signed by the president, manager, secretary and treasurer (forms of which may be obtained on application to the secretary,) and no club shall be allowed to compete without this declaration having been received and acknowledged by the secretary.

FORM OF AFFIDAVIT.

"We, ——, president; ——, manager; ——, secretary; ——, treasurer, of the ——, of ——, in the county of ——, respectively president, manager, secretary and treasurer of the —— hockey club of ——,

"Do solemnly declare that

"1. Having read the definition of an amateur contained in the regulations laid down by the O.H.A., we know that the members of the —— hockey club of ——, Ontario, are amateurs within the true meaning of that definition in so far as our club is concerned, and that each member has been known and accepted as an amateur before his connection with this club in other branches of sport.

"2. During the season of 1904-5 we pledge ourselves and our club to maintain and support the amateur status of all our members.

"3. We guarantee as a condition of membership in the O. H. A., to notify the Executive Committee of any of our members who transgress the amateur rule.

"4. We further undertake to bring to the notice of the Executive Committee of the O. H. A. any player or club, not members of our own organization, whom we know or believe are transgressing the amateur rule prescribed by the association.

"And we make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act, 1893.

"Declared before me, a Commissioner."

AMATEUR DEFINED.

To prevent any misunderstanding in the reading of the above definition the Association places the following interpretation on the main clause of the definition:—

A player ceases to become an amateur and thereby becomes a professional, by—

1. Ever having competed in an open competition, that is, a competition the entries to which are open to all, irrespective as to whether the competitors are amateurs or professionals and whether such competition be for a prize or not in an athletic sport.

2. Ever having competed for money in any athletic sport.

3. Ever having competed under a false name or a name not generally known as his own in any athletic exercise.

4. Ever having knowingly competed with a professional for a prize or with a professional where gate money is charged in any athletic exercise.

5. Ever having taught, pursued or followed as a means of livelihood any athletic exercise.

6. Ever having directly or indirectly sold a prize.

7. Ever having directly or indirectly received payment for training or coaching any other person or train in any athletic exercise.

8. Ever having directly or indirectly received payment for services rendered in teaching any athletic exercise.

9. Ever having directly or indirectly received payment for services rendered as a referee, judge, umpire, scorer, manager, director, or in any other capacity at any professional exhibition or contest.

PROFESSIONALS GETTING READY.

Soo Hockey Team Practically Decided Upon.

The Sault Ste. Marie News, speaks of the new hockey team to represent that town, this season, as follows:

Manager A. L. Ferguson, expects to have the new hockey team signed within a short time now. He already has signed, Jones, Stevens, Howell, Switzer, Robinson and Hamilton. Negotiations are being carried on with another man who will probably sign in a few days.

Howell is an old timer in hockey circles and has a good reputation. Years ago he was well known in O. H. A. circles, but later entered professional company. He was a member of the original Portage Lake team, and was a fast one at cover. Last winter he played in the Peterborough Intermediate O.H.A. team, and did good work.

Robinson is the better known of the two here, having played with Pittsburg at centre. He originally came from Ottawa, where he was one of the well known puck shooters in Canadian hockey circles.

The other men signed were on the last year's Soo team, and are well known to local enthusiasts. All are good men and will serve to make the team one of the strongest in the International League.

Portage Lake is the only team in the league that has all its men signed. The only new faces on the team are Holden of Winnipeg and Lake, who played here last winter. The rest of the men signed are Hern, Gibson, Bruce, Stuart, Morrison, Shields and Westcott.

Manager Ferguson says the rules adopted do not strictly follow any of the old regulation schedules. The good points of all the Canadian organizations have been adopted. It is the intention to make the games as interesting as possible, and a great deal of the roughness that characterized the playing of last winter will be eliminated. It is not the intention however to make the games tame; they will be fast and clean and better than ever.

Indications point to one of the fastest teams on the ice in the Canadian Soo. Manager J. P. Mooney is now in St. Louis, and has not given out much as to the line up. Two men have been signed, and some of the fastest men in the Dominion are on the string.

HOCKEY.

Toronto Saturday Night says:— The coming hockey season is going to give many a young Canadian an opportunity to cross the line, accumulate American dollars, and, incidentally become a professional. It is a pity—if the reports are true—that the club at the Canadian Soo is about to go bodily into the professional game. The Ontario Hockey Association can go a great deal, and has done a great deal, to keep clubs straight, but the wit of man can devise no plan to prevent lads from professionalizing themselves if they so desire. The main thing is to keep them outside the fold once they jump the bars. This the O.H.A. has been successful in doing. It is very curious that some of the hottest advocates of clean amateurism in hockey are the first apologists for crookedness in lacrosse. Perhaps their hot sporting blood is cooled down in the winter time. Hockey, as well as lacrosse, is a fertile field for the perpetratio athletes. In neither game is he allowed to do business. In hockey, the paid man is given a speedy trump-out. Why can't the game treatment in lacrosse? Principally because the club managers prefer to sail under false colours. They are unnecessary colours, too, for by this time everybody who knows anything about lacrosse is well aware that nine players out of ten on the big teams get their money regularly—always provided they play well enough. If that desideratum isn't present, they get a speedy release.

SKIN HUMOURS BLOOD HUMOURS

Speedily, Permanently and Economically Cured by Cuticura

WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS

Complete External and Internal Treatment For One Price

In the treatment of torturing, disfiguring, itching, scaly, crusted, pimply, blotchy and scrofulous humours of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills have been wonderfully successful. Even the most obstinate of constitutional humours, such as bad blood, scrofula, inherited and contagious humours, with loss of hair, glandular swellings, ulcerous patches in the throat and mouth, sore eyes, copper-coloured blotches, as well as boils, carbuncles, scurvy, sties, ulcers and sores arising from an impure condition of the blood, yield to the Cuticura Treatment, when all other remedies fail.

And greater still, if possible, is the wonderful record of cures of torturing, disfiguring humours among infants and children. The suffering which Cuticura Remedies have alleviated among the young, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents, have led to their adoption in countless homes as priceless curatives for the skin and blood. Infantile and birth humours, milk crust, scalled head, eczema, rashes and every form of itching, scaly, pimply skin and scalp humours, with loss of hair, of infancy and childhood, are speedily, permanently and economically cured when all other remedies suitable for children and even the best physicians, fail.

Cuticura Resolvent, Liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, U.S.A. "How to Cure Skin Diseases," 64 pages, illustrated, 50 Testimonials.

RUGBY.

Toronto's back division for to-day's game was, Bart, Fleet, Babes, Gibson, Morrison and Robertson. The Argos' defence was, back, Grant; halves, Hamber, Ardagh and Trimmer.

Both Toronto teams have been strengthened for to-day's match.

SPRINTING

Last night's Ottawa Citizen says:— "McKenzie who ran such a close second to Eddie McWilliams in the Journal and Y.M.C.A. five-mile races this summer, has accepted the offer of Williams and Burns to allow any amateur to contest in the Citizen's big Thanksgiving day match race to compete on the same status as themselves. McKenzie will run under the colours of the Y.M.C.A. and his entry will make the race a great deal more interesting than it would have been with simply the matched men in the running. Indications point to the fact that the men will cut out a hot pace from the start for all three are dangerous and out to lower Williams' time for the five miles. Shou'd the weather conditions on Thursday next be the same as those prevailing at present, there is little doubt that the distance will be negotiated under 27 minutes. The course will be measured down Sparks street to Elgin and out the driveway, so as to give an exact two and a half miles from the Citizen office out and return, five miles in all.

The field is small but very select and the event will assuredly be one of the sporting features of the year. All three men although in pretty fair condition as it is are making the most of the week remaining before the date of the race.

GOOD DUCK SHOOTING-- LONG POINT RESERVES

Conditions Created Create Good Sport.

Mr. C. S. Bottsford has returned to town after a month spent at the duck preserves of the Long Point Club. In about twelve days' shooting he secured a bag of 300 duck, and if he had been desirous could have increased his spoil. This good shooting is mentioned to illustrate the good effects coming from the establishment and maintenance of preserves, under conditions and hours of shooting that do not interfere with the assembling of duck and do not disturb them on their feeding grounds at feeding time.

Per contra it is said that the shooting in Rice Lake has not been very good this season. What duck came were shot at in an unreasonable time, and were driven into the open waters and the sport largely spoiled.

Without entering into details it is demonstrated that to have good shooting, preserves are the most efficient means. Experience proves it.

TO-DAYS' MARKET

Was a Large one—Some of the Prices Asked.

There was a very large market this morning. The farmers were in town in large numbers and all manner of produce was offered for sale and had ready purchasers. Fowl was very plentiful and sold at moderate prices, while fruit and vegetables were also conspicuous by their quantity. There was hay which sold at $8.00 per load; dressed hogs were worth $6.75 to $6.90 each. Apples cost 50c. per bag while potatoes sold from 70c. to 75c. per bag. Pork was 5c to 6c per lb.; mutton 5c.; lamb 8c. to 9c.; beef 5 1-2 to 6 1-2c. Little pigs, or, rather, piglets, all alive and squealing, were worth $2.00 each, just as they were. Ducks sold at 50c to 90c per pair, while if a goose was desired for Monday's dinner 75c to $1.00 had to be paid for the pleasure. Turkeys sold from $1.00 to $2.00 according to size and toughness, while chickens either with or without the gizzards sold anywhere from 40c to 75c per pair. Butter per lb. sold from 20 to 25c., while eggs per doz were worth from 18c to 25c.

WAS LOATH TO PART WITH MONEY.

Two Men Would not Pay Their Fine and Went to Jail.

Alex. Ross and Robert Baker came to the police court this morning to pay a fine. The fine was imposed some time ago for cruelty to animals, and amounted to $10.00 and costs, or $15.25 altogether. As the fine was not paid in the time allotted, a distress warrant was issued, which swelled the amount to $17.25. The two came to the Police Station this morning with the money. Ross who was slightly "under the influence," counted out the money, but when he saw his hard-earned cash leaving him so pitilessly, it was too much. "We'll go to jail," he said to Baker, but the latter had no desire for this, and urged his companion to pay over the money. Once again Ross attempted it, but again it was too much for him, and he said, "Jail for me!" Despite Baker's rather strenuous objections, the pair were handcuffed and taken to the jail. An extra $3 was added for the arrests, making the amount $20.25, or twenty days in jail. Ross repented on the way to the jail, and offered to pay the amount then and there, but was told to wait until the jail was reached. As soon as the full amount is paid the pair will be free. It will now cost $20.25, instead of $15.25, had the fine been paid in the time allotted.

Stubborn Skin Diseases.

Nothing is more discouraging than a case of eczema or salt rheum which refuses to heal. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment, however, you soon see that new skin is forming, and the sore part is becoming smaller and smaller. The itching is entirely overcome after a few applications, and you are given satisfactory evidence that a continuation of the treatment will bring a thorough cure.

"BIG DAYS"

At the Golden Lion Sale of Fashionable

Mantles and Suits

This was the Opening Day of our Room-making Sale of Ladies' Mantles and Suits, Maids' Coats and Children's Reefers and Ulsters.

Nothing pleases ourselves half so well as a big days' business, and if it keeps up the same pace there will be few out of the 300 Garments left after Thanksgiving week.

The Reason Why.

There are plenty of things to say about these Garments and their reduced prices which we can't enlarge upon. But, if we are so deserving of your patronage, whatever we leave unsaid in our ads we can say personally to our customers.

We ought to sell all these excellent Garments in less than a week because of the newness and correct style of them, irrespective of the fact that they are offered regardless of cost.

The combination of high quality and low pricing is marked, as well as the desirability of the styles, the fashionable materials, the perfection of the workmanship and fit.

Warm Coats for little Maids—Cosy and Comfortable Coats for Toddlers trimmed in various pretty shapely styles—the nicest Wraps ever sold at the prices.

Customers are simply delighted at the great goodness and unmatchable values. The more you know about these values the more you'll like them.

These are only a few hints of what's to be seen and what's to be saved at Fair's Sale of Mantles, etc.

MR. BROWN'S BELIEF IN THE FEASIBILITY.

An Electric Smelter at Peterborough is Commercially Practicable is Mr. C. E. Brown's Opinion.

Some Additional Information Which Increases the Probability of Smelter Being Erected Here.

Belmont Ore Tests 70 to 71 per cent Pure After Magnetic Separation -- Heeley Fall's Power.

Some new, light as well as some interesting information with reference to the process of electric smelting and the commercial practicability of the operation as it is proposed to conduct it at Peterborough, were given the Examiner to-day by Mr. C. E. Brown, the electrical expert, who accompanied the commission to Europe on the recent trip of enquiry.

Mr. Brown is firmly of the opinion that the process is an entirely practicable one, and is more firmly convinced than ever of this fact after he was informed of the great power possibilities at Heeley's Falls, which the Examiner learned on good authority, a company is being formed to develop.

The quality of the ore from the Belmont Mines is such that its treatment by electricity will render the operation a more than ordinarily profitable one. Mr. Brown has just received from Toronto a report from a gentleman who has treated some of the ore to a process of magnetic separation, and the report shows that after this separation, which, by the way, is an exceedingly inexpensive one, the ore tests from 70 to 71 per cent. pure iron, a percentage which is remarkably high, and it is doubtful if any mine in Canada can produce iron ore equal to it. The effect that this report will have on the proposal to use the Belmont ore in the electric smelter here will be far-reaching, and the results to Peterborough and Eastern Ontario are not easily calculated. It will very probably mean that in the near future Peterborough will be the greatest iron and steel producing city in Canada. A calm and intelligent review of the conditions shows that this is no idle dream, but an actual probability, the feasibility of which is substantiated by proof of an indisputable nature.

The cost of producing pig iron by the electric smelting process, as estimated by the Commission is $10.00 per ton, but it is believed by Mr. Brown that the actual cost to produce it in Peterborough will be considerably below that figure. The calculation of the Commissioners was based upon horse power costing $10.00 per horse power year, coke at $7.00 per ton, and using ore of 55 per cent. iron. But, as a matter of fact, the local conditions are such that the actual cost will be considerably below the figures named by the Commission. In the first place power can be produced at Heeley's Falls for about $6.00 per horse power year, and the proposition is to use charcoal instead of coke, which Mr. Brown believes will work satisfactorily, at a cost of $4.00 per ton. Then, instead of using ore of 55 per cent. iron, the Belmont ore separated will run 70 to 71 per cent., the net result being that the cost per ton of pig iron will be not more than $7 to $8, as compared with $15 and $16, the present price in Ontario.

The cost of erecting a power plant and electric furnaces for smelting 100 tons of pig iron per day, and using 10,000 horse power, would, according to a rough estimate made by Mr. Brown, be in the neighbourhood of $750,000, and this, he believes, is an outside figure, and may be materially reduced in actual practice. The greater part of this cost would be required for the power development, the furnaces and electric smelting apparatus requiring but a comparatively small amount.

The Department of Mines is interested in the proposition to develop the electric smelting furnace here, and wrote to Mr. Brown for details.

With the establishment here of the steel works already mentioned in these columns, there would be a good local demand for pig iron, and Peterborough will, in all probability, be the place selected as the home of the first electric smelter.

NEW R. C. DIOCESE AND NEW BISHOP

Rev. Father Scollard, Formerly of Ennismore, Bishop Designate of Sault Ste. Marie.

Bishop's Eloquent Tribute to the New Prelate's Worth--The Church Honours Ennismore's Son.

At St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday, an announcement was made, which is of especial interest to Peterough, and to the township of Ennismore in particular. This announcement was that the Roman Catholic diocese of Peterborough, is to be divided, a new diocese created, and that a "Peterborough priest, a son of Ennismore," is to be elevated to the episcopal charge of the new diocese. The announcement also demonstrates, what is perhaps not fully appreciated in this part of the province, that New Ontario is growing rapidly.

At 10.30 mass His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, preached the sermon. In the course of his address he announced that the Diocese of Peterborough was to be divided. He pointed out that in the last few years that portion of the diocese, known as New Ontario, had enjoyed a rapid increase of population. The farming lands had been occupied, and the factories were employing many hands, and the increased population had spiritual needs which must be met. He also pointed out that the present diocese of Peterborough was of great extent — from the south-east to the north-west it stretched 1,100 miles, and it made larger demands upon a bishop than one man was able to meet. Some idea of the work to be done was afforded by the fact that in the last fifteen years, over fifty new churches had been erected in the northern part of the diocese. It was necessary for the Bishop to frequently visit all portions of his diocese. He (the Bishop) was quite willing to undertake all the duties imposed upon him, but it was an almost physical impossibility for one man to attend to the affairs of so large a diocese. For instance, he was here speaking to them to-day, and next Sunday he would be away a distance of 350 miles. He thanked God that there had been such great growth as to render the division of the diocese necessary. He had asked the Holy Father to make the division, and the new diocese would comprise the districts of Nipissing, Algoma and Thunder Bay, and would be designated the Diocese of Sault Ste. Marie, with the town of Sault Ste. Marie the cathedral city. The new diocese itself would be large — 900 miles in length. This would leave the old diocese to be composed of the counties of Peterborough, Durham, Northumberland, Victoria, and the Muskoka and Parry Sound districts. The new diocese would have a larger Catholic population than the old, and its large extent required as bishop a young man of great physical ability and holy zeal, and this demand had been met by the selection by the Holy Father of Rev. Father Scollard, parish priest of North Bay. The Bishop paid a strong and eloquent tribute to the brother clergy for his piety and zeal. He is an indefatigable worker and has always been held in affectionate reverence by the people amongst whom he has laboured. He has excellent qualifications for his high office. His parish and his diocese have a mixed population and he is able to preach in both the French and English languages. He has, to a marked degree, other qualifications fitting him admirably for his high office. He is endowed with the somewhat prosaic, but at the same time, rare gift of good common sense, excellent administration and business ability and great tact. Altogether he is a man of well balanced mind and with his piety, zeal and physical energy, and indomitable zeal is admirably qualified to discharge the exacting duties of the high and holy trust to which he has been advanced. The Examiner would join his hosts of friends and admirers in Peterborough in congratulations to himself, his family, this community and the church upon the fact that a man and a priest, so abundantly worthy, from a human point of view, has been selected as first Bishop of the diocese of Sault Ste. Marie.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Scollard will be consecrated in St. Peter's Cathedral early in the New Year — probably about the first part of February, 1905.

THE NEW BISHOP.

Rev. David J. Scollard, the Bishop designate of the new diocese of Sault Ste. Marie, is the son of Mr. John Scollard, and Catherine O'Connor, his wife, of Ennismore, and was born in that township on Nov. 4th, 1863. He is forty-two years old, a more than usually early age to be elevated to the dignity of a prelate and prince of the Church. The fact of his being taken from the ranks of the simple priesthood without having received the intermediate ecclesiastical dignities is a striking practical tribute to his worth and work. He received his secular education in the public schools of his native township and at St. Michael's College, Toronto, and his religious education and training in the Grand Seminary, Montreal. He was in all respects a good student. During his six years at St. Michael's College, he took the gold medal for philosophy. He went to the Grand Seminary in September, 1887 and in his second year he took the degree of B.D., in his third year became Licentiate in Theology, and is now ex-officio D.D.—by virtue of his elevation to the Episcopal chair. He was ordained priest by Bishop O'Conner at St. Martin's Church, Ennismore on Dec. 21st, 1890. After serving six years, or till February, 1896, at St. Peter's Cathedral he was appointed, eight years ago, parish priest to the important parish of North Bay, where he has since laboured with great zeal and corresponding success. This summer he completed at North Bay a large eight-room school, and has a splendid new church costing $50,000, now well on the way to completion. It is built of Longford stone and is an imposing church structure. Rev. Father Scollard is highly esteemed by his

LATE JOHN HEAP

Death of a Well Known Resident of Otonabee.

A well-known and highly respected resident of Otonabee passed away yesterday in the person of John Heap. The deceased who was a brickmaker, was the victim of an accident about two years ago, from the effects of which he never recovered. His condition has gradually become weaker until death finally ensued. The deceased was 65 years of age and leaves a sorrowing wife and family to mourn his demise.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, from his late place of residence, lot 19, concession 12, Otonabee, and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery for interment. It will be conducted by the Sons of England.

MR. STRATTON EULOGIZED.

The Provincial Secretary last night gave a dinner to the superintendents of the public institutions under his charge and the officials of his department. The function is generally interpreted as a sign of Mr. Stratton's retirement from office before long, though he made no announcement. The Premier pronounced a eulogy on the Provincial Secretary, which will be heartily concurred in by all who have knowledge of the manner in which he has administered his department. "No minister of the Government," said Mr. Ross, "has discharged his duties with greater faithfulness, zeal and personal self-sacrifice than had Mr. Stratton. Those who minimized his capacity and usefulness would regret their want of appreciation of his splendid work for the Province."

These are words to which no persons will subscribe more sincerely than the officials of the public institutions, who are in a position to estimate the Provincial Secretary at his own true worth. They know that he has taken a keen personal interest in the duties of his office, and that he could not be more zealous than he is for the efficient management of these institutions, and the welfare of the inmates. The vigilance, energy and sympathy of the Provincial Secretary have meant a great deal to this branch of the public service. In the administration of the liquor license department, Mr. Stratton has made an enviable record also. In five years he has likewise increased the revenue from the issue of company charters from $17,000 to $129,000, by a rearrangement of fees. No blemish can be found upon his official record, and as the Premier pointed out, there has been not a single scandal in connection with the management of the institutions of the Province for 30 years. The Province will lose a great administrator if Mr. Stratton withdraws, and his successor, whoever he may be, will have a high standard to maintain.—London Advertiser.

PREMIER LAURIER'S VICTORY.

It will perhaps be interesting to read American opinion in reference to the significance of the recent Dominion elections. The Los Angeles California, Express has the following :—

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's electoral victory in Canada Thursday, insuring control of the Government by the Liberal party, is a notable illustration of the attitude of the voters of progressive countries towards what may be called "expansion," as that term now is understood in the United States. Canadian Liberals have been able to attract a large following by the willingness of their leaders to give friendly support to large enterprises and otherwise promote the industrial growth of the Dominion, and it may be remarked that this spirit is now without a parallel in political affairs in the United States.

In the recent Canadian election, Government aid for the proposed new trans-continental railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific, was the leading issue, and its glorious ultimate benefit to the country outweighed all pressing considerations of cost as presented by those of economical turn of mind or the criticism of others who feared the enterprise would not directly benefit the people of their particular parish. As a majority of Canadians are in favour of a new transcontinental line, it is safe to observe that the project is worthy of their ambition. They may be compelled to stand the taunts of opponents in the face of deficits, but all precedents prove that North American railways pay—they benefit the country even if they cause stockholders to groan.

But the Canadian Liberal victory has another aspect which commands attention. It keeps Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the fore and gives the world a chance for further observation of one of the most astute politicians of the day. It is not far from the mark to say that he is the most forceful and resourceful of colonial premiers of the British Empire, and as much he has no small influence in what may be called the international politics of that Empire. Joseph Chamberlain has given admiring testimony in this respect, and there is a suspicion that "Good Old Joey" of Birmingham may find a forcible argument for his final policy by telling the people of the United Kingdom that Laurier is likely to kick over the traces if the tight little island does not adopts protective tariff and give preferences to the Canadians.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail and Empire says the calling of the Liberal Convention is a "brazen" act. The World says the Conservatives are to do likewise. What will the Mail call that?

A few days ago the Conservative papers were declaring that Mr. Fielding's anti-dumping legislation had proved to be a failure. Now we have daily reports of United States concerns to establish branches here to escape its effective working!

Mr. Flynn, the Conservative leader, who has "laid down," and will let the general elections go by default, is not an Irishman, as his name would suggest. He is a Frenchman, with an Irish name. If he were an Irishman with a French name, he would be in the fight up to his eyes. You never found an Irishman giving up a cause, no matter how desperate his chances may seem, without striking a few stout blows.

Hon. J. R. Stratton was, on Wednesday last, presented with a cabinet of silver by the heads of the public institutions of the Province, and the deputies of his department. Of course it was fittingly acknowledged, and the remarks were followed by approving words from Premier Ross, which will, says the Galt Reformer, go a long way towards relieving the Provincial Secretary of the stigma that he is the wicked partner in the Ross Government.

The best way to bring law into disrepute, is to pass laws that cannot, and will not, be enforced. Montreal has passed a bylaw to prohibit spitting on the streets. It will be about as well enforced as would be a law to prohibit breathing on the streets. There is a law against profane language in public places, but one often hears as he passes along the street profane language strong enough to curdle the blood. Where is the record of any one in a hundred of these offenders having been punished?

The Toronto News urges Mr. Whitney to make a declaration against the spoils of office. It says this would help him in the election. Help him in his election! How many of the rank and file would be behind Mr. Whitney, if it were not for the hope of sharing the spoils of office? Mr. Whitney is quite equal to declaring against the spoils of office, as enjoyed by Liberals, but he won't convict himself of a declaration to that effect on the part of his own party. He has paled Petition in Oass in the way of denouncing Liberal corruption, but no one knows from Mr. Whitney that his own party was ever guilty of even a little bit of political crookedness.

The Quebec Conservatives may claim that they were unprepared for a general election, but Mr. Parent, the Liberal Premier, very aptly points out that when they won Portneuf and Maskinonge, in bye-elections, they announced that the tide had turned against the Parent Government and that they were prepared at a general election to take full advantage of the fact. Not a party to be beaten is hard, but that a party should be completely demoralized by defeat is disastrous.

Writing in depreciation of the action of certain capitalists in buying up organs of the Canadian press, Dr. Goldwin Smith has this to say in the Weekly Sun: "Perhaps our best hope of escape from the anaconda will be the country press, the organs of which are too numerous and too widely scattered to be enveloped in its coils. The improvement which has taken place in the country press of Canada, within the last generation, is very marked, and most welcome. In no field probably has more important progress been made. Perhaps the full extent of the benefit may yet remain to be seen."

The London Daily News expects a Liberal victory in Great Britain in the next election. At present the British House stands :

The News thinks that in the next House the Liberals may have over one hundred majority. If this is the case it will be an exception to the rule on this side of the water this year, which has been a good year for governments. First, the Newfoundlanders sustained the Bond Government by a large majority, then the Laurier Government got a similar endorsation in the Dominion, and President Roosevelt followed with a sweep in the United States unexampled in recent history of elections in that nation.

LIBERALS MAKE POPULAR MOVE.

Calling of Convention is Generally Approved.

Rank and File of Liberal Party Appreciate the Situation and Response Will be Prompt and Enthusiastic.

By every mail comes evidence, says the Globe, that the summoning of a convention meets with the general approval of the Liberals of Ontario, and the gathering in Association Hall on Wednesday, the 23rd inst., promises to mark an epoch in the history of the party. The proposal to consult them through their chosen representatives, upon questions of policy, appeals to the rank and file of the Liberal party, who regard it as a renewed assurance of the intention of the leaders to continue in the future as they have in the past, to adhere to the established principles of reform upon which the party was originally founded. It emphasizes the tradition Liberals have ever recognized, that government should be of the people, by the people, and for the people, and applies the principle to the administration of the affairs within the party, as well as to the business of the country.

Information received from every part of the province, indicates that the Liberal Associations of the various ridings have entered with enthusiasm into the spirit of the movement, and it is confidently expected that the convention will represent the best thought and the ripest experience of the Liberal party. The deliberations of such a gathering, in which every element composing the party has an opportunity to be heard, cannot but be productive of good, both to the party and to the province.

Getting Even With Him.

"Will you please pull the bell?" said an elderly woman in a street car to a young college looking fellow hanging to a strap in front of her.

"No, madam, but I shall be glad to pull the cord which rings the bell," he answered.

"Oh, never mind," she said. "The cord is connected with two bells—front and back—and you might stop the wrong end of the car."

FLYING MACHINES AT ST. LOUIS.

California Man Believes That He has Solved the Problem.

"Arrow" Ready for its Aerial Flight—Details of the Machine's Construction.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—Baldwin's aerocycle, Benbow's celestial side-wheeler, and Francois' colossal airship are all based primarily upon the balloon principle, have approximately cigar-shaped gas-bags, and derive their motive power from gasoline engines. But one of the other aerial navigators at the World's Fair differs from them in all these respects, having a machine heavier than the air, with a bird-shaped gas-bag and no mechanical motor whatever.

This is the flying machine, "Man-Angel", invented by Alva L. Reynolds, originally from Michigan, but now of Los Angeles, California. He has been an inventor and student of atmospheric phenomena and action all his life, but it was only within the past year—since the opening of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, in fact—that he has taken up the question of aeronautics. Since he went to work on his first experimental machine last May in Los Angeles, he has greatly altered his system a number of times, so that the present is his sixth full-size working model, the preceding ones having been destroyed as unsatisfactory.

Mr. Reynolds insists that, unlike all his competitors, "not an aeronaut, but merely an inventor"; but that he has determined to stick to the aerial navigation problem until he has effected its complete and final solution. He is firmly convinced that the only true method of navigating the air is one that involves the study and application of the principles involved in the flight of birds. He has made some private experimental trips at his home city, and expects to satisfy the public of the superior value of his apparatus as soon as he begins his trial trips at the Exposition aerodrome.

All the peculiarities of this vessel are derived from the fowls of the air. It has a gas-bag large enough to reduce the weight to a minimum, but not to altogether counteract or overcome it; and therefore the apparatus must be kept in the air by its own motion. Mr. Reynolds lays great stress upon the design of the gas-bag. That of his machine, instead of being oblong like the Baldwin or an oblipsoid like the Benbow, is of the shape of an Krag-Jorgenson rifle bullet, consisting of two cones with coincident bases, the rear one twice as long (from vertex to base) as that in front, so that a vertical section taken longitudinally through the centre would resemble an old fashioned kite flying on edge. The object of this form is to increase the dirigibility by throwing the centre of gravity into the front portion, and, at the same time, to increase the speed by reducing to a minimum the loss of energy arising from the friction of the surface of the bag with the air. A gas bag of this shape, which is approximately that of a bird while in position for flight, shoulders its way, as it were, through the atmosphere, and when the air is once broken by the forward portion, where the diameter is the greatest there is no further friction. The tapering of the balloon towards the rear does away completely with rear suction, as well as with skin friction, behind the point of mean diameter.

The rest of the craft is constructed with equal regard to the lessons of professor bird. Just as every living creature that flies does so with its flat surfaces towards the earth and directly in the plane of the flight and parallel with it, so the occupant of the Reynolds vehicle must lie face downward, with his feet to the rear. By means of his upper limbs he operates the two wings, which are extended on either side in a horizontal plane like the pinions of a bird. The wings are under perfect and separate control, so that the machine can be turned to the right or the left by their means, without the air of a rudder, the principle, in this particular, being the same as that employed in the Francois' airship.

The objection made to the use of a rudder is that it is of no value except when the vessel is being propelled at a high rate of speed; so that when it is progressing slowly it is helpless, as its direction cannot be controlled. Those, however, who have witnessed the wonderful exploits of Baldwin's "sky-racing gig," are inclined to reply that this may be all so in theory, but the facts are against it; for the "California Arrow" appeared to yield readily to its helm, even on its first trip, after the propelling apparatus became altogether incapacitated. Of course, in the lack of either motor or breeze, the object would hold good.

The vertical direction is determined by the rapidity of the wing-stroke; a quick stroke sends the vehicle up and relaxation of effort causes it to gradually descend.

In the flying-machine the operator is able to descend with the same amount of gas that he went up with. It is not necessary for him either to throw out ballast to assist himself in ascending or to let out gas in order to return to earth. His position in the air depends altogether, as in the case of all animals possessing the power of flight, upon the manner in which he manipulates his wings, and he can therefore alight with perfect ease at whatever point he selects.

The inventor claims to have entirely eliminated the element of danger. He does not pretend that man-power is the only proper means of propulsion. Whatever can be done by the human muscles can be done by machinery. The first thing necessary is to navigate the air safely and successfully, and the question of motive power can be considered later.

The gas bag of the Reynolds machine is about thirty feet long and has a maximum diameter of twelve feet, and a capacity of 4,000 feet. The wings are of Longdale cambric, stretched on a spruce frame braced with piano wire. The weight of the whole apparatus, including the inflated gas bag, but exclusive of the operator, is not over a hundred pounds.

Mr. Reynolds has been here since the 22nd of September, and is now ready to make his first public ascent as soon as his balloon reaches its turn to be inflated. His flight, if successful, as he is firmly convinced it will be, will, he says, overturn all the established rules of aeronautics.

But the experience which the visitors to the Exposition are now having, would lead to the conclusion that the air is navigable in all sorts of ways and on a great variety of principles; so that the problem of the future will be to choose from the many good systems that will be in all things considered, the best and cheapest and most adaptable to practical ends.

GEN. KUROKI KILLED

Russian Correspondent Says It Occurred on October 4.

PORT ARTHUR RIVEN BY JAPS

Two of the Most Desperate of the Night Battles of the Siege Fought Last Week —Victory Rests With the Japs. and Gen. Stoessel Is Driven to His Last Ditch—Russians in Extremis.

Moscow, Nov. 14.—Nemorivitch Danchenko, the well known Russian war correspondent of the Associated Press, telegraphing from Mukden, under Saturday's date, says the reports of the death of Gen. Kuroki are confirmed. According to his version, the splinter of shell struck Gen. Kuroki, tearing out a portion of his breast and abdomen. He died Oct. 4 at Liaoyang and his body was sent to Japan. A rumor is persistently circulated that a kinsman of the Mikado, Siacoanai, literally "Little Third Prince," has been appointed to succeed Gen. Kuroki, but that the actual command of the army has been entrusted to Gen. Nodzu, who is reviewing operations.

TWO NIGHT BATTLES.

Fierce and Desperate Fighting in the Doomed City of Port Arthur.

Tokio, Nov. 14.—Reports from the third army, made public by the imperal headquarters last night, show that the rumors of an armistice were untrue, but that, on the contrary, the Japanese forces in front of Port Arthur have been fighting desperately since Wednesday to take the last line of redoubts on Etse Mountain to the west of Port Arthur and on Quail Hill, which overlooks the centre of the town. There was fighting continuously on Wednesday and Thursday nights, and on Friday morning before dawn the Japanese infantry finally took possession of the last of the Etse redoubts. Siege guns were brought up in the afternoon despite a severe artillery fire from the forts across the harbor and those at White Wolf and Golden Hill.

Two Desperate Night Battles.

The two night battles for the possession of the Etse range beginning on Wednesday will range among the most desperate of the siege. Small detachments of Japanese infantry from the Thirteenth and Nineteenth Regiments attempted vainly to break through the wire entanglements, and the all-night assault on Wednesday was unsuccessful, the Japanese losing more than 200 in dead. Most of the wire entanglements were destroyed, however, and two land mines blown up. On Thursday artillery fire from Sung-Shoo fort, in possession of General Nogi, prevented the Russians from making any repairs, and at dark on Thursday the Japanese infantry were again sent against the line of redoubts. Fighting at close quarters went an all through the night. The Russians were reinforced from the hills south of White Wolf Mountain, but before dawn were thoroughly defeated and driven from all their rifle pits as well as the mountain top. They spiked six rapid-fire guns and two mounted howitzers.

This victory gives the city to the Japanese. Their guns raked the harbor as well as the town. Actual possession of the town is impossible, because of the Russian guns on White Wolf Hill, Golden Hill, Kwang Hill, Weiyuen Fort. Admiral Togo's fleet is vigorously bombarding these points, and General Nogi telegraphs that the concentrated fire of 400 Japanese guns has been thrown against the Russian fortified positions since Friday morning.

All resistance from the east side of Port Arthur has been abandoned. General Stoessel has retired his troops, splitting them in three divisions. The greatest body is in the mountains running southwest from White Wolf Hill to the end of the Liaotieshan promontory. The other Russian soldiers are on the Tiger Tail peninsula, separated from Port Arthur by the harbor, and on Golden Hill at the eastern entrance to the outside harbor.

Stoessel Hard Pressed.

It is further announced that big breaches have been made in Golden Hill and Weiyuen forts. Several of the heavier guns have been dismounted by the accurate gun fire from the Japanese position on Quail Hill, where the big naval guns have been mounted since last Monday. The complete destruction of these fortresses must come within a few days, and it is believed in the army headquarters here that General Stoessel, the gallant Russian commander, will no longer be justified in holding out against the victorious Japanese army.

He is now driven to a line of forts where he cannot inflict any serious damage on the attacking soldiers, while the Japanese guns in the various hills can keep up a continuous bombardment on the Russian position. It is expected that General Stoessel will ask for a truce long enough to send a communication to the Czar through the Japanese lines. His position is desperate. It is impossible for him to care for his wounded. Flags have been put over several buildings on the west end of the city denoting that these buildings are being used as temporary hospitals.

Tunnel to Forts.

London, Nov. 14.—A correspondent from Nogi's headquarters declares that the siege preparations are of the most thorough character. The rocky hills have been tunneled until the Japanese works extend to within 100 yards of the parapets of the forts. Through these tunnels the Japanese can march to the fortifications without losing a man. In the forts now held by the Japanese they have mounted enormous guns in beds of concrete and masonry. The front these forts present to the Russians is even stronger than that which faced the Japanese when they stormed the positions. The siege and naval guns are tearing great gaps in the walls of the Russian forts and sweeping the harbor. It is stated that two of the Russian warships have been sunk, the arsenal and dock yards destroyed and constant fires started in the town.

North of the Shakhe.

Headquarters of the First Japanese Army in the Field, Nov. 13, via Fusan, Nov. 14.—The Russian forces are still encamped north of the Shakhe River. The bombardment by the Russians of the Japanese lines has lessened lately. From the beginning they accomplished surprisingly little damage. Although on many days a hundred big shells were fired, no Japanese were killed and very few were wounded.

Where Russians Lost 60.

Tokio, Nov. 14.—A despatch received from the Japanese Manchurian headquarters yesterday says: "In the direction of the left army the enemy attacked from Wuchantal, Nov. 11, at 12.20 o'clock in the morning, but were repulsed. On the 9th, 200 infantry and 300 cavalry appeared in the direction of Siaogaiton. Our force stationed there repulsed them and the Russians retreated to Machuantzu. The Russian losses were sixty, ours were six."

Cruisers Damaged.

Tokio, Nov. 14.—It is reported that the armored cruiser Gromoboi struck a rock and was severely damaged at Vladivostock. It is understood that the accident happened during a trial of the Gromoboi after repairs on her hull been completed. It is said that she returned to her berth in a sinking condition.

Jap. Fur Raiders Busy.

Hakadate, Japan, Nov. 14.—Desply, laden, with their scuppers awash, the schooners that left Hakodate and other ports in northern Japan last May and June are now returning from their raid on the Russian fishing stations in Kamschatka and the seal and sea-otter rookeries on the islands in the Okhotsk Sea and the Commander Islands. A moderate estimate of the value of the fish and furs taken by the raiders is about £200,000, while the actual damage inflicted amounts to millions.

Resigns After Twenty Years.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—W. G. Scott, for twenty years treasurer of the City of Winnipeg, has announced his retirement. It is understood that his action is due to friction with the city clerk and the controllers.

Dilation of the Stomach

The gravity of enlargement of the stomach cannot be overestimated. One of the principal causes that produce this distressful condition is inordinate eating and drinking. Weakness of the muscles that propel the food to the intestines is also a factor in allowing the food to accumulate in the stomach, and thus stretching it to enormous size. Constipation and inactivity of the liver is also a prominent cause.

In this condition you usually find a coated tongue, thirst, loss of appetite, constipation, oppression at the pit of the stomach, belching of fetid gas and vomiting of sour liquid, varying in amount. Weakness, paleness and want of energy are usually present.

Now to overcome this distressing and dangerous enlargement of the stomach and all its symptoms, take Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills today. They will give tone to the weak propelling muscles of the stomach and intestines. They produce a natural movement of the contents of the bowels and avoid the formation of gas, which if retained produces symptoms of self-poisoning. Food long retained in the stomach and matter in the bowels show all the signs of putrefaction, when examined after the stomach pump is used, viz: sour odor, bacteria, yeast, saccharine and organic acid, which are deleterious to the entire system.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure constipation as if by magic. They regulate the functions of the liver, cleanse the poisons from the blood, remove the biliary elements from the circulation and strengthen the nerves. If your eyes are clouded without an appreciable cause, if you have specks and floating objects before your vision, use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills and get the poisonous elements out of your blood. Remember, they always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents, all dealers.

SNOW IS FOOT DEEP

New York, Penna. and Coast States in Winter's Grasp.

WASHINGTON IS SNOW-BOUND

Telephonic and Telegraphic Communication With Outside World Cut Off For Several Hours—New York Hard Hit—Postal Union Cabling to Canso, N.S., and Sending By C.P.R. Via Grand Trunk.

Washington, Nov. 14.—As the result of a snowstorm which set in here before 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Washington last night for several hours was completely cut off from telegraphic and telephonic communication with the outside world. Later a wire was obtained west, but none north, south or east. Both the Postal and Western Union Telegraph Companies report severe damage to their wires and their inability to get any messages through. Inquiry at the railway stations developed the fact that trains were departing on schedule time, but that incoming trains were three or more hours late. The snowfall of yesterday was the first of the season, several inches covering the ground.

Snow a Foot Deep.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 14.—More than a foot of heavy, wet snow has fallen, and as a consequence wires are down in all directions. All trains are running late and street car traffic is greatly impeded.

New York Hard Hit.

New York, Nov. 14.—The storm yesterday was central off Cape Hatteras, although its over-gathering force was felt far to the northward. Rain began falling in New York at 5 a.m., and early in the morning changed to a wet snow. The wind, which had been blowing moderately, veered to the southeast, and shortly assumed hurricane proportions. At 6 o'clock last night the local weather bureau noted a velocity of 42 miles an hour, which increased to 48 miles at 8.30. That speed kept up for several hours. At 10 o'clock the storm was central at Block Island, where the barometer showed a pressure of 28.62 inches, with the wind blowing 76 miles an hour. At Nantucket the barometer was a trifle higher and the wind 60 miles.

Wire service out of New York was tied up more effectually last night than at any other time since the blizzard of '88. The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies have no direct communication with cities further south than Baltimore and all western points are cut off.

The Postal has been cabling some of its most urgent messages to Canso, N.S., from which point they are wired to Montreal and thence forwarded to Chicago over Canadian Pacific wires. Shortly after noon the telegraph companies commenced to feel the effects of the storm. As wire after wire went down and city after city was lost, the repair gangs were notified, but owing to the day and heavy storm it was long after dark before the full force could be mustered. Late in the afternoon it was reported that over 100 poles along the Erie Railroad had gone down, completely putting the New York-Buffalo-Chicago wires by that route out of service.

Sleet Storm Stops Cars.

Schenectady, N.Y., Nov. 14.—For more than a half hour last night the entire city was in darkness, all street car lines were tied up, as the result of the sleet storm.

Trains Five Hours Late.

Elmira, N.Y., Nov. 14.—The storm has interrupted all telegraph and telephone communication east and west of this city. Many poles are down on the Erie and trains are running from two to five hours late.

Syracuse Shut Off.

Syracuse, N.Y., Nov. 14.—Syracuse was cut off from direct telegraph and telephone communication with the east as the result of the storm. Trains from the east are delayed. The day opened up cloudy and last night there was a drizzling rain, mixed with snow.

Snow At Saratoga.

Saratoga, N.Y., Nov. 14.—With the temperature at freezing point, a heavy snowstorm began yesterday and continued last night. It was accompanied by a driving wind.

NO DIFFERENCE

No distinction is made as to the kind of Piles that Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cures.

The causes Internal, External, Bleeding, Blind, Itching, Suppurating, etc., are simply names of the different stages through which every case will pass if it continues long enough.

Piles are caused by congestion or stagnation of blood in the lower bowel, and it takes an internal remedy to remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is a tablet taken internally.

We Will Buy

A 50c. Bottle of Liquozone and Give it to You to Try.

We want you to know about Liquozone, and the product itself can tell you more than we. So we ask you to let us buy you a bottle—a full-size bottle—to try. Let it prove that it does what medicine cannot do. See what a tonic it is. Learn that it does kill germs. Then you will use it always, as we do, and as millions of others do.

This offer itself should convince you that Liquozone does as we claim. We would certainly not buy a bottle and give it to you if there was any doubt of results. You want those results; you want to be well and to keep well. And you can't do that—nobody can—without Liquozone.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of different cases, that Liquozone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquozone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a Liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you.

Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

KING'S COLORS PRESENTED.

Last Scenes in the Visit to Toronto of Their Excellencies.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Saturday the big feature of the farewell visit of Lord and Lady Minto was the presentation of the King's colors, amid appropriate military surroundings, to the Royal Canadian Dragoons in the Armories. The pick of Toronto's garrison was drawn up in dress parade to witness the inspiring sight.

Presentations by the Hunt Club to Lord Minto of a smoking set, Lady Minto with diamond brooch and Lady Eileen Elliott with handsome neck-piece were next in interest.

Lord and Lady Minto, with their staff, accompanied by a mounted escort of Dragoons, under Captain Elmsley, were driven to the station from the King Edward at 9.30 Saturday night. There a guard of honor from the 48th Highlanders, 100 strong, under Capt. Catto, were drawn up, together with the regimental brass bands. There were present to bid a final farewell to the Vice-Regal party a large number of distinguished citizens.

As the train began to move slowly out the band of the 48th, which had followed the party into the station, broke forth into "Auld Lang Syne," and so amid cheers and singing, the final scene in the farewell visit of the Governor-General and party was enacted.

SHOT RAILWAY NAVVY.

Unfortunate Mistake of Two Hunters Near Fort Frances.

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—A sad case of accidental shooting occurred near Fort Frances Saturday. While watching for game near the Canadian Northern gravel pit, two hunters thought they saw a wild cat in the distance. They fired their rifles and the bullets lodged in the abdomen of Joseph Beaudro, a young member of a section gang working in the vicinity. Beaudro is still alive, but is not expected to survive many hours. He came to the west last summer from St. John, where his parents and relatives reside.

NEW PASTOR ENTERS UPON HIS DUTIES

Rev. Freeman J. Scott Preaches His First Sermon as Pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church.

An Eloquent and Practical Discourse to a Large Congregation Yesterday Morning.

Spoke From the Words "The Lord Bless Thee Out of Zion"--A Splendid Speaker

The members of the congregation of the Murray Street Baptist Church attended service in large numbers yesterday morning to extend a welcome to their new pastor, Rev. Freeman J. Scott, who preached his first sermon in the capacity of their leader in religious affairs. The young minister preached an excellent sermon in which he dealt with the subject of blessing, contrasting those received by Christians of the present day with those of the Israelites. His discourse, which was a thoughtful, practical and earnest one, was delivered in a fluent and forceful manner. The impression created by the new pastor yesterday was in every way a most favourable one and Mr. Scott has already established for himself a warm place in the hearts of his congregation.

THE TEXT.

On an occasion like the present so closely related to religious life and work and on every occasion in life the speaker knew of no more appropriate words than those of benediction found in Psalm 134; 3,—"The Lord that made Heaven and earth bless thee out of Zion." The word benediction was made up of two parts, bene—well and dico—to speak. What better could we have spoken of us than the words from the text, "The Lord bless thee out of Zion."

The people referred to were the Israelites who were themselves full of blessing and benediction and the city Zion was their sacred city at the thought of which every heart thrilled.

OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS.

The Old Testament was in itself incomplete and with out the New Testament it was imperfect. Its images, words and teachings were preparatory and flavoured of the physical and its prophesies and full Spiritual meaning were not understood by the ancients whose loftiest ideas were comparatively narrow. The words were capable of expansion and their full use was not comprehended. The true light afterwards dawned and the words were filled with a greater light and a fuller meaning. That these Old Testament words have a Divine and a better meaning than that understood by the ancients is exemplified in the text. The word Lord conveys a larger and grander idea, the object of the blessing is broader, the nature is more spiritual, and the idea of Zion is far grander.

SOURCE OF BLESSING.

The speaker wished to deal with the subject of blessing from four standpoints,—the source of blessing, the object of blessing, the nature of blessing and the place of blessing. The source of all blessings was God. In the idea of Israel the Jews the source and fountain of everything and of all blessings. The word: "The Lord bless thee" expressed the Israelites creed. Our ideas at the present were no less emphatic or explicit than were those of the ancients and were expressed in the words we sing "Praise God from Whom all blessings flow." Our national Thanksgiving was but the expression of the creed of the people that from God comes every good and perfect gift. He did not agree with the editor of a Toronto paper who scoffed at the idea of the people returning thanks for what they received; this idea was just what the wished to preach, that no one might be deceived in the truth that all good and perfect gifts come from above. We in this age have greater evidence of God's power to bless than had the ancients. God's greatest power shines most gloriously in the Spiritrealm. His greatest power, greater than that of making Heaven and earth, was in recreating our unclean hearts from a sinful state to that of the free Christian. He has promised His willingness to bless us and He will be with us in our woes, our wrongs and our sorrows. He was the Israelites' great King at Whose might and majesty the people trembled. We have the same idea of Him, but our fear and awe is more tempered with love and confidence. He is our Father and we look to Him for blessings. If you receive any blessings through me, said the speaker, give the glory to God for He is the source of all blessings.

OBJECT OF BLESSING.

The ancient would say the physical Israelites were the object of blessing. To-day we say the spiritual Israelite is the great object of blessing, a broader conception. The idea in the word "Christian" does not exhaust by any means the term "thee," but has a larger meaning, and though we be aliens by birth and sinners by choice, God is ready to take us into His fold and bless us. We should rejoice in the breadth of the Gospel; how wide, how universal and yet how personal is the invitation. In the text reference is made to the priests who at night stood in the House of the Lord to receive a blessing, but in new spiritual temple all are priests, the leaders and the laity may receive His blessings, and there is beauty and glory in the fact that the highest blessings are open to all.

NATURE OF BLESSING.

Regarding the nature of the blessing, Rev. Mr. Scott said that the average Israelite thought of God's blessing as a temporal one, that the great blessing for himself and for his nation was of a temporal nature, but the Christian idea is infinitely higher; it is not a blessing that will soon pass away, but an internal and an eternal blessing which will inspire hope, joy and comfort to the heart and be a true blessing to the spirit.

PLACE OF BLESSING.

The place of blessing according to the text was "out of Zion." Zion was a city built on a high hill and covered a large extent of territory and was the sacred city of the Israelites. In Heb. 12.22, we read of the new Zion, or the spiritual Jerusalem. This was built on a high mountain, as was the Zion of the ancients, greatly exalted in God's esteem and love, as was the ancient Zion in its space.

The population of the New Jerusalem included all spiritual and God-pleasing people in the universe, and much blessing was found in it. One must be a member of the church to be saved, for the Lord is found there, and is not found by those living in isolation and solitude. We must belong to the universal Catholic church, which was the New Jerusalem, our Mount Zion. We should have spiritual fellowship with all God's people. God's church was a great blessing to the world, and its influence had spread beyond its borders, and many non-Christians were enjoying its blessings. The Bible was a product of the church, for all its writers were members of the church.

Why should we not associate with the people of Zion if blessing is to be found in the church, and mutual inspiration and counsel received?

HIS NEW CHARGE.

The speaker hoped that he would like his new home among those of Zion's church in Peterborough. His close fellowship would now be with the Christian people of this town, and he hoped no denominational barrier would keep him from getting a blessing from, and being a blessing to, and with, the Christian people of the entire town. He wished to ally himself with all the Christian influences and forces of the town, and to get into the real religious life of it. His closest relation of course would be with the people of the Murray street church, which had called him as their pastor. He hoped the fellowship between him and the congregation would be a blessed one, and that mutual blessing would be received in the promotion of God's kingdom. He believed the new relationship formed was divinely appointed; and he had reasons for this belief, and he thought the church believed this also; this mutual belief should be an inspiration to all. He asked the hearty and practical sympathy of his congregation in his life's work. It was his first charge after his full academic equipment, and as he was a young man, the charge was somewhat of a heavy nature. He believed that efficient pastoral work was an art, and he asked that any mistakes, faults, or imperfections of his might be overlooked, he would try and grow, and his purpose was to give himself unstintedly to be a blessing in his work in town; he hoped the people of his flock would have the same purpose. Love covered a multitude of sins, and if the hearts of the people were towards him, no doubt it would prevent him being among them as a burden. If this were done any faults and imperfections would be overcome, and there would be mutual blessing. Acquaintance also covered a multitude of sins, and he asked for leniency and kindness, which, he hoped, he would receive, and which he was prepared to give. "Regard me not as a servant, but as a fellow labourer, and as a servant of God," said the speaker. It was with some feelings of emotion that he looked into the faces of his congregation for the first time and called them his people. To all he wished to say, "The Lord bless you out of Zion!" and he hoped that the people of his church, the town, and the world, would be better by his coming to this place.

The Murray Street Church has been without a pastor since the time of Rev. J. Eastow's leaving in July last. Since then the services have been conducted by supply preachers and the congregation feel gratified to again have a pastor for their church and they are to be congratulated upon securing one of such splendid qualities and ability as a preacher as Rev. Mr. Scott has already shown himself to possess.

NOVEL FEATURES AT ALL SAINT'S BAZAAR

Girl's Guild of all Saints Church to have Bazaar on Nov. 29th.

The Senior Girls' Guild of All Saints' church, propose holding a sale of work on Tuesday evening, the 29th inst. One of the novel features connected with it is the handkerchief table. The handkerchiefs which will on offered for sale have been donated by prominent ladies and gentlemen in the religious, social, political and commercial worlds, and will be valuable as souvenirs. Another new feature will be a specially constructed booth at which subscriptions will be taken for the Ladies' Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post. The Journal has donated a number of pictures, which will be sold to the highest bidder. A large variety of articles suitable for Christmas presents will be also offered.

The date is Tuesday, November 29th.

YOUNG MAN DEAD.

Dennis Condon of Douro Died at St. Joseph's Hospital.

A very sad death occurred at 9 o'clock on Saturday evening at St. Joseph's Hospital when Dennis Condon, son of Mr. Jas. Cothlen, of Douro, passed away. The deceased had been ill with pneumonia for the past five weeks. He was a young man of estimable qualities and was very highly respected. He was 23 years of age and had a very valuable farm in Douro.

The funeral took place this morning to the St. Joseph's church, Douro, thence to the St. Joseph Cemetery.

PRESERVATION OF A DAY OF REST

Rev. T. Albert Moore Speaks on the Lord's Day Alliance, its Objects and Its Claims for Support.

Preached in St. Andrew's and St. Paul's Churches and Addressed a Mass Meeting in George Street.

Work the Alliance has done in Protecting the Lord's Day as a Day of Rest—The Sabbath Threatened.

Yesterday, in three addresses, in three different churches, the claims of the Lord's Day Alliance were presented ably by Rev. T. Albert Moore, the associate travelling secretary of the Alliance.

In the morning he preached in St. Andrew's church, in the evening in St. Paul's, and in the evening, after the regular service, he addressed a mass meeting which was held in the George street Methodist church, and which was attended not only by the members of the church and congregation, but also by those from other churches.

Mr. Moore, in his address, gave some interesting facts relating to the work done by the Alliance, and the methods made use of in the prosecution of the work. At the mass meeting he stated that every Sunday there were 150,000 men who had to work on that day in Canada; 60,000 of these were employed in railway work, and the remainder in various occupations. But this number, large as it is, is not as large as it would have been, had it not been for the influence and work of the Lord's Day Alliance, the object of which is to preserve the Lord's Day as a day of rest.

Rev. Dr. Crothers, in introducing Mr. Moore last night, said that the Alliance did not wish to compel people to go to church, but simply to create conditions which would permit them to go.

Mr. Moore said that the bulwark of the world was religion, and one of the great bulwarks of religion was the Sabbath. Disraeli said that "Sunday is the corner stone of the nation," and Gladstone, in the same discussion said that Sunday was the bulwark of British liberty. "Home" and "Sunday" are two precious words and they should not be separated.

The church needed the Sabbath, and the speaker recalled a trip he had made to the Pacific coast, and where on a Sunday he had gone into a large church, capable of seating 2,000 people, and the attendance was only 67. The reason for this fact was that as he was informed by an official of the church, they had no Sunday. The street cars and boats were carrying pleasure seekers and the Christian Sabbath in that city had been almost destroyed. The church cannot meet the great masses of the people, because they no longer go to the churches.

The value of the Lord's Day to the people cannot be estimated, and it is threatened in this land. There are influences at work which are tending to demoralize it, and change it from a day of rest to one of degeneration and of evil influences. There is no part of the land in which the Sabbath is not being attacked. The influence of those who hate religion, the money-getter, the pleasure seekers and others, is against the preservation of the day of rest, and every Sunday 150,000 of our men have to spend the day in work. Out of every eight families in Canada, one person works on Sunday.

Realising the danger to the Sabbath, about ten years ago a number of Christian people, who were interested in the preservation of the Lord's Day met and decided to organize the Alliance, the object then as now being to protect and preserve the Sabbath as a rest day to the people. There are four ways in which the Alliance works, the first being by education. It seeks to instil into the minds of the people the great value of them of the day of rest, and to create a sentiment which will resist all attacks made upon it. One of these educational agencies, is the distribution of the Lord's Day Advocate, the official organ of the Alliance. Every month it goes into 27,000 homes, and this is supplemented by other literature which is sent out dealing with particular phases of the work.

The second method by which the Alliance works is by means of the platform and pulpit. Two secretaries, Rev. Mr. Shearer, and the speaker, are engaged and give their whole time to the work. Every Sunday they preach in different towns and cities throughout the country, and during the week speak in places on their travels. Then there are a number of preachers who give their time to this work. The speaker said that only a few weeks ago Rev. Mr. Potter, of St. Andrew's, had given a week, and during that week he had addressed a number of meetings through the district in the interests of the Alliance and in the interests of the preservation of the Sabbath. The work is progressing and new branches of the Alliance are being formed all the time. At present there are 500 branches of the Alliance and these branches have 30,000 members, and the sentiment of the people is being educated to the value of the Sunday. This sentiment is organised into the branches where it accomplishes something.

The third way in which the Alliance works is by special influence being brought to bear upon employers of labour, to give their employees the day of rest which their physical nature demands. This has been most successful, and from Vankleek Hill to Windsor and Hawkesbury to Rat Portage there are evidences of that success. Then the Alliance also obtains legislation protecting the rest day. Proof of the work done in this line is shown in the fact that out of the 200 companies that have been incorporated in Ontario and that have applied for charters allowing them to carry on work on Sunday, only one such request has been granted since the Alliance commenced its work in this direction.

The fourth method of working is by litigation. In this department there have been a few failures, one in Peterborough, but there have been hundreds of successes. The interpretations put upon the law now by the courts are such that if the Sabbath is to be preserved as it should be, there must be wider laws made, and as soon as it is decided who has the right to make these laws, the Alliance will ask that these changes be made, and in the meantime every effort is being made to enforce the present law and educate the people to the need of a day of rest.

An offering in aid of the funds of the Alliance was taken.

Rev. J. C. Davidson and Rev. A. H. Brace attended the mass meeting, the former pronouncing the benediction at its close.

On his next trip to the city she accompanied him to the hotel and when the noon meal was being served honey did not appear. The newspaper man, therefore, beckoned to a witer and said: "Say Sambo where is my honey?" He was almost paralyzed when the worthy grinned and replied, "She don't work here no more boss. She done got a job at the silk mill." The wife received a handsome new dress before they returned home.

Why the "Happy Thought" Burns Less Coal Than any Other Range.

1. The fire pot in the "Happy Thought" is entirely different to any other range. It is deeper and narrower, and twenty years of use has proved that this feature alone will save many tons of coal.

2. The Duplex Grates, from the original patterns of the inventor, distributes the draft equally over the entire grate surface. No dead corners.

3. The peculiar flue construction is the result of fifty years of careful study, and that the proportions are absolutely correct is proved by the fact that the Happy Thought bakes with a smaller fire than is possible with any other range.

ROSS TRUSTS WHITNEY AFRAID

Liberal Gives Followers Voice in Policy—Conservative Refuses to Do So

MR. WHITNEY'S OPEN LETTER

Conservative Leader Calls a Conference, Not a Convention—Sounds Like the Echo of a Dead Debate in the Legislature—Spreads Snare in Front of Liberal Bird and Invites Others Than Conservatives.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Following in this as in other matters the lead of the Liberal Government, Mr. J. P. Whitney has decided to meet his followers. The time fixed for the gathering is Thursday, the 24th of November, the place the Y.M.C.A. Hall on McGill street, in which the echoes of the declaration of Liberal principles made by the enthusiastic Liberals in convention assembled on the previous day will linger as a benediction and an inspiration to the supporters or the Opposition leader in their desire for pure, honest and economical Government. The summons comes in the form of an open letter to the electors of Ontario, signed by Mr. J. P. Whitney, the Conservative leader, as follows:

Text of Mr. Whitney's Letter.

To the Electors of Ontario:

Driven to bay and alarmed at the righteous indignation of the people, the Provincial Government, which, for several years, has held office by means of fraud and crime, is about to make a last and desperate appeal to the constituencies.

In order that the large majority of the people, those who desire clean, honest and decent Government, may have an opportunity to discuss the situation, I have instructed the officers of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the Province to ask the members of the association and also representatives from the municipalities, to meet at Association Hall, in the City of Toronto, on Thursday, the 24th day of November, at 2 o'clock p.m.

In addition I invite representative men in each constituency—no matter what their party affiliations may be and who sympathize with our objects—to attend also and help us by their advice and encouragement.

In the presence of great public peril, party designations and differences are of secondary importance.

The first great necessity of the situation is clean, honest and decent Government.

The policy of the Opposition in the Legislature is familiar to the people and has received their endorsement and ratification by a majority of six or seven thousand votes. To this record we point with pride.

Agricultural Education.

The question of increasing the means of obtaining agricultural instruction by adding it to the curriculum, in the high schools and collegiate institutes and providing parcels of lands for practical work, and also the question of the encouragement of systems of sewerage in towns and villages, are among the questions advocated by us.

Legislation should be had to facilitate the acquirement by municipalities, on proper and reasonable terms, of all public utilities, and also to provide machinery for the prompt settlement of dispute between capital and labor.

At the last session of the Legislature the Opposition proposed that the Temiskaming Railway, constructed and owned by the Government should be operated by the Province for a term of years. This opportunity for a practical test of Government operation of railways was voted down by the Government.

The attitude of the Opposition on the question of the proper assessment of railway property was made clear by their efforts to pass the Pettypiece bill as a basis for action—efforts which failed when the promoter of the bill abandoned it and joined the Government in killing it. These are some of the questions in which the people are interested.

But, I repeat, the first great necessity of the situation is clean, honest and decent Government. We are all familiar with the humiliating story of the iniquities which have been perpetrated, and by means of which a minority premier has been enabled—and, alas, has also been willing—to defy public decency and flaunt before the people his enjoyment of a position which he notoriously holds by virtue of such iniquities.

By what the Government has done in the past we may reasonably forecast what it may attempt to do in this, its last effort, to avoid public condemnation.

In the face of the public danger, and in order to afford an opportunity to avert it, I have called this meeting.

(Signed) J. P. Whitney.

Toronto, Nov. 14, 1904.

A Conference, Not a Convention.

Beyond following the lead of Hon. Geo. W. Ross in selecting an opportune time and place in which to hold the gathering, all similarity between the action of the two leaders ceases. Mr. Whitney, in an interview published on Saturday evening, takes pains to make it clear that there will be no similarity between the two gatherings. The Conservative meeting will not be a convention, but will be a conference. In this respect Mr. Whitney has adhered to his inflexible opposition to the oft-repeated suggestion of the progressive members of the Conservative party that a convention be held in order to lay down a definite platform upon which to appeal to the electorate. The gathering will be purely consultative in its nature.

THE COUNTRY DOMINATES.

City Delegates Will Be in Minority in the Liberal Convention.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—A notable feature of the great Liberal convention to be held on Wednesday, 23rd inst., will be the predominant voice which the representatives of the rural constituencies will have in its deliberations and decisions. Representation is based upon truly liberal principles. Every riding has been given an equal representation upon the floor of the convention, and no provision has been made for any one riding getting one vote in excess of the number specified in the circular calling the convention. There are 98 ridings in the Province, and each riding association is entitled to send twenty delegates, in addition to its President, Vice-Presidents and Secretary. The Liberal representatives or candidates for the Commons and the Legislature and the Ontario Senators are also entitled to seats upon the floor. There are only ten representatives of cities in the Legislature, viz.: Toronto, 4; Hamilton and Ottawa, 2 each, and London and Kingston. Therefore, the representation of the cities in the convention will be in the neighborhood of ten per cent., and of that percentage Toronto's voice will be equal to four-ninety-eighths of the full convention. The sentiment of the rural constituencies, where Liberalism has ever had its stronghold, will, therefore, overwhelmingly dominate the convention.

NOMINATIONS IN ONTARIO.

R. A. Thompson, M.P.P., has been renominated by North Wentworth Liberals.

Alfred Limoges is in the field as an Independent Conservative candidate in East Nipissing.

W. H. Reynolds of Verona, was nominated by Frontenac Liberals on Saturday for the Legislature.

Guelph, Nov. 14.—The Conservatives of South Wellington met here in convention Saturday afternoon and tendered Joseph P. Downey, M. P.P., the nomination. No other name was suggested, and Mr. Downey was unanimously chosen by open vote. Mr. Downey accepted the nomination.

A New Name Mentioned.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—(Globe Special.)—The name of Hon. A. T. White of New Brunswick, is now mentioned in connection with the vacant chairmanship of the Railway Commission. Mr. White is a fine lawyer and a great authority on railway law. He drafted the railway act which Mr. Blair introduced into the House of Commons.

Was Not Able To Walk For Three Months.

Was Given Up to Die. The Doctor Said So.

Burdock Blood Bitters Saved Her Life.

Read what Mrs. Wm. Castilloux, Newport, Quebec, has to say about Burdock Blood Bitters:—"Last December I fell very sick after confinement. I was not able to walk for three months, and was given up to die by the doctor. My husband read of the many wonderful cures made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so procured me two bottles. After using it for about ten days, I was able to get around, and could mind my baby without help from anyone, and am now well, and able to do my own work. I told a lady friend of mine who was troubled in the same way, and she used it with equal success. I cannot too highly recommend your medicine, for I know just how good it is, and hope and wish that anyone suffering as I did will give it a trial."

SCH. EARCULARIUS ASHORE.

Sea Masthead High Pounds Her On the Jagged Rocks.

Woods Hole, Mass., Nov. 14.—The two-masted schooner Earcularius, Captain Nelson, of Rockland, Maine, went ashore in the severe northeast gale shortly before dark last night, about three-quarters of a mile west of Tarpaulin Cove, on the Island of Naushen. At sunset the seas were breaking over the craft masthead high. No trace of the crew of four has been found, and fears are entertained for their safety. The vessel is in a particularly exposed condition, and the chances of her being saved are slight.

Unknown Man Killed.

Galt, Nov. 14.—An unknown man was killed on the C.P.R. between 9 and 10 o'clock yesterday morning, about seven miles west of here. A ballast train was following about 10 minutes after a freight. The engineer on the ballast train saw a body on the track. He saw the head move, but did not observe that the man was injured. The emergency brakes were at once applied, but eight cars had passed over the body before the train was stopped. The body was horribly mangled, both arms and a leg cut off and the trunk from the chest to the abdomen literally cut to pieces. Coroners Vardon and Radford will hold an inquest.

Anglo-French Convention.

London, Nov. 14.—(C. A. P.)—In spite of considerable opposition on the Newfoundland question, the Anglo-French convention passed the Chamber of Deputies by 457 votes to 5. M. LACKS CONFIRMATION.

Report That Mr. Wade Will Succeed the Hon. Mr. Blair.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The report that Mr. Wade is to be appointed Chairman of the Railway Commission lacks confirmation. Nevertheless, everybody concedes that the appointment would be an excellent one if the Government decided to carry it out. Mr. Wade's friends say he would prefer to remain on the Transcontinental Commission if the salary were raised from $8,000 to $10,000, the same as that attached to the office which Mr. Blair gave up.

Mr. Blair Goes to St. Louis.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Hon. Mr. Blair, ex-Chairman of the Railway Commission, passed through town yesterday on his way to the World's Fair at St. Louis. He was glad to be able to get to the big fair. On public affairs, he was not communicative. He said:

"I saw the despatch in the papers about Mr. Wade, but I don't know anything further. My own plans have been perfectly clear from the first. The papers tell me I have not succeeded in carrying out my object, but they don't appear to be very well informed as to what that is."

Mr. Blair gave it to be understood that the unceasing demands made upon his energies have been rather a severe tax for a man of his years, and that the necessity for a more remunerative occupation equally requires his adhesion to the plans he formed at the time of his resignation.

Reorganized Army.

London, Nov. 14.—The changes in the leading administrative posts of the Salvation Army are officially announced. Among the changes are the following:

Commissioner Coombs, in charge of the work in the United Kingdom, goes to Canada.

Commissioner Eva Booth leaves Canada for the United States.

Colonel Richards leaves Denmark for South Africa.

Commander Booth-Tucker leaves the United States to become foreign secretary.

Thorough in Action

On the Digestive and Excretory Systems.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Are Lastingly Beneficial—Removing the Cause of Disease.

The symptoms of dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, kidney disease and rheumatism point to the presence of poisonous matter in the system.

The first thing Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills do is to thoroughly cleanse the system of this waste matter by causing free action of the kidneys, liver and bowels.

This result is not brought about in a harsh and irritating way, but in a naturally and thoroughly accomplished.

The flow of bile from the liver aids digestion and ensures continued regular action of the bowels; the free action of the kidneys removes the uric acid, which would otherwise cause rheumatism or stone in the bladder.

Digestion, assimilation and the removal of waste matter are carried out without pain or discomfort, and there is no foothold for contagious or other disease.

There is no other preparation possessing this unique and combined action, and none which can possibly reach such complicated diseases as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. C. F. Inmel, shoemaker, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regularly for some time and consider that they are unsurpassed for torpid liver, defective circulation, indigestion, headache and constipation, as these were my troubles. I used many remedies, but got no relief until I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and a few boxes of this preparation have entirely cured me. I am not in the habit of endorsing any medicine, but in this case I cannot speak too highly in praise of Dr. Chase's Pills for what they have done for me."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

WORLD OF POLITICS

Hon. C. S. Hyman's Majority Stands at Twenty-One.

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION

Details of the Re-count of Ballots At London—Deputy-Returning Officers, Charged With Having Eliminated Names From the Voters Lists in St. Boniface and Tyndal, Remanded.

London, Ont., Nov. 12.—The net result of the re-count of ballots cast in the Federal election in this city on the 3rd instant, which closed before Judge MacBeth last night, is that Mr. Gray, the Conservative candidate, gains two votes, which reduces Mr. Hyman's majority to 21. Two ballots were added to Mr. Hyman's total and two struck off, while three were added to Mr. Gray and one struck off. On fifteen ballots judgment was reserved. Ten of these are claimed by Hyman and five by Gray. Argument will be heard on these this morning, but, whatever way they go, the result cannot be affected. Hon. C. S. Hyman is member-elect. The recount was conducted in secret, according to law, the successful and defeated candidates being represented by counsel. It is reported that in the seventh division of the Third Ward it was found that three ballots which had been marked for Gray had subsequently been spoiled by someone marking a cross opposite Hyman's name. It is alleged by the Conservatives that in this division the figures given out to the press by the poll clerk were 98 for Gray and 103 for Hyman. Later the deputy returning officer telephoned a correction, which reduced Gray's total to 95. In another division, it is asserted by the same authority, in the case of two ballots marked for Gray, but which the voters had inadvertently torn in two, only the Hyman half unmarked was found in the ballot-box.

Deputy Returning Officers Remanded.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—The deputy returning officers of St. Boniface and Tyndal, who are charged with having eliminated names from the voters' lists in readjusting the boundaries of polling subdivisions, were before the Magistrate yesterday, but were again remanded.

Re-count At Brantford.

Brantford, Nov. 12.—A recount of the ballots cast in the recent Federal election here will be held today. Mr. Cockshutt's majority is 15, and it is confidently expected that this will be pulled down, if it is not wiped out altogether.

A Conservative Convention.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—That the Conservatives are thoroughly alarmed by the calling of a Liberal Convention for Nov. 23 is shown in the fact that, according to Mr. St. John, M.P.P., they will hold a convention in this city on the day following, Nov. 24. Information at hand shows a very hazy conception of what they expect to do, but there is no question in the minds of frank Conservatives that the present leader of the party in Ontario is felt to be a very "Old Man of the Sea" in the furtherance of any forward policy to meet the advance of the Liberals. An announcement from the executive is promised for Monday.

FOUR MONTHS REVENUE.

Slight Reduction Compared With Last Year—Surplus Seven Millions.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The revenue for the first four months of the current fiscal year, terminating October 31st, was less than for the same period of last year, amounting to $23,513,-268. The expenditure, both ordinary and capital, shows an increase. The surplus of ordinary revenue over ordinary expenditure was $10,060,-818. Over all expenditures combined the surplus was a little over $7,-000,000.

The ordinary expenditure for the four months was $13,452,945, as compared with $9,227,919 for the same period of the previous year. The capital expenditure totalled $2,-943,054, as against $1,226,763.

State-Owned Wireless Telegraphy.

The communication from the Colonial Office recommending the Canadian Government, in common with the other British self-governing dependencies, to take over the control of wireless telegraphic systems, has been referred to the Postmaster-General. There is little doubt that legislation will be introduced at the coming session of Parliament to give effect to the wishes of the Imperial Government. This legislation would not, however, apply to the Marconi Company, which was incorporated a year or two ago, but to any others that may hereafter be incorporated. The Imperial Parliament have already passed an act to assume control of wireless telegraphy in the United Kingdom.

Alleged Forger a Wonder.

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 14.—Samuel Holewitch, aged 18, is accused of forging a cheque on the Traders Bank. He was arrested, but escaped by crawling under the door of his cell. He was again arrested. The boy knows all about bank paper, and the officers consider him a wonder.

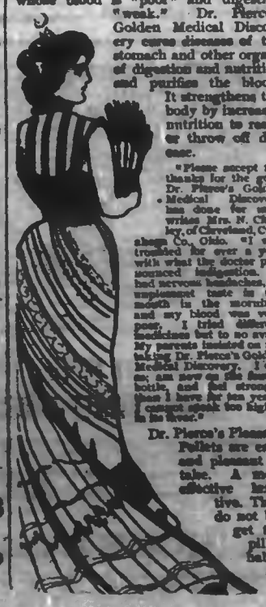
The Deadly Trail

Of disease is often the trail marked by a woman's gown. A recent investigation showed a horde of microbes, including those of influenza, consumption and a dozen other varieties, gathered in the trail of a woman's dress.

The microbe is everywhere, but its prey are the weak and feeble people whose blood is "poor" and digestion "weak." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and purifies the blood. It strengthens the body by increased nutrition to resist or throw off disease.



"Please accept my thanks for the good Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has done for me," writes Mrs. N. Chesley, of Cleveland, Cuyahoga Co., Ohio. "I was troubled for over a year with what the doctor pronounced indigestion. I had nervous headaches, no appetite, bad taste in my mouth in the morning, and my blood was very poor. I tried different medicines but to no avail. My parents insisted on my taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did so; am now on the fourth bottle, and feel stronger than I have for ten years. I cannot speak too highly in its favor."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take. A most effective laxative. They do not beget the pill habit.

Palpitation of the Heart—Nervous Prostration—Cured by

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make weak hearts strong. They make shaky nerves firm.

Mr. Ray V. Cormier had a very trying experience while at College; but, thanks to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, he has been restored to health. He tells his experience in the following letter to us:—

"Wellington Station, P.E.I., Dec. 3rd, 1903.
"Messrs. The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
Toronto, Ontario.

"Gentlemen—Having been cured of a very troublesome disease, I feel it my duty to write you a few lines. I was troubled with a very great palpitation of the heart and nervous prostration. I was attacked with it at College, and could not follow up the games of the University without suffering excessive pain. I could not descend the stairs without resting half-way. I have left College, and am working in a general store, where I found your famous pills. I used three boxes, and am now completely cured; I cannot thank you enough. You may use this letter for the purpose of benefiting anyone who is suffering as I did. My home is in Scotsville, N.S., but at present I am on Prince Edward Island.

"I remain, dear sirs, RAY V. CORMIER."

PRINCE KANIN'S FEAT.

Japanese Whose Bravery and Strategy Won Victory.

Although the Russians place great reliance on their cavalry, this branch of their military service has been unable to save them from serious reverses in the war with Japan. Little was expected from the Japanese cavalry, but on several occasions it has distinguished itself. In the engagement of October 12 at Bensihu a force of cavalry under Prince

PRINCE KOTOHITO KANIN.

Kotohito Kanin executed a brilliant flanking movement and contributed largely to the repulse of the Russian advance.

Prince Kanin's force made a detour of the enemy's left flank in the rear of Bensihu and put the Russians in great confusion, thereby helping the movement of the Japanese infantry against the Russian lines. Prince Kanin is a nephew of the Mikado and a major-general of cavalry. When he reached the front several months ago his arrival created much enthusiasm among the troops. There are several other near relatives of the Mikado who are winning distinction by their bravery and ability in the war with the Russians.

Washing the Blood.

In Dr. Charles Repin's method of freeing the blood from toxic substances, which has been applied at the Pasteur Institute in Paris, the blood is literally drawn from the body, washed and returned. The blood is taken from a punctured vein by aspiration, is at once mixed with eight or ten times its volume of a saline solution, the mixture is sent into a centrifugal separator, collecting the blood corpuscles all at one point, and the uninjured corpuscles, with the artificial serum replacing the poison laden one, are then pumped back into the system. The operation is automatic and continuous. At its close the system contains blood freed from the toxic matter that had been absorbed and with fresh liquid correctly adjusted in volume, the surplus having been drawn off. The apparatus guards against coagulation.

Seaside Engagements.

A series of interesting firing trials recently was undertaken by the Swedish Government. The purpose of these experiments was to examine the effect of shooting against pasteboard. The trials were conducted on the wharfs of the Swedish navy in Karlskrona, and the target used was a prepared one of millboard, against which fire from revolvers, rifles, carbines and machine guns was directed. The pasteboard, which was three inches thick, resisted completely the bullets from the small arms, but was perforated by the projectiles from the machine guns.

Stubborn Skin Diseases.

Nothing is more discouraging than a case of eczema or salt rheum which refuses to heal. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment, however, you soon see that new skin is forming, and the sore part is becoming smaller and smaller. The itching is entirely overcome after a few applications, and you are given satisfactory evidence that a continuation of the treatment will bring a thorough cure.

OPENING OF Y. M. C. A. MISSION TO MEN

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Opens His Mission to Men in Y. M. C. A. Under Very Promising Conditions.

Assembly Hall Yesterday was Crowded at the Afternoon Meeting, when a Good Service Resulted.

"The Love of Christ" the Theme at Saturday Night's Opening Meeting--Continued This Week.

The five day mission to men conducted by the Y. M. C. A. in their hall, under the leadership of Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's church, opened on Saturday evening. There was a good attendance of men, and deep interest was manifested. Mr. Williamson conducted the song service, and explained the objects of the mission, namely, the deepening of spiritual life in the Christian men, and providing others with an opportunity of entering into that life. He said the Association was favoured in having so able a leader as Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, whom men were always glad to hear. Mr. Williamson emphasized the value of co-operative effort and prayer on the part of the active members. If this was forthcoming, and he believed it would, the mission would be a great blessing to all.

He then introduced Mr. Langfeldt, who spoke on "The Love of Christ." His address was listened to with the deepest attention, and, at its close, many showed evidences of the impressiveness of the message.

SUNDAY MEETING.

Association Hall was crowded with men at the second meeting in connection with the mission to men held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. Mr. Homer Herd, musical director of the Association, led the [illegible] service, which preceded

Mr. J. Lawrence sang "Almost Persuaded," in a manner which impressed all who heard it.

Mr. Langfeldt spoke on "How God is to be Glorified"—dealing with the subject from a negative and then from a positive standpoint. Belshassar stood as a type of man showing how God was not to be glorified, and the Lord Jesus showing how God was to be glorified.

The texts were John 17, 4, "I have glorified Thee on earth," and Dan. 5, 23, in connection with Belshassar's feast where Daniel accused him that "he had not glorified God."

He applied Daniel's words to those who were nominal Christians and compared them to the heathen king.

The indictment of all the Belshassar type was in three counts.

They did not repent; they did not humble themselves; they misused the vessels of God's house, and worshipped idols.

What corresponded to the vessels of the house of God? Men's bodies were God's temples, and the eyes, ears, hands, feet, heart, etc., were the vessels. The speaker then went on to show that men had defiled these.

Worship of other gods was common to-day, for men worshipped gold, position and other things. They drew near to God with their lips while their hearts were far from Him.

Mr. Langfeldt then presented Christ as the positive side of the subject of glorifying God. God was glorified when men see Jesus as did the Greeks in the temple in the feast day. Men have no holiness of their own; all their efforts are useless. To see Jesus means forgiveness, holiness, purity and everlasting peace in Christ.

God cannot be glorified, so long as there is a traitor's spirit in His disciple.

The Holy Spirit makes Christ shine in the human heart, makes Christ shine within you, and makes him to shine out from you. In concluding Mr. Langfeldt said that both the messages of the text had been spoken a few hours before death. He said that time was an important matter in the matter of salvation, for now was the accepted time.

NO TITLE LIKE "MOTHER."

The Good Woman Glories In It and Fits Herself For It.

There is no title more beautiful than "mother." The good woman glories in it and fits herself to be worthy of the name in every sense. Willingly she goes down into the valley of the shadow of death that she may rise almost glorified in her new honor.

Unfortunately there are many erring, selfish mothers, as well as good ones—many who should never have been mothers. The woman who accepts the crown of motherhood should discharge her duties faithfully, even though they involve sacrifice. Reverence would be the natural possession of every child if the parents were worthy of the respect of their children. Parents may feel that it does not matter whether their children respect them or not—that the achievement is not worth the effort which it costs them—but it matters to the children. Their own well being demands that they reverence father and mother.

As binding as this duty should be considered by parents, equally so is the one of providing in early life for their own old age. Parents should not, when the evening of life comes, be dependent on their children, thus interfering with the responsibilities those children must naturally have assumed. A mother has no moral right to interfere with the marriage of her daughter. It should be the duty and privilege of a mother to teach and fit her daughter for wifehood and motherhood.—New York Tribune.

TASTE AND SMELL.

Two Senses That Every Woman Should Cultivate to the Fullest.

Taste and smell are two senses we do not cultivate enough. Indeed, hearing, as we know in the case of the blind, can reach an acuteness which the ordinary person is absolutely deficient in. Both taste and smell have great uses. Probably we should not see people living in dirty and insanitary conditions so blissfully were the sense of smell a little more developed, while taste, especially in women, is often stigmatized as greediness. The gourmet, to use a French word, is not a gormandiser, but a man whose taste is aesthetically and exquisitely trained. It is said that the Marechal Duc de Richelieu, who was a great gastronomic connoisseur, possessed so fine a taste as to be able to distinguish whether the breast of a chicken was cut from the side of the gall or not. In the same way wine tasters can tell a vintage instantly. Women rather despise taste. They eat, and that is all. Yet taste was certainly given us for a good purpose, and no one can order a dinner intelligently who has not cultivated his palate. The food one likes and enjoys always agrees with one's health better than any other, and the faddist who would reduce all diet to uniformity would in time wreck the public digestion.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

To remove warts, rub a little bullock gall on them several times a day.

Moistened tea leaves applied to a burn will relieve the inflammation and prevent a scar.

Put five drops of chloroform on a small piece of cotton in the bowl of a clay pipe, then blow the vapor into an aching ear, and instant relief will follow.

As soon as the barking cough begins in cases of croup give one drop of aromatic ammonia in a dessertspoonful of water. Repeat every fifteen minutes until relief is obtained or until a physician can be sent for.

Charcoal is the best and safest antiseptic known for the stomach. It is not a drug. It carries all impurities out of the system and renders the stomach and breath sweet and pure. It also clears and improves the complexion.

A Double Drowning.

TOWN SANITATION.

The Dangers That Exist and Some Remedies Suggested—Dr. Soper's Discussion of the Question.

That much neglected subject, sanitation, is discussed with a full knowledge of the facts by Dr. G. A. Soper in an address, of which an adequate abstract is printed by the Medical News. Towns with handsome cottages, green lawns and well kept roads convey an impression so pleasing that few think to inquire whether or not the public health service in them is efficiently performed.

Usually the members of their health boards serve without pay, and not infrequently these bodies contain not a single man with any special training for such work. The water supply is not always pure, and it is not always carefully guarded, sewers are often defective or inadequate, hospital accommodations are rarely sufficient, and in a majority of cases the most important detail of all health work, the registration of vital statistics, is so neglected that nobody really knows whether the town is healthy or not.

As a remedy for these evils Dr. Soper advises the health officials first of all to make up for the lack of paid employes by using all the volunteer assistance they can get from doctors, public spirited citizens and local improvement organizations. He declares the policy of indifference or of hiding facts to be fatal and commends the regular publication of reports showing exactly what has been done and what needs doing.

When bad these reports will lead to action, and when good they will form an extremely valuable advertisement for the town, repaying a thousandfold, even from the standpoint of the real estate dealer, for the expenditures of which they tell the story.

Lifebuoy Soap—disinfectant—is strongly recommended by the medical profession as a safeguard against infectious diseases.
